During these dull times, or any other time, don't send your job work to some other town to get it done until THE STAR office gets a chance to bid on it. We spend our money in Reynoldsville, and work for the town's best interests in every way possible, and expect your patronage in return. By helping one another we boom our own town; by going to other towns to buy what we want we simply boom the other towns.

J. C. Froehlich, the tailor, has just received a fine line of spring and summer suitings. If you want a suit and an excellent fit at a reasonable price give him a call. His workmanship is guaranteed.

Hon. M. J. Manning's Prohibition address delivered in Centennial hall last evening was the best lecture of the kind ever given in Reynoldsville. Mr. Manning is an eloquent, humorous and logical orator.

Sunken eye, a pallid complexion, and disfiguring eruptions, indicate that there is something wrong within. Expel the lurking foe to health, by purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Cures Erysipelas, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Pimples, and Blisters.

P. J. Pisher, the blacksmith who comes to town occasionally and gets drunk, gets into trouble, and gets into the lock-up once in a long while, was in town last Friday and Saturday. He was very boisterous on the street before seven o'clock Saturday morning and was escorted to the lock up.

The water works dam was drained last Thursday and Geo. W. Stoke, sr., caught a carp that weighed 64 pounds. Muir and Stoke have a fish pond near the water works and two years ago their pond broke open and several fish by mistake, or accidentally on purpose, were put into the water works dam.

Robert Stevenson, an enterprising and thrifty farmer residing near Sandy Valley, is having a new frame building erected on his farm. The new house is 30x32, two stories high with four gables. Mr. Stevenson has a cellar under his new house that is considered the best cellar in that section of the country.

A large crowd attended the entertainment given in the opera house last Thursday evening by home talent for benefit of the needy miners of this place. The proceeds amounted to $86.70 and the expenses were $4.60, leaving a balance of $82.10. The entertainment was very good and there was some talk of giving it again.

The Bible School Convention of Clearfield Baptist Association will be held in the Gethsemane Baptist church at Allens Mills, Pa., Tuesday May 22nd, convening at 10.00 a. m. Rev. E. Lewis Kelley and W. S. Stone, of Reynoldsville, will take part in the exercises. D. A. McConnell, of Allens Mills, will deliver the address of welcome.

In our issue of April 18th we published a list of the teachers of Winslow township for the past term, whom the directors highly recommend for good work done. By some person's mistake Miss Nettie Coax's name was not published in the list. The omission was not intentional as the young lady's work was as much appreciated by the directors as any of them.

Reynoldsville is troubled with a house of ill fame, and like any newspaper should do the papers of that place have declared against such institutions. On a couple different occasions Falls Creek was troubled with like institutions, but the publicity they gained through the columns of the Herald soon ended their career in this place. Newspapers cannot take too decided a stand against such dens.—Falls Creek Herald.

The Prohibitionists held a convention in Centennial Hall yesterday. Space will not permit a full report of the convention. A. D. Deemer was nominated for Assembly; A. Schuckers and J. B. Brown, Jury Commissioners. Seventy-eight dollars was raised for campaign expenses. The following delegates were elected to attend the State Convention to be held at Williamsport June 6th: R. C. Osburn, S. Shaffer, A. D. Deemer, R. F. Millen, J. Van Reed, J. C. Sprankle, Rev. J. P. Hicks, Rev. J. J. Kerr, J. G. Kearney, J. G. Dally, A. E. Dunn, F. P. Rankin, L. A. Stiles, Geo. Charlton and J. R. Lowery.

We received a communication this week from Rev. A. L. Brand, of Trenton, N. J., in which he protests against the position taken by THE STAR last week in the Abner Reed case. Mr. Brand takes sides with Reed and his children and denies statements that were sworn to on the witness stand when the case was being tried. We have no desire to be unjust with Mr. Reed or any other person, and only published the facts in the case because it was out of the usual line of trials in the 19th century. We believe the witnesses in the case swore to the truth, and hence do not believe that it is necessary to publish an article contradicting their evidence.

A special meeting of the town council was held Monday evening. Some of the business transacted was letting the contract of painting the hose tower for Hose Co. No. 1, which contract was given to Frank Campbell; changing team hire on streets from $3.00 to $3.50 per day; laying on the table a petition for a sidewalk on Pleasant avenue, between 9th and 10th streets; bills to amount of $21.00 were ordered to be paid. H. S. Belnap and Daniel Nolan made another proposition to Council which was laid on the table. This time they offered to furnish brick for 90 feet of paving and sidewalk on Fourth street, the borough to lay it, leaving out that part of the proposition requiring the borough to lay 60 feet more, to Gordon alley.

Little Cow. Grant Pierce owns a Mountain Dairy cow that is something of a curiosity. The animal is thirty-five inches high and seven feet long. Her body is large enough for an ordinary cow, but the shortness thereof is in her legs. The cow is kept in a barn near THE STAR office where it can be seen free of charge.

Not Guilty. Mike Shinglebaugh, familiarly known as "Dutch mike," who has been in the Jefferson county jail since early in February, where he was placed suspected as being one of the parties who robbed Robinson's shoe store in January. Mike was tried at the February term and was convicted. A new trial was granted him which he got this week and was acquitted.

Paste in Your Hat. In another column of this issue, under head of "notice to tax-payers," will be found a list of the dates and at what places County Treasurer John Waite will be found to receive State and County taxes. The law provides for the addition of ten per cent. to taxes when placed in the hands of collectors, hence it is important to remember the date the treasurer will visit your locality.

Missionary Meeting. The third annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church, Clarion District, was held in the M. E. church at this place last Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. J. W. Blaisdell presided over the convention. Mrs. W. H. Robinson acted as secretary. The convention was not as well attended by the people of Reynoldsville as it should have been; it was interesting to those who did attend. The fourth annual will be held at Summerville the second week in May, 1895.

An Eventful Day. Wednesday, May 9th, 1894, was an epoch in the lives of Rev. E. Lewis Kelley and Miss Mary Buskin, of Rochester, N. Y., that will not be forgotten by them. They were students at Rochester and in the forenoon of the day mentioned they both graduated with high honors and in the afternoon they stood at hymen's altar and took the solemn vows that united them in wedlock's strong embrace. On Friday evening the benedict and his bride came to Reynoldsville where they will abide. Rev. Kelley will be ordained as pastor of the Baptist church at this place to-morrow. The young pastor and wife have moved into the Baptist parsonage. The members of his congregation will hold a reception soon.

For Congress. In another column of this issue will be found the announcement of W. C. Bond as a candidate for congress. The Brookwayville Record, which is published at his home, says of Mr. Bond in speaking of his announcement: "He will make a strong fight, and in all probability win a handsome victory. Mr. Bond has never yet lost his county. He is a man of the people, and his announcement that he is in the race will rally hosts to his standard all over the county. Mr. Bond ought to not only carry his county this summer in the primaries, but also should be accorded the nomination in the conference when the counties assemble. He is a young man, and a strong man. He is a hustler, and has all in his favor."

Is it Revenge? A small court was held in Squire L. A. Hays' office at Rathmel last Friday afternoon. Kerr, proprietor of the Enterprise hotel at Rathmel, who had license last year, but was refused this year, was the defendant in the case, and the charge brought against him was for disobeying the law when he did have license. D. E. Brenneman, of Brookville, was attorney for plaintiffs, and G. W. McDonald, of this place, was attorney for defendant. Mr. Kerr was discharged, as the plaintiffs did not have sufficient evidence to bind him over. One law suit among Rathmel people the last two months leads to another one. Some of them appear to be the offspring of revenge. It may not be possible that the people of that hamlet resort to the law for revenge, but the indications are very strong that way.

An Attempt at Robbery. Last Friday night an attempt was made to rob W. H. Bell's clothing store. The robbers were making calculations to get a big haul when they were frightened away by Frank Flanders, Bell's cutter. Flanders sleeps in the store and this night he did not go into the store until about 12.30 and as he entered the front door the robbers made their exit at the rear door. They carried away five or six shirts and one suit of clothes. They had gone through the stock of clothing and made a selection of the best in the store which they had piled on a table for the purpose of taking it with them, but in their great haste in leaving the clothing remained in Mr. Bell's possession. This would have been the largest robbery ever committed in the town had the burglars been given a little more time. The robbers tried to pry up one of the rear windows, and it would not yield until the request and they smashed the light of glass in to a thousand pieces and gained an entrance that way.

A Runaway. An exciting runaway occurred at this place Saturday forenoon. William Bush was in town with John Dougherty's team of fiery nags and while driving along Main street in front of Mrs. R. M. Alexander's millinery store the strap on the neck yoke broke and let the tongue drop onto the street. The driver pulled on the lines and the horses, which were walking, stopped until the hack ran onto them and then they jumped and started to run. In front of THE STAR office Bush was thrown up about ten feet and fell down between the horses and hack, but he did not let go of the lines and was dragged along the street, under the hack, from Dr. Bowser's office to alley at corner of M. E. church, where the hack and its contents were promiscuously scattered. Bush lost his hold on the lines and the horses took a run up the alley with the harness on. William Bush received a few bruises, the front part of the hack was damaged and that was about the extent of the damage. The people who saw the driver spreading himself through space and dropping down at the horses' heels expected to pick up a dead man. Bush thought it was "sandy" for him to hold onto the lines and be dragged along the street after he was thrown out, but there is a question about whether it was "sandy" or foolishness. It is well for a man to have courage, but when he has done his best and nothing but danger awaits his hanging on then it is time to let go.

A Wild Cat. It is well known that when a porcupine is attacked or in danger it don't take the pin-awine long to erect its quills, but even porcupines would blush at their slowness in raising their quills had any of them seen Robt. Schofield's hair raise on his way to Hopkins mill last Friday evening. Robt. had tarried in a Reynoldsville parlor with a fair maiden until the evening time was far spent and all the boys from the mill had gone home when he bethought himself it was time for him to vacate before the sonorous voice of the male portion of that establishment would issue an invitation for him to seek his own home. In the quietness of the night, when all nature was hushed into an awful silence, Robt. set his face towards Hopkins mill and meandered down the railroad track with the beautiful "imps" of love toying with his heart strings. On the loneliest part of the road he was suddenly snatched from love's intoxicating embrace by a noise that made cold chills chase one another down his spinal column and raised his hair like porcupine quills. The hills soon reverberated with a repetition of the noise and the gallant youth recognized the mewling of a wild cat, which did not have a tendency to make his hair return to the unruined condition it was in before the wild cat opened its music box, nor did the young man feel real comfortable until he reached the boarding house.

Base Ball. An interesting game of ball was played on the grounds at this place Thursday afternoon between Reynoldsville and Brookville nines. The game was a good one and one noticeable feature was the absence of jangling. Dr. Richer umpired the game. The players were as follows: Reynoldsville, Wm Schultz, Chas. Bitters, M. McCullough, W. H. Bell, jr., W. McPherson, Walter Williams, Jarvis Williams, Dan Williams, Dennis Driscoll, Brookville, Wm. Hodgkinson, J. Riley, Fred Smith, Thomas Hendricks, Bruce Whitehill, Horbert Showalter, H. Riley, Clifford Weaver, John Kelley. The Brookville club is composed of young material and some of them can play good ball, but Reynoldsville was too much for them as the score showed at the close of the first half of the ninth inning, which was 13 to 7 in favor of our boys. Chas. Bitters and Jarvis Williams did the fancy work in the box and behind the bat for Reynoldsville, and Bruce Whitehill and Wm. Hodgkinson were the battery for Brookville. Bitters "fanned out" ten and Whitehill "fanned out" seventeen. Reynoldsville and Big Run clubs played ball at this place yesterday. Up to sixth inning our boys were ahead, but the score at the end of ninth inning was 21 to 16 in favor of visiting club.

Don't Do It. The old saying that the "devil finds something for idle hands to do," is just as applicable to the human family today as it was in ages gone by. Since the strike was ushered in at this place a number of real nice young men, some of whom profess to be christians, have been resorting to the camping ground of the "Satanic Majesty,"—which is the flats south of town—where they have been whiling away much of their time playing cards. It would be more to their credit and much more profitable to them in the future if they would spend their idle time in gleanng knowledge out of good literature of some kind. The most extravagant of all young people are those who foolishly squander precious time learning the ways of evil. Don't do it young man. When it is too late you will repent. Take timely warning. No man who was ever entangled in the meshes of gambling or became a victim of strong drink, took the first step expecting to end a gambler or drunkard.

Get Off in Time. A lady of this place went to the 1.00 P. M. train with a lady friend Saturday who was going away, and as they apparently had considerable to talk about, the Reynoldsville woman got into the train and went to the rear of car to talk while the train stopped at the station. The train started and by the time the woman got to front of the car it was moving too fast for a lady to get off and the brakeman would not allow her to make the attempt. She insisted on getting off, but without success. Her mouth closed with a firm "I will get off" and she hastily made way to the rear door and fortunately an official of the road was standing at that door and her attempts to get off there were baffled. By this time the train was running at a good speed and had it not been for the official on the rear of the train this story might read entirely different; for instance, "Broke her neck jumping off a train." The lady went to Sandy Valley and returned on the next train.

Don't Try It. People cannot be too careful about trying to walk, run or drive across the railroad in front of a fast approaching train. Many accidents occur by such attempts. Priestor Bros. own a team of high-spirited roan horses which came very nearly getting Henry Priestor into trouble at the A. V. R'y crossing in West Reynoldsville last Thursday as the 1.00 P. M. passenger train came thundering into the station. Henry attempted to drive over the railroad and the horses made good time until they got on the track and then they almost stopped and took a little prance, in the mean time the iron-horse was drawing near, sounding the alarm whistle. Of course there was no damage done, but 'tis better to be on the safe side and give the steam engine the right of way when it comes to close quarters.

Our New Postoffice. Since Evan Trogo McGaw has become postmaster of Reynoldsville we have what can be truthfully termed a new postoffice, there has been so many changes made. There are no postoffices in Jefferson county that are any neater and prettier than the one at this place, for which Mr. McGaw certainly deserves great credit, as the improvements necessitated considerable expenditure of money, which come out of his pocket. The new case is made of oak and is A shaped. It contains 190 "Harvard" Bronze lock boxes, 160 No. 1, 20 No. 2 and 10 No. 3; 400 call boxes; 130 letter and 60 paper boxes in general delivery; making a total of 780 boxes. There are two call deliveries and one general delivery window; stamp window and money order window. Also an oak cupboard for money order system. The case is elegantly finished. Most all the lock boxes have been rented already. Mr. McGaw will order more boxes if they are needed. The interior of the office has been beautified by new paper and paint. A veto has been put on boisterousness and "innocuous desuetude" has been stamped upon loafing in the office. People get their mail and "move on." The new postmaster starts in as if he was beholden to no man and proposed to run the office as strictly as the law would permit. Those who have lock boxes will be expected to send their keys if they send any person for their mail. The new P. M. does not expect every member of a family to call for the mail inside of an hour after it arrives at the office. We know the citizens appreciate the improvements made in the office, and we believe when everything gets in good working order and the people understand Mr. McGaw they will like him as a postmaster. Hereafter no advertisements of any kind will be put up in the postoffice unless in a frame.

New Building and Loan. M. L. Willier, of Pillow, Pa., agent for the Keystone State Building and Loan Association of Pittsburg, which has a capital of $10,000,000, has been in Reynoldsville the past week for the purpose of organizing a branch office in this vicinity, which he succeeded in doing last Monday evening in the parlors of Hotel McConnell, with a membership of twenty-one. The officers elected were: President, M. J. Farrell; vice-president, Duncan M. Dunsmore; sec. and treas., M. E. Weed; directors, G. W. Palen, A. B. Weed, Wm. C. Gibson, W. T. Cox, Norman T. Stopp and G. Bohren. The shares in this Building and Loan are $100 each. The membership fee is one dollar for every share taken, and the dues are 60 cents per month per share. Members can withdraw all money paid as dues at any time after one year with interest. A borrower gets $100 when he borrows $100. Every borrower pays a fixed premium of 50 cents per hundred dollars and gets a fixed interest of 6 per cent. Some of the last annual dividends of this B. & L. were 16 1/2 per cent. Eighty-four months is the length of time necessary for paying dues. The Safe Deposit and Trust Co., one of the strongest and oldest financial institutions in Pittsburg, is connected with this B. & L. The President of the Association, Theo. F. Brown, is auditor for A. V. R'y, and that is one reason why the railroad men take to it so readily. M. E. Weed is agent for it at this place.

Ketter, president Grove City College, spent Sunday with Robt. Waite's family near this place. Dr. Ketter preached in the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church Sunday morning. F. K. Arnold, the ex-veteran banker of this place, has been in Washington, D. C., the past week taking a look at Congress, the Coxyettes and the sights in and around the Capitol of our own beloved land. Dr. J. B. Neale, Alex. Riston, Jacob and Henry Deible were in Potter county on a fishing expedition last week. They brought over twenty pound of trout home with them. One of the speckled beauties was thirteen inches long. J. C. Weaver, the restaurateur of Falls Creek, who hangs his sign out at the east end of the A. V. station, was in Reynoldsville Saturday visiting his daughter, Mrs. L. I. Rosenthal, wife of the proprietor of the shoe store next to J. P. Dunn's. Dr. J. W. Foust went to Philadelphia Tuesday morning to attend a meeting of the Pennsylvania Medical Society that will be held in the "Quaker City" this week. Dr. will return to Huntingdon county the latter part of this week where he will spend a month visiting his mother and fishing. The funeral of Mrs. Chlove Ruth Buhite took place from her late home near Panic, Pa., on Saturday morning, May 10. A very large concourse of people followed her remains to the Mt. Olive church, where the services were conducted by Rev. Harry G. Teagarden, pastor of the Zion C. P. church. The deceased was called very suddenly from the shores of time after an illness of a few hours duration. She was a daughter of Mr. Silas Brooks, a well known lumberman of Jefferson county. She was 35 years, 4 months and 10 days old, and leaves to mourn her loss a husband, David Buhite, and two little girls.
