Jamison's Novelty Company and Concert Orchestra will be at the Reynolds Opera House Thursday evening, May 31st. Tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store.

We are requested, by Frank H. Baur and Hugh Morrow, committee, to tender thanks to the merchants and citizens of Reynoldsville for assistance given the Elnores miners.

James McEntire, a little son of Jasper McEntire, tumbled down their cellar steps and injured his left arm so badly that he had to carry it in a sling for four or five days.

Hereafter under a ruling of the department of public instruction school boards will be required to report the cost of text books and supplies in the various districts of the state.

Eczema causes an itching so persistent as to produce, not only sleeplessness, but, at times, even delirium. Local applications will not remove the cause, which is impure blood. Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures this disease by cleansing the blood and eradicating all humors.

H. Alex. Stoke, the druggist, who keeps up with the times, has had a silver-plated tumbler washer attached to one corner of the marble slab in front of his soda fountain. It is certainly very pretty.

The Punsutawney Spirit, which is always well filled with good editorials, splay and live local matter, has entered its twenty-third year. Hon. W. O. Smith, the editor, has few equals in country journalism. Success, Willie.

To-morrow evening, May 31st, Jamison's Novelty Company and Concert Orchestra will give one of their excellent entertainments in the opera house. This company is spoken of very highly. Reserved seat tickets on sale at Stoke's drug store.

Although it is not claimed that Ayer's Sarsaparilla cures every ill to which flesh is heir, yet, as a matter of fact, it comes nearer doing this than any other medicine ever compounded. In purifying the blood, it removes the source of nearly all disorders of the human system.

We congratulate Mr. C. A. Stephenson, of the Reynoldsville STAR on the successful steering of his paper through its second annual voyage. The STAR has won a place in the constellation of best printed and most carefully edited papers of the country.—New Bethlehem Vindicator.

Rimersburg, in Clarion county, was almost entirely destroyed by fire last Friday night. One three-story hotel, one bakery, four stores, three dwelling houses, foundry and foundry were house went up in smoke. To some towns that many buildings would not be greatly missed, but in Rimersburg it means much.

An exchange says there is nothing mysterious about advertising. It is an exact science. You are simply telling people where they can get certain needed things. That is all there is of it. If you can tell them about something they want, or ought to want, if you have a good thing to offer, advertising will sell it.

The Presbyterians of Beechwoods are making arrangements to build a $2,000 parsonage. The Brockwayville Record says: "As the pastor of that congregation is a single man, and his time is so occupied that he is not at all likely to keep bachelor's hall, it looks as though the new parsonage is to be erected for a special purpose."

M. J. Farrell, ticket agent for the A. V. R'y Co. at this place, met with a mishap Wednesday evening of last week that has given him much pain since. He was coming out of his home and slipped and fell over an iron-bed express wagon belonging to his little son. Mr. Farrell peeled seven inches of skin off his right shin. There were indications of erysipelas setting in yesterday.

The annual session of the Clarion Assembly commences this year on July 18th, and continues 'til August 8th. It is claimed the program this year will be the best ever offered the patrons of the Assembly. Among the able speakers will be Rev. S. F. Upham, D. D., LL. D., professor of practical Theology in Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. We had the pleasure of hearing Rev. Upham preach a few years ago.

Thursday and Friday, June 7th and 8th, are the days the Jefferson County Union Christian Endeavor Societies will hold a convention at Big Run. There are forty societies in the county, with a membership of 2,000. This convention is expected to be the largest one ever held by the Endeavorers. The names of Rev. E. Lewis Kelley, Misses Julia Kirk and Mattie Waite, of Reynoldsville, appear on the program published.

Drs. S. Reynolds, J. C. King and A. H. Bowser, attended the Jefferson County Medical Society meeting at DuBois last Friday. The first thing on the program was a luncheon at the DuBois House, given by Drs. Free and Wilson of DuBois. After the repast had been disposed of the program for the meeting was taken up. Dr. Reynolds opened the discussion on the subject of intestinal antiseptics, which was the special topic for the day.

The cases of Kate Bater and Maggie Bash, that were to come before the Jefferson county court last week for keeping disorderly houses, were postponed until the next term of court. Kate Bater got ball and was released from jail. Maggie Bash is still in jail and will remain there until her case is tried unless some person furnishes the bail for her liberty. Some of the Reynoldsville boys will likely find it convenient to be out of town a short time before the next term of court.

At the Jefferson County Sunday school convention held at Brockwayville last week the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Rev. J. S. Adams, of Brockwayville; Vice-president, Rev. Lewis Wick, of Sigel; recording secretary, W. B. Cowan, of Brockwayville; statistical, secretary, Rev. G. H. Hill, of Rockdale Mills; treasurer, J. W. Walker, of Brockwayville; executive committee, Austin Blakealee, of Coal Glen, S. H. Whitehill, of Brockwayville, and J. C. Kelso, of Summerville. The convention will be held at Big Run next year.

Through Trains Saturday.

The new railroad bridge at Brookville, to take the place of the one swept away by high waters on the 21st inst., was up in time for trains to run over it Saturday. The bridge would have been ready for use sooner had it not been the men worked at a disadvantage when the water was high.

Big Frost.

This section was visited by a very heavy frost Monday night. All the garden truck that was not carefully covered was destroyed. We are unable to say what extent the frost damaged fruit and grain. A tub of water that was left out all night at Frank Adlesperger's was frozen over Tuesday morning.

Blue Calicoes.

The N. T. L. of the Presbyterian church, which is composed of about a dozen young ladies, decided to visit one of their members last week. Miss Mattie Waite, who lives two miles out from town. To have a little sport and get people along their route curious about what kind of a party it was, the girls all dressed in blue calico, wore sun-bonnets and traveled in a one horse wagon.

The Strikers Quiet.

The situation at this place among the miners has not changed any since they quit work the 21st of April. They are quiet and peaceable, awaiting future developments. They are not discouraged, but believe they will gain the victory. The story circulated Monday that notices had been posted at the B. & Y. C. M. Co. works at this place if the men did not go to work in a few days other men would be brought in to work in their place, was without foundation. We believe the end of this big strike is not far distant.

They Saw a Bear.

During the high water last week it was reported that a bear had been seen in the water on the low lands above "Poverty Flat." Some of the men working at the tannery thought bruln had been caught in the mad waters away up the stream and could not get out. One of the men volunteered to wade out to a little island, which was hid from view by bushes, where the bear had been seen. The man, armed with an axe, waded into the muddy water and cautiously proceeded to the place where the wild beast was resting. When he got close enough to see through the bushes sure enough there it sat—a bull dog.

Third Annual Re-union.

The third annual re-union of the Western Re-union Association, O. U. A. M., will be held in Reynoldsville on Thursday, June 7th. A grand street parade, in which all Councils in the District are expected to participate, will occur at 2:00 P. M., after which addresses will be delivered in Centennial Hall by prominent members of the order, one of whom will be Ex-State Councillor A. B. Saybolt, who is the present State organizer. Arrangements have been made for excursion rates on all railroads. A large crowd is expected to be in town that day. The members of the O. U. A. M. are making all necessary arrangements to make it pleasant for all who attend.

Wanted to Die.

DuBois will soon become noted for tragic affairs, as another one occurred at that place last Saturday. A woman by name of Rose Vasbinder, who moved from Brookville to DuBois about a year ago, attempted to commit suicide on the evening above mentioned by shooting herself. The ball penetrated her left side and passed close to her heart, but did not end her earthly existence. The woman claims that Jas. Madara, a baggage master on a Pennsylvania passenger train that runs into DuBois, had promised to marry her and on Saturday he told her that it was impossible for him to marry her. The woman, who is soon to become a mother, decided to commit suicide. Madara has a wife and family at Ridgeway.

An Old Citizen Gone.

We mentioned last week that Michael Carey had died Tuesday evening, May 22, but as we went to press early Wednesday we did not learn any particulars. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church at nine o'clock Thursday morning and his remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. Michael Carey came to this place in the rosy youth of Reynoldsville's boom, when the grading was being done for the A. V. R'y over twenty three years ago. When he first came to this place he built a home for himself and family on corner of Jackson and Second streets where he lived until death claimed him as its victim. A wife and six children survive him. The children are: Michael Carey, jr., of Myersdale, Pa., Mrs. James M. Marsh, of Sigel, Mrs. Frank Braeken, of West Reynoldsville, Nellie, John and Thomas Carey. The deceased had been engaged at mining coal for a number of years. He was 56 years old and apparently a rugged man, and that is why his friends were greatly surprised to learn of his demise. Mr. and Mrs. Carey were married at Clyde, New York, 36 years ago, he was twenty years old and his bride was eighteen. One daughter preceded the husband and father into the Great Beyond.

Memorial Sunday.

It is customary that a memorial sermon be preached by some minister of every town, where there is a G. A. R. Post, on the Sunday preceding Decoration Day, and this custom is not overlooked by the citizens of Reynoldsville. Last Sunday the services were held in the Presbyterian church and the sermon was preached by Rev. H. R. Johnson, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Many people returned home because they could not get into the church. Forty old soldiers, sixteen Sons of Veterans and ten members of the Woman's Relief Corps attended the services, wearing their badges. The services opened with music by the choir, short invocation by Rev. Johnson, followed with singing by choir and congregation. Rev. E. Lewis Kelley read a scripture lesson which was followed with prayer by Rev. Johnson. After another hymn was sung a collection was taken up.

Rev. Johnson selected his text from Acts 10-2, "A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always." For forty minutes the Reverend talked on the past, present and future of our country. He eulogized the soldiers, their wives and sweethearts, but said their work is not all done yet. They, with all well disposed people, should join in putting down the evils that are ensnaring the young people of to-day and making them slaves of a bondage more terrible than the slavery of the colored people before the great conflict between the north and south. Rev. Johnson believes in woman suffrage. He says we grant the people who were freed from slavery a greater privilege than we will give our own mothers and wives. He believes that women can and would vote intelligently if they were granted that right.

Got There by Water.

In our last issue we said Col. J. C. Boyles, of DuBois, was to be married to Miss Rosa Stover, of Jersey Shore, Wednesday morning, May 23rd, but the wedding did not take place until Thursday afternoon, then the ceremony was performed at Williamsport. The high water was the cause of the postponement of the wedding. Col. Boyles and his cousin, Henry A. Reed, of Reynoldsville, who was the groom's best man, started for Jersey Shore Monday morning by way of Driftwood. They got to Renovo without any difficulty, but at that place the prospects of reaching Jersey Shore looked very discouraging. They remained at Renovo until Tuesday morning and then abandoned all hope of reaching their destination by rail and decided to go by water, and a flat stone boat was secured and three other men joined the party. The trip to Lock Haven was uneventful. At that place they were told a train would leave for Jersey Shore over the Beech Creek road in a few minutes. The two young men bought tickets and got into the train. After sitting there for three hours the brakeman informed them that the train would not go out that night, nor did it go out for several other nights afterward. Love laughs at floods and on Wednesday morning the flat boat was brought into use again and Jersey Shore was reached several hours after the time set for the wedding, and hence it was postponed until Thursday.

It was on account of water that Col. and Henry did not get to Jersey Shore in time for the hour set for the wedding, and yet it was by water they got there. How could they have reached Jersey Shore had it not been for the water? By rail, of course.

Do You Believe It?

One of our leading business men remarked to the editor of this paper several days ago that "Reynoldsville has excellent advantages for becoming the best town in this section, but her people cripple the growth of the place by buying so many articles that they need from other towns, and help the business men of those places, when the money should remain in Reynoldsville." There was no argument to follow his remarks, because we know it is, alas, too true. We have been harping on this matter considerable since we entered journalism, but the people will continue to buy in other towns and then wonder why money is not found lying around the streets in piles. This is an important matter, more so than many people think for. Even some men who are in business here send out of town for what they want and then are ready to complain if others do likewise. It must be remembered that there is no business in Reynoldsville that is independent of all the people of the place. Then this sending away reflects on the business of the town. Give the matter consideration and see if you cannot understand how you are working against your own interests in the long run.

Card of Thanks.

We take this medium of giving expression of our gratitude and appreciation for the kindness shown to us during our time of deep sorrow, when death robbed us of husband and father. We are truly thankful for such kindness.

MRS. M. CAREY AND FAMILY.

W. E. Lenney, of Reynoldsville, is making as fine pictures for $1.50 as can be gotten anywhere for $4.00 per doz. June 9th will be the last day.

Lock Haven's Dilemma.

We went down to Lock Haven last Thursday to see our mother-in-law—who had moved into the second story of her home Sunday evening, May 20th, and remained there until the following Tuesday morning—and to see the condition of Lock Haven after the third big flood which that town has been visited with. The flood at Lock Haven last week was not within three feet as high as was the flood of 1889, but it was higher than the flood of 1865. People who have never seen a town just after it has been visited by a raging flood, have no conception of the sorry sight of a place thus deluged. The entire town was not left in as bad condition as it was after the flood of '89, but some parts, especially along Water street, was a sight to behold. Gardens washed out and the lots filled with logs, stumps and rubbish. In some lots logs were piled four or five high. In various places in the city you could find barns and out houses upset, fences gone, sidewalks on top of fences, logs on front porches, flower gardens turned into trash piles, front yards into log piles, floors covered with a half foot of sand and dirt. In the houses where the water had been three or four feet deep the paper on the walls was destroyed. In the excitement of getting ready for the high water everybody thought about home and friends and forgot about the churches, and the carpets in most all the places of worship were destroyed. The streets were left in a filthy condition and all the collars full of water. Unless great care is taken about the sanitary condition of the city a great epidemic will follow close in the tracks of the devastating waters. The Pennsylvania railroad station was in the "swim" to the depth of five feet. The destruction in the city was not as great as it was in '89, but it was greater than many people could well afford to stand. The boom broke Sunday afternoon and the millions of logs that it held went speeding down the river on the bosom of the riotous water. The loss of the logs will throw many men out of employment. The Bald Eagle creek empties into the Susquehanna river just below Lock Haven and that is the reason the lower part of the city always gets the worst of it in the time of a big flood. During the high water street cars were forgotten and people who wanted to go any place traveled in boats.

Aspiring for Congress.

William C. Bond, of Brockwayville, the young man who is aspiring to be Congressman from this district, was in town this week. Mr. Bond is a college graduate and a bright young fellow. He is a self made man, one of those who worked hard for his education and any other possessions he may have. He has good hopes of getting the Republican nomination in the June primaries, although a desperate fight is being made to defeat him. It is reported that Mr. Bond wants the nomination so he can sell out again as he did two years ago. This is a political falsehood. Mr. Bond did not sell out two years ago, but gave away for the good of the party, which the following article published in the Brookville Republican of Sept. 14, 1892, commenting on Mr. Bond's actions in the case, will show:

"In justice to Mr. Bond it should be mentioned in this connection that he made every possible effort to secure the nomination for himself, and had the candidates lived up to their promises and agreements he would have been the nominee. * * * It having become apparent to the Republicans of this county that neither Mr. Bond's or Col. Huff's nomination was possible, and as the time was growing short they became exceedingly anxious that the contest should end, and recognizing the claims of Mr. Heiner and Armstrong county, Mr. Bond's constituents besieged him with letters and telegrams to give way and nominate Mr. Heiner, believing that the success of the party was more concerned than the ambition of any one individual. We believe Mr. Bond's course will meet with the approval of the Republicans of Jefferson county."

The above item shows that Mr. Bond was ambitious to the very last and sacrificed that ambition for his party's sake. Mr. Heiner is very anxious for Mr. Bond to get defeated for the nomination, as he made some promises two years ago that he would not care to live up to now if Bond gets the nomination. Heiner is anxious that Heiner should return to Congress for another two years.

Glad to Get Slack.

The Northwestern & Lake Erie Railroad Co. brought about 100 Hungarians and Italians from Bradford last Saturday to Dagus and loaded twenty-six cars of slack coal which they have stocked there. Had it not been for the wet weather there might have been trouble as the officials of this Co. claimed they only wanted one or two cars for some glass works that they own. These people have to hustle as they have no coal to run their engines with and they have to use this slack. The men will not allow any more to be loaded as they are determined to stop it. The Shawmut Coal company had some men loading slack but the miners soon stopped them and they did not make another attempt as they saw it was no use. The miners on the Toby Valley road are all quiet and are determined to stand till they gain the battle.—DuBois Express.

Ladies' tan Oxfords at Robinson's.

Miss Lulu Foust is visiting in New Bethlehem this week.

Miss Emma Conger, of Brookville, is visiting at J. A. Welch's.

David Harding, of Falls Creek, spent Sunday in Reynoldsville.

Mrs. R. E. McKee returned yesterday from a visit at Brookville.

Mrs. Chas. Montgomery, of Sigel, is visiting in Reynoldsville.

A. M. Wading and wife spent Sunday with friends in Brookville.

Mrs. A. M. Woodward and daughter, Zoe, were in New Bethlehem yesterday.

Miss Jennie Baum, of DuBois, was the guest of Miss Lizzie Davis the past week.

Mrs. A. B. Weed and Miss Lulu Creighton visited friends in Driftwood last week.

Arnold Alexander, of Clarion, visited Fred and Frank Alexander at this place last week.

Mrs. Wm. Gillespie, of Clayville, visited her sister, Mrs. Geo. E. Cant, last week.

Mrs. Mary Primrose, of Waverly, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. McEntire, at this place.

Mrs. J. S. McCreight and Mrs. A. S. Gibson, of Ridgway, are visiting friends and relatives in this section.

Miss Ada Crisman, of Punsutawney, visited with Miss Lulu Creighton in West Reynoldsville this week.

Mrs. Ida Lucore, of Brockwayville, visited R. D. Beer's family in West Reynoldsville during the past week.

Misses Emma and Cora Steel and Miss Ida McIninch, of Brookville, visited friends in this place over Sunday.

Mrs. C. Peters, of DuBois, and her two daughters, Mrs. James Taylor, of Carbon Center, and Mrs. John Melroy, of Johnstown, visited friends in Reynoldsville Saturday.

Michael Carey, of Myersdale, an engineer on Pittsburg Div. of B. & O. R. R., and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Marsh, of Sigel, were in Reynoldsville last week attending the funeral of M. Carey, sr.

Rev. J. C. McEntire went to Woodland, Pa., near Clearfield, yesterday. He was to deliver an address before the Knights of Golden Eagle at that place last night and speak for the P. O. S. of A. at the same place to-day.

Geo. Mellinger, superintendent of the Shawmut coal works, came home Saturday to remain over Sunday. Mr. Mellinger brought 150 fresh trout with him. Through his generosity we enjoyed a mess of trout Sunday morning.

I. C. Faulk, a bright young school teacher of Ringgold, who taught several terms in Winslow township, was in Reynoldsville last Saturday for the purpose of getting the Winslow township school directors to endorse his application for a teachers permanent certificate.

Indignation Meeting.

The girls of Emporium are up in arms and have held an indignation meeting and are in rebellion against the young men of Emporium, who use their parlors for loafing places, enjoy their music, eat dainties prepared by their hands, but who forget to reciprocate when a good entertainment comes along. At such times the girls claim they are left alone with their meditations, while the beaux sit out the performances alone.—Emporium Press.

A couple of handsome young ladies of Reynoldsville, who heard of the actions of the Emporium girls, are talking of calling an indignation meeting among the girls of this place for the same reason the Emporium girls had.

Leg Broken.

Tuesday evening last Rev. Ed. Platt met with a very painful accident at Coal Glen. He and David Abbott were out driving in a buggy between Coal Glen and Beechtree when the horse frightened and ran away. Mr. Platt was thrown out of the buggy and had his leg broken, and his companion was also badly shaken up but not seriously injured.—Brookville Republican.
