A Little of Everything.

Remember the soldiers, children. Remember them all with flowers. There's the battle and there's the pain. Ours is the peace and ours the gain. There's the sowing, the harvest ours— And all we can give them to-day is flowers.

Was you at the circus?

 H. J. Nickle invites everybody to call at the Reed building and examine her stock of all kinds of goods usually kept in a variety store. The goods are all good quality at reasonable prices.
 Imitations is said to be the sincerest flattery, but you will find it expensive to use an imitation of "Adamant Plaster." A book that will tell you all about the "right kind" of H. Alex. Stoke, agent.

The Tin Horn rises to remark that if parents would train up the child in the way he should go it would be well not to let him see the way they go themselves.

Advertising costs money, and so do railroad fares. But as it is cheaper to ride a thousand miles than to walk that distance, so also it is cheaper to advertise than to circularize.—Printer's Ink.

Chas. Lee's Great London shows gave two exhibitions in Reynoldsville yesterday. The parade was not a grand affair, but those who attended the circus speak of it as being a good 25 cent show.

D. B. McConnell, an enterprising young farmer of Hipperville, who believes in keeping up with the times, put a new roof on his hay barn last week, using twelve-foot shingles for the material.

Two young ladies started to Rathmel several days ago and the horse got frightened and backed the buggy into the run above Prescottville and a Chester county young lady was thrown out of the buggy into the water.

Builders look to your walls. "Adamant" is the perfection of wall plaster and is the result of a life devoted to scientific research. I can show you an interesting story about some of the imitation, H. Alex. Stoke, agent.

The W. C. T. U. served dinner and supper in the G. A. R. hall last Friday for the delegates who attended the Prohibition convention and any others who wanted to patronize them. The ladies cleared over twenty dollars.

Frank P. Best, an enterprising farmer who lives in Winslow township, was in town yesterday. Frank was not "puffed up with pleasure" because it was circus day, but his hands and face were badly swollen from the effects of poison in his system.

Volney B. Cushing, of Maine, one of the best temperance lecturers that has ever appeared before the people of Reynoldsville, will deliver an address in Centennial hall this evening. Cushing is a fluent and eloquent talker and will interest all who go to hear him.

Have you your property insured? This is the time of year for fires. If you are not insured don't wait, but call on or address C. B. French, the Reynoldsville insurance agent, at once and get his rates. The best companies represented. Office, Nolan Block, with G. M. McDonald, lawyer.

It will be very gratifying to the taxpayers of the county to know that the term of Quarter Sessions court that was concluded Monday morning last was one of the least expensive that has been held for some time, but few bills of costs falling upon the county.—Brookville Republican.

The Prescottville Cornet band will attend the tournament to be held at Phillipsburg on the 20th and 21st of next month, and will enter the contest with a view of winning a prize. The Prescottville band is a good one. Richard Ramsey is leader of the band now. The band was out on Main street one evening last week and played the piece they will play for the prize.

Mrs. Mary Ann Smith, nee Bolton, of DuBois, oldest daughter of Mrs. Julia Bolton, of Reynoldsville, died at her home in DuBois Saturday morning from heart trouble. Her remains were brought to Reynoldsville on the 8:48 P. M. train Saturday. Funeral services were held in the Catholic church Monday at 9:00 A. M. The deceased was married Jan. 2nd, 1885. She had been indisposed for about four weeks, but became seriously ill Thursday night before she died.

M. Thomas, a first class tonsorial artist, who has been in Reynoldsville for about eight years, sold his barbershop to his brother, John E. Thomas, and moved to New Kensington, Pa., yesterday where he has bought the half interest in a large shop. Kensington is a good town and Mr. Thomas is a good barber and doubtless will make a success in his new shop. The shop at this place, under the management of John Thomas, will be conducted so as to continue to be a first-class barbershop.

To-morrow every true, patriotic American should have a desire to honor the memory of all who wore the blue and now find a resting place in the silent cities. This feeling of gratitude is, after all, a natural one, for where throughout our land is there an American whose memory does not revert to the sufferings endured by some one near and dear to him. With the old soldier it brings back tender memories of comrades who have answered the last roll call—many of them now sleep beneath the sod in Beulah and other cemeteries of this section. It is a day for commemorating the brave deeds that have been done and have passed into history that will never be forgotten. The day should be properly and fittingly observed to-morrow.

"Strew the fair garlands where slumber the dead.
 Ring out the strains like the swell of the sea.
 Heartfelt the tribute we lay on each bed.
 Sound o'er the brave the refrain of the free,
 Sound the refrain of the loyal and free,
 Visit each sleeper and hallow each bed,
 Wave the starred banner from seacoast to sea.
 Grateful the living and honored the dead."

Died Thursday Night.
 Mrs. Marjorie Keys, wife of Joseph Keys of Beechwoods, died at her home near Allen's Mills Thursday night of last week, aged about sixty-two years. Her parents moved into Beechwoods when she was a child and she has lived in that neighborhood ever since. Her husband and four sons survive her. Funeral services were held at the house at 1:00 P. M. Saturday. The funeral was a very large one.

Memorial Sunday.
 The surviving members of the noble boys in blue who reside near Reynoldsville, Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief Corps, attended morning services in the M. E. church last Sunday in a body. Rev. P. J. Slattery, pastor of the M. E. church, preached one of the best memorial sermons ever delivered in this place. Rev. Slattery was one of the boys in army life and he knew what he was talking about when he mentioned some of the hardships endured for love of country. The church was crowded, many being unable to get seats.

Wedded at Stanton.
 On Wednesday evening, May 22nd, Clarence H. Patterson, clerk at the American House in Brookville, and Miss Luella Fink, daughter of J. W. Fink, of Reynoldsville, were married at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage at Stanton, Pa., by Rev. Jas. H. Jelbart. The marriage was somewhat of a secret and is not generally known yet even among the bride's close friends. Mr. Patterson is an industrious young man and will make Lou a good husband, while Lou, on the other hand, is a very nice young lady and will make Clarence a good helpmate in life's journey. THE STAR extends congratulations.

An Ungrateful Indian.
 A tall, lank, long-haired, full-blooded South Dakota Indian arrived at Esq. John T. Coax's "Valley Home" about dusk one evening last week and asked for shelter for the night. Squire did not want to give the red-skinned traveler a bed or allow him to sleep in the house, but a good bed was fixed for him in the barn, and the Indian also had the promise of a good breakfast in the morning. At five o'clock the next morning Charley went to the barn to get the Indian up for breakfast, but he found that the Indian had vanished during the night and that he had not gone empty handed, for Squire's buggy harness was not on the accustomed peg. The next fellow that wants shelter for the night from Squire will likely get just a few minutes to get off his premises.

High Mass Wedding.
 One of the grandest weddings that has ever been performed in the Catholic church in this place occurred at nine o'clock this morning. John O'Hare, one of the proprietors of the City Hotel, and Miss Sadie Lydon, of Rathmel, are the young couple who were united in matrimony with High Mass ceremonies. Father Brady performed the ceremony. Miss Katie Lydon, sister of the bride, and Miss Agie Mager, of Punxsutawney, were the bridesmaids, and Thomas O'Hare, brother of the groom, and M. J. Coyle were groomsmen. The bride and her sister were dressed in pale blue silk and Miss Mager was dressed in pink silk. The newly wedded pair will leave on the 1:42 P. M. train for Pittsburgh. They will be gone about a week and when they return will take up their abode at the City Hotel.

Caught at it.
 W. S. Eckard worked for E. C. Burns, the liveryman, and while in Burns's employ he bought an old "plug" from some one. Last Friday morning "Billy" decided to depart for new fields. He made it convenient to leave when there was no one about the barn. After dinner Ed. discovered that a set of harness and a buggy had gone the same time "Billy" left. It was nearly two o'clock before Ed. was ready to go in pursuit of the thief, who had six or seven hours the start. Mr. Burns got track of "Billy" at the East End Hotel and between that and Ridgway, where Ed. arrived before dark, he got track of the man three or four times. Soon after Ed. got into Ridgway "Billy" drove in. He was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. The following morning Ed. allowed the man to go free and he returned home with his harness and buggy.

Took in Big Soldier.
 An extensive coal works like that of the Bell, Lewis and Yates in Reynoldsville would be as much of a sight to the people of New York as Broadway or the Brooklyn bridge would be to the people of our town, and yet there are many people living here who know no more about the large coal works than people who live five hundred miles away. Up until last Sunday most all of the following named gentlemen had never been inside Big Soldier: Frank J. Black, Ed. Gooder, C. F. Hoffman, Scott McClelland, E. W. McMillen, J. C. Dillman, Thomas Green, John C. Conser, M. J. Coyle, H. S. Belnap and John D. Lowther. On Sunday this party enjoyed an excursion in Big Soldier and it was a very interesting trip to them. By previous arrangements they had two experienced men as guides. They went into and out of the mine in coal cars hauled by mules.

Another Mother Gone.
 Mrs. John Williams died at 8:45 P. M. May 21, from heart trouble. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. P. J. Slattery, pastor of the church. Mountain Cliff Castle, No. 359, K. G. E., and Pleasant Valley Temple, No. 25, Ladies of the K. G. E., attended the funeral in a body, and marched ahead of the hearse from the house to the church and from the church to Beulah cemetery, where the remains of an affectionate wife, a loving and indulgent mother were lowered into a new made grave to await the resurrection morn.

The deceased's maiden name was Susan Edle; she was born in England 46 years, 11 months and 24 days before she departed this life. She was married to John Williams in England 22 years ago. They came to America in 1873; moved to Reynoldsville about six years ago. Eleven children were born unto them, nine of whom survive their mother. The oldest one is twenty and the youngest three years old.

Only those who have had loved ones carried to the silent city of the dead can know the sorrow of the hearts that are left to mourn; each one thinks their grief is the hardest to bear, and yet we believe when a mother or father is removed from a large family of small children it is one of the saddest of all deaths. This was just such a case, and the man who could listen to the expressions of sorrow as the little ones looked for the last time upon the lifeless form of their best friend—mother—and did not drop a tear, is not a very tender hearted creature.

Prohibition Convention.
 The Prohibition county convention convened in Centennial hall at 10:00 A. M. last Friday. Solomon Shaffer presided and Rev. Hicks and J. Van Reed acted as secretaries. Committees were appointed to draft resolutions; Addresses were delivered by members of the convention, among whom was Chas. E. Temple, of Brookwayville, and Jacob Shaffer, of Knoxdale, who delivered especially good addresses. The convention adjourned until 2:00 P. M.

At the afternoon session Solomon Shaffer was re-elected county chairman and J. Van Reed secretary and treasurer. A subscription amounting to $138.00, was taken to carry on the Prohibition work in the county. Resolutions were read and adopted. County Committee was authorized to name the candidate for Judge or associate Judges, as may be required. D. B. Schaffner, of Falls Creek, was nominated for Coroner, and V. R. Pratt, of Reynoldsville, for County Surveyor. The following delegates were elected to attend the State convention to be held in Pittsburgh June 6th: Robt. L. Miles, R. F. Millen, R. C. Osburn, Chas. E. Temple, A. D. Deemer, Solomon Shaffer, J. Van Reed. These delegates were instructed to elect a State delegate when in Pittsburgh. Chairman and secretary were instructed to secure a suitable person to organize the county thoroughly.

State Chairman H. D. Patton, of Lancaster, delivered an able address in the evening to a good-sized audience in Centennial hall.

Buried Yesterday.
 Mrs. Isabelle Bell, mother of John H. Bell, superintendent of the B. L. & Y. C. M. Co., died at the home of her son on Grant street at 11:00 P. M. Sunday, after being confined to bed one week. Eight or ten weeks ago the old lady had an attack of the grip from which she never fully recovered. Isabelle Halden was born in Scotland seventy-six years ago the 13th of last February. She was married to a Mr. Bell and unto them one son was born, and while he was yet in infancy the father and husband died. Sometime afterwards Mrs. Bell married a man named Chapman. They had no children. Twelve years ago Mr. Chapman died. Nine years ago the deceased came to America to spend the remaining days of her declining years under the roof of her only son, J. H. Bell, and she assumed the name given her by her first marriage. Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church at 2:00 P. M. yesterday, conducted by Rev. H. R. Johnson, and the interment took place in Beulah cemetery.

First Club "Run."
 Twenty-two members of the Clover Cycle Club, dressed in their new nobby suits, rode their bicycles to DuBois last Friday evening. The Club made the run to DuBois, nine miles, in one hour. It was not extra fast time because some of the boys are not experts on wheels and could not ride up all the hills. The Club took supper at the National Hotel in DuBois and speak very highly of the excellent supper served to them. The Club returned home about half-past nine the same evening well pleased with their first "run."

The Club made a fine appearance as they started out of town on their way to DuBois.

A Sufferer Gone.
 Mrs. Patrick McEnteer died at her home in West Reynoldsville at 11:15 P. M., May 22nd, 1895, from cancer of the stomach. For over three years she suffered with stomach trouble. The past two months she was confined to her bed and for four weeks before she died she hovered near the gates of death, her husband and children expecting the death messenger at most any hour. The bereaved family left Reynoldsville on the 7:40 A. M. train Friday for Erie with the remains of their loved one, and on Saturday morning funeral services were conducted in the St. Patrick church in Erie, where the deceased had worshipped in former days, after which the mortal remains of one beloved by all who were intimately acquainted with her, were buried in the Catholic cemetery beside two children who had preceded her to the Great Beyond.

Ellen Tobin was born in Ireland January 6th, 1828, and was 67 years, 4 months and 16 days old at the time of her death. She came to America in 1846 and was married to Patrick McEnteer in Erie, Pa., January 9th, 1849. She came to Reynoldsville with her husband seventeen years ago and moved into the house where she died. She was a woman who did not bother herself about other people's affairs, and was a kind and accommodating neighbor, a better neighbor in time of sickness could not be asked for. This, we have reason to know, is a fact. During her illness she bore her sufferings patiently, and when the end came she peacefully succumbed to the inevitable.

The husband and five children survive the deceased. The children are: Mrs. Maggie Gannon, of Olean, N. Y., M. J. McEnteer, of Driftwood, Will J., of New Bethlehem, Thos. C., of West Reynoldsville, and Frank P., who is in the west somewhere.

Formerly of This Place.
 The following notice of the marriage of Miss Ella Gordon, who was born in this town, was clipped from The Times of Washington, D. C.: "On the evening of May 15th a quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, on East Capitol street. Ella Lillian, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gordon, was united in marriage to Mr. William Henry Page, Rev. Green Clay Smith officiating. The Lohengrin march was played as the bride, preceded by the bridesmaids, Miss Belle Gordon, sister of the bride, and Miss Blanche Stewart, followed by Master Eugene Gordon as page, carrying the brides bouquet of orange blossoms, met the groom under a floral chime of bells, where the ceremony was performed. The groom was attended by Mr. W. Waldo as best man and Bacon Kelso as page. The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of white silk and lace, and wore a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridesmaids looked beautiful in gowns of pink and white silk crepe, carrying bouquets of pink and white carnations. The parlors were transformed into bowers of green and white by elaborate floral decorations. After the ceremony a reception to the bridal party followed."

Program for Decoration Day.
 Parade will form on Main St. at 8:30 A. M.
 First Division—Will be composed of the different Sunday schools, with M. E. school at head of column.
 Second Division—Prescottville band, hose companies and the different secret societies. They will be placed in line as the Marshall directs.
 Third Division—Firing squad, Sons of Veterans, G. A. R. in rear.
 Column will move at 8:45 and march to Beulah cemetery and at gate will halt and open ranks. Firing squad, S. of V. and G. A. R. will march through and receive the flowers from the Sunday school children, then march to an unknown grave where the usual services will be held.
 It is the request of the G. A. R. that all places of business be closed from 9:00 to 9:30 A. M. on that day.
 JOSEPH SHAFFNER, Marshall.

For President Judge.
 In this issue of THE STAR will be found the announcement of John W. Reed, of Brookville, as a candidate for the office of President Judge, subject to the action of the Republicans of the county at the primary election on June 15th. The Punxsutawney Spirit, speaking of Mr. Reed, says: "Among the many bright lawyers practicing at the Jefferson County bar, men who by indefatigable effort have reached places of distinction among their fellow practitioners, there is no one better or more favorably known than John W. Reed, Esq. A close student, in love with his profession, and possessing more than ordinary ability, he has forged his way to the front and is recognized by his fellow members as being one of the ablest lawyers in this section of the State."
