Last week fourteen new Welsbach lights were put in Centennial hall and hereafter that building will be brilliantly illuminated when used for any purpose at night. One improvement after another has been added to the interior of this hall until it is now an excellent place in which to hold public meetings, lectures, &c.

Mrs. Rev. J. W. Crawford, while descending the stairs from the auditorium room of the M. E. church Sunday morning, fell head first when within five steps from the foot of the stairs and escaped without injury, although somewhat frightened and shaken up. The heel of her shoe caught in the matting on the steps, which caused the tumble.

In our last issue we mentioned that the remains of Mrs. H. A. Reed, that were buried in the Pleasant Avenue cemetery three years ago the 20th of last February, would be lifted and taken to Frostburg, Pa., for re-burial. On Thursday morning of last week Henry A. Reed, J. Van Reed and C. N. Lewis accompanied the remains to Frostburg where the re-interment took place.

Samuel Lauck, the oldest passenger conductor on the Low Grade Division of the A. V. R'y, is in a Philadelphia hospital for treatment. He will be off duty several months. Mr. Lauck is an affable and gentlemanly conductor, one who tries to please the public and at the same time look well to the interests of the company for whom he works. Sam has many friends along the A. V. who wish him speedy recovery to his wonted health.

An East Main street man who believes in the saying, "See a pin, pick it up, and all the day long you'll have good luck," saw a pin in front of the Arnold block last Saturday. Bending down to get it, his hat tumbled off and rolled into the gutter. His eyeglasses fell and broke on the pavement; his suspenders gave way behind; he busted the button hole on the back of his shirt collar, and he all but lost his new false teeth. He got the pin.

Don't You Think So?
One of the new Welsbach street lamps, which we have been agitating for use on our streets, has been put up in front of the gas office on Main street. It makes a pretty light and is just the thing to illuminate our streets.

Stroke of Paralysis.
Peter Baum, a farmer who has lived near Emerickville to these many years, is very near the gates of death. He has been indisposed for sometime and last week he had a stroke of paralysis. His right side and tongue are paralyzed.

Good Breeders.
George Burtop, a Beechwoods farmer, has six ewes that increased his sheepfold somewhat within the past two weeks. Five of the ewes gave birth to twins and one gave birth to triplets. Twelve lambs are living and doing nicely. One of the triplets died.

In a Critical Condition.
H. I. Cartin, an old citizen of this place and who at one time was engaged in the mercantile business in Reynoldsville, is now lying at his home on Jackson street in a critical condition from a stroke of paralysis which he suffered last Saturday. There is little hope entertained for his recovery.

Dangerous Practice.
Some of these days it will be our painful duty to chronicle the sad news that a two hundred pound, rosy-cheeked business man of our town was horribly mangled at the A. V. R'y station at this place as a result of jumping off a passenger train before the train stopped, unless the aforesaid gentleman realizes the danger and desists from such an unnecessary and unwise practice.

Instructed for Pittston.
The Democratic county committee met at Brookville Monday forenoon and elected three delegates to the State Convention to be held at Allentown, Pa., on the 29th day of April. The delegates elected were Lawyer G. M. McDonald, of this place, L. D. Bearick, of Falls Creek, and B. M. Clark, of Brookville. The delegates were instructed by the committee meeting to vote for Ex-Governor Robt. E. Pattison at the State Convention for candidate for President of the United States.

Easter Sunday.
Easter Sunday was a delightful day and many of our people were religiously inclined and the various places of worship were well attended. The churches were not as elaborately decorated for this Easter occasion as they have been in the by-gone years, but the reason of this was the cold weather of Saturday which made it impossible to carry potted plants any distance and keep them from freezing. The Catholic church had the finest display of flowers. All the churches of town observed Easter either by special programs or appropriate sermons.

Swallowed a Tack.
Francis Ottis Sutter, the accommodating clerk in Bing & Co.'s dry goods store, indulged in a new diet last week that would not be advisable to partake of too sumptuously nor very frequently. Frank was decorating one of the display windows of the store and had several sharp-pointed carpet tacks in his mouth when some one passed and struck the window, which frightened Frank and he swallowed one of the tacks. Mr. Bing, when informed of what had happened, gratuitously gave the young man this advice: "Swallow a tack hammer and drive it out." Frank did not experience any trouble from swallowing the tack other than several days of worry as to what the result might be.

Charitable Entertainment.
An entertainment will be given in the Reynolds opera house Friday evening of this week by DuBois talent for the benefit of the widows and fatherless children of the men who were killed in the Berwind-White mine disaster. Among the talent giving the entertainment will be Prof. Alton Lindsey, the impersonator, and Miss McDermott, the reader. An orchestra of twelve pieces will furnish music. The company will be hauled to Reynoldsville and return over the R. & F. C. R'y free, and Albert Reynolds gives the use of the opera house free. The entire receipts of the entertainment will be given to the bereaved ones. The entertainment will be a good one and the receipts are to be used for a laudable purpose.

Mrs. Furbay Died Saturday.
Mrs. Blanche Campbell Furbay, the estimable wife of Rev. Harvey Grene Furbay, formerly pastor of the Reynoldsville Presbyterian church, died in the Presbyterian parsonage at Tyrone at seven o'clock last Saturday evening. We have been unable to learn the cause of her death. Services were held in the first Presbyterian church in Tyrone, of which Rev. Furbay is pastor, Sunday afternoon and on Monday the remains were taken to New Athens, Ohio, where the parents of the deceased live, for burial. A telegram bearing the news of Mrs. Furbay's death was received in this place Sunday morning with great surprise and sadness by the host of friends of both Rev. Furbay and the deceased. Mrs. Furbay was a highly educated and noble christian lady.

Robbers at Rothmel.
James Hughes, proprietor of the Central Hotel at Rothmel, had a hair-raising experience with three robbers Saturday night. Jim heard a noise as if some one was trying to raise a window. With revolver in hand and stocken-footed he stepped out on top of the porch and took in the situation at a glance. There was one man in the road in front of the house, one stationed at corner of house and a third one at the office window. The man in front of the house discovered the proprietor on the porch and notified his companions by saying: "Look up, shoot!" and in a jiffy a ball whizzed past Jim's head. He returned the compliment. His revolver only contained two cartridges and when they were used the shooting was one-sided. Although Jim was on the porch at the mercy of the robbers, yet their aim was not good and he escaped without a scratch, but the bullets flew close. Two of the men ran towards DuBois and the other headed for Reynoldsville. Mike Kalfefe, who was awakened by the shooting, got out in time to use his revolver and legs in chasing the fellow that ran towards Reynoldsville. The hotel office window had been raised about two feet and the robber would have been inside had Jim remained in bed a little longer. A small jimmy was used to pry open the window.

Sold the Corn.
It is an old and well worn custom with a portion of the human family to "April Fool" people on the first day of April. Such fun, for all who participate in it but the one "fooled," was not indulged in to any extent in Reynoldsville on last Wednesday. Newell Meeker, of Meeker Bros.' feed store, and Chas. Milliren, of Millirens clothing store, concocted an "April fool" joke on Albert Harris, an assistant in Meeker Bros.' store, that would have worked well had not a woman come to Al's rescue at the right time. On the morning of the first of April Al was instructed to measure up a bushel of corn and deliver it at the residence of A. G. Milliren on Grant street, and as he was starting out was handed a supposed bill of the amount. Glenn met Al at the door and then the young man learned by looking at the bill that he was a victim of an "April fool" joke. It happened that Mrs. Milliren, who overheard the conversation at the door, wanted a bushel of corn for her chickens and she bought the corn. When Al returned the laugh was on the originators of the joke and those who had been posted and were waiting to "guy" him when he carried the corn back.

A Pointer for Street Loafers.
At the meeting of town council Monday evening, as will be seen by reading report of council in this issue, it was decided to enforce ordinance No. 7 to prevent loafing and disorderly conduct on the streets. The ordinance in substance is as follows: Any person who shall be found in any street or public place making any noise or confusion, or using obscene or profane language, or behaving in a disorderly manner, or lounging upon door steps, cellar doors or upon private property without permission of the owner, or lounging around lamp-posts, sidewalks, bridges, or crowding in front of or around churches, and all boys found upon any street, alley, vacant lot or building, or in any public building or place within the borough after 9.00 P. M., except such as may be going to or from business or errands, shall be liable to arrest by any police officer, constable, or high constable and upon conviction before the burgess or a justice of the peace, shall be liable to a fine of not less than one nor more than five dollars and costs of prosecution, and in default of payment of same shall work out said fine and costs upon the public streets under the direction of the borough officers.

Hard Wood Log Train.
James Degnan and P. McDonald, extensive lumber contractors of this place, have several miles of a standard gauge railroad running from the A. V. R'y near Sandy Valley into the forest which is used to haul logs to the Sandy Lick creek. John, son of P. McDonald, is engineer on the lumber road. Degnan & McDonald cut over 300,000 feet of hard wood at the Sandy Valley camp for the Hopkins mill, and as the logs cannot be floated to the mill with the other timber, Degnan & McDonald's engine and cars have been hauling the logs to Hopkins over the A. V. R'y during the past week. The train makes three trips a day. It is a new experience for Engineer McDonald whose rail-roading heretofore has been confined to the log road where he has always had the right of way. The A. V. R'y sends a conductor and flagman with the log train over its line. The whistle on Degnan & McDonald's dinky engine can blow as long and loud as any big jumbo engine that turns a wheel on the P. R. R., judging from the way it has been blowing every time it passes through this place.

It was moved seconded and carried that the executive officers named in the ordinance be instructed to enforce the same.

C. C. Gibson appeared before council and presented a bill for $18.40, expenses incurred in the division of the borough into two voting precincts, and requested that council pay the bill. It was moved and seconded that the bill be paid, and the motion was amended that the bill be held over until the borough attorney could be consulted about it. The amendment carried and the bill was held over.

Joseph Boddy asked to have a stump removed from the alley adjacent to his lot. Referred to street committee.

T. E. Evans asked that the first payment on account of the new hose house, of $150, stipulated in the contract to be paid him when the building is under roof, be made at once. On motion it was resolved to draw an order for the amount and place it in the hands of the building committee, to be delivered by them to Evans when the building is under roof.

J. R. Fentz and Peter Burkhart, on behalf of the school board, asked for permission to remove sufficient ground from Grant street at the school house to do the necessary grading about the new school house. Referred to street committee.

A petition was presented, asking for the opening of Eighth street from Grant to Jackson street, which on motion was held over until the next meeting night.

A petition was presented asking for a sewer from Fifth street along Gordon alley to Fourth street; thence either along Fourth street to Sandy Lick creek, or along Gordon alley to the run, which on motion was held over for one month.

The bond of D. Hartman, as overseer of the poor, was presented and accepted.

F. K. Alexander, on behalf of the Reynoldsville Woolen Co., asked for a fire plug at the corner of Third and Jackson streets. On motion it was resolved that if the Water Co. will grant the two plugs asked for at the upper end of town, they be requested and authorized to put in the one asked for at Jackson and Third streets; all three to go in at the same time.

The burgess reported licenses collected in March, $4.00.

The following bills were presented and on motion ordered paid: D. Hartman, two plow points, 80c.; W. T. Cox, police, $6.00; Alex. Watson, police, $4.00; T. C. Shields, police, $3.00; Jacob Henninger, for stone, 75c.; C. A. Stephenson, printing, $4.50; Geo. Warnick, street commissioner, $4.50; Oil City Fuel Supply Co., $6.48; C. C. Gibson, auditor, $4.00; A. M. Wadding, auditor, $4.00; J. S. Hammond, auditor, $4.00, clerk of council, $2.00.

On motion the borough attorney was instructed to have viewers appointed to assess damages in the matter of opening Grant, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth streets and Willow alley.

Attention was called to the condition of the plank road, which is wearing more rapidly in the center than at the sides, and it was suggested that a plank be placed in the center, to compel teams to travel on the sides of the road, and on motion it was resolved to carry out the suggestion by placing a plank or stringer of some kind, to be determined by the street committee, in the center of the road, the street committee being authorized to do the work according to their best judgment.

On motion the clerk was instructed to post notices calling for bids for the painting of the new hose house, when erected; the inside to have one coat of shellac, rubbed down with sand-paper, and one coat of Berry Bros.' best hard oil finish; the outside to have two coats of No. 1 lead and linseed oil; primed white and second coat and trimmings to be according to instructions of building committee. Bids to be received at the next regular meeting of council, on May 4th.

The Date has been Fixed.
Mr. Elliott's lecture on Astronomy for the benefit of John Conser Post G. A. R. will be delivered on Tuesday evening next at the Centennial Hall. Mr. Elliott has at last secured the desired photographic views of the sun, moon, comets, star clusters and nebula, all of which will be projected on a screen with a calcium light. These are the best of the kind in existence and present an astounding and awe inspiring picture of the celestial universe. He has over one hundred of these views and as many will be shown as time will permit.

JOHN M. HAYS, SAMUEL LATTIMER, Com. R. D. BEER.

Through the kindness of Mr. Elliott, the editor of this paper had the privilege of seeing the views last evening and we must acknowledge them first class. The people will certainly be well pleased with Mr. Elliott's illustrated lecture.
