Theodore Pomroy, son of William Pomroy of Rathmel, fell off a bicycle Sunday and had his head badly cut. Theodore, who was just learning, was riding the "bike" down a hill at a reckless speed and the "pesky" thing threw him into the ditch.
The ball club of this place was badly defeated in a game with the Punxsutawney club at that place yesterday, score 19-5. Our boys had such an easy walk over with the Punxsutawney club at this place last week that they did not prepare for a hard game and did not have all the regular players along. Punxsutawney was "loaded."

W. G. Hartwick gave a public exhibition of his automatic washer on Main street Saturday afternoon to a large and attentive crowd. We don't know the number of washers he sold, but the work he accomplished was satisfactory to all present.

The fifth annual convention and picnic of the Central Association of the Royal Arcanum will be held in Frank's Park, Reynoldsville, on Thursday, June 22. From 1,500 to 2,000 people attend these annual picnics. We will give full particulars in a later issue of THE STAR.

F. M. Brown received a telegram Sunday bearing the sad news that his eldest brother, Dr. M. M. Brown, of Ithica, N. Y., had died that morning. The doctor had been suffering sometime with cancer of the stomach. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brown went to Ithica Monday to attend the funeral.

The fifth annual convention of the DuBois Sub-district Epworth League will be held in the M. E. church at Falls Creek on Monday and Tuesday, June 5th and 6th. A good program has been prepared. Dr. C. C. Rumberger and W. B. Stauffer, of this place, are to take part in the program. A large attendance of delegates is expected.

Lewis F. Hetrick has sold his meat market next door to Swartz Bros., Main street, to John C. Dillman, the ex-hotel man. Mr. Hetrick, who owns a good farm in Washington township but who has spent several years in town, will work his own farm this summer. He does not intend moving his family back to the farm for the present at least.

On account of the Knights of Pythias Reunion at Curwensville on Thursday, June 18, the B. R. & P. Ry will run a special train from Rathmel and Reynoldsville for the accommodation of the K. of P. members and their friends. Train will leave Rathmel at 6:30 A. Dr. J. B. Sterley, a prominent physician of Reading, Pa., was in Reynoldsville last Friday looking after his real estate in this place. Time seems to deal gently with the doctor, for he looks as robust and buxom as he did years ago. Dr. has been a real estate owner here for many years and he makes frequent visits to the town, consequently he is not a stranger here.

G. A. Patton, Deputy Supreme Organizer for the Improved Order of Heptasophis, is now making a canvass of Reynoldsville in view of instituting a conclave. Quite a number of our leading citizens have signified their intention to become members of the order. The order is endorsed by leading citizens all over the country and we hope the people of Reynoldsville and vicinity will encourage the institution of a conclave.—14.

John A. Johnston, of Emporium, who was "devil" in the Reynoldsville printing office when Frank J. Black was publishing the bright and breezy Paper and the STAR editor was foreman for Mr. Black, was in town over Sunday, called here by the death of his brother's wife, Mrs. J. K. Johnston. John started and published the Emporium Echo several years and then moved his office to Mill Hill and started the Times. He is out of the newspaper business now.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather and muddy condition of the ball ground, the Punxsutawney and Reynoldsville ball teams played a five inning game on the grounds at this place Wednesday afternoon. The Punxsutawney boys were not "in it," but they did not have their regular club, the threatening weather keeping some of the players at home. The boys had their base ball suits somewhat soiled before the game ended. The score was 16-4 in favor of the home team.

A Reynoldsville ball club, composed of lads ranging in age from 13 to 14 years, went to Emerickville Saturday afternoon and played a game of ball with a club of about the same age of that place. The Reynoldsville club defeated the Emerickville boys to the tune of 31-11. Each club only had eight players. The Reynoldsville boys were: Frank Bussard, Chester Belnap, Audley McKee, "Chad" Evans, Charles Mohney, Bert Hoffman, Charles Grubbs and Charles DeHart.

The twenty-second annual meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Clarion will be held in Edenburg, June 7th and 8th, 1899. Each auxiliary is requested to send two delegates, and each band and Christian Endeavor society contributing to Foreign Missions, one delegate. All delegates are requested to send their names ten days before the meeting to Mrs. O. J. Moore, Knox, Pa., for entertainment, and those going by railroad are requested to send to Mrs. R. L. Buzard, Brockwayville, for reduced railroad orders and to send her a copy of their report for the year. Special rates will be furnished those wishing to drive from Brookville by way of the exchange.

Steam Laundry.
D. W. Atwater and Herb Burns have purchased some of the machinery to start a steam laundry in Reynoldsville. We have not learned just where the laundry will be located. Two gentlemen from Punxsutawney were here yesterday looking around with a view of starting a steam laundry, but it is hardly probable that they will start one since Messrs Atwater and Burns are going to start one here.

As Caught On a Branch.
Gordon Harris, a woodsman who was working on the Degan log job at Green Briar, cut a gash four inches long in his right arm with an ax last Friday while at work in the woods. Mr. Harris was cutting some overhead branches off a tree and as he struck at one branch his ax caught on another one and slipped out of his hands striking on his right arm. Mr. Harris came to Reynoldsville to get his arm dressed.

Graduated Last Week.
Dr. Robert W. Norris, of Paradise, who has been a student in the Medico-Chirurgical College, Philadelphia, three years, graduated last week. The doctor's mother, Mrs. Jane Norris, and her son and daughter, J. M. Norris and Miss Annie, were down to Philadelphia to see him graduate. We understand that Dr. Norris is thinking of hanging out his shingle at Punxsutawney when he gets ready to take up his profession.

Twins and Triplets.
D. J. Thomas, register for East Winslow township, found at the home of two foreign miners' last week more than the common number of babies. At the home of John and Mary Savinski, Big Soldier, Mr. Thomas found twins, a boy and girl, that were born March 23rd, 1899. At the home of John and Victoria Gack, near Rathmel, Mr. Thomas found triplets, one boy and two girls. They were born May 10, and are getting along nicely. They have been christened, John Mirian, Agnes and Hellen.

Pleasant Dream.
One day last week we received a letter from an out of town subscriber in which was enclosed the necessary filthy lucre to liquidate the subscriber's indebtedness to THE STAR, and the following reason for paying the subscription: "I dreamed last night that you were dead, therefore, I felt it my duty to pay my subscription the first thing this morning, and I trust it may reach you before such a dreadful thing should occur." We hope the dream-maker will disturb a few more of our subscribers.

Married Sunday.
What might have been mistaken for a funeral procession was an Italian wedding party leaving this place Sunday morning for Walston. There were twenty-one buggies and hacks in the procession. When the party left here they only had four or five kegs of beer, but at Punxsutawney they got forty kegs and then proceeded to Walston where Domonic Passeri and Mary Lorenz, both of this place, were united in marriage. After the wedding ceremony the Italians began to empty the beer kegs and have a hilarious time.

Passed Successfully.
Vincent Reynolds, who was among the number that were examined by the State Pharmaceutical Board in Harrisburg last month for certificates as assistant pharmacists, passed the examination. We did not know this in time to publish it last week. We are glad to learn that Vincent was one of the successful applicants. When Vincent took up the college course in Philadelphia he secured a position in a good drug store and when not engaged at his studies he was getting practical experience in the drug business. He still holds his position in the drug store at the "Quaker City."

Demise of a Well Known Lady.
Mrs. Laura J. Winslow, wife of H. Frank Winslow, ticket and freight agent for the A. V. Ry at DuBois, died in the hospital at that place Thursday morning. She had a surgical operation performed Tuesday noon and never fully rallied after the operation. The deceased was a daughter of Daniel Goodlander, of Luthersburg, and was a niece of Mrs. F. K. Arnold, of this place. Funeral services were held in the Lutheran church at Luthersburg Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. Vernon Bell, of DuBois, and Rev. W. Seiner, of Luthersburg. Remains were buried in the Luthersburg cemetery. Mrs. F. K. Arnold and daughter, Miss Belle, and Mrs. M. I. Winslow of this place attended the funeral.

Confirmation Ceremonies.
Bishop Fitzmaurice, of Erie, held confirmation services in the St. Mary's Catholic church at this place Monday morning. As is customary, the altar was decorated with flowers and sparkled with tapers. Bishop Fitzmaurice, assisted by Fathers McGivney, of DuBois, and Geisler of this place, celebrated Mass, then the Bishop preached a short sermon, which was followed with the confirmation ceremonies. Eighty-nine candidates were confirmed. The girls were all dressed in pure white, wearing white veils, and looked very pretty. The ceremony is a very solemn and impressive one. Three years ago Bishop Mullen confirmed a class of seventy-three in the Catholic church at this place.

"Give it to them Hot."

Some few weeks ago the Village Improvement Association ladies requested the business men along the paved portion of Main street to sweep up the dirt in front of their places of business the first and third Tuesdays of each month, and the ladies had arranged with Street Commissioner O'Reilly to have the dirt hauled away. The request was complied with one week and the winter's gathering of dirt and rubbish was hauled away. However, after the one week the general clean up on the days designated was abandoned and every man began to sweep and pile up the dirt when it suited his convenience, and as the street commissioner could not send a wagon around every day to gather up the dirt in front of one or two business places, the dirt piles remained and now some of the business men don't pretend to keep the street clean in front of their place of business. The ladies claim that if the business men would clean the street on the days they request the dirt would be hauled away, but they don't do it and the ladies are discouraged. We were requested to "rip the business men up" for not taking sufficient pride in the appearance of Main street to clean up twice a month. One lady said, "Give it to them hot."

Under a Big Tent.

Uncle Tom's Cabin never grows old. There runs through it a vein of pathos peculiarly touching and sweet. It speaks the universal language of the heart. It reflects like a prism the innermost phases of the human emotion. It is more than a play. It is a moral classic. It argues for two of the greatest themes that can engage the mind—human liberty and the immortality of the soul. Notwithstanding its frequent production, it is seldom that one sees the play as it is now presented by the Forest Company colossal spectacular. It is like meeting an old friend after many years. The management doubtless believes in the maxim, "What's worth doing is worth doing well." They have brought together in this production all the requisites that go to make up a first-class entertainment.

The Forest Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. will appear at Reynoldsville Monday, May 29; Falls Creek May 30.

Sunday School Convention.

The annual convention of the Jefferson County Sunday School Association is now being held in the M. E. church at this place. The first session was held at 2:30 P. M. yesterday and the last session will be held this evening. A large number of delegates are attending, and considerable interest is being manifested. The sessions yesterday afternoon and last night were well attended, the church was crowded last evening. The session this afternoon begins at 2:00 P. M. and this evening's exercises begin at 7:30. We will give a full report of the convention in our next issue and for that reason will not give much space to the convention this week. If we are to judge from the appearance of the delegates we would conclude that most of the schools in the county elected their prettiest young ladies to attend the convention.

GONE TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. James K. Johnston Died Friday at Noon.

Mrs. Emma E. Johnston, wife of James K. Johnston, one of our shoe merchants, departed this life at 12:50 P. M., Friday, May 19th, after a long and patient struggle with consumption. Her maiden name was Emma E. Collom. She was born in Clarion county December 11, 1862, making her about 36 years and 6 months old at time of death. Was married to J. K. Johnston in DuBois on the 20th day of October, 1881. Rev. William Birchfield, pastor of the DuBois Presbyterian church, performing the wedding ceremonies. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Johnston four children were born, three sons and one daughter. The daughter will be one year old the 6th of next month. Mrs. Johnston joined the Presbyterian church in DuBois in 1885. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston moved to Reynoldsville in 1891 and have both been successful in winning many very warm friends here. Two years ago consumption began to sap away the life of the deceased and everything that medical skill and loving hands could do was done to stay the ravishings of the dread disease, but the disease finally gained the victory.

Funeral services were held at the residence on Grant street at 1:00 P. M. Monday, conducted by Rev. W. F. Reber, and the mortal remains were taken to DuBois and buried in the Rumberger cemetery. It was a very large funeral. The pastor, Rev. Reber, who was well acquainted with the deceased, writes the following concerning her life:

In her death the husband and family have met with an irreparable loss. Mrs. Johnston was never robust, but she was always active and zealous in meeting and mastering the sacred duties which devolved upon her in whatever relationship she sustained. Her ready hands and willing heart were sweetly consecrated to her home and to her God. "A woman that feareth the Lord shall be praised." Those who knew her best are of one mind in heartily according to her this place. In her modest and beautiful life she bulidied well a character which bore some marked characteristics. Among the many which adorned her life—one worthy of special mention—was her unselfishness. For her to have desired or to have sought anything for her own enjoyment or gratification would have been altogether alien to her nature and her peculiarly unselfish disposition. She loved her home with an ardent love; and it was in the home that she appeared to best advantage. "The throne and sceptre of her influence were in her home." There she bestowed the best she had to give. In her christian life she was governed by that same beautiful modesty. Her piety was simple and genuine. She was a woman of faith and of prayer. The bible to her was the Word of God, and she found constant delight in meditating day and night. It confirmed her hope and strengthened her faith. She loved patiently to the end, without fainting, and fell asleep in peace.

Short Turn and a Spill.

Jennie Whittaker, Frankie Hoffman, Hazel Hoffman, Mary Broscha and Bessie Broscha all piled into one buggy and started out Fourth street for a drive Sunday afternoon. When near corner of Fourth and Mabel streets the horse decided to turn around and go the other way, and the animal was not careful as to the shortness of the turn, consequently there was a spill. Some of the lassies were under the buggy, one in the ditch and another one under the horse. They all escaped without injury, but they were badly frightened.

Object for selling is on account of inability to see to it properly on account of ill health.
