There is a hall between the ladies' and gents' waiting rooms. The new depot is a modern structure. Ernest C. Davis is the ticket and freight agent and he will be found in his office at all hours during the day. The new depot is something that has been needed at this place for some time.

Court Began Monday. The August term of court began Monday with Judge Reed on the bench. There is quite a long list of criminal cases to be heard at this term, and it is possible the criminal court will not be finished this week. In five cases the defendants plead guilty before the court Monday afternoon and were sentenced. Wm. Pryor plead guilty to the charge of stealing three chickens from a coop near Eleanor. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, pay fine of $1.00 and costs of prosecution. The three young men who were charged with stealing beer out of a car at Beechtree plead guilty and were given 30 days in the county jail. A man named Bowdish from Brockwayville plead guilty to charge of resisting an officer and he was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail. An assault and battery case from Punxsutawney, in which both the plaintiff and defendant were old women, was settled by the defendant pleading guilty, paying $15.00 fine and costs of prosecution, which amounted to $45.00.

There is one murder case to be tried this term, and the defendant is an Italian who killed a fellow countryman near Eleanor several years ago and escaped at the time. The defendant will try to prove that he killed the man in self defense. This case has drawn a large number of Italians to Brookville.

Now a Doctor. During the school term of 1894-5 Prof. T. R. Hillard was principal of the schools in this borough, and he was a good one too. The following year he was principal of the West Sunbury Academy and from there he entered the Illinois University at Chicago and began the study of medicine. He has since graduated from that institution as a full fledged doctor and has also passed the examination before the Board of Examiners in the state of Pennsylvania and is now ready to practice medicine. He expects to locate in Armstrong county. Dr. Hillard has been visiting friends in Reynoldsville the past week, and that is why the above statement appears at this time. Doctor has raised a mustache and it makes such a difference on his looks that many of his friends here did not recognize him at first glance. If Dr. Hillard is as successful in practicing medicine as he was as an instructor, he will have more patients than Job had.

Concert Friday Evening. The concert given in the opera house Friday evening under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Presbyterian church, was the best entertainment of the kind ever given in Reynoldsville. The audience was a very appreciative one, but not as large as it should have been, although it was a fair sized audience. The rain, no doubt, kept quite a number at home. The personnel was as follows: Mabelle Lewis Arnold, violinist, A. Eleanor Arnold, soprano, both of Clarion, Lyman Wells Clay, baritone and accompanist, of Syracuse, N. Y., Edna Elizabeth Boyd, reader, of DuBois, and Raymond Elliott Brown, reader of Reynoldsville. Forty-four little girls, ranging in age from 3 to 7 years old, attended the party given by Mrs. John O'Hare last Wednesday afternoon for her three-year-old daughter, Lucilla. The little people were taken to the orchard back of the Burns House, where they had a delightful time. In due time refreshments were served. The little guests did not forget to carry presents with them for their hostess, and Miss Lucilla had a large number of presents to put away after the party was over.

H. Young; assistant leader, Robt. Davidson; musical director, Richard Ramsey; secretary and business manager, W. J. Weaver; treasurer, F. P. Alexander. GONE TO HIS REWARD.

The Demise of Jesse Lee Test, Esq., Which Occurred Monday.

A HIGHLY RESPECTED CITIZEN.

Squire Test Had Resided Here About Thirty Years—Stroke of Paralysis Friday Night Caused Death.

At 11.10 p. m., Monday, August 14th, Jesse Lee Test, Esq., was called to his reward in the eternal haven of rest, for which he had long ago made preparations. Squire Test had been ill almost two years and several times during that period he was very near the gates of death, but he had recovered sufficiently to be able to get around some and it was hoped that he might remain with his loved ones for years to come, but a stroke of paralysis Friday night was too much for his weakened constitution and the end came at the time stated above. His entire left side was paralyzed and he was unconscious most of the time afterwards. The last and only word he spoke after the stroke was when a minister called to see him and asked if he should sing. He nodded assent and when asked what they should sing he said, "Hallelujah."

Funeral services were held at the residence at 2.00 p. m. yesterday, conducted by Rev. W. Frank Reber, pastor of the deceased. Last evening the mortal remains of Jesse L. Test were taken to Philadelphia to be interred in the Woodland cemetery in the city of "Brotherly Love." Thus ends the life work of a highly respected citizen, a christian gentleman, a good husband, affectionate father and a kind neighbor.

Jesse L. Test, Esq., was born at Phillipsburg, Pa., June 11, 1819, making him 80 years old last June. January 21, 1858, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Rebecca Murray at Bellefonte. Unto them four children were born, two of whom preceded the father to the other shores. Mr. Test was Register and Recorder in Center county one term about 1858. He also served one term as justice of the peace in Center county. In 1870, when Reynoldsville was a very small town, Mr. Test moved to this place and bought up considerable real estate. At that time he thought the upper end of town would be the business center and he bought most of his real estate in that end of town. He was one of the active citizens of the town for a number of years, but old age and poor health retired him from active business affairs some years ago.

Mr. Test had been a member of the Presbyterian church for many years. He was one of the first organizers of the Presbyterian church at this place and was over after an elder in the church. He is survived by his widow, and two daughters, Mrs. Nettie Elliott, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Effie Prescott, of Tawas City, Mich.

Fat Men vs. Lean Mean.

Last Thursday afternoon an interesting game of ball was played on the grounds at this place between what was called the fat men and the lean men. The game started off with the fat men in the field. The batteries were Harry Copping and "Dubs" Sharp for the fat men and Frank Sutter and Reynolds Gibson for the leans. The fats defeated the leans, the score being 12-4. All things considered it was a pretty good game of ball and there was more real fun in it than is usually produced in a ball game. There was no jangling, but that may have been because there was such a vast difference in the avoidspots of the two teams. If the manager of the Pittsburgh team had seen the field work of J. K. Johnston and A. T. McClure, he would not have hired them instantly.

Rev. W. H. Filson.

Rev. W. H. Filson and wife were guests at Ninian Cooper's the first of this week. They stopped off here on their way from Frenchtown, N. J., to Ohio, where they will visit a few weeks. Rev. Filson was pastor of the Beechwoods Presbyterian church a number of years ago and is well known in the Beechwoods. He has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Frenchtown, N. J., sixteen years, but has resigned his pastorate there and after his return from Ohio will locate at Easton, Pa., where he has received a call.
