A Little of Everything.

Glass Plant Secured.

For sometime negotiations have been on between some of Reynoldsville's prominent citizens and outside capitalists who are looking for a location for a glass plant, Mr. E. A. Ferrin acting as medium for both parties. Some of the glass men were here a few weeks ago looking over the prospective location with the above object in view. Yesterday Mr. W. B. Alexander received the following telegram dated Philadelphia, Dec. 5th:

"Glass factory assured. Company now organizing. Erection to begin immediately. Ready to operate early spring. "E. A. FERRIN."

Umbrellas from 50c. to $10.00 at Millirens. What is nicer for a holiday present?

If you want a good fitting suit or an overcoat, go to Johns & Thompson, merchant tailors.

A beautiful all painting given away with every pair of Queen Quality shoes bought at Johnston & Nolan's.

Come and see for yourself that Gooder's stock of holiday presents is the largest and best chosen to be found in town.

The Clarion State Normal School has been a mighty factor in promoting better teaching in our public schools by furnishing trained teachers.

Sausage cutters and stuffers, lard presses, butcher knives and saws, hog scrapers and large kettles, everything needed for butchering at Hall & Barton's.

You will never miss the water till the well runs dry and you will never know what a variety of pretty and useful novelties we have for the holidays till you come and see. Stoke's.

The highest perfection in silver plated ware is represented by the Roger Bros.' 1846 brand of plate ware. A full and complete stock shown at Gooder's jewelry store, Reynoldsville, Pa.

Roy Bartle, who has been visiting his parents in West Reynoldsville and nursing a crushed finger, returned to Pittsburg Monday, where he is learning the moulding trade in a steel plant of that city.

In a quiet way the Reynoldsville Board of Trade is doing some hustling in the interest of the town. They have at present on the string, a plant employing several hundred hands which may be drawn this way.

Paul Smith, a former Punksutawney boy, who is now traveling with Sevengala, assisting him in his exhibitions of telepathy, played a good game of football with the Reynoldsville "Indians" Thursday afternoon.

The young ladies of Mrs. Postlewaite's S. S. class will sell ice cream, cake, coffee and sandwiches in the room formerly occupied by the New Store in the Star building, next Saturday, Dec. 9. The proceeds for the chapel. Come everybody.

On December 1st a new schedule of rates for toll service on the Bell telephone line went into effect, which greatly reduces the night rate for messages. Where the day rate is $1.00, after 6.00 p. m. the rate will be 50c. Other proportionate reductions.

S. T. Reynolds contemplates transforming his large three-story brick building into a hotel. The building will probably be leased to J. C. Dillman, who for a number of years, and until just recently, has been connected with the hotel business in this place.

Miss Ella E. Seeley will have an exhibition Saturday, Dec. 16, a fine display of painted articles at Froehlich's tailor shop, next door to Gooder's jewelry store. Prices very reasonable. All are invited to come and see them.

Bert V. Galbraith, of Brookville, teacher of guitar, banjo and mandolin, in Reynoldsville every Saturday. Nothing but the latest, progressive methods used to promote the best system of technique and interest of the pupil. Terms made known on application.

The union sunrise prayer meeting, of the Y. P. S. C. E., B. Y. P. U., and Epworth League, was held in the Baptist church Thanksgiving morning, Miss Sara Corbett acting as leader. Considering the early hour the service was fairly well attended and was an enjoyable meeting.

East bound passenger No. 1, due here at 1:38 p. m., came in an hour and fifteen minutes late Friday with one cylinder head on the engine, No. 37, blown out. The accident happened at Broken Rock and Engineer Andy Denny was given No. 57 at this place to finish the run. Passengers No. 1 and 2 passed here.

The magnetic attraction of our holiday goods and the low prices push all competitors aside. No matter how hard you are to suit we can suit you in new and beautiful fancy goods. Our aim has always been to give our customers the best and we believe that you will find our assortment just a little better than elsewhere. Stoke's.

The suit of John Dixon, of Prescottville, for $10,000 damages brought against the J. & C. C. & I. Co., was taken up by the court the latter part of last week and on Monday proceedings were quashed by Judge Reed without concluding the trial, on the ground of irregularities in entering suit and lack of proper evidence on the side of the prosecution.

The first number of the High School Banner, published by the Brookville high school, reached THE STAR office last week. Its general manager is John Richard; business manager, Fred L. Cooley, and editor-in-chief, Miss Clara Hawthorne. It is a four-column quarto, neatly printed on good paper, containing twenty-seven columns of reading matter edited by the pupils, and five columns of display advertisements. The subscription price is 25 cents for the term, or six months. The Banner is a credit to the school.

Baptist Church Services.

Lecture will be held on Friday evening at 7.30, by Mrs. E. M. Whittemore, of Philadelphia. Admission free. All are invited. Preaching next Sunday morning and evening by Rev. A. J. Meek, of Greensburg, Pa.

Cleared a Snug Sum.

At the bazaar held by the ladies of the Presbyterian church in Centennial building Friday and Saturday last, $175.00 was taken in. The expenses connected with the bazaar amounted to $5.00, leaving a snug balance of $170.00.

Italian Injured.

An Italian was caught between two cars at Big Soldier Monday and frightfully crushed. He had an arm and a number of ribs broken, and was otherwise injured. He was taken to Adrian hospital yesterday. The man had just arrived from Italy and only worked a couple of days at Big Soldier.

New Degree Outfit.

Reynoldsville Lodge, No. 824, I. O. O. F., has purchased new degree paraphernalia, valued at about five hundred dollars. A degree team was organized in that lodge a little over a year ago which by its fine work has gained quite a reputation in the Odd Fellow 'fraternity' of this section. Thomas E. Evans is captain of the team.

Enforcing the Law.

The school board of West Reynoldsville has taken steps to enforce the compulsory school law. Quite a number of children of school age have been allowed to remain out of school and the parents and guardians have been officially notified to comply with the requirements of the law or suffer the penalty. Constable P. J. Waqf served the notices.

Lath Through His Arm.

Robert Ferguson, who is employed at the Hopkins saw mill, was struck in the right forearm with a flying lath from the lather Tuesday of last week, the end of which passed almost through the arm. Pieces of his coat and shirt sleeves were driven into the wound and were taken out on the opposite side of his arm, where they had lodged against the skin. The wound was very painful.

Hopkins Mill Shut Down.

Friday the gang saws at Hopkins mill shut down and Saturday work on the band mill also suspended, thus ending the season's sawing. At this writing the amount of lumber sawed could not be learned, but it fell some short of what was intended to be the output for the season, owing to numerous accidents and scarcity of water for driving logs. The planing mill will continue to run during the winter.

Annoyed the Salvationists.

Saturday evening, while the Salvation Army officers were conducting an open air meeting on Main street near the Imperial hotel, they were disturbed by an individual who was intoxicated, and hurled some vile and insulting epithets at them. The man was arrested on the above charges and taken before Burgess Stoke, who imposed a fine of $8.00 and costs. In default of bail he was committed to the lock-up forty-eight hours.

No Friends, but Lots of Money.

A little excitement was raised at the grocery store of J. M. Dunn Wednesday afternoon by a couple of men, who had been drinking, going in and trying to run the store. After ordering them out and they refusing to go, the proprietor forcibly ejected them, and one of them who resisted was given a black eye and an otherwise bruised face. The fellow was a stranger in this place. He said he had no friends, but lots of money.

Small Runaway.

J. J. Sutter's driving horse was hitched in a light sled yesterday and used for moving Mr. Sutter's dry goods stock to his new store room. On being left out in the storm for a few minutes without being tied the horse started to walk off, making a quick turn which nearly upset the sled and frightened the nag. It ran up Main street at a lively clip, but was caught near the public fountain before any damage resulted.

Electric Light Station.

Bids for the erection of an electric light station for the Reynoldsville Electric Company were received up to Monday of this week. The building will be located on Jackson street, near Sixth street, and will be 86x40 and 15 feet high. The boiler room will be of brick located in one end of the building, 16x40; dynamo room in center and office and ware room in the front. The building, except boiler room, will be of wood and will be roofed with eypress shingles.

Salvation Army Corps.

Two officers of the Salvation Army, Captains Urban and Sinn, arrived in this place Friday and immediately began their work here. The first meeting conducted by them was held in Centennial hall Friday evening and each night since then the meetings have continued. An effort will be made to interest our people in the warfare against sin as conducted by the Army, which is to go where sin is. Meetings every night in the hall, to continue indefinitely. This, Wednesday, evening Captain Swartz and Sister Briggs, of DuBois, will be present.

Home from the Chase.

The deer season closed Friday last and the Reynoldsville hunters have all returned from their various camps, most of them having been quite successful in securing big game. The party composed of Messrs. Henry Iseman, Robert Gibson, R. J. Thomas, Harry Sykes and W. R. Reed brought in five fine deer. Their camp was located in Elk county, near the Clearfield county line, the nearest station being Medix Run. Near this camp was the one occupied by Jacob and Henry Deible, C. Mitchell and Dr. S. Reynolds, of this place, and L. A. Brady and John Van Leer, of Brookville. Four deer were secured by the latter party.

An idea of the hardships endured by these hunting parties may be obtained from gleaning over the menu of the above last named party, which was as follows:

Thanksgiving Services.

In accordance with custom and in response to the proclamation of the president of the United States, many of the people of Reynoldsville attended divine service on Thanksgiving day. This year the services were held in the Baptist church, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. W. F. Reber, conducting the opening service and the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. P. A. Reno, preaching the sermon. The speaker took for his text Col. 4: 2, "Continue in prayer and watch in the same with thanksgiving." The speaker showed how in real christian worship prayer and thanksgiving are united. The heathen know little if anything of the song of praise. The Jews had much of blood and weeping although at times bursting into the magnificent anthems recorded in the book of Psalms. Thanksgiving is emphatically christian. No other system of religion has in it so much of praise, so many and so great anthems and choruses expressing thanksgiving to God. The annual Thanksgiving day is peculiar to America. The speaker called attention to many things for which we ought to be thankful: Our financial prosperity, our public schools and colleges, our churches and the open Bible, the prospects of an early peace in the Philippines, our homes and home comforts and that no plague has visited our land. The whole service was very pleasant and profitable.

Can of Bogus Money.

Several days ago a hollow stump was blasted out along the line of the new branch railroad from this place to Hopkins, near the latter place, which had a tin can in it. It was an ordinary tin can and little attention was paid to it until Friday last when it was picked up and opened by a workman and was found to contain over twenty dollars of counterfeit money. It was all in five and fifty cent denominations of the issues of 1850 and '58. By comparison with the genuine coins of the same dates, the engraving seemed nearly perfect, but the quality of the metal was bad. It was so soft that it could be easily bent with the fingers. The spurious coins were wrapped in paper and were in a well preserved condition. It is believed that the can was hidden in the stump ten or twelve years ago by one of the gangs of counterfeiters infesting this region about that time, which were broken up and some of the offenders sent to the penitentiary.

A full attendance of the members of W. R. C. is requested on Friday evening, Dec. 8th, for annual election of officers. By order of president.

ELIZA WOODRING.

This is the year you promised to buy a gold watch for Christmas. Before you buy call and see the large stock and get prices at C. F. Hoffman's.

Forty-five Tremont Hot Blast Heating stoves sold in five weeks. The best soft coal stove on earth for the money. Every stove sells another. To be had only at Hall & Barton's.

The celebrated Pontiac shirts for sale at Millirens.

Ladies' chatelaine watches, the latest patterns and styles at Gooder's.

Bosco.

The next number of the public school lecture course will be given by Signor Bosco in Assembly hall Tuesday evening, Dec. 12th. Following is the program:

The Enchanted Sword—Catching anything on its point that is thrown from the audience.

The Knowledge of Anyone's Thoughts. The Giant's Watch Chain.

The Enchanted Live Canary—This lovely little creature will bring a lady's wedding ring by word of command.

The Shower of Gold and the Enchanted Treasury of the Air.

Invisible Powers of Disuniting.

The Enchanted Daff, which will be made to dance to music.

The Enchanted Farm Yard—Out of a gentleman's hat.

The Spanish Salad and Enchanted Transformation, From the Arabian Nights Entertainment.

The Enchanted Candle Trick.

The Enchanted Globe of Fire.

The Enchanted talking Money, or the Modern Fortune Teller.

Cuck a Cuck, Cuck, or the Wizard's Legacy.

The Enchanted Pitcher—A clever deception; after everyone is supplied with milk, the pitcher will be transformed into doves, gold fish, &c., &c.

The Enchanted Gold Rings—They are borrowed from the audience, and upon being placed on a plate immediately change into real eggs, and as quick as thought are transformed into beautiful bouquets, which are then returned to the owners, with the rings attached to them.

Selections from the above program will be given, with a variety of other illusions too numerous to mention, the whole to conclude with Signor Bosco's wonderful feat entitled The Marvel of Deception, which forms one of the most wonderful, laughable and startling illusions ever introduced.

Word From Reynoldsville Electric Co.

It has been deemed advisable by our company that I make announcement to the citizens of the two boroughs interested, that the affairs of the Reynoldsville Electric Co. are progressing satisfactorily.

We have purchased a lot on Jackson street, above Sixth street, upon which to locate our power station. Plans and specifications for the building have been prepared by our engineers and bids for its construction are now being received by us from local contractors. Work will be begun within a very short time and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

The entire machinery for the plant has been purchased and will be ready for shipment as soon as the building is ready to receive it.

Wire and all other accessories have been purchased and will be on hand in due time.

Material of all kinds has increased rapidly in prices since we began negotiations for this plant, but we have not allowed this to interfere in any way with our plans. In a very short time we will have lights for your streets and homes.

We desire to thank you for the uniform courtesy with which you have met our propositions, and to assure you that it will be our aim to treat you in such a manner as to merit your approval and cordial support at all times.

Respectfully,

REYNOLDSVILLE ELECTRIC CO.,

E. A. Ferrin, President.

Sevengala, the Hypnotist.

Sevengala closed his week's engagement at the opera house Saturday evening, his last entertainment being given to a packed house with even the standing room taken. His hypnotic exhibitions were highly entertaining, and the feats performed in telepathy, that of transmitting his thoughts to a subject in a hypnotic state at a distance the length of the room, without the use of any words, mystified all. Any test which the audience desired was given to Sevengala and the subject performed it without being spoken to. Friday night at 10:30 o'clock, in the opera house Fred. Barto, a young man of this place, was placed in a hypnotic sleep for twenty-four hours. He was put on exhibition in Walter C. Henry's show window, where he was seen by hundreds on Saturday. He was awakened from his long sleep by Sevengala promptly at 10:30 Saturday night.

Thursday's Game.

At 3.00 o'clock Thursday afternoon in the line-up of the DuBois "Cyclones" and the "Indians" of this place Reynoldsville was not only represented but was the whole thing in the first game of the season. Manager Lane's "Indians" faced the "Cyclones" as if they were a gentle breeze and in the first half kept the ball in the visitors' territory all the time, except once when Clack tried to score a touchdown on a foul. Twice in the first half by steady gains and occasional spurts around ends the "Indians" scored touchdowns, Gibson kicking goal on the first. Half ended with score of 11-0. In the last half the DuBois team pulled together and played it out on dangerous ground for the home team, though they were unable to score. Line-up:

"Indians"—11. "Cyclones"—0.
