UNDER QUARANTINE.

Quarantine, from the French word quarantaine, meaning a period of forty days, is a forced abstinence from communication with people.

Ships leaving a country where there is or has been infectious diseases, such as yellow fever, plague or cholera, are quarantined. From vessels that are quarantined no goods can be taken on land and the people are not allowed to go on land until everything on the ship has been fumigated.

Quarantine is not limited to a sea frontier, but is enforced on land. Here in our own town a house is quarantined if any person or persons living in that house have diphtheria, scarlet fever or any other contagious disease.

By quarantining people contagious and infectious diseases are kept from being spread over a town or city, but it is not very pleasant when you are sent away from home and miss a week or two of school. Everybody is afraid of you and perhaps you have not seen the sick person for a week. The nearest you can get to your home is to the door.

The quarantine for diphtheria and scarlet fever lasts a month. A month seems a long time when nobody can come in the house to see you but the doctor and you cannot go to any public place. A card is put up on your house which strictly forbids anyone to enter.

Quarantine is sometimes enforced between countries of Europe; this is very annoying to travelers and is a great loss to commerce.

History declares quarantine regulations to have been first established by the Venetians in 1127 A. D., but the practice must have been much older for the Jews took precaution against leprosy.

GLASS PLANT NOTES.

Gathered by Local Reporter and Clipped from Exchanges.

About sixty glassworkers of this place attended the mass meeting held at Falls Creek Saturday evening. Ex-Sheriff E. C. Burns, the liveryman, furnished rigs to haul the glassworkers to and from Falls Creek. The Reynoldsville delegation took the Sugar Hill Flute band along. This was the largest and most enthusiastic crowd that ever visited Falls Creek, but the town was equal to the occasion and gave the visitors a royal reception. Falls Creek was dressed in gala attire, surpassing anything of the kind that the town ever attempted before. The parade was a large one and the pyrotechnics during the parade were equal to a Fourth of July celebration. Representatives of the four trades—blowers, gatherers, flatteners and cutters—from Kane, Mt. Jewett, Smethport, Wilcox and Bradford were also present. After the parade a meeting was held in McDonald's hall. The next meeting will be held at Kane in the near future.

The Progress Glass plant of Mt. Jewett is in the hands of the Sheriff and the property is advertised for sale on a judgment by the Johnsonburg bank. Several attachments for wages were put in this week. It is hoped that the matter soon can be satisfactorily adjusted.—Kane Republican.

The Bellefonte Glass Co. has been reorganized into a semi-co-operative company, the old blowers and gatherers taking stock. The intention is to start as soon as possible under the L. A. 300 scale. One of the old flatteners is said to have signed.—Commoner and Glassworker.

One of the reasons why the men employed in window glass houses are represented by such a strong union is that they are doing business on business principles and that they are all loyal to the core and willing to contribute from their wages to the support of their craft. There is no union on the face of the earth to-day that is more liberal in contributing to the needs of members than that of the glass workers, and the whole secret of its success lies in this fact. Here in Falls Creek, where the wages run from $150 to $250 each a month the amount contributed to the support of those in the union and out of work runs up to a good sized sum. Twenty-five per cent. of their wages is given by the men for this purpose, and when we take into consideration that this is from $40 to $60 for each man we can see that they are a loyal set of fellows indeed. This is one of the reasons why the glass workers' union is the most successful of them all.—Falls Creek Herald.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim. No one should fail to try them. Only 50c., guaranteed, at H. Alex. Stoke's drug store.

Hortown.

Britton & Crawford are hauling lumber with two teams.

V. L. and L. W. Moore were at Summerville attending a public sale on Friday.

R. E. Koehler and W. P. Woodring, of West Reynoldsville, were in this place squirrel hunting on Friday.

J. E. Hetrick moved last week from his father's farm to the farm he lately purchased near Rathmel.

C. A. Hetrick took a load of hay to Maple Run, Elk county, to Peter Snyder's lumber camp, a distance of 22 miles. A pretty good drive for a wet day like Tuesday last.

Irvin Burkett had a "corn shucking" on Wednesday and an old-fashioned quick-step in the evening.

August Flower.

"It is a surprising fact," says Prof. Houton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used Green's August Flower than any other remedy for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and salesmen, or for persons filling office positions, where headache and general bad feeling from irregular habits exist, that Green's August Flower is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at H. Alex. Stoke's drug store. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.
