Sykesville, Pa., Nov. 18, 1900. JOHN H. FIKK.

Emerickville.
The past week reminded us very strongly of Longfellow's little poem entitled "The Rainy Day."
Rev. Hicks and wife and Mrs. Sam'l Steamer, of Polk, O., dined with Mr. and Mrs. E. Weiser on Thanksgiving Day.

Mrs. Joseph Sugars and son, Norman, spent Saturday in Brookville.
We overheard a little school girl say, "Thursday was Thanksgiving Day and all people should be good and eat turkey or chicken." Quite a good definition for so young a pupil. I hope we all observed the good part if we didn't all have chicken or turkey.

Mrs. Samuel Fike of Knoxdale, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Dinger, on Wednesday.
The new boarder that came to Bert Emery's home on Friday, accounts for the broad smile Bert is wearing. It's a boy.

Mrs. Ellinger, of Luthersburg, who visited here the past few weeks, returned to her home on Saturday.
This week is going to be a general butchering week in this village.

Miss Edna Baum, of Reynoldsville, visited her aunt, Mrs. Fletcher Haines, on Sunday.
Joseph Zimmerman is helping Billy Wetzel split staves for his new dwelling house, which he expects to erect next summer.

O. S. Haines has made some good improvements on the new home he purchased and is now ready to move into.
Providing Elder Smith, of DuBois, took dinner with Rev. J. P. Hicks on Friday. In the afternoon they drove to Meade Chapel where quarterly meeting was conducted.

British school observed part of Thanksgiving Day by rendering a prepared program.
Mr. Israel Klepper, of Reynoldsville, spent Friday in Stony Hollow.
Emory Keys, of Pittsburg, is home for a few days.

Mrs. Jno. Hetrick, who moved to Washington township recently, was here circulating among her many friends on Friday.
The Epworth League observed Thanksgiving evening by rendering a select program which was enjoyed by all.

T. B. Galbraith, of Brookville, agent for the Concordia Fire Insurance Co., was in our village on Friday.
George Mundorf, of Reynoldsville, was here last week displaying to our merchants, in sample form, his large stock of holiday candy.

Our first winter month was ushered in with plenty of water and mud, and now we'll patiently wait for plenty of snow.
The bunnies of our woods are getting quite intelligent and know just when to sit down and rest. Last week when two of our aimrods were out trying their luck, the one fired a shot at bunny but accidentally missed it. The quadruped run towards the second one and observing that he was loading his gun sat down near him for a rest, but by the time the loading was completed, Mr. Bunny was safe and all the happy shots of the hunter vanished. Who says that even bunnies don't observe? A good lesson for some bipeds.

S. Burkhouse, of Washington township, spent Friday night with his son, C. A. Burkhouse, in this place.
Rathmel.
John Smith is able to be out again.
P. J. Finell is confined to the house with inflammatory rheumatism.
Ward W. Williams left Monday for Clearfield.

Will and James Barkley have gone to Lanes Mills to work.
Andy Cartwright left Monday for Anita.
W. A. Butler, formerly of this place but now of Phillipsburg, spent a few days here last week.
Ed. T. Ealy, of Schellsburg, Pa., takes Ward Williams' place in the Bloomington store.

The P. O. S. of A. gave a social in their hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21. Refreshments were served and an interesting program rendered.
Hornstown.
Mrs. A. B. Moore, who was visiting in Punxsutawney, returned home Saturday.

John Hetrick, of Rathmel, was in Hornstown Sunday.
W. H. Schugars had business at Brookwayville Tuesday.
O. G. Schugars was at Pancoast Wednesday.
Iva Moore, of West Reynoldsville, is visiting relatives in this vicinity.
Schugars Bros. have finished corn-fodder cutting.
