

I WISH TO THANK my many patrons for their generous patronage in the past and ask a continuance in the future.
Wishing all a HAPPY NEW YEAR, I remain, Respectfully,

C. F. Hoffman
The Jeweler.

Holiday Indiscretions

We know how it is; we can't blame you. If it is a bad case bring your prescription to us at once—the sooner the better. If it is merely a sick headache or colic, perhaps some of our own remedies will fix you up. Merry Christmas covers a multitude of things besides sins.

H. Alex Stoke, Druggist.

A Little of Everything.

Time for New Year resolutions. Four more days and we will write it 1905.

Have you resolved to make new resolutions for the new year?

While sleighing was not very good, yet we did not have a green Christmas.

Rev. J. E. Kirkwood will preach in the Baptist church on Sunday evening next.

Our merchants, especially the ones that advertised, did a large amount of business last week.

Rev. J. E. Kirkwood filled an appointment for Rev. A. D. McKay at Soldier last Sunday afternoon.

James Muir has been appointed as a substitute carrier on free rural delivery route No. 1 out from Reynoldsville.

Monday of next week the public school vacation will be over and the teachers and pupils will be at work again.

We wish all the readers of THE STAR, whether they subscribe for or borrow the paper, a happy and prosperous New Year.

An introduction social, rally and New Year watch meeting will be held in the Baptist church Saturday night, December 31st.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trudgen have the thanks of THE STAR office force for a box of choice wedding cake. Printers like cake.

Undertaker J. H. Hughes will move his business location from the Woodward building to the Taaf building this week.

A New Year sermon will be preached in the Baptist church on Sunday morning by the pastor, Dr. Meek. Subject, "A Crowned Year."

Invitations are out for the wedding of Ira Merl Klingensmith and Miss Nancy Jane Cooper, two highly respected young people of Beechwoods.

A list of the applications for liquor license in Jefferson county will be found in this issue of THE STAR. There are forty-two applications for retail, four brewers, two wholesale, two bottlers and two distillers, making a total of fifty-two.

There are three hundred and sixty-five school teachers in Jefferson county. Winslow township has thirty-six teachers, almost double the number in any other township in the county. None of the other townships employ over twenty teachers.

Mr. O. H. Broadhead, one of the prominent Republicans of Winslow township and whose name is prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination for sheriff soon to be made, is among those in attendance at institute this week.—Brookville Republican.

Mrs. Joseph R. Milliren entertained twenty-five young people at her home on Grant street last Friday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Margaret Green, of Punxsutawney. "Finnch," "Pit" and other games were played. Refreshments were served. It was a very pleasant party.

Frank Dixon's lecture before the teachers' institute Tuesday evening was magnificent. There was a large audience and everyone who heard him was delighted. The matter of his lecture was new to most of our people, but he presented it in an inimitable manner.—Brookville Democrat. Rev. Dixon will lecture in Assembly hall Tuesday evening, January 10.

The Baptist young people will hold a watch meeting and an introduction social and rally at the Baptist church on Saturday evening. A devotional exercise will be held from 11.00 o'clock to midnight, when the bell will ring out the old year and ring in the new. A cordial welcome is extended to all young people irrespective of creed. A good time is anticipated.

Mr. Cal. Coleman, a highly respected and prominent citizen of Goodville, Indiana Co., a distant relative of ye editor, on whose farm the Buckwheat Reunions are held, was buried last Saturday. Paralysis was cause of his death. Mr. Coleman had been running a flouring mill for a number of years and was well known in Indiana and adjoining counties.

About nine o'clock last Thursday night some villain picked up the dummy in front of A. Katzen's store and carried it into a dark place between two buildings nearby and took a storm overcoat off the dummy and skipped. At ten o'clock the same night there was a fellow over at the tannery trying to sell a storm overcoat that answered the description of the one stolen from Mr. Katzen. The thief may be apprehended yet.

Shoafnocker 18 month.

It Prof. R. B. Teitrick is walking on air this week the elation expressed in his step need not all be ascribed to the great success of the forty-ninth annual teachers' institute, over which he is presiding, for the stork paid a visit to the Teitrick home on Monday morning at about eight o'clock and left with the Professor and his estimable wife a most acceptable Christmas present in the shape of a baby girl. The Professor's family now stands three to one in favor of the boys.—Brookville Republican Dec. 22.

DEATH OF A HANDSOME YOUNG LADY SUNDAY.

Miss Alice Dunn Died at the Home of Her Sister, Mrs. P. J. Deegan, and was Buried at Lindsey Tuesday.

Miss Alice P. Dunn, perhaps a pretty girl as was ever seen on the streets of Reynoldsville, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. J. Deegan, on Jackson street, at 1.20 a. m. Sunday, December 25, 1904. Consumption was cause of her death. Miss Dunn was born at Dushore, Sullivan county, Pa., October 8, 1887, and was seventeen years, two months and seventeen days old at time of death. She was the daughter of Frank Dunn, now employed at the Reynoldsville tannery. Alice's mother died three years ago with consumption. Alice made her home with a brother, James Dunn, in Punxsutawney, until last February, when she came to Reynoldsville to live with her sister. The body was taken to Lindsey on the 7.40 a. m. trolley yesterday, funeral services were held in the Lindsey Catholic church and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery at that place. Deceased is survived by her father and sister in this place, brother at Punxsutawney, brother at Hallton, two sisters in Minnesota and one sister in Montana.

A Cruise Around the World. Duncan M. Dunsmore, Jr., of West Reynoldsville, who enlisted in the navy November 9, 1903, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dunsmore, sr. On Friday he will return to League Island where his vessel, "Panther," is now lying. Early next month the U. S. armored cruiser, "Colorado," will go into commission and Duncan will be assigned to that ship, which will be Dewey's flag ship in the North Atlantic Squadron and will go to West Indies in January for the spring maneuvering. From there they will start on a trip around the world and Duncan does not expect to get home again inside of three years. Duncan is a bright young man and when he returns will be able to give an interesting description of his trip.

County Institute. The Jefferson county teachers' institute held in Brookville last week was a success in every particular. The attendance was large, the day instructors excellent and the night entertainers high-classed. The teachers from this section speak in the highest praise of the institute, and some of them even say it was the best institute ever held in Brookville. Prof. Teitrick engaged the best talent attainable for the institute and none of his instructors or entertainers failed to keep their engagement.

Conrad Fink Dead. Conrad Fink, who resided near Panic, brother-in-law of Mrs. J. C. Barto, of this place, died Thursday morning, December 22, 1904, and was buried at Oliveburg Saturday. Mrs. Barto and son, W. Pearl Barto, attended the funeral. In April of this year Mr. Fink's son died, in October his wife died and he soon followed them to the Great Beyond. All three of those people died in the month that they were born and within a few days of their birthdays.

Cutting Affray at Rathmel. Some foreigners who had been imbibing from the cup that intoxicates, had a quarrel at Rathmel Monday and knives were used. A Slav named George Fiman was so badly cut on the head that it was thought he would not live. He was taken to the Adrian Hospital Tuesday. A telephone message from the hospital this morning stated that Fiman was seriously injured, but he will recover.

A Monster Butterfly. Early in October Mrs. W. T. Cox while in the grape arbor noticed a very large cocoon. Her curiosity being aroused she cut the twig off to which it was attached and hung it up in the dining room, near a gas jet. On Sunday morning, December 18th, it sent forth a monster butterfly of great beauty in colors. It measured five inches from tip to tip of its wings. It is still alive and doing well at this writing.

Would be Good Resolution. It would be an excellent and commendable resolution for all persons indebted to the editor of THE STAR for subscription to resolve to pay all arrearage before the first of the year and begin the New Year with your subscription paid up.

Students Omitted. In our list last week of students at home, or expected home, from college for the holiday vacation we unintentionally omitted the names of the following students: Miss Anna Klahr, Clarion State Normal; Miss Mary McDonald, Villa Maria Academy, Erie; Wallace S. Mitchell, Moody's Bible Institute, Chicago.

MANY HOLIDAY WEDDINGS.

Six Young Couples Join Heart and Hand for all Eternity.

Homer Smith, of Deemer's Cross Roads, and Miss Maude May Hilliard, of Iowa, Pa., were married at the home of Daniel Smith, Deemer's Cross Roads, December 24, 1904, by Rev. J. W. Myers.

Elliott Steel, of Brookville, and Miss Edith C. Smith, daughter of Jonathan Smith, of Horntown, were married by Rev. J. W. Myers at his home in Reynoldsville December 26, 1904.

Married Dec. 27, 1904, at the Baptist parsonage by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek, William Foltz and Miss Minnie Pomroy, both of Reynoldsville. The bride and groom were attended by Arthur Lewis, of Medix Run, Pa., and Miss Nellie Harris, of Rathmel. Mr. and Mrs. Foltz will make their home in Iselin, Indiana county. The many friends wish them a pleasant voyage through life.

Walter Rodwell, of Soldier, and Miss Emma Miller, daughter of Mrs. John Miller, of Prescottville, were married at 10.00 a. m., Thursday, December 22, 1904, by Rev. J. W. Myers, pastor of the Lutheran church, at his residence on Fifth street. Mr. Rodwell and bride left here on the 11.42 a. m. train the same day on a wedding trip to Smithport, McKean Co., Pa. Their friends extend congratulations and best wishes.

Nick Moore and Miss Beatrice Henry, of Rathmel, were married at the Baptist parsonage in this place at 10.00 a. m. Saturday, December 24, 1904, by Rev. Dr. A. J. Meek. Miss Polly Mitchell was bridesmaid and Thomas Rider was groomsmen. Mr. Moore and bride went to Leeburg Saturday afternoon on a wedding trip. The numerous friends of this couple extend congratulations and best wishes.

On Monday evening, Dec. 26, a wedding occurred at the residence of Kenner Johnston, of Winslow township when Miss Margaret K. Johnston, niece of the former, was united in marriage to David B. Hill, of Rathmel. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Dean. The couple were attend-ed by E. D. and Miss Iris Johnston, cousins of the bride. None but the immediate family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Hill are both well and favorably known in this locality. They will begin home making at Rathmel.

PROOF OF TRUE FRIENDSHIP. Farmers of Paradise Give Signal Aid to One of Their Number who Lost Heavily Through Fire.

About 2.00 a. m. Monday, December 5, the barn of A. C. Wells, near town, was totally destroyed by fire, mention of which was made in THE STAR. The summer crops, farming implements and some live stock were consumed in the barn. Mr. Wells' loss amounted to over $600.00. Mr. Wells has evidence now to convince him that some person was in the barn stealing feed and accidentally set the barn on fire by dropping a match or lighted cigar.

The fire was a heavy loss to Mr. Wells. He had some stock without anything to feed them and only had enough flour in the house for one baking of bread, having been to busy to take his grain to mill. His large hearted, generous neighbors and some friends in Paradise came to his help in the time of need and have given him hay by the load, flour, feed and cash. The Protected Home Circle of Reynoldsville, gave him $25.00. Mr. Wells requested us to state that he appreciates the kindness and generosity of his friends and neighbors and that he is very grateful to them for their substantial evidence of friendship.

REPORTS OF REGISTERS. Winslow Township Shown to be in a Thriving Condition.

The registers of Winslow township have completed the fall registration and have made their returns to the county commissioners. According to these returns there are 1177 voters in Winslow township. Following are the returns: Precinct No. 1, D. J. Thomas register, voters 376, births 53, deaths 18; precinct No. 2, T. J. Newcome register, voters 278, births 19, deaths 2; precinct No. 3, William L. Brown register, voters 92, births 7, deaths 2; precinct No. 4, P. A. Smith register, voters 431, births 93, deaths 14. There were 162 births and 36 deaths in the township during the six months.

It Was Charcoal Sparks. The tinner who are roofing the I. O. O. F. three story brick block left their charcoal furnace on top of the building last evening with a little fire in it and the strong wind that sprang up about 9.30 fanned the fire so that it was burning enough to shower sparks from roof at 10.00 and the natural conclusion of some person who saw the sparks was that the building was on fire and the fire alarm was given and Hope Hose Co. quickly responded, but their service was not needed.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

WM. H. TRUDGEN AND MISS CORA PEARL HEEMER.

One Hundred Guests Present at the Ceremony, which Occurred at Home of Mr. and Mrs. John Trudgen, Sr.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Trudgen, on Jackson street, at 4.30 p. m. on Monday, December 26, 1904, when their youngest son, William H. Trudgen, and Miss Cora Pearl Heemer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Heemer, of Prescottville, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Miss Emma Robinson played the wedding march and the ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. A. Parsons, pastor of the M. E. church. It was a ring ceremony. Miss Mary Trudgen, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and John Stauffer, of Eleanora, was groomsmen. The bride was dressed in blue silk and wore white carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in white, trimmed in white, and wore white carnations. After congratulations an excellent wedding dinner was served. There were one hundred guests present.

Mr. Trudgen and bride are excellent young people, highly esteemed and respected. They had a house already furnished and went to their own home Monday night.

Three members of Conrad Heemer's family are ill with typhoid fever and that marred the pleasures of the wedding a little.

THE STAR joins with their many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Trudgen unbounded joy and prosperity in life's journey together.

The presents were beautiful and useful, consisting of rocking chairs, silverware, table linen and bedspreads, sideboard, half dozen kitchen chairs, parlor stand, rug, check for $25.00, six piece silver tea set from M. E. choir, pictures, settee, dining room table, dishes, glassware.

REV. DIXON'S LECTURE. The Youngest of a Famous Quartette Adds Lustre to the Family Name.

Rev. Frank Dixon delivered his lecture, "The Threat of Socialism, or the Modern Attempt to Secure the Survival of the Unfit," before the Jefferson county teachers' institute on Tuesday evening. Rev. Dixon is the younger brother of Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., who has twice appeared before our institute with such pleasure and profit to all, and if there were any in the audience who had previously thought of the possibility of his traveling on his brother's reputation they had abundant reason to forget it before the close of his magnificent effort. In fact Frank Dixon came perilously close to, if he did not indeed attain the realization of his own jocosse assertion that "he could beat Tom lecturing all hollow." His subject was a live one and he treated it from the standpoint of the man rather than of the theorist, laying bare with brilliant rhetoric and forceful logic the fallacies of a theory that would substitute legislative panaceas for individual effort and attainment. It is a lecture that can be heard with profit by every American.

Rev. Dixon "made good," in the language of the street, Tuesday night, so much so that when Thomas Dixon again appears before our people he may have to be introduced as "Frank Dixon's older brother."—Brookville Republican, Dec. 22nd.

Rev. Dixon will lecture at Assembly hall Tuesday evening, Jan. 10th.

Lutheran Christmas Services. A Christmas service was held in the Chestnut Grove Lutheran church on Christmas eve. The service consisted of singing Christmas hymns, scripture reading and prayer. A handsomely decorated Christmas tree stood in the chancel of the church.

Trinity Lutheran Sunday school of Reynoldsville held their Christmas service Sunday evening. A program entitled, "We Have Seen His Star," was rendered by the school and choir. The program consisted of scripture reading, Christmas hymns and suitable Christmas recitations rendered by the children. The members of the school were treated to a box of candy and an orange. A large and very attentive audience was present filling the house to overflowing. The growth of this school has been remarkable, being re-organized two years ago with less than a dozen scholars it now has an enrollment of over eighty.

The Christmas service held in the Emerickville Lutheran church on Monday evening was very largely attended. A choir consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughes, of Reynoldsville, Miss L. Grace Beard, of Middletown, Md., and the three daughters of Rev. J. W. Myers, assisted by Rev. W. H. Garnett, pastor of the M. E. church, and the congregation rendered an interesting service of song, consisting of Christmas hymns, solos and choruses. Miss Beard sang "The Holy City" and recited a suitable and touching selection. A treat was handed out to the children at the close of the service.

5 per cent cash discount on all purchases at Millirens. Ladies' coats made over at Mullen's.
