OLD HOME WEEK CELEBRATION

WILL BE HELD AT REYNOLDSVILLE THE WEEK OF AUGUST 19 TO 24 OF THIS YEAR

OLD HOME WEEK RE-UNION IS NOW AN ASSURED SUCCESS

People Pledge Liberal Assistance and Committees are Working Day and Night.

FREE INVITATIONS, STATIONERY AND OTHER MATTER

Headquarters Opened on Second Floor of the Bing-Stoke Co. Block where a Stenographer is in Constant Attendance who will Furnish Information, Give out Advertising Matter, Invitations, Etc.

 I HAS BEEN many years since so much genuine enthusiasm was manifested by the people of Reynoldsville as has been called forth by the movement for the celebration of Old Home Week. Within a few hours after the soliciting committee started to work nearly seven hundred dollars was pledged and the subscriptions have been coming in steadily ever since. In one instance fifty dollars in five dollar subscriptions was raised in ten seconds. At the present time the amount raised from subscriptions, and assured from concessions and privileges, justifies all claims that the celebration will far surpass all previous efforts and the amusements alone will repay even strangers for a week's stay. The celebration is but half, the chief feature will be the reunion of old friends and there is every indication that from ten to fifteen thousand people will visit the town during the Old Home Week. From the start the work of preparation has been pushed vigorously. Every evening the committees have met, using at first Williams' barber shop and now the headquarters over the Bing-Stoke Co. store. These sessions have been something more than lively at times, but it is all for the "good of the cause" and out of the forge of talking, planning, scrapping these Old-Home-Week-smiths are hammering a celebration of which our citizens may be proud and invite with confidence their old friends to witness it.

Advertising matter is being issued rapidly and the invitations will be ready by the first of next week. These will be kept at the headquarters and Miss Minnie Strong has been retained to remain at these rooms and issue to all who call free invitations when ready, and also free envelopes and letter heads, bearing an Old Home Week card. It is the desire of the committee that every person in town co-operate in advertising the reunion by using this free stationery in writing to their friends over the country. It is entirely in the hands of the citizens to make or mar this celebration and reunion and one of the most important services they can render is to aid in sending out invitations to former Reynoldsville people to come back for visit. If you know of a single person anywhere in the United States who is interested in Reynoldsville, who has lived here in the past or expects to in the future, either send them an invitation yourself or else give their names to the clerk at headquarters and a free invitation will be sent to them by the committee. Both Bell and Summerville 'phones have been installed in the headquarters and the clerk can be reached at any time.

Again, the people may assist materially in spreading the news of our reunion by a liberal use of the Old Home Week "sticker," an unlimited supply of which will be kept at the headquarters to be given free to all who ask. Stick them on all your packages sent by express or mail, on your envelopes, if you do not use the free stationery, or on any other matter which passes through the hands of many persons in transit.

No definite announcement of attractions can be made yet. The amusement committee has a number in view, including a large number of free attractions, and care is being exercised that no fake carnival companies shall secure privileges. There is money enough at command of the committee to secure attractions of genuine merit and they are going to give the people exactly what they advertise. Athletic events of varied nature will have a prominent place on the program and numerous novel exhibitions have been suggested.

At a meeting of the general committee held at headquarters last evening money was appropriated to the amusement, music and advertising committees. Several applications for concessions had been made to the privilege committee and granted. Their judgment was approved. The invitation committee submitted a draft of the invitation to be sent out, which was accepted. It is genial and hospitable enough in tone to induce even the former residents of Reynoldsville away out in California to drop everything and hit the trail for their old home town.

Few persons realize the extent of the celebration being planned for this occasion and the urgent need of money to carry out the work. It is a citizens' celebration and every man in town should be glad to have the opportunity to contribute, by doing so not only helping to provide entertainment for old friends who will be here but assisting in insuring Reynoldsville's future growth.

A Delightful Family Reunion.

Saturday, 6th inst., dawned bright and beautiful and near ten o'clock about thirty-six children, grand children, great grand children, relatives and friends began to gather in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hetrick, of Pansy, to cheer and have a good social time together, and to say that they realized their fondest desires is putting it mildly indeed, for after hearty hand shaking and cordial greetings, cherry voices and merry peals of laughter were heard in all directions, which betokened that each one was on the lofty heights of enjoyment.

The dinner hour arrived duly and found a sumptuous feast laid on the table under the cool shade trees reflecting honor on the family for being good providers and skillful in the culinary department, and I need not add that all did ample justice to this abundant repast, the preacher not excluded.

Mr. Hetrick is one of the most aged and honored citizens of Beaver township, and enjoys these annual home comings of the children as only a devoted father can, and no doubt it makes him think, as it does us, of that joyous reunion of all believing children in our Father's home on high.

The day was certainly spent in a manner befitting christian people, and all too soon the clock gave the signal to disperse, and, no doubt, as each one repaired to his or her respective home they realized the truth of the sentiment that in diffusing happiness you are made happy yourself.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Dainer and three children, John, Clarence and Ella, Edward Carr, of Brookville, Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks and two children, Catherine and Mary, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dainer and daughter, Ruby, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Space and three daughters, Levia, Leais and Allen, of Cool Spring, Mrs. Elmer E. Schuckers, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. Mabe Harrieger, of Reynoldsville, I. B. Himes, wife and children, Jennings and Lovilla, of Kaylor, Jacob Raybuck, wife and son, Alton, of near Pansy, Rev. Henry Voegtly and Norman Yeany, of Shannondale, Misses Wilta and Nellie Reitz and Mrs. B. C. Reitz, of Pansy, and Miss Olive Shaffer, of Ohi.

A WOMAN'S QUICK EYE.

It Was the Means of Gaining a Fortune at Monte Carlo.

Nearly every one who has been to Monte Carlo has heard of "Mamma" Vland, a little, bent old French woman, a widow, who played for years. "Mamma" Vland played roulette each day from morning until night. Her beady eyes, twitching nervously, saw nothing but the ivory ball as it fell into the cell. As they watched her stagering from the gaming tables late at night people pitied her.

Her whole soul, her life, seemed absorbed in the awful desire of winning. The old woman at times lost heavily—for her; then she regained her losses. For a long time she was enabled to live and continue her feverish pursuit of the game.

One night the old woman lost nearly all her store. As she passed from the table, despair in her eyes, her attention was attracted by another wheel. She stopped and bent over the table. Again and again the wheel spun around and stopped. The old woman's eyes sparkled. A flush suffused her pallid cheeks.

As she left the room she clapped her hands, and her laugh—a shrill, mocking chuckle—startled the gamblers as ominous, uncanny.

"Better watch the old woman!" one of the official lookouts told a detective. He followed "Mamma" Vland to her hotel. He listened outside of her door. There was no alarming sound. In a short while she extinguished her lights and evidently had retired.

The following evening she reappeared in the gaming hall. Her eyes still sparkled; her cheeks were still flushed. With her were several notorious gamblers. They approached a table, "Mamma" Vland began to play.

She won. The gamblers, who had loaned her money, watched. She played a second time and won and a third time and won. The gamblers looked on amazed and saw the old woman raking in thousands of francs.

During the evening the old woman sat by the table, playing persistently. Her winnings doubled, trebled, quadrupled and piled up about her.

The management became alarmed. A consultation was held. Special detectives were sent to watch her. Scores had gathered about the table, looking on breathlessly at her wonderful run of luck. The detectives reported to the management that "Mamma" Vland was playing a certain combination of numbers that invariably won.

One of the directors besought the old woman to desist playing. The bank would be broke, he declared. She smiled and continued to play.

The director offered her $50,000 to cease playing. He doubled the figure if she would tell him the secret of her success. He importuned her to take $200,000, $250,000, only cease waging her successful battle for gold.

Finally he offered her $300,000. Accepting this, "Mamma" Vland, gathering together her fortune, told him very quietly that in passing the table the night before her quick eye had detected that the ball of this particular wheel stopped at a certain place at regular intervals. The managers examined the wheel, found that it was out of order and congratulated themselves upon having compromised with the old woman.—Philadelphia North American.

Two New Laws.

An act passed by the General Assembly at its last session and approved by the Governor on the 28th day of May, 1907, makes some important changes in the law regulating the sale of feeding stuffs within the State. It provides that wheat and rye bran and middlings or any mixture thereof, except when sold at the mill where made, must be accompanied by the name and address of the manufacturer and a guarantee that the same is pure. Mixed feeds, except chop made by grinding whole grain, and all condimental feeds must be accompanied by the name and address of the manufacturer and a statement of the several ingredients of which the mixture is composed. The minimum penalty for violating any of the provisions of the feeding stuffs law is raised from $50.00 to $100.00.

An act to regulate the sale of Paris Green, providing for the collection and analysis of samples of the same and the punishment of frauds in the manufacture and sale thereof, was also passed, which was approved by the Governor on the 29th day of May, 1907.

The Secretary of Agriculture, who is charged with the enforcement of these acts, will be glad to send copies of the same to any person who will write for them.

The Charming Woman

Is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clear smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak woman, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at Stoke & Felcht Drug Co., druggists, 50c. Reynoldsville and Sykesville.
