Dinger, a member of the Reynoldsville Hardware Co., a member of town council and one of our popular young men, has decided to be a candidate next year for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner. He is well qualified to fill the office of county commissioner and if nominated and elected would do good service for the county. Will H. Ford Injured. Will H. Ford, painter, was injured while at work at the silk mill last Wednesday and will not be able to work again for several weeks. He was on a scaffold when he lost his equilibrium and was falling backward, but succeeded in jumping far enough to save himself from falling on top of a spooler full of spikes, which he cleared about a foot. He fell a distance of fourteen feet and had he fallen on the spooler or some of the other machinery he would have been killed or seriously injured. Mr. Ford escaped with his right ankle sprained and foot badly bruised. See the summer shirts at Millirens. Do you want your money's worth? Then buy a Watson shoe at Adam's. EXCURSION TRAIN WRECKED.

Three Killed and a Number Injured—Reynoldsville Ladies Have Narrow Escape.

The annual picnic of the employees of the B. R. & P. railroad shops of DuBois was to have been held at Cascade Park, New Castle, last Saturday and a train of fifteen coaches, with about 1,200 jolly picnecers on board, left DuBois at 7.00 a. m., but they did not reach the park. From Butler the train started over the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroad for New Castle. The engine was running backwards and when near Isle, a swampy place along the Bessemer & Lake Erie R. R., the tender of engine jumped the track and wrecked the train, killing three persons and injuring four or five others. The baggage car and engine telescoped and those on engine and baggage car were killed and injured. The car next to baggage car was a heavy vestibuled car, and that saved a number of lives, for had it been a common coach the occupants would not have escaped as they did. This car was off the track and partly tumbled over.

Miss Edith Harris, Mary and Elvie McCright, of Reynoldsville, were in the front end of car next to baggage car and they had to get out of the car through a window. It was a very narrow escape for the three young ladies, which they will not soon forget.

There were a dozen Reynoldsville people on the excursion train, John Trudgen, Henry Thomas, Helen Meek, Florence Atwater, Mrs. D. M. Bolger and son, Dennis, Edith Harris, Mary and Elvie McCright, Nellie Kroh, Grace Clawson, Delva Schuckera, Bonnie Brady, and when it was reported here that the train had been wrecked, 33 people killed and 80 injured, there was some very anxious people in Reynoldsville for several hours.

Those killed were: Charles Neale, of DuBois, aged 23 years, unmarried, William Dawson, of DuBois, aged 35 years, married and leaves wife, son and daughter, Fireman Bates, of Greenville.

Meadow Creek Lively.

As a number of Reynoldsville citizens are interested in the Meadow Creek Mining Co., of which G. J. Corwin, one of our citizens, is president, we publish the following item which was clipped from the Mining News of Elk City, Idaho:

"The Meadow Creek Mining Company, located on Meadow Creek, about one mile from its junction with New-some creek, have installed an 8-horse water power hoist and are now putting down a double compartment shaft. They are down 60 feet in the ledge of free milling ore that is more than six feet wide. Different assays of this ore averaged over $200 per ton in gold."

"The company has received word that its new 25-ton mill ordered in Buffalo some time ago had been shipped. The shipment includes engine, boiler, an air compressor and three drills."

Sykesville Teachers.

The school board of Sykesville elected the following teachers for the next term of public school in that borough: Prof. Seiler Geist, principal; No. 5, Minnie Showers; No. 4, Clara Lyle; No. 3, Maud Phillippi; No. 2, Marie Elder; No. 1, Sara Barker.

Prof. Geist has been principal of the Sykesville school five terms and the term for which he was elected last week makes the sixth term. The Sykesville school board evidently knows when they have a good man and they keep him.

For Smart Boys and Girls of Reynoldsville.

The four girls that left the picnic in West Reynoldsville Thursday afternoon of last week, July 25, and landed in the town of Hopkins, and thinking that there was no one at home at our residence, did all the mischief they could, are hereby cautioned not to repeat the misdemeanor. They ransacked all through the summer kitchen, broke the hen eggs in the nests in chicken pen and tried to break into the house, and one girl got her fingers badly pinched in trying to raise a window. This must be stopped. Should there be any more of this conduct at Hopkins on Sunday, or any other day, the guilty ones will be arrested. J. W. C.
