MOVEMENT STARTED TO ESTABLISH READING ROOM

Young Men of Reynoldsville Have Rented a Room for Club Purposes.

NEED SUPPORT AND MEMBERS

The past week a movement started in town that, with a little encouragement from the citizens, may become a powerful and beneficial factor in the future social life of Reynoldsville so far as it affects the young people of town.

Twenty-five or thirty young men, feeling the need of a place where they could spend their evenings away from the influences of the street and hotel, banded themselves together for the purpose of establishing a reading and club room, and have opened temporary quarters in the vacant rooms over F. E. Rodgers' cigar store. One room has already been comfortably furnished and it will require but little money to equip a suite of rooms adjoining. The movement was spontaneous among the young men and is absolutely undenominational and has no other purpose than affording to the members and young people of town access to literature—books, magazines and newspapers—that probably none, singly, could secure. Later, if a larger membership is secured, and a desire manifested, a room may be fitted up for athletics and physical culture, but for the present the aim is purely intellectual. There has been no formal organization of the association and no permanent officers elected, but the young men who have taken the lead in the matter urgently solicit all who are interested in seeing a reading room established to join them. Any person over eighteen years of age desiring to become a member should hand their name or application to any one of the present members. The admittance fee is only $1.00, with small monthly dues.

The need of a reading room in Reynoldsville is indisputable. Once before an attempt was made to maintain one, but the movement did not originate with the younger element and never had the hearty support of those for whom it was intended. This movement originated right among the young men themselves and they have shown their earnestness by going ahead along their own lines as far as their resources allowed. It is the broadest, most unselfish and useful movement of the year in Reynoldsville and not only deserves, but commands the prompt and liberal co-operation of every person in town who wishes to see established a place where young men, and older ones too, may spend their evenings in comfort away from the questionable associations of the street, the hotel and pool rooms. Contributions will be welcomed, as well as new members and the success of the project depends largely on the interest shown by the people.

"Strongheart" at Punxsutawney.

When Robert Gaillard appears in Jefferson Theatre, Punxsutawney, as the star of "Strongheart" Thursday, October 29, playgoers will see a comedy-drama of American college life that has no equal on the American stage. This has been proven by the great hold the play obtained on popular interest when it was first produced three years ago and its subsequent success. The idea upon which "Strongheart" was founded is absolutely original, and in making an Apache Indian a college graduate and in every way the equal of his fair-skinned associates, Mr. Wm. C. DeMille, created a play which is designed to live in public regard for many years. Henry B. Harris has fitted his star with a splendid company and furnished a handsome and thorough scenic production. Seats on sale at National hotel Reynoldsville. Special return cars after performance.

Railroad Rumors.

Among the railroad rumors that have reached this office are two that might be interesting to Punxsutawney people. One, which is given as quite authentic, is that the P. & N. W. Division of the Pennsylvania railroad will be extended from Punxsutawney to Kittanning to connect with the Allegheny Valley railroad. Another is that a branch line will be run from Hillman to Indiana, to connect with the P. R. R. at that place.—Punxsutawney News.

ALEX. D. DEEMER

CANDIDATE FOR ASSEMBLY.

A. D. Deemer is Well Known in Jefferson County—A Substantial Citizen.

Alex D. Deemer was born in Winslow township, Jefferson county, on December 24th, 1848, when the county was new, and the old citizens were just beginning to clear up their farms. When quite a young man he went into a blacksmith shop, serving there a regular apprenticeship. After learning his trade he worked at blacksmithing for fifteen years. He then engaged in the lumber business, working for sixteen years at manufacturing and dealing in lumber, employing quite a number of men. In 1896 he embarked in the manufacture and sale of furniture, and to-day has a large furniture factory in Brookville, employing from 65 to 75 men. His life has been a very active one, and for nearly thirty years he has been an employer of men, having from 25 to 75 men in his employ constantly. This meant giving employment and sustenance to many families. He is now a candidate for Assembly, having been nominated by the Democratic and Prohibition parties. He is fully qualified for the position of representative, and if elected will serve the people of the county honestly, intelligently and faithfully. He is well acquainted with the needs of our county and people, and will do his best to serve them. All the candidates for Assembly are pledged in favor of local option. Mr. Deemer favors a local option law that will allow the people to vote on the question by counties. He does not think it would be wise to have the vote taken by townships and boroughs.

Senior—The world expects more from a high school pupil, just as the collector expects a large contribution from a millionaire.

Senior (after physics class)—Throw out the life line.

Whole Senior Class—So say we all of us.

You may know the fellow Who thinks he thinks, Or the fellow who thinks he knows, But find the fellow Who knows he thinks, And you know the fellow who knows.

Men may live without light, Men may live without hope; But some of the students can't Live without "R-O-P-E."

Seniors—Our life is one long horrid grind.

Freshman—Life is a jest and all things show it; I thought so once, but now I know it.

Teacher—Mr. Wisor, prove that two right triangles are equal if a leg and the hypotenuse of the one are equal respectively to a leg and the hypotenuse of the other.

Mr. Wisor promptly arises and says—"Two right triangles are equal if a leg and the hypotenuse of the one are equal respectively to a leg and hypotenuse of the other. Q. E. D." He then sits down.

We are awfully in need of some good high school yells. Somebody should get busy.

Sentiment of the football team: Play fair, fellows: it's not the score that counts.

Hurray for Reynoldsville High School, And for class of 1909; There's not a boy among them, But a class of girls so fine.

Teacher (in physics)—Give the law of gravitation.

Senior (thinking very hard)—Oh! yes, I know. The attraction between the earth and the moon.

Seniors in concert—Why that was not in our lesson; that was in yesterday's.

The Seniors, since they have been reading "Hamlet," have been hearing mysterious sounds, in fact some of the teachers also.

Teacher (in physics)—Do you know what work is?

Senior—No, sir.

"Non paratis," Junior dixit: Cum a sad and doleful look; Aile Richta, E. M. respondit, "Nihil," scripsit in her book.

First pupil—What are you chewing?

Second pupil—Nothing.

First pupil (fiercely)—Spit it out.

First pupil—What do you do when you can't sleep at night?

Second pupil—Lay awake.

Freshman—"God bless the man who first invented sleep."

Freshman—Frances, do you understand German?

Frances—Shure, if it's spoken in Irish.

"Girls, hurry, but keep your feet still."

"Class, you can conjugate any verb in German if you know its principal parts and its auxiliary." That's all.

A little agitation, A little constant knocking, Can solve a problem mountainous, By keeping pupils talking.

The persons who relieved the Juniors of the penance Wednesday night did a very courageous act.

If you would create for yourself a future make a present.

Teacher (in Latin)—If you Sophomores would stay up some night and study Latin until about twelve o'clock, you would see how much better you could sleep.

Sophomore (sorrowfully)—"Oh, goodness! I couldn't sleep at all then."

Teacher—Oh! well you would die happy.

Teacher (in Sophomore English)—"Mr. McConnell, what do we call a mind that is filled with reverence?"

Mr. McConnell (very brilliantly)—A preacher.

REPUBLICAN RALLY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Edwards and Langham Speak And There will be a Big Mounted Parade.

Republican rally will be held in Reynoldsville on Friday evening of this week, October 30. One of the features of the rally will be a cavalry parade. Good bands have been engaged for the demonstration. Delegations from all over the county are expected to be present. There will be a mass meeting in Centennial hall after the parade. Hon. Albert J. Edwards, of Pittsburgh, Hon. J. N. Langham, of Indiana, and other speakers will be present. This is the first and will be the only Republican rally in Jefferson county during the present presidential campaign.

An Appeal for "The Bread Line."

The Bowery Mission "Bread Line," at which 1,000 men who are out in the streets for the night are given a breakfast of hot coffee and rolls every morning at one o'clock, is one of the most pathetic sights in all the wide, wide world. Long before the hour of opening, these poor, starving men stand in a single line that sometimes extends for blocks in length, waiting for the coffee and rolls. During the winter this breakfast is given to an aggregate of 210,000 homeless men and boys, and up to date over half a million of the homeless have had their weary tramp restfully interrupted by this unique ministrations. The first of these breakfasts is given on Thanksgiving morning, and the last on the following Easter morning. Altogether the Mission supplied this year over 312,000 meals and 57,072 lodgings to homeless men and boys.

It is for this grand, philanthropic work that we ask your kind and practical co-operation. The homeless, friendless, disheartened and despairing men and boys of the Bowery are not native New Yorkers, but men and boys who, until within a year, lived happily at the old homestead with father and mother, and perhaps wife. They are stranded here and in despair appeal to the Old Bowery Mission, which, for over thirty years, has been to the unfortunate as the rescue cities of old, a haven of encouragement, rest and protection. Shall we turn them away? It rests with the good people of this country to decide this question, and may God graciously help you to decide it aright. JOHN C. EARL, Financial Secretary, 92 Bible House, New York City.

ESCAPED MURDERERS CAPTURED

Murderers of Robert Tozier Broke Out of the Indiana Jail Friday.

CAUGHT ON ROAD TO WISHAW

Joe Veltra and Bruno Carbone, formerly of Wishaw, who were convicted in the Indiana county court several weeks ago of first degree murder, having killed Robert Tozier near Glen Campbell last July, escaped from the Indiana county jail early Friday morning of last week, and were re-captured on the George Pifer farm in McCalmont township, Jefferson county, Sunday afternoon by David Campbell, A. C. Reed and Jacob Pifer, who will be given the $500.00 reward offered by the Indiana county authorities. Mrs. Campbell saw the two men, recognized them, notified her husband and he got Reed and Pifer to assist him in capturing them. Veltra and Carbone were coming towards Wishaw when captured. The men had not had anything to eat from the time they escaped from jail until re-captured. They had traveled at night and been in hiding at day time until Sunday when they boldly walked in public places in broad day light.

Awards from Hero Fund.

At a meeting of the Carnegie Hero Commission last week Mrs. David Pittsley and three children, of Rossiter, were included in the awards. While trying to rescue a fellow miner from a fall of coal in the Rossiter mine on May 6, 1907, David Pittsley lost his life and for this act of heroism his widow will receive $25.00 per month and the children each $5.00 per month until they are 16 years old, or a total of $40.00 per month for the mother and three children.
