TWO WORLD FAMED GHANNIES

One of These Talented Women is Sarah Bernhardt and the Other Ellen Terry.

Two famous grandmothers are distinguished visitors of this country. Referring to these talented ladies the Rochester Post Express says: "One of the grandmothers is Mme. Sarah Bernhardt; the other is Ellen Terry. Both actresses have reached an age when it is permissible to retire from active life; but the French actress is said to be as energetic as a woman half her age, while Ellen Terry is declared to be as young as ever she was in the palmy days when she and Henry Irving ruled the theatrical world of England. Miss Terry has retired from the stage so far as acting is concerned, and has taken to lecturing on Shakespeare's heroines. And who could do better than she who has played so many of the womanly women of the great dramatist? Readers of her breezy biography know what she thinks of Portia, Beatrice, Viola, Rosalind and other famous women of the tragedies and comedies, but no printed page could charm as does the wonderfully expressive features and the velvet voice of the greatest living English-speaking actress."

His Means.

"You are charged with vagrancy, prisoner at the bar."

"What's that, judge?"

"Vagrancy? Why, you have no visible means of support."

"Huh! Heah's mah wife, judge; Mary, is you visible?"

It's a pity that more sermons are not as deep as they are long.

ACTRESS WEDS WEALTHY AMERICAN

NEW YORK.—A cablegram from Paris announced the wedding of Charlotte Katherine Palmer to James C. Parrish, Jr., a relative of the Vanderbilts. The Parrishes are very wealthy and have a beautiful home near Southampton. Mr. Parrish, Jr. is a Harvard graduate, and was admitted to the bar this year. Miss Palmer formerly was in "Wang," and also with the Lew Field forces. In London she numbered Mrs. Oscar Lewisohn, Mrs. Henry Lyndhurst Bruce and Sir George Prescott among her devoted admirers.

WON'T COLLECT COIN

English Court Refuses to Aid Theatrical Press Agent.

Faked Expulsion of Women Who Insisted on Wearing Big Hats in Theater Galled by Judge a Fraud on Justice.

London.—British courts of justice must not be exploited for the purposes of advertisement. This legal decision was given in a case brought by Thomas Humley Dann, a press agent, against Frank Curzon, the theatrical manager. The evidence revealed the remarkable manner in which the public was "spoofed" over a certain matinee hat incident which occurred at the Prince of Wales theater in London some months ago. This incident was manifestly a fake to all those who are initiated into the ways of theatrical advertisement.

Mr. Dann in his action claimed $500, which he alleged was the sum Mr. Curzon agreed to pay him for arranging the affair, while Mrs. Dann, who assisted her husband in the affair, claimed $262 in payment for her services. Mr. Curzon admitted that he agreed to the incident being arranged, but denied that he agreed to pay these sums.

The judgment of Judge Woodfall, who tried the case, explains the nature of the incident. He said: "In the early part of this year, when the plaintiff was employed by the defendant as his press agent, he suggested to the defendant that it would be an excellent advertisement both for the theater and for the defendant as manager, if the following scheme were carried out: Two ladies and a gentleman were to be engaged, the ladies were to occupy two stalls and to wear ultra-fashionable hats. The gentleman was to occupy a stall immediately behind them, and during the fall of the curtain peremptorily demand of them that they should take their hats off.

"The ladies were to refuse, and the gentleman to urgently and audibly insist, and the disturbance was to attain such proportions that the defendant should be sent for and invite the trio outside in the corridor, and demand of the ladies that they should remove their hats or leave the theater; that the ladies should resist the demand; that defendant should thereupon eject them by a technical assault of laying his hand on the shoulders of one of them; that the ladies should leave and summon the defendant before a magistrate for the assault and that the defendant should plead the right to protect the convenience of his audience.

"The defendant consented, and the scheme was carried out in every detail, the price of their seats—which they had not paid for—was ostensibly returned to the ladies, and in pursuance of the plot they proceeded to summon the defendant for assault.

"The magistrate heard the charge and dismissed it, holding that the defendant was justified in what he had done. The plaintiffs now allege that the defendant agreed to pay them for their services in carrying out the venture.

"I am of opinion that the agreement alleged is illegal, being contrary to public policy, and that no action is maintainable upon it. And this for two reasons: (1) The spectacle of two ladies being peremptorily and brusquely treated might well have aroused interlocation on their behalf and led to a serious breach of the peace. (2) The invocation of a court of law to punish an offense which, to the knowledge of the parties, had not been, even technically committed, was in the nature of a fraud on the administration of justice. I therefore dismiss the two actions, and leave each party to pay his own costs.

"In case of a successful appeal against this decision, and to save the expense of a second hearing, I will state what otherwise would have been my decision. I find that the defendant did agree to pay the plaintiff £105; that the defendant's setoff is valid, and I should have given judgment accordingly for the defendant, with costs. I find the defendant did agree to pay Mrs. Dann £52 10s., and I should have given judgment for her, with costs."

EASY MONEY IN LIMA BEANS

One-Eighth of an Acre Yields Crop That Sells for $162—Sold to Big Hotels.

Cooper, Pa.—An eighth of an acre of lima beans on the truck farm of Albert E. Rinn, former deputy clerk of quarter sessions, has yielded $162 to Mr. Rinn. His lima bean patch comprises two and a half acres, but the accounts were kept only from an eighth of an acre to ascertain if the raising of beans would prove profitable.

The bean is a small French lima. None of the beans were sold for less than fifteen cents a quart, and for the extra fine ones, $6.50 a bushel was realized. The principal customers during the summer were eleven large hotels in Atlantic City, a number of hotels in Philadelphia and New York, in addition to families in Allentown.

MANY OPERATIONS ON HEART

Have Become More or Less of a Commonplace in Medical History—100 Cases Recorded.

New York.—Surgical operations upon the heart have become more or less of a commonplace in medical history. Something approximating 100 cases of the sewing up of heart wounds are on record, and the recoveries have been considerable when one considers the highly dangerous character of such work. Hitherto, however, heart surgery has been limited to accident cases.

In a recent issue of the Annals of Surgery one of the workers at the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research discusses the possibility of treating diseased hearts surgically. He has made numerous experiments on animals and believes that such operations will be successfully performed on human beings in the near future. His tests have convinced him that the heart can be opened, scraped out (cleaned, so to speak), sewed up and started off on its "beating" path again without any great, at least insuperable, difficulty. By an ingenious system of side piping and new channeling he is able temporarily to cut out of the circulation portions of such important vessels as the descending aorta, the largest artery in the body, without killing the animal. Among his suggested operations is one on the coronary arteries of the heart for the cure of angina pectoris.

This doctor has apparently proved to his own satisfaction on animals

CHILD IS BORN APE

Lecturer Explains Working of Biogenetic Law.

Elucidates Many Strange and Absurd Instincts That Come and Go During Human Infancy, Childhood and Adolescence.

Chicago.—J. Heward Moore told members of the Socialist league a lot about babies the other night. Mr. Moore discussed "The Biology of the Child" at a meeting which was held at 160 Washington street.

"There is a law in biology called the biogenetic law. It was discovered by Haeckel. It is one of the most important laws of the organic world. It is this: 'Each organism in its individual development repeats the life history of the race to which it belongs.'

"No being comes into the world full grown. Every being goes through the performance of what is called growing before it is a complete organism. Every being commences as a small, simple and rather shapeless bit of protoplasm. The gulf between this condition and maturity is bridged in by a longer or shorter series of changes in size, form and architecture. The remarkable thing about these changes is that they are strikingly parallel to the changes which the race has undergone in its evolution from the beginning of the earth.

"The biogenetic law applies to mental phenomena as well as to physical. Only in the light of this law is it possible to understand the many strange and absurd instincts that come and go during human infancy, childhood and adolescence.

It has been said that the child is born savage. This is not quite true. It is worse than that. Only after a rather long and inglorious preliminary as a quadruped is it able to walk with its front feet in the air and rightfully lay claim to the title of 'savage.'

Mr. Moore said the general ideas of the child, its conception of itself, and its outlook on the world are essentially the same as those of the savage—narrow, mystical, and naive. The child believes in ghosts, fairy tales, magic and miracles, much as the savage does.

Among the points brought out by the lecture were the following:

The human baby antedates the savage by several hundred thousand years.

The child is a born ape.

The instinct of the baby to cling to everything within reach is the instinct of the monkey.

A stick in the hands of a baby becomes a club.

A baby's attack on the cat is a relic of the club stage in man's development.

A child's love of camp fire, the forming of gangs among boys, the desire to stone dogs and snowball peddlers, and the strong love for a bow and arrow are remnants of the earlier man.

BOYS KICK $75,000 ABOUT

Squad of Players Used Parcel of Bonds as Pigskin—Police Looking for Owner.

New York.—The police of an uptown station have in their possession a parcel of bonds worth about $75,000 which was picked up by a patrolman after it had been kicked two or three blocks by a squad of schoolboy football players.

One boy gave the parcel a final kick which sent it under the stairs leading to a subway station. There the policeman found it. The bundle was addressed in pencil on the manilla wrapper: "Don A. Dodge, Yonkers, N. Y."

The Yonkers police were notified, but were unable to locate the owner.
