

BRIEF ITEMS.

The last month of summer is nearly gone. Dog days are over, but the dogs yet remain. Kite flying is the pastime of the small boy. The soap factory will soon be running again. Democratic delegate elections Saturday evening. Coxie Bros. & Co. pay their Drifton employees to-day. The fresh and juicy oyster will be on hand next week. Borough schools commence a nine month term next Tuesday. The Sunday trains are not regarded with favor by the livermen. Centre Street, from Front to South, is in need of a thorough cleaning. A relic of ye ancient times will gather in the loose quarters to-morrow. The regular monthly meeting of the borough council will be held on Monday evening. If some men were half as big as they think they are the world would need to be enlarged. Wm. Gallagher is preparing to erect a dwelling at the south-west corner of Ridge and Carbon Streets. The celebrated Scranton cream ale is sold at the restaurant of Wm. Gallagher, Ridge and South Streets. Go to the polling places and examine the registry list. If your name does not appear, have it placed thereon. Foster township schools opened on Monday and St. Ann's parochial schools yesterday. All are well attended. Freeland does more to support fakirs than any other town in the state. As soon as one departs another arrives. Wm. W. Kester of Freeland and Miss Honora Bear of Sandy Run were married at Conyngham on Saturday. Freeland, South Heberton, Aylinton, Hirsinton and the Five Points should be consolidated before the next census. Monday is Labor Day. It will be celebrated by the majority in the same manner as they observe the other 312 labor days. The opera season will open with the appearance of Miss Kittie Rhodes and company on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. Work on the Lehigh Valley branch between this place and Upper Lehigh is progressing slowly. At present the abutments for a trestling over the Sandy Run turnpike are being built. The Lehigh Valley has increased the railroad facilities of this place by the addition of two Sunday trains. They arrive at 11.30 a. m. and 3.25 p. m., and depart at 11.06 a. m. and 3.45 p. m. John Stiles, a miner at No. 2 Upper Lehigh, was struck by a runaway car on Monday and seriously injured. Upon his removal to his home at South Heberton it was found that his collar bone was broken, besides severe internal injuries. A young lady of town declares it dangerous to flirt with drug clerks. She explains this by the statement that while waiting for a milk shake the other evening she winked at the clerk, and he surprised her by pouring whisky in the glass. At the next meeting of council residents of the lower end of Centre Street will be present and request that some protection be afforded them from the noise made by parties who hang around after dark. The presence of a few of the specials in that neighborhood might have a soothing effect. Knocked Out in the Thirty-Second. Jack Dempsey, the champion of fifty battles, was knocked out by a chance blow at San Francisco Tuesday night by La Blanche, the Marine, in the 32d round. This was the Nonpar's first defeat and he wants another fight. Balls at the Opera House. District Assembly No. 87, Knights of Labor, Thursday evening, September 19. Young Men's T. A. B. Society, Thursday evening, October 31. Highland Social Club, Thursday evening, October 31. Unclaimed Letters. The following is a list of unclaimed letters remaining in the Freeland Post-office, August 28, 1889: Beans, J. K. Flanagan, J. I. Holst, T. A. Hardwick, J. T. Sheaffer, Louis. Persons calling for any of the above letters should say Advertiser. Are You Registered? All parties who are entitled to vote at the next election should see that their names and residences are placed on the assessor's books, a failure to do so may cost them the loss of a vote. The assessor's book is now on the door of council room, where it can be seen by the public. Assessor A. W. Washburn will be at the regular polling place (council room) on Wednesday and Thursday, September 4 and 5, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. and from 6 to 9 p. m. each day, to make corrections. After that date the registry will be closed. Voters should attend to this important business at once. DEATHS. TROELL.—At Freeland, August 25, Justus Troell, aged 45 years, 4 months and 13 days. Interred at Freeland cemetery Tuesday afternoon. BURNS.—At Freeland, August 28, Rodger Burns, aged 83 years. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery at 2.30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. McNulty undertaker. BROWN.—At South Heberton, August 27, Joseph, son of Patrick and Unity Brown, aged 6 months. Interment at St. Ann's cemetery at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Brislin, undertaker.

Chairman Thos. English of the Democratic county committee has issued a call for the annual county convention, to be held at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday, to nominate candidates for judge, sheriff, recorder of deeds, coroner and county surveyor. The delegate elections will be held on Saturday afternoon. The following is a list of the election officers and the polling places in this vicinity, the first named being the judge and the others the inspectors. POSTER TOWNSHIP. Died on Sunday Morning.

Early Sunday morning Justus Troell, cabinet maker and undertaker, died at his residence on Front Street, aged 45 years, 4 months and 13 days. Mr. Troell came to this country from Germany more than thirty years ago, and settled in Freeland. From there he removed to South Heberton and afterwards to Freeland. He had not been in good health for some time, yet his illness occasioned no alarm until a few days before his death. He leaves a wife and nine children. From the time of his death he was in the hands of the undertaker, and was attended by a number of friends and sympathizers, also Mt. Horeb Lodge No. 257, I. O. O. F. The Freeland German corner band, of which he was a member, preceded the hearse and discourse, and solemn music. The remains were taken to St. John's Reformed church on Washington Street, where services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. E. D. Miller. The reverend gentleman delivered an impressive sermon on the text, "The blood of the covenant, which he had just signed, was shed for us, that he might purify to himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works." The remains were taken to the Freeland cemetery and laid in their last resting place.

Fatal Termination of an Accident.

While Roger Burns, step-father of the late Peter McPharlin, was standing at the head of the stairs in his residence Saturday evening he attempted to throw some articles down to the bottom. This action overbalanced him, as he was a very feeble old man, and he fell headlong down the steps, cutting a large gash in his forehead and sustaining a severe shock to his system. Dr. E. W. Rutter was immediately called and the flow of blood from the wound stopped, but he continued to sink rapidly and died at his residence at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Burns was aged 83 years and was of a very quiet and retiring disposition. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Interment will be made at St. Ann's cemetery.

He Saved Hotel Bills.

A Hungarian who came to this country three years ago and who recently returned to his native land for a maiden there, who had been waiting to become his wife, occupied the bridal chamber at the police station on Sunday night. He and his newly-made bride, who had just landed, and who were on their way from New York to Drifton, Pa., where he was formerly employed, applied for lodging at the lock-up, their stock of finances having become exhausted. They are taking an overland wedding tour, as it were.—Easton Free Press.

Don't Expect Something for Nothing.

Some people imagine that newspapers are run simply for the honor and not for money, judging from the way they have of asking to insert certain business locals. It cost considerable cash and hard work to equip and run this establishment, and business locals are inserted at the rate of five cents per line. We are not the least bit anxious to give our space to the public gratis, except as far as news is concerned. This is said kindly and we wish the few who thought otherwise to understand it distinctly. Business locals are five cents per line.

Lackawanna is the Winner.

The game of alley ball between the champions of Lackawanna County—John Rickerby and Hugh Kelly of Old Forge—and the champions of Luzerne County—Thomas Dillard of Wilkes-Barre and Frank Laughran of Plains—came off at Mountain Park Monday afternoon. The game had excited a great deal of interest throughout the valley and it is estimated that fully twenty-five hundred persons were on the ground. There was considerable betting on the result, nearly $5000 changing hands outside of the stake money, which was $1000. The game was for 41 acs straight and when one side made 21 acs the ball was to be changed. Lackawanna won the toss for inning and took the ball. The first half was splendidly contested. The Lackawanna men played almost a perfect game, and the Luzerne boys in the start at least showed almost if not quite as good science. But they had rather poor luck and had only made 16 acs when Lackawanna had 21. Still the Lackawanna boys had been playing with their own ball and when the change was made it was considered almost an even game. It was expected that the Luzerne boys would do better with their own ball, but instead they did worse, and the second half of the game was all in favor of the Lackawanna men, who played the same steady fine game throughout. The score at the conclusion stood 41 to 26 in favor of Lackawanna, a fair, square beat for the Luzerne players.

NOTES FROM OTHER TOWNS.

B. F. Laycock has been appointed postmaster at Wyoming, this county. Luzerne has seven persons in the county jail awaiting trial for murder. A new Welsh Congregational church was dedicated at Edwardsville on Sunday. A state convention of county commissioners will be held at Allentown on September 23. Lorenzo D. Kaas has been appointed an internal revenue storekeeper and gauger in this district. Typhoid fever is still prevalent at Wilkes-Barre. An average of one death per day occurs from the disease. The Jersey Central has decided to rebuild the car shops at Ashley, which were destroyed by fire some time ago. Timothy Harkins of Coalport fell from one of the Glen Onoko swings Monday afternoon and was fatally hurt. The Democratic state convention will be held at Harrisburg on Wednesday next. A candidate for treasurer is the only nomination to be made. Owing to the excessive amount of work three of the recently appointed mail clerks on the Lehigh Valley between Hazleton and Easton have sent in their resignations. Eddie McTague, a ten-year-old boy living at the Tannery, was struck by a passenger train on the Central road Friday morning and sustained injuries that may prove fatal. A boiler in the nail factory of Godcharles & Co. at Towanda exploded Tuesday afternoon, killing five men and injuring six others. Two of the injured will probably die. Mrs. John Aston of Taylorville, Lackawanna County, and her baby died on Monday from injuries received by an explosion of kerosene, with which her husband was trying to light the fire. The prohibition county convention will meet at Wilkes-Barre on Monday, September 9, when a full ticket will be nominated. Geo. S. Rippard is the county chairman and S. M. Bard secretary. An esteddfod will be held at Shamokin on Monday, the program includes prize singing, recitations, poetry, prose and other literary exercises. There is also a band competition for a prize of $50. The Heine-Bund Singing Society of New York visited the Hazleton Menorah this week. Over one hundred members participated in the trip and they were pleasantly entertained by the Hazleton brethren. Prof. Wm. B. Powell of Edwardsville died of consumption last Thursday night, aged 25 years. He was professor of elocution at Wyoming Seminary and coal inspector for Conyngham, Stickney & Co. His illness was of short duration.

The Pittston correspondent of the Wilkes-Barre Newlander says that $3,000 per month is paid into the Louisiana lottery by Pittstonians, and adds, "No wonder we have no improvements in the town. All the surplus money goes South."

Wm. S. McLean, who has been mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination of judge, is not a candidate and would not accept of the nomination under any circumstances. His claim is that he cannot afford to sacrifice his practice for a judicial position.

The Acme hosiery factory at Schuylkill Haven will remove to Minersville, owing to a scarcity of girls at the former place. It was intended to remove to Hazleton, but the offer of better inducements caused the proprietors to make the change. Seventy girls are employed.

Simpson & Watkins, coal operators near Carbonade, have filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission a complaint against the New York, Lake Erie and Western Railroad Company, charging unjust discrimination against the complainants in freight rates and shipping facilities.

The Polish priest of Plymouth, Rev. Father Wagaris, has been removed from his church and stands suspended by Bishop O'Hara. The priest was removed owing to a debt on the church, which he refused to pay. The church is under charge of Rev. Father Donohue of St. Vincent's, who will have charge until a pastor is appointed.

The dwelling of Samuel Tregar at Gilberton was entered by a burglar Thursday night. Tregar was awakened by the man's movements, and, seizing a gun, followed him. The burglar turned and fired four shots, without effect, when Tregar fired, lodging a load of shot in the burglar's body. He was captured and taken to the Pottsville jail.

A singular accident happened to a little fellow named Foote in Wilkes-Barre on Monday. While playing he filled the pockets of his trousers with several pieces of lime. One of his companions afterwards turned a garden hose upon him, causing the lime to slake in his pockets. Before he could realize what the trouble was the lime had severely burned the upper part of his legs.

Buck Mountain seems to have special attractions for several of our nice young men.

Thos. Slattery and lady of Freeland passed through town Sunday afternoon, en route for Laurytown.

Misses Mary and Bridget O'Donnell spent a day at Buck Mountain last week, with their friend Miss Rose Gallagher.

Peter, the chubby little first baseman of the Flushers, is a good one. His fellow players regard him as a second Anson.

Misses Francis Hartman, Lizzie Wagner, Tillie Higgins and Mrs. A. Rickerby attended the excursion to Glen Onoko last week.

The young men who make a practice of mashing on the streets should stop it, for it is neither becoming or manly. F. McG. and A. O'D., be careful, for the eye of the reporter is on you.

The game that was to be played on Sunday between the Flushers and Terrors did not take place. The Terrors were chucked out of town on Saturday night, and so they went to Silver Brook, where they won a much easier victory. P. P.

The Republican County Ticket.

Luzerne County Republicans met in convention at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday and placed their ticket in the field for the November election. The nominations were made in accord with the wishes of the Wilkes-Barre leaders, and very little enthusiasm was manifested, the slate going through in perfect order. For president judge the present incumbent, Charles E. Rice, was placed in nomination without opposition. R. P. Robinson of Fairmount township received the nomination of sheriff by acclamation. Philip Boyle of Hazleton was unanimously tendered the nomination of recorder of deeds. For coroner there were three candidates, Dr. B. J. Cobleigh of Parson, Dr. Evans of Nanticoke and Dr. Cole of Hazleton. Dr. Evans was nominated on the first ballot. Ambrose Reese of Parson was nominated for surveyor. The convention then adopted resolutions reaffirming their adherence to the party and its platform, approved the course pursued by Congressmen Dehorner and Rice, expressed satisfaction with the judicial career of Judge Rice. The resolutions did not endorse or condemn the state or national administrations. THE NOMINEES AND THEIR CHANCES. The ticket nominated is regarded by Democrats as rather weak, though it may contain some of the materials of success. On account of the "boss" system which prevails in the Republican party there was no strife to secure places. Judge Rice merits the re-nomination accorded him by his party, and he will prove a strong candidate, particularly because of the apathy shown by many Democrats in his facing any opposition before him. However, should some prominent lawyer be named, he will receive the unanimous support of the party, and that will insure a hard struggle. The well known and considerable fortune of P. R. Robinson for sheriff will prove an unsuccessful battle against fate, for a Republican sheriff is unknown in the annals of Luzerne County. Mr. Robinson is an American and an ex-county auditor, who has held considerable notoriety some years ago by being appointed clerk to a Democratic board of commissioners. The selection of Philip Boyle for recorder was undoubtedly done more on the principle of necessity than choice. Boyle is a well known and capable man, who would bring to the ticket, and it is through the old-fashioned bartering process that the rest of the ticket can only be elected. Mr. Boyle is one of Hazleton's most estimable citizens, but his antagonism will also be a detriment to the ticket, and the same nationality, he may find it a very hard road to the recordership. The nominations of Dr. Evans for coroner and Ambrose Reese for surveyor were made with a view of handicapping the Democrats, and the latter were pleased to accept of the nomination within the lines. Owing to the supply of offices becoming exhausted the German and English elements were unable to secure any representation.

Pennsylvania Day at Gettysburg.

Wednesday and Thursday, September 11 and 12, will be great days at Gettysburg. Most of the survivors of the battle residing in Pennsylvania and many now living outside the state will have a reunion on the famous field at that time, and scores of comrades will meet face to face who have not seen each other since Lee's retreat. Under the provisions of the act of May 8, 1889, the Adjutant General is authorized to furnish transportation for the members of certain soldiers upon the occasion of the dedication of the monument of the Pennsylvania organizations who participated in the battle, and the work of arranging for the transportation is just now making General Hastings and those assisting him exceedingly busy. His chief assistant is Colonel D. S. Keller, of Bellefonte, who was Assistant Adjutant General on General Beaver's staff from 1873 to 1880. Up to this time Colonel Keller has had no clerks to help him in the work, but an additional force of several extra clerks will be engaged in order to dispose of the hundreds of applications that come in by every mail for transportation. Up to yesterday about 600 applications had been received. Colonel Keller believes 10,000 is a conservative estimate of the number of applications that will have been received before Pennsylvania day. Arrangements have been made with all the leading railroads in the state, and these have arranged with connecting lines for the transportation of veterans. Each ticket furnished by the railroad company upon the order of the Adjutant General will have to be signed by the person receiving it, and it will not be good for return passage unless the holder identifies himself as the original holder to the satisfaction of Adjutant General Hastings or his authorized agent at Gettysburg, where the holder will again sign the ticket. This arrangement is for the purpose of preventing fraud, and the use of the ticket by those not entitled to transportation.

Weekly Coal Report.

The situation of the anthracite coal trade has not changed materially since our last report, though the coal and coal markets is reported in several quarters to be exhibiting an improving tendency. There is a little more inquiry for coal for September and October delivery, but few new orders of importance are being booked, and the scarcity of desirable sizes of anthracite at Port Richmond has caused a slight softening in vessel freights at that shipping point, vessels with orders for coal being more plentiful there now than for several weeks past. The coal trade is reported on account of increased all-rail shipments on the line trade both in this and the adjacent states. There is, however, no scarcity of the small steam sizes, which are in plentiful supply, and the prices for these are weak in consequence. Several coal operators who sell their production to the local line trade report that their output for this month is "fully sold up" to September 1, and that they could now book orders for the coal they can mine until the middle of September, if they would accept the ruling market prices for the same." There will be no advance in tolls. The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending August 17, as reported by the Luzerne carrying companies, was 811,133 tons, compared with 937,019 tons in the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 125,906 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1889 was 29,945,647 tons, compared with 21,993,463 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 1,047,816 tons.—Leader.

BASE BALL.

The Flushers and Terrors play at Eckley Sunday afternoon. Two whole weeks without a game! Base ball is not dead yet, is it? White Eyes, Hazleton's Indian pitcher, has been dropped for poor playing. The Eckley Terrors were defeated by Silver Brook on Sunday. The score was 30 to 11.—Standard. Sandy Run went to Jeaneville on Friday and were defeated by the club of that place. Score, 11-6. The Coal Dale-Tiger game, which was to be played at Coal Dale last Saturday, was indefinitely postponed. The Catsaqua-Slatington game for $500 is off. It was a bluff on the part of Catsaqua's manager and showed that he is not a man of his word. The Flushers of Eckley are open to receive challenges from any amateur club in the region. John Murphy, captain; Wm. Hayes, manager. The new grounds of the Drifton club were opened on Saturday afternoon with a game between Drifton and Jeddo. The home club won by a score of 10-9. The base ball editor of the Record is badly rattled when he states that "Freeland had a taste of what Lansford could do on the 10th of last October." Guess again. Arrangements had been made for Freeland and Sugar Notch to play last Saturday evening, starting Sugar Notch could not come. Many of the fifth-rate clubs of the region would like to play Freeland, in order to make a little money. We hope it won't work, and that Leviston was the last of such clubs. Lansford, in his desire to get a game with Freeland, is pursuing the tactics of the Leviston club. Should a game be arranged it is more than likely that the result would be much the same also. We would advise Lansford not to take pattern after Leviston in sending challenges. The score was 13-4. Beware! GIMLERS-TIGERS. The Tigers went to Highland Sunday afternoon and met the Gimplers upon their own grounds. The Gimplers were anxious to redeem the two defeats given them by the Tigers, and they placed the strongest club against them that they could procure, even taking players from the Freeland club and Hazleton. The Tigers refused to strengthen themselves by taking outside help and, although handicapped by the disability of their catcher, they faced their opponents with their usual courage. The batteries were McGeeley and McGill for the Gimplers and Brislin and Welsh for the Tigers. The battling of both clubs was about equal, but the Gimplers bunched their hits while the others scattered them through several innings. This alone would have won the game for the Gimplers, but in order to prevent against any possibility of a defeat the umpire gave it to the visitors "in the neck" at every opportunity. The Tigers made frequent requests for a change, and finding it useless, settled down to accept their defeat. In the seventh the umpire declared a Tiger out for being struck by a foul ball, and Manager Terry then placed the club on the field, the score standing 17 to 6 in favor of the Gimplers. Although defeated, they were not disgraced, and still remain the possessors of the title "junior champions of the anthracite coal fields." Their organization has been in place for several years, and they have never been defeated by any club whose players were under 21 years of age. BOSTON WILL WIN THE PENNANT. It is now almost a certain fact that Boston will be the pennant winner of the National League. Rumors are floating around, however, that are not very creditable to the management of the club, should they gain much circulation, it would result in giving base ball a black eye for some time. There has always been considerable rivalry between Boston and Philadelphia clubs and when they meet they generally play ball. They have been "on the outs" for several years, and as both clubs were probable pennant winners from the start this season, the rivalry is more intense than ever. Boston has shown in several ways that they will stop at nothing to have the Phillies defeated, either by themselves or some other club. In this they could have no better assistants than the umpires and the latter are doing the work to perfection. Fessenden, who umpired the first series, permitted Boston with two stolen games, and was promptly discharged by President Nink for doing so. Phil Powers umpired the next series and two more games were lost to the Phillies through his decisions. For this Powers has been debarred from umpiring any more Philadelphia-Boston games this season. It then began to look suspicious and Boston changed their plan for a while. Curry was used as the next tool and, under instructions from Boston no doubt, took a game from the Phillies at Cleveland recently. McDonald did the same at New York on Saturday, and, assisted by Curry, followed it with another Monday afternoon at Philadelphia. The game on Monday ended as follows: In the twelfth inning, after the Phillies had been blanked and Boston went to bat, the score was 4-4. With Kelly on second and Brothers on first Johnston hit to centre field, which sent the king of the beanbeaters across the plate. As soon as the hit was made both umpires left the field, without waiting to see how Kelly would get home. McDonald shortened the distance by cutting third nine feet, while Johnston, who was watching Kelly, stopped running when the latter crossed the plate. There were two men out when Johnston hit the ball. The umpires say that no run can be scored while the third hand is being put out before he reaches first base, and they also say that if the runner to first runs out of the three-foot line he shall be declared out. Johnston was ten yards from first when Kelly got home, and by going back to the bench to receive the congratulations of Manager Hart for bringing in the winning run, he should be put out. The ball was thrown in from centre field to Johnston and was caught by Kelly, who touched first with it and put out Johnston, thus giving them a chance to protest the game. Mike refused to give it up and the 6000 spectators, finding they were to be chucked out of the seventh game this season, rose up and gave vent to a mighty Quaker yell that split the asphalt pavement of Broad Street. The infuriated mob swarmed around the $10,000 beauty, who dropped the stolen ball and took refuge under the grand stand, from whence he tremblingly emerged half an hour later, under the protection of Manager Harry Wright and five of Philadelphia's "finest." The umpires are paid something like $2000 a year by the League, but it is not known how much they receive of Boston for each game stolen from the Phillies. Boston will win the pennant, but it will be at the cost of the national game's reputation.
