

BRIDGEMAN BRUYE.

VOL. II. No. 12.

FREELAND, PA., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1889.

$1.00 PER YEAR.

BRIEF ITEMS.

—Squirrel hunting is now lawful.

—Overcoats were quite numerous yesterday.

—Pay your taxes before Saturday and save five per cent.

—The cold wave season arrived sooner than it was expected.

—Eckley correspondence was received too late for publication.

—Hunters anticipate an unusual fine season for rabbits. The woods are full of them.

—Remember the first annual fall of D. A. 87 at the opera house next Thursday evening.

—No. 2 Highland was idle Monday and Tuesday, on account of a column pipe breaking.

—Fisher Bros., liverymen, have leased Zeman's stable on Washington Street, and will occupy it shortly.

—The Sunday school connected with St. James P. E. chapel will picnic at the Grand Army park on Saturday.

—A marriage license has been issued to Milton R. Rinker of Freeland and Miss Mary Knerim of Upper Lehigh.

—Evan Woodring has taken a position with Yannes' bottling establishment, vice Hon. James Collins, resigned.

—John M. Cummins has taken the contract to build a dwelling house for Mrs. Andrew McDevitt at Alvinton.

—Councilman John Haggerty and wife removed on Tuesday to Bethlehem, where they will reside for the future.

—Counterfeit $10 bills are about. We haven't seen any—counterfeit or genuine—in a long time, but "a rich man told us so."

—Parties desiring to invest in real estate may find something to suit them by consulting the sixth column of this page.

—The celebrated Scanton cream ale and porter can be had at the restaurant of Wm. Gallagher, corner of Ridge and South Streets.

—Freight engine No. 103 ran into a gravel train near the Jeddo tunnel on Friday, wrecking three cars and slightly damaging the freight engine.

—The man who carefully closed the door after him all summer is about shedding his shell, and will henceforth systematically leave the door wide open.

—The P. O. S. of A. band will run a moonlight excursion to Glen Onoko on Wednesday evening. The train leaves Freeland at 7 p. m., and returns at 3 a. m.

—The machinery is being put in position in the new iron breaker at Drifton. Work is progressing rapidly and it is expected to be in operation by January 1, 1890.

—Patrick O'Donnell of Drifton and Miss Annie Ward of Eckley were married at the Church of the Immaculate Conception by Rev. Father Brehoney this morning.

—A double team standing in the park became frightened Sunday afternoon and started off. They made a circuit of the grounds before being captured and several persons narrowly escaped getting trampled.

—Tax collector McLaughlin will be at his residence on Ridge Street, between the hours of 2 p. m. and 6 p. m., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to receive the payments of taxes. A five per cent. reduction will be made upon all taxes paid up to that time.

—A meeting of the K. of L. Co-operative Board will be held at the usual place on the afternoon of the 15th inst. The representatives of the different locals are requested to attend to consider the advisability of building the proposed hall on the K. of L. ground at Centre and Walnut Streets.

—Coxe Bros. & Co. are constructing a large dam on the western side of the Lehigh Valley tracks between here and Drifton. A trench has been dug from the dam to one of the manways of the Woodside slope, through which the water of the latter will run to the dam. From there it will be conveyed in pipes to No. 2 breaker and used in washing the coal.

—A poor widow residing near Freeland lost a small, black pocket-book on Burton's Hill between six and seven o'clock Monday evening, September 2. The pocket-book contained a sum of money which had been sent to her two days previous by her daughter, and included all the lady owned. The finder can receive a reward by returning the same to this office.

Council Meeting.

Council met in adjourned session Monday evening, Messrs. Johnson, Bachman, Goepfert and Donop being present. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The following bills were read and ordered paid:

Schoener & Birkbeck.....$ 5 50
B. F. Davis, locks.....1 00
Wm. Witherspoon, nails.....1 98
Mrs. Brennan, cleaning cells.....4 00
Penna's Globe Gaslight Co.....31 50
Police service, July 4.....12 00

The Burgess' report was presented, showing receipts from fines and fees the sum of $11.50; commission, $11.00; balance due borough, 30 cents, which was turned over to the treasurer.

The street commissioner's report was presented, showing an expenditure of $36.50 and was ordered paid.

Under the head of reports of committees the committee appointed at the last meeting to see Mr. Powell and procure permission from him for an entrance into the pound at the rear of the horse house reported that they had made arrangements by which the ground is given for one dollar per year, that the opening had been made and that every thing was now ready to have the high constable rid the streets of all cattle and hogs. The report was accepted.

It was decided to put down a crossing at the south side of Main street, at the intersection of Centre, and the street commissioner was instructed to attend to it as soon as convenient.

The council went into committee of the whole and took up for consideration the question of employing a janitor for to look after the fire company's room, the council room, lockup and horse house. The result of their deliberations being that they instructed the secretary to receive proposals from persons desiring to act in such a capacity. All applications to be sent to the secretary not later than October 7, stating salary required.

The high constable was instructed to see that cattle and hogs are kept off the streets. There being no further business council adjourned to meet on October 7.

Too Sharp for the Board.

As the miners' examining board were taking the names of applicants for certificates at a colliery in the northern end of this district last week, they were somewhat puzzled as to how the name of a certain Hungarian was spelled. The owner of this seven-syllabled appellation can scarcely speak more than half a dozen words of English, and it was useless to ask him for any assistance. One of the members of the board hit upon the idea of having the applicant bring to them one of his pay envelopes, from which they could copy the name. After some difficulty he was made understand what was wanted and returned to his boarding-house for the pay envelope. Upon looking at the envelope he remembered that the word "laborer" appeared after his name. He thought this would probably debar him from obtaining the certificate, so he quickly replaced it and brought forth last year's tax receipt. With this he returned, where the board was in session, and the name was copied from the tax receipt and the clever ignoramus received the much-coveted paper, which certifies that he is a competent miner, etc., etc. The board had better have their tactics of the wily Huns will outdo them.

Findings of the Grand Jury.

The grand jury of this county made their return on Saturday of the cases given to them for the purpose of organizing a rifle team. Nearly one-half of which were ignored and the prosecutors compelled to pay the costs. True bills were found against Nicholas Cabbage and Frank Davis on the charge of felonious wounding and assault and battery, and another against Cabbage on the charge of mayhem. True bills were also found against the following persons, charged with murder: David W. Thomas, Wm. Solgofsky, Annie Solgofsky, John T. King, Luke McGovern, Edward Glynn, Mary Glynn.

Organizing Rifle Teams.

A gentleman named Riederer of New York has for the past few days been in this vicinity for the purpose of organizing a rifle team. His object is to organize a team at Freeland also, and thus create a rivalry and competition for prizes. If the scheme is successful a rifle range and park will be built somewhere on this mountain. Riederer is a member of the club of New York City, the members of which will take their annual outing on October 19. Mr. Riederer makes the trip in advance to arrange for the comforts of the members.—Standard.

Long Distance Telephones.

The American Bell Telephone Company, which will soon have its long distance system in operation in Wilkes-Barre, is also extending it to Allentown and Hazleton. Communication may be had over the line to New York, Philadelphia and other distant places. It is claimed that conversation between places several hundred miles apart can be heard as distinctly as if they were only several hundred feet apart. No doubt when the extension is completed Freeland will also be included in this circuit.

Thought It Was an Earthquake.

At 8.15 o'clock Tuesday evening a large cave-in occurred at No. 5 colliery of the Delaware and Hudson Company near Plymouth. The portion affected lies between Poke Hollow and Plymouth Junction, and includes an area of nearly thirty acres, which was situated on one track, sinking from ten to fifteen feet. No buildings were situated upon the disturbed land, and no damage to property has been reported. When the ground sank it caused the earth to tremble for several miles around and the people of Wilkes-Barre, Kingston, Ashley and other towns in the neighborhood concluded that it was caused by an earthquake. It is expected that a further settlement of the workings will be heard as distinctly as if they were only several days to repair the damage. Nearly 1500 men are out of employment. The house occupied by Michael Fanning is toppled over several feet and is in danger of falling.

NOTES FROM OTHER TOWNS.

—The Lackawanna County fair is being held this week.

—L. A. 4971 held a picnic at Jeansville on Saturday afternoon.

—The epidemic of typhoid fever at Wilkes-Barre is abating.

—Michael Walsh, a miner near Scranton, was killed yesterday by falling roof.

—The corner-stone of St. John's Catholic church at Pitston will be laid on Sunday.

—Jas. F. Sweeney of Andenried has gone to Ada, Ohio, to attend the State Normal School.

—Owing to the small attendance at the Berwick fair last week the races proved a complete failure.

—The Baldwin Locomotive Works are constructing fourteen new locomotives for the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

—The Lehigh Valley Company are about to begin the erection of a handsome passenger station at Allentown.

—The Lehigh Valley Railroad announces a quarterly dividend of one and one-quarter per cent., payable on October 16.

—Electric Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., will be instituted at East March Chunk to-night. It has forty-two charter members.

—A fire at Nanticoke early Friday morning destroyed two large buildings and damaged another, causing a loss of $8000.

—The thirty-eighth annual fair of the Lehigh Agricultural Society will be held at Allentown on September 23, 24, 25, 26 and 27.

—The trial of Edward and Mary McGlynn, for the murder of the latter's mother at Pitston, is set down for Monday next.

—A fire at Hazleton Tuesday night destroyed a barn on Mine Street and the ice-house of the Hazleton Mercantile Company.

—The conductors and drivers of the Wilkes-Barre-Ashley street cars, get thirty dollars per month for working sixteen hours a day.

—The New Jersey Central will hereafter uniform all its passenger, freight and baggage agents. A circular to the effect has been issued.

—Michael Barret, in charge of the Western Union office at Hazleton, has disappeared. His accounts are all right and the cause of his departure is unknown.

—John J. Boyle, who was seriously injured by a boiler explosion at the Wilkes-Barre Asphalt Works last July, has brought suit against the company for $25,000 damages.

—Andrew Carlen of Sugar Notch, a miner employed at Wilkes-Barre, was killed by a fall of top rock on Monday. He was aged 48 years and leaves a wife and several children.

—A tramp of Lehigh County, John J. Gohr, recently received a pension of $2.00. He is putting the money into circulation and expects to be tramping again in a short time.

—The Thompson knitting mill is being removed from Schuylkill Haven to Hazleton, and operations will be commenced at an early date. Two hundred girls will be employed.

—Michael Maloney, a retired merchant of Pittston, attempted to board a freight train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad last evening, when he was thrown under the cars and killed.

—The Democratic convention at Mauch Chunk yesterday nominated Samuel B. Price for associate judge, Joseph S. Fisher for district attorney, and John Hines for auditor.

—From the number of applications for divorce before the Luzerne courts it appears that marriage is a failure in this county. The lower end, however, furnishes very few of the number.

—Four hundred miners employed at Morris Ridge Colliery, Mount Carmel, struck yesterday to compel the operators to observe the semi-monthly pay law and reduce the price of powder.

—A game of alley ball between John Welsh and James Broderick of Hazleton and Thomas Levison and Frank Moran of Wilkes-Barre was won at Hazleton on Saturday by the Wilkes-Barreans.

—Henry P. Doud, a real estate dealer of Scranton, fell from the balcony of a hotel at Asbury Park, N. J., on Sunday. The fall produced a concussion of the brain, from which he died within an hour.

—Schuylkill Democrats on Monday made the following nominations: District attorney, George W. Ryan, Pottsville; coroner, Dr. B. C. Guldin, Minersville; poor director, Thos. Tracy, Shenandoah.

—The Wilkes-Barre News-Leader leads the way in journalistic fall styles, having recently donned a new dress of type and a more becoming headgear. The change displays good taste on the part of the proprietors.

—A Lehigh Valley brakeman named Daniel Burkhardt fell from his train at Coxton, this county, Saturday night, and was instantly killed. He lived at Newport, Lehigh County, where he left a wife and four small children. His body was terribly mangled.

—The Supreme Grand Commandery of America of the Ancient and Illustrious Order of Knights of Malta will convene in semi-annual convocation at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday, October 15, and remain in session several days. The College of the Ancients will assemble the preceding evening at midnight.

—Mary Ann Bell, aged 18 years, of Avoca, committed suicide on Sunday by drowning herself in a reservoir near her home. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict stating that through the abusive language of her step-father, Patrick Farrell, her mind became temporarily deranged and while in that condition she took her life.

—Farmer Keller of Larksville was gunning for fruit thieves in his orchard a few days ago. He discovered a big Hun climbing a tree, and afterwards filled his pockets with fruit. The farmer then proceeded to fill the Hun with lead, and his trusty rifle sent a bullet in the thief's leg. The injured man was subsequently removed by his friends, and the ball extracted.

Legislative Committee Report.

The K. of L. Legislative Committee has at last issued a report of its work at the recent session of the legislature. The committee, which was appointed by a convention of Knights held at Harrisburg in January, was composed of Wm. H. Lewis of Harrisburg, N. T. A. 217; Chas. J. Andrews of Tintinville, D. A. 169; and Hugh McGarvey of Beaver Meadow, D. A. 87. The report states that the committee decided to carry on its work by appealing to the member through petitions, circulars, etc., rather than resort to the button-hokey and other methods peculiar to lobbyists. It further says:

Separate petitions were gotten up for each bill and forwarded to the local assemblies for signature. As these petitions were returned to the committee, signed by hundreds of thousands of petitioners praying for the passage of this, that or the other bill, the passage of which would relieve them of the wrong and injustice to which they were subjected under the existing laws, they were handed personally or sent by mail by the committee to the member or senator of the district from which the petition came. It is but fair to say of the members of the organization in Pennsylvania, and our supporters outside, that if there was any virtue in petitions not a single bill asked for by the K. of L. committee should have been defeated.

The final passage of the following bills is also given:

An amendment to the act providing for the semi-monthly payment of wage workers, approved May 23, 1887, and providing a penalty of fine and imprisonment for its violation, which was reported negatively by the general committee of the senate after passing the house.

An act prohibiting mining and manufacturing corporations from engaging in the business of carrying on stores, known as company stores, and from compelling their employees to trade at any particular store or stores, which was lost in the same manner as the bill just mentioned.

An act (known as the factory inspection bill) to regulate the employment of women and children in mercantile industries, manufacturing establishments, etc., and to provide for the appointment of inspectors to enforce the same, which became a law.

An act to regulate the dockage of coal in the anthracite coal fields, which was defeated.

An act to amend the act relating to miners and mine laborers in the anthracite region of this commonwealth, and to prevent the employment of incompetent persons as miners and laborers in the anthracite coal mines, which became a law.

An act known as the employers' liability bill, which was lost in a reconsideration in the house, the vote being yeas, 22; nays, 32; absent and not voting, 100; less than a constitutional majority voting for the bill. The report says: "The committee feel the loss of this bill very much, as it is a correct vote, so that the constituents may draw their own conclusions of their members' conduct. This bill, more than any other of the bills entrusted to the committee, presented an opportunity to those members who so often declared their allegiance and friendship for the working classes of this state to place themselves on record as such by supporting and voting for the measure, inasmuch as the bill was more general and far-reaching in its provisions than any other. There was not a shadow of class or special legislation in its provisions, but it was intended to benefit the working classes of the state, no matter where or how employed. The call for the yeas and nays for the question for final passage was the signal for a general stampede of the members to the water-closets, ante-rooms, corridors and lobbies, and a glance at the record of the vote will show the result of the vote as many would not vote as there were yeas and nays together. Necessity, no doubt, caused many to be absent on this as on other occasions, but when 100 gentlemen out of 304 simultaneously remember that they have forgotten something in the ante-room, or they want to see the lobby, it savors of there being something rotten in Denmark." Much more manly and appreciative would have been the members' conduct had they kept their seats and voted against the bill, and when called upon by their constituents to explain their vote, to do so like men, and not shrink the issue as they did in this case.

Freeland, 16; Ironsides, 9.

The audience that were at the park Sunday afternoon to see the Freeland and Ironsides of Allentown play were treated to a dull and lifeless game, which was won by the former by the score of 16 to 9. The game was umpired by Hugh Shovlin of Highland and Wm. Devinney, ex-manager of Hazleton's International League team, at present manager of the Ironsides. Devinney gave poor satisfaction and his decisions on balls and strikes had a very disheartening effect upon the home players. A double play by each side and Bray's one-handed catch in the eighth were the only features that were seen during the two hours and forty minutes of play. Welsh led the visitors down to four scattered hits, two being of the scratch order, and struck out seven men. Although rather dull he did not deserve the "roasting" he received of Devinney, who called but two strikes during the game and gave him the credit of sending nine men to first on called balls. Simmons gave him excellent support. For the Ironsides Medeknock was not near as effective, Freeland batting him for nine singles and a triple. He was also very unsteady and besides several wild pitches gave ten bases on balls. Nine strike outs are credited to him. Freeland opened the batting in the first with the singles and two bases on balls, giving them three runs. They maintained the lead until the fifth, when the Ironsides passed them and the score remained 7-6 until the opening of the seventh. This inning was come to be regarded as Freeland's "Jonah" and unless the lead is retained in this inning the game is always lost. The home club was equal to the emergency and scored two runs before the side was retired. The Ironsides, however, added another in their half of the inning, tying the score. Freeland came in on their eighth inning with the score 8-8 and dropped out Medeknock's delivery in great style, knocking him out the box. Four bases on balls, four singles and J. Carr's triple netted eight runs, which exactly doubled their opponents. The base running of the home club was quite a contrast to that of the visitors, who stole but one base on Simmons. The score by innings was:

Freeland.....3 2 1 0 0 2 8 0—16
Ironsides.....2 0 2 1 2 0 1 0—9

BASE BALL.

—Freeland's record is 13 won and 6 lost.

—Boston is 12 points ahead of New York and Brooklyn is 32 ahead of St. Louis.

—At Jeddo on Sunday the Athletics of Hazleton were defeated by the Kickers. Score, 25-4.

—The Tigers defeated the Soapies at the park Sunday morning in a six-inning game. Score, 10-4.

—Silver Brook defeated the Terrors at Eckley on Sunday. Score, 19-16. Honey Brook plays there on the 15th.

—Boston and Chicago played at Boston on Monday, the game being called on account of darkness at the end of the seventh inning. Neither side had scored, and both had but 3 hits and 1 error each.

—Umpire Devinney of Allentown should thank his lucky stars that it was a Freeland audience he had to deal with on Sunday. He would certainly be mobbed in nine out of every ten towns in the state.

—A very exciting game was played on the Drifton ground Sunday morning. The contestants were the married men of No. 1 against the married men of No. 2. No. 1 came out slightly ahead by the score of 32-18.

—The double umpire system will prove a failure every time with such men as Devinney. He turned his head away from the ball when Welsh pitched and called but two strikes on the Ironsides during the game.

—Lansford recently shut out Lehighville by 5-0, and on Labor Day was defeated by Shenandoah. The score was 11-2. Keenan, whom Freeland has twice knocked out the box this year, threw for Shenandoah.

—In a thirteen-inning game with Louisville at Gloucester on Sunday, Parkin, first baseman of the Athletics, accepted 25 chances without an error, beating all previous records. Bierbauer of the same club accepted 12 without an error.

—Stephens of Burlington, N. J.; McGill of Evansville, Ind.; Knell of St. Joseph, Mo.; Kilroy of Baltimore, and Cushman of Toledo are the only pitchers who have this year accepted 25 chances without a hit in a full game.

—A game of ball to be played on Thursday of fair week between Lehighville and a club to be chosen gives the winner a prize of $30 from the society.—Lehighville Advocate.

The club to be chosen will not be named. Freeland, Lansford or Catawqua. It would be a walk-over for any of these three.

—The Philadelphia clubs will not win the national pennants of the organizations to which they belong, but they will probably contain the champion home run getters at the close of the season. Stovey of the Athletics leads the Association with 20 to his credit, and Thompson of the Phillies is at the top of the League with 25.

—Tamaqua has won sixteen games this season, most of them, however, being played with scrub nines from mining patches in the vicinity of Hazleton. They have not defeated the clubs of the present work of its players is looked into. The majority of them are doing good work in the International League, Pitcher Fitzgerald especially, who is playing with Rochester. J. Irwin, short stop, and Beecher, right fielder, are holding their own in Washington. First baseman Flanagan is doing terrific hitting for Louisville. Wilkes-Barre did not know when they had a good thing.

—The Shenandoah club defeated Lansford and now pose as club region champions. It may be necessary to get the old Reliance in trim and trounce these presuming youngsters before the season closes.—Mt. Carmel News.

—Shenandoah is doing terrific hitting for Louisville. Wilkes-Barre did not know when they had a good thing.

Prohibition County Ticket.

The Prohibitionists of this county were determined not to lag behind their political brethren this year and on Monday about 65 members of the party met at Wilkes-Barre to nominate a ticket for the coming election. The convention was opened with singing and prayer, after which the necessary committees were appointed. The committee on permanent organization reported the following officers: Chairman, E. D. Nichols; secretary, Geo. A. Edwards; treasurer, D. C. Jeremy. The members of the county committee from this vicinity are H. D. Miller, Drifton; Fred. Hiller, Hazleton; Edward Garis, Sandy Run; and Frank McLaughlin, Upper Lehigh. The appointments being satisfactory the convention proceeded to make nominations. For judge W. W. Lathrop of Scranton was tendered the candidacy unanimously. For sheriff F. B. Meyers of Edwardsville had no opposition and was nominated. For recorder of deeds John J. O'Hara of Parsons and W. L. Schlager were named, the ballot resulting in favor of O'Hara. B. M. Jacquish of Luzerne captured the nomination of surveyor.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade is still in a rather stagnant state, there being little new business doing. The Eastern trade has slackened and is very dull, and the Western dealers are said to be demoralized on account of the discrimination in freight tolls in favor of Chicago. Locally an improvement both in inquiry and actual demand for coal is noted, and the return of numerous housekeepers to the city has stimulated the demand somewhat. The iron furnaces are now using more coal than for a long while past, and several additional furnaces have gone into blast during the past week. The output of anthracite, however, continues large, though not up to the full capacity for production, and there is much coal being stored for fall and winter business.

The larger dealers cannot hold back their orders much longer if they expect to have the coal delivered to their satisfaction. The prices for anthracite are somewhat firmer than they have been, but there is still some shading in prices from the circular figures, though the larger mining and transporting companies claim to be now adhering closely to the full quotations. There is some talk heard of a proposed advance in prices to be made shortly, but that there will be an increase at an early date is doubted in other well-informed quarters, it being deemed best by many operators to bring the actual selling prices up to the full figures of the present circular before marking up the schedule prices again. Notwithstanding this diversity of opinion on the subject there is little doubt but that those who delay much longer in placing their orders will have to pay more for their coal than the ruling prices, and besides there will likely be a scramble to get the coal promptly when it will be needed. The output of coal was curtailed last week by the observance of Labor Day in parts of the anthracite fields. The Reading Company is reported to have been stocking chestnut and pea coal near Mahanoy.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending August 31, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 332,119 tons, compared with 334,967 tons in the corresponding week last year, a decrease of 2,848 tons.
