

BRIEF ITEMS.

—Grand ball at the opera house to-night.
—Owing to the Hazleton club failing to arrive there was no game of ball on Sunday.
—A marriage license has been granted to Robert Ray of Slatington and Elizabeth Prusso of Eckley.
—The order of the forty hours devotion will be held at St. Ann's Catholic Church on Sunday next.
—Street Commissioner Boyle began the laying of a crossing at Centre and Main Streets this morning.
—If you know an item of news send it to this office and see how it will look in print the following Thursday.
—One of the most substantial—the Girard Fire Insurance Co. Total assets over $1,500,000. W. A. Grimes, agent.
—Milton Rinker of Freeland and Miss Mary Knerim of Upper Lehigh were married on Sunday by Rev. L. F. Smith.
—The excursion of the P. O. S. of A. band to Glen Onoko last evening was postponed, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

—Two street fakers were running opposition on Centre Street Monday evening. They furnished free amusement to several hundred people.

—Rev. P. J. McManus of Green Ridge, president of the Scranton C. T. A. Union, will deliver a lecture at St. Ann's church on Sunday afternoon, September 29.

—John Schutter, a Hungarian laborer at No. 4 Upper Lehigh, was caught on Tuesday by a fall of rock, which broke his back. His condition is very serious.

—The board of examiners for this district have prepared an interesting statement in reference to the complaints mentioned last week. It is on the fourth page.

—The Drifton base ball association will hold a picnic at the park on Saturday. Quigley's orchestra and the St. Patrick's cornet band will furnish the music.

—Dr. L. Campbell of Slatington and Miss Ada L. Mission of Freeland were married by Rev. Schley of Slatington on the 11th inst. They will reside at Slatington.

—At Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday John Rassy, charged with selling liquor on Sunday, was acquitted, and the prosecutor, John Shelhamer, ordered to pay the costs.

—Joseph Smith, employed at No. 7 Upper Lehigh, had his foot seriously injured on Saturday by a large piece of coal falling upon it. He was removed to his home in Freeland.

—Freeland and Hazleton play at the park at 3 p. m. on Sunday. The battering will be Welsh and Simmons and Zeit and Fairhurst. The latter has just returned from the Pacific coast, where he played this season. Admission as usual.

—After a long illness John E. Evans died at the residence of Geo. Chestnut, Centre Street, on Sunday evening. He was a member of Feanville Lodge No. 750, I. O. O. F., and Division No. 250, Sons of Temperance. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended.

—At Drifton Sunday morning Edward Gallagher, aged 42 years, died at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Charles Gallagher. He was employed for many years as screen boss by Coxo Bros. & Co. at No. 1 Drifton, and was ill only a few weeks. He was held in high estimation by those under his charge, and the large attendance at his funeral Tuesday afternoon was evidence of his popularity.

Grand Ball of D. A. 87 This Evening.

The social season will open this evening with the first annual ball of District Assembly No. 87, Knights of Labor, of the Lehigh Region, at Yarnes' Opera House. Preparations have been made for the accommodation of a large number of guests and the committee of arrangements state that an excellent time is in store for those attending. Information was received last evening stating that quite a number would be present from Hazleton, Audenried, Beaver Meadow and several other towns. Quigley's orchestra will furnish the music.

The Bondsman Pays the Costs.

The case of Commonwealth vs. John Shelhamer, John Rassy prosecutor, was called in court of quarter sessions on Tuesday, and as the defendant failed to appear his bail was forfeited. This is the case where John Shelhamer, constable of Freeland borough, made overtures to Rassy, that upon the payment of a certain sum of money to him, all proceedings in a case then pending in court against Rassy would be stopped. For this Rassy had Shelhamer arrested on the charge of extortion on March 6, and Michael Depiero of Ridge Street became his bail. Mr. Depiero will now have the satisfaction of paying the costs.

DEATHS.

GALLAGHER.—At Drifton, September 15, Edward Gallagher, aged 42 years. Interred at St. Ann's cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Brislin, undertaker.

GIVENS.—At Eckley, September 12, Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Givens, aged 1 year and 1 month. Interred at St. Ann's cemetery on Saturday. Brislin, undertaker.

EVANS.—At Freeland, September 16, John E. Evans, aged 31 years, 4 months and 5 days. Interred at Freeland cemetery on Wednesday afternoon. McNulty, undertaker.

POTOCKY.—At Jeddo, September 18, George Potocky, aged 3 months and 2 days. Funeral takes place this afternoon and interment on Friday in the Greek Catholic cemetery. McNulty, undertaker.

MCCLENNAN.—At Freeland, September 18, Agnes, daughter of Bat and Cassie McCleNNAN, aged 4 months and 27 days. Interment at 3 o'clock to-morrow afternoon at St. Ann's cemetery. Brislin, undertaker.

CARR.—At Eckley, September 19, Mary Ann, daughter of Bernard and Mary Carr, aged 3 years, 1 month and 4 days. Interment at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon at St. Ann's cemetery. Brislin, undertaker.

Preparing for the Tenth of October.

At the last convention of Scranton Catholic Total Abstinence Union it was decided to abolish the annual parade of the organization on October 10 and substitute a parade of districts. The parade of the first district, or Lehigh division, will be held at White Haven and will be participated in by all C. T. A. societies between White Haven and Audenried. Special trains will be run from all the towns in the district and a reduced rate of a single fare for the round trip has been secured. This being the first occasion for the districts to parade separately it cannot be definitely stated what number will turn out, but it is presumed there will be at least twelve hundred members in line. The Freeland societies expect to make a favorable showing, both in numbers and appearance. The St. Ann's cadets have adopted a becoming uniform consisting of a white shirt, short blue pants with tinsel trimmings, red sash and red stockings. One hundred and fifty members will parade. The Young Men's T. A. B. Society have ordered a handsome American silk flag, elected Hugh Malloy as aid to Grand Marshal T. P. McAndrews and engaged the St. Patrick's cornet band. They expect to have one hundred and sixty members at White Haven. St. Ann's T. A. B. Society will also participate, with one hundred members in line. St. Ann's Pioneer Corps, with their own music and sixty members, will uphold their reputation as the best drilled semi-military organization in Northeastern Pennsylvania. The Eckley societies are also making arrangements to take part. The committee in charge have not yet completed the order of parade. In the afternoon a picnic will be held at Trimmer's Grove by the St. Aloysius Society of White Haven.

Almost a Fatal Accident.

Hugh McMenamin, a young man residing at South Heberton, and employed as a dumper at No. 1 breaker, Highland, had a narrow escape from death Monday morning, but fortunately received slight injuries, considering what might have occurred. His duty was to open the doors of the cars when they arrived at the top of the breaker, so as to allow the coal to pass out and empty the car. For this purpose a small sled is used and as a car was approaching he crossed the track to procure it, and when returning to his position tripped on the hoisting rope and fell directly across the track. The car was now almost up to him, and in endeavoring to rise from his dangerous situation, he grasped the wire rope with both hands and was instantly carried up with it. Before he could release his hold his hands had passed between the sheave and rope, causing severe lacerations. The first joint of the left hand thumb was completely severed, the thumb and one finger of the right hand were badly crushed, while the remaining fingers were considerably torn and scratched. Upon arriving home Dr. Neale skillfully dressed the hands, and expects to avoid the necessity of amputating any of the fingers.

The Reward of Brave Employees.

Engineer Hyndman, Fireman Nantiel, Conductor Heimbach and the entire crew of the coal train that ran away on the Upper Lehigh branch a few weeks ago have been suspended. To the ordinary lay mind this seems a most unjust, for the men did all they could to prevent the wreck at the risk of their lives. But the railroad officials think differently, and apparently hold the train men responsible for faulty and defective brakes. This may be good discipline, but it is a poor incentive for men to jeopardize their lives to save and protect the company's property.—White Haven Journal.

The Lehigh Presbytery.

The Lehigh Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church convened in annual session at Tamaqua on Tuesday. Rev. J. G. Williamson of Hazleton delivered the annual address; subject: "Conscience as a Factor in the Teacher." The reports showed 52 Sunday schools in the association. Officers were elected as follows: President, Rev. Charles McIntire, Easton; Vice Presidents, Rev. J. A. Muir, Banger; Rev. Dr. James A. Little, Hockanemus; J. H. Hollenback, Audenried; Frank Turner, Port Carbon; Recording Secretary, Wm. Linger, Penardsville; Corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, Rev. J. Sheppard, Easton.

The Constable Caught a Tartar.

Jacob Habel, of Foster township, was charged by Charles Sault, the constable of that township, with selling liquor without a license. The defense not only denied the charge, but undertook to show that Sault had commenced proceedings two years ago for the purpose of extorting money from Habel, and had tried to force him to a settlement. It was alleged that he had made it a custom for some time past to levy blackmail on a number of liquor sellers and had compelled them to pay $25 a month each. Because Habel refused to be bribed this way he had been proceeded against. The jury had been out two hours when court adjourned and had reached no verdict.—Yesterday's New Leader. The jury has since returned a verdict of not guilty.

A Breaker Boss on Trial.

Robert Grier, breaker boss at the Hanover Coal Company's colliery near Wilkes-Barre, was tried on Monday, charged with assault and battery on Peter Dougherty, a slate picker. The prosecution claimed that while working on the breaker Grier struck the boy and slung him around and dropped him over into a chute four feet deep, badly bruising his side. The defendant claimed that the boy was a very bad one, and pulled him off the seat and pulled him out of the breaker. The jury found a verdict of not guilty and placed the costs on the prosecutor.

—The Lehigh Valley Coal Company has compelled four of its employes to resign their membership in the Plains township school board. The order will be made general throughout the company's territory, and no employes can hold office. Who said this is a free country?

Democratic Candidates.

From the Wilkes-Barre Leader we condense the following biographical sketches of the Democratic candidates in this county:

EDWIN SHORTZ.
Edwin Shortz, the Democratic nominee for judge, was born at Mauch Chunk, Carbon County, on July 10, 1841, the son of Abraham Shortz. His education was attained in the public schools and the Mauch Chunk Academy. In early life he was connected with an engineering corps, and afterward, both individually and as senior member of the firm of Shortz, Lewis & Co., engaged extensively in the manufacture of lumber at White Haven. In 1876 he was the Democratic candidate for state senator from the 21st district and was defeated by E. C. Wadhams by 87 votes. Mr. Shortz reducing the Republican majority by nearly a thousand votes. He subsequently read law with Judge Woodward and was admitted to the Lehigh bar on March 29, 1880. During the year 1882 to 1884 inclusive, he was a member of the Board of Examiners for the admission of applicants to practice in our courts, and although he entered the legal profession more through respect and love for it than as a means of earning a livelihood, he has been eminently successful in it and enjoys a lucrative practice.

GEORGE J. STEGMAIER.
George J. Stegmaier, the nominee for sheriff, is a native of Wilkes-Barre and was born in April, 1850. He attended the Wilkes-Barre public schools, and afterward learned the machinist's trade. He was a lover of the national game, becoming later a professional ball player and playing in several big cities. At the earnest request of his father he returned home about ten years ago, and since that time has been collector for his father and brother. He was nominated and elected to the legislature from the first district last fall.

JOSEPH J. MCGINTY.
Joseph J. McGinty, the nominee for recorder, is a native of Durham, England, and was born of Irish parentage in 1850. He came to this country when 13 years of age, and for many years followed the occupation of a miner. By the accidental death of his father, he was left, when 21 years of age, the head and protection of the family, and to his credit it can be said that he provided well for his members, securing for his six younger brothers a good education and for one of them a college course. He was prominent in labor organizations and previous to his election to the recordership three years ago had creditably filled various local offices.

DR. WILLIAM F. PIER.
The Democratic nominee for coroner was born in Scranton in 1856. He secured a preliminary education in the public schools and attended Yale College for two years. He then studied medicine and began the study of his profession with honor from Bellevue Medical College, New York. He practiced for some time, in Bellevue Hospital, and stands eminent in his profession, respected by his brother physicians and admired by his fellow citizens. He resided in Pleasant Valley in 1879, and now enjoys a large practice.

JAMES CROCKETT.
James Crockett, the nominee for surveyor, is a Ross township farmer, surveyor and justice of the peace, popular at home and throughout the county. By the ordinary lay mind this seems a most unjust, for the men did all they could to prevent the wreck at the risk of their lives. But the railroad officials think differently, and apparently hold the train men responsible for faulty and defective brakes. This may be good discipline, but it is a poor incentive for men to jeopardize their lives to save and protect the company's property.—White Haven Journal.

He Tried to Get Rich and Got in Jail.
Michael Medulia is a Hungarian who was employed at No. 1 breaker, Drifton, until Saturday last. Mike became tired of trying to accumulate a fortune in the good old way and for some time past he has been working up a neat little scheme, which he calculated would make him suddenly wealthy. Mike was boarding at the house of Mike Buldosh, together with several of his countrymen. Becoming very intimate with the boarders some time ago he learned that at least two of them had more of this world's good things than he, and the result was he watched every opportunity to become the possessor of the same. Fortune favored him Saturday night and shortly after twelve o'clock Mike went through a trunk belonging to one of the Hungarians mentioned above, securing for his trouble $300. There was also a coat, vest and pair of shoes in the trunk, and Mike tossed himself out in excellent style. This was a much easier way of getting money than by picking slate and Mike deemed it good policy to do it some more. Another trunk was found to contain, it is claimed, $200 and a silver watch. This was also appropriated by the thief, who chuckled to himself as he thought of the surprise his few minutes work would cause in the Hungarian quarter of the town. Starting out from Drifton at one o'clock he skulked around the woods near the Lumber Yard all day Sunday, and then followed the Lehigh Valley tracks the next morning. In the meantime the boarders discovered their loss. Mr. Medulia was missed and a vigorous search for the culprit began. The boarding boss, Michael Buldosh, swore out a warrant before Squire Dobson of Jeddo, and traced him on Monday morning to Weatherly. He had been seen there that morning and with the assistance of a constable Mike was captured near the outskirts of the town. He was brought back to Jeddo and in the afternoon had a hearing. A search of his clothes brought forth only $165, which he claimed was all he stole. The victims, however, stated the sums taken were $300 and $200. In default of bail he was placed in charge of Coal and Iron Policeman Seiwel, who escorted him to the county jail.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following is a list of unclaimed letters remaining in the Freeland Post-office, September 18, 1889:

Briggs, Thos. A.
Brady, Thos.
Dalinaur, Ferdinando
Eroh, Chas. E.
Friedman, A.
Grover, G. A.
Mumorey, W. T.
Pelak, Majk
Shaffer, Ida
Schaffer, Louis
Watson, T. J.
Welcko, Majk
Ward, Chas.

Persons calling for any of the above letters should say Advertiser.
Wm. F. Boyle, P. M.

One of the Rising Men.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Evening Herald refers to a gentleman well known in this region as follows:

W. B. Estelle is a man with a history. He turns up once a week in New York, draws the pay of a small force of workmen at Coltsville, N. J., buys a frugal luncheon and returns to Coltsville. Estelle began wage-earning at the age of 6 years in the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania; rose by various stages to the rank of a full miner; saw the fall of wages that came with the importation of Hungarians; was blacklisted for his activity in labor organizations, and finally left the coal fields because it was almost impossible, under the ban of the mine owners, to earn his living in any sort of employment. Four years ago Estelle could not write; but he attended night school, read a few books, and, having been educated in other directions through his leadership in the labor unions, blossomed out last year as a speaker for Cleveland. Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention during the campaign by his stories of life in the coal mines. He came to this city and for the first time in his life found himself admitted without question to the society of educated men. His astonishment at the entire absence of haughty or patronizing attitude of the mine owners, Estelle attracted much attention