Council Meeting.

Council met on Monday evening, all the members being present. The minutes of the last regular and special meetings were read and approved.
The following bills were presented, read and ordered paid:

Progress, publishing ordinance..... 4 00
R. M. Rinker, burying dead animals and posting notices..... 3 50
Penna. Globe Gaslight Co..... 39 00
J. M. Powell, janitor..... 8 00
A petition from the property owners of Five Points, in Foster township, was presented, and laid over until the business of the council was gone through.
The bond of Street Commissioner John Burton was presented and accepted.
Street commissioner's report of work and labor done for March and April was presented and laid over until $144.63, read and ordered paid.
The treasurer reported having received from ex-treasurer Burke.....$ 447 57
From County Treasurer as license fee..... 2009 00
Total.....$2456 57
Expenditures..... 235 40
Balance on hand.....$2221 17
The burgess' report was presented, showing receipts from April 9th to May 5th.....$111 50
Commission and police service..... 30 20
Am't due burgess.....$18 70
The report was accepted, and a motion made that an order be drawn for the amount due burgess.
Under the head of reports of committees, the secretary reported having received a letter from Franz Mackel, civil engineer, of Mauch Chunk, stating that it would not be convenient to come up to do the work required of him by the borough before the first week in June. On motion, the secretary was authorized to write him to come sooner if convenient.
The street committee reported a case of nuisance on the lower end of Main street, and stated that a committee of property owners were present and requested to be heard in the matter, so far as the drainage of their property was concerned. Permission was given them, and they stated that they were willing to remedy the evil complained of, but thought best to have council do the work so as to be heard in the matter, so far as the drainage of their property was concerned. The members of council took a different view of the matter, and, as a result, the extension of the drain from Washington and Main to borough line will have to be done by the parties who own the property. Attention was also made of the overflow on Front street, and a similar remedy was proposed. The burgess and street commissioner were instructed to see that these improvements are done at once. Complaint was made by the street commissioner that the water coming from Walnut street onto Pine had overflowed the ditch and was washing the ground away. A motion was made that he lay a gutter on Pine, from Front to Walnut, on west side.
A committee of Chestnut street citizens asked to have Chestnut street opened to Pine, but in the absence of any price being named for the Cunningham property the council were unable to say what can be done yet.
The petition of residents of the Points, praying for annexation to the borough, was read. The petition contained 66 names of property owners. A motion was made and carried that the members of this council approve of the petition, and request the petitioners to take the proper steps to bring the matter before the court.
On motion the council adjourned.

A Grand Concert.

A grand concert will be given by the Hayden Glee Club, of Freeland, at Yannes' opera house, on Saturday, May 17th, 1890. A grand and varied programme will be prepared for the occasion. Among the many features of the occasion will be the presence of the Freeland Choral Union, numbering 112 trained voices, under the leadership of Prof. W. B. Harris; the Drifton Choir, numbering 50; under the leadership of Prof. D. B. Morgans; the Upper Lehigh Choral Union, numbering 50 voices, under the leadership of Prof. W. T. Williams; Prof. D. E. Miles, of Plymouth, the famous pianist and baritone singer; Lew Herbert, of Scranton, the famous basso, and the renowned comic Welsh singer, Dan "Cwili" Beria, of Shamokin. Admission has been placed at 25 and 35 cents.

ECKLEY.

Miss Rosana O'Donnell, of Freeland, was visiting the home of her parents here on Sunday.
Messrs. Kelly and Carey removed their families from No. 2 Buckmountain to this place last week.
Frank Johnson and Thomas Kennedy are on the sick list, but we hope to see them on our streets soon again.
Mr. Owen Ward, who was recently discharged from No. 5, is about to remove his family to Hazle Brook.
Mr. James McDermott had his foot seriously injured by a piece of coal at No. 5 slope, and is unable to work at present.
Mr. Manus Cannon, the Carbon county farmer, is busy with his team here plowing gardens and making the necessary preparations for planting.
There is a party here who wants to swell the funds of the Terrors base ball club, by being so philanthropic as to donate a very valuable animal to be raffled for.
Many of our would-be farmers can be seen applying the principle of protection to their growing crops, by placing barbed wire fences around their lots, to keep out the cattle.
A fashion seems to be getting in vogue here of stealing coal from the coal houses of neighbors. Coal is plenty here and there is no need to steal it; hence some may get a walk to Freeland soon of these days.
Joseph Ward, who resided here for a number of years, and who is a barber by trade, is about to remove his family to South Heberton, where he will open up a business place. Many of his customers wish him success, as he justly deserves it.

Found a Skeleton.

On Monday last Calvin Rohrbach, of Front street, took a day off and went fishing to the Nescopee, and while on his way home he came across what he thought to be the bones of a human being. Upon closer examination he found it to be those of a small child. There was nothing left to indicate what sex it belonged to, but noticing a few shreds of clothing he examined them, and from that gleaned the information that it must have been the body of a little girl. Coupling the loss of a child from Freeland near three years ago, he came to the conclusion that it was the child of Morris Ulrich, of South Heberton. Mr. Rohrbach took the skull and hung it on a bush so that he could find the place again.
Early yesterday morning Mr. Ulrich, his son William, Calvin Rohrbach and T. A. Buckley went to the place where the bones were seen, and made search for the same. Their labor was rewarded at about half-past ten, the skull being seen on the tree where it was placed by Mr. Rohrbach on Monday, and lying underneath, on the ground, was a heap of bones and clothing. A short distance away other bones were seen, as also the pair of button shoes. Upon examining the shoes Mr. Ulrich became convinced that the remains were those of his child. The bones and what shreds of clothing which were found were placed in a box carried there for that purpose and taken to the home of Mr. Ulrich, where they were shown to the child, who positively identified the shoes and portions of clothing, and said that the stockings worn by her little girl were red. Upon taking the stockings out of the shoes they were found to be red woolen stockings.
The place where the skeleton was found is about a mile northeast from No. 5 slope of the Upper Lehigh Coal Company, and is fully 4 miles from the place where the child strayed from three years ago. The road from Upper Lehigh to No. 5 slope is fairly passable, but from there to where the bones were found is rough and full of brush. The fact that the child was seen at the butcher shop, leading to No. 5, on the afternoon of the act, and that she was rising to the supposition that she must have strayed away up the mountain in her effort to regain her home. Mr. Buchman, who lives at No. 5, stated to the writer that he, in company with others, had searched the mountain, and that west, but did not look for her to the east, as it was very little frequented.
Mr. Ulrich is now satisfied that no foul play had been committed, and that the child was not, as was partly supposed, kidnapped, but that she remains in a suitable casket and have them buried in a proper burying plot.
Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood in their bereavement. Owing to the length of time since the child was lost, the people have almost forgotten the incident.

DEATHS.
WINTER.—At Freeland, May 5, George, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Libor Winter, aged 3 months and 25 days. Interred at Hazleton yesterday.
Weekly Coal Report.
The anthracite coal trade is reported to be now in a much healthier condition than it has been at any previous time of this year, and the outlook for the future is said to be quite promising. There is a much better inquiry for coal than has been noted for months past, and the demand is daily improving, though there is not expected any great activity in the movement of the coal until after July 1st. The prices for anthracite are reported firmer, and all of the large producing companies and some few of the individual operators are stiffening the quotations for nearly all the prepared sizes. There will be a meeting of the general coal sales agents of all the large producing interests held in New York on the 15th instant, when the question of advancing prices will again receive attention, and a number of well informed operators say they will not be surprised if an increase in the price of coal is reported there should then be agreed upon. We are informed that some shrewd dealers are at present engaged in stocking their yards in anticipation of an advance, realizing that the ruling prices are perhaps the lowest at which coal can be bought this season, and the tolls on anthracite will not be reduced. The larger companies are not taking orders on contracts for future delivery, excepting subject to any increase in price that may be made.
The New York Evening Journal and Journal of Saturday, in its weekly view of the anthracite trade, says: "After so long a period of depression and declining prices it is very satisfactory to find a complete change in the situation. There has been a great improvement in the market during the past two weeks, and more particularly during the past week. The demand has increased and there has been a good, stiff advance in prices, and it is understood that the advance has been made along the line and a better feeling everywhere. The Lehigh Valley Company are reported to be asking $3.80 for broken, $3.90 for egg, $3.80 for stove, $3.65 for chestnut, less the usual 15 cents commission to the commission men. Cox Bros. have advanced their prices 25 cents a ton on all averages. Fine coal—pea and buckwheat— is a trifle weaker. Some dealers think it is possible that there may be a slight reduction from those prices. Orders are plenty and books full enough for five or six weeks, without taking any other. Standard prices are as follows: F. o. b. New York harbor, $3.40 for broken and egg, $3.50 for stove, $3.25 for chestnut, net. The market is in a much better condition. There is little doubt that the companies will be able to hold present prices. The demand for anthracite in the East is very good, but the scarcity of vessels is marked."
The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending April 23, as reported by several carrying companies, was 635,280 tons, compared with 629,291 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 6,089 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1890 was 8,540,256 tons compared with 8,985,383 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 445,127 tons.—Ledger.

STATE NEWS.

—The body of Edward Scott, who was drowned in the Lackawanna river last November, was found in that stream, near Pittston, on Sunday.
—State Treasurer Boyer assumed the duties of his office in Harrisburg on Monday. He retains ex-Treasurer Livezey as cashier, and will make no changes in the present clerical force.
—The hundredth anniversary of the first election of Burgesses in Easton was celebrated on Monday. The city was decorated, and crowds of visitors were present. There was a procession, in which 6000 men took part. There was a memorial address in the afternoon.
—Intense excitement was caused at Mount Carmel on Sunday night by a portion of East Second street dropping into the mines of the Mount Carmel colliery. The men on their way to church had just passed over the spot. The break is still widening and endangers adjoining property.
—Samuel Knight, of Wanamie, this county, was killed on the railroad near that place Sunday morning. He had been in Alden the night previous and became intoxicated. While walking along the railroad to his home it is believed he became confused and fell upon the track and was struck by the train and horribly mangled.
—A fire was discovered in No. 14 colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, at Pittston, on Monday, and is still burning. The origin of the fire seems to be somewhat of a mystery. A number of cave-ins have taken place of late in that portion of the workings, and it is supposed that through them the gas was fired. The gas bosses are endeavoring to reach the burning spot from several directions.
—Saturday evening three men from White Haven were walking on the Lehigh Valley railroad at Tannery, on their way to Haye's Creek, on a fishing expedition. Passenger train No. 9 came thundering along at the time, and struck one of the trio, killing him instantly. The unfortunate was a man named Rahrig. He leaves a family. The body was taken to White Haven on the next train.
—Newdealer.
—The public school teachers of this county assembled in the main court room at Wilkes-Barre on Tuesday for the purpose of electing a County Superintendent. Four candidates were named as follows: James M. Conghlin, the present incumbent; T. B. Harrison, of Wilkes-Barre; Edward E. Ross, of Luzerne borough; and S. W. Baird, of Wilkes-Barre. Each of the above gentlemen are possessed of indomitable energy and would undoubtedly fill the office with intelligence. Mr. Harrison was elected on the second ballot.
