—A. H. Strittmatter and Annie Marie Jenkins, both of Freeland, have been granted a marriage license. Also Geo. E. Fowler, of Drifton, and Margaret Seiwel, of Ebervale.
—The Junior O. U. A. M. of this place will run an excursion to Glen Onoko tomorrow. The P. O. S. of A. Band and Depiero's orchestra will accompany the excursion and furnish the music.
—Lower end jurors this week are: Wm. Monroe, Milnesville; Peter Fallon and Simon Spilde, Hazleton; Condy O'Donnell, Drifton; Albert Goepfert, Jacob Fox and T. A. Buckley, Freeland; William Lewis, of Milnesville.
—The Mahanoy Club will contest with the Drifton team at the latter's park on Saturday. Game called at 5 p. m. Heiser and Mulroy will do the battery work for Mahanoy and Kelly and McGill will occupy the same position for Drifton.
—On Saturday afternoon a game of baseball will be played at the park between the Glimmers and Tigers. This will be the deciding contest between these clubs, as two games have been played, each club winning one. Game called at 4 p. m.
—The TRIBUNE has now on hand and for sale all kinds of legal blanks used by Justices of the Peace, such as warrants, summons, capias, executions, agreements, leases, landlord warrants, notices to quit, receipts, etc., all done up in neat style and in an improved form. Call and see them.
—Ice cream at Jacobs'.
—Charles Orion Stroh has been appointed Justice of the Peace for Freeland borough, caused by the resignation of O. F. Turnbach. The appointment is until the first Monday in May, 1891. His commission arrived at Wilkes-Barre on Monday and is being recorded in the office of Recorder of Deeds.
—The Mahanoy City Club will cross bats with the home team at the park here on Sunday. Those wishing to attend from distant places can make all necessary connections with the first train which arrives here at 11.16. The game will be called promptly at 1.30. This early commencement is due to the visitors having to return on the afternoon train.
—The Tigers Athletic Association will hold its first annual picnic at Ebervale's Grove Saturday evening, June 21. The committee of arrangements are doing all within their power to make it a pleasant evening for pleasure-seekers. The St. Patrick's Cornet Band has been invited and Depiero's Orchestra engaged, thereby assuring their guests of spending an enjoyable evening. Refreshments of all kinds will be for sale on the grounds.
—Prof. Van Vranken will handle in every town or city where Allen's Great Eastern Show exhibits some vicious local horse. He daily encounters wild and vicious animals and the fight between man and beast will be worth miles of travel to see. It will be the most scientific, as well as exciting exhibition ever witnessed in this county. Keep in mind the day and date of the coming of Allen's Great Eastern Shows.
—The next attraction at the opera house is the comedy-drama "Rascal Pat," which will exhibit this (Thursday) evening. This company has been considerably strengthened during the past month with the following artists: Joseph Williams and party, of Audenried, who carried away the honors of the quartette competition at the grand musical Etiedford held at Freeland last March; Prof. Stenner and Thomas in a cornet duet; Miss Lena Watkins, of Audenried (the little ten-year-old wonder), in a grand vocal selection; Billy Jones, known as "Strong Boy," in his favorite jigs, songs and dances; Prof. Higgins and party, of Audenried, in his popular quartettes and trios. A rare treat is in store for all who attend this entertainment. Admission, 25 and 35 cents.

The County Treasurer Talks.

CO. TREASURER'S OFFICE, WILKES-BARRE.
EDITOR TRIBUNE.—I notice that James Collins, ex-Tax Collector of Freeland borough, in a communication in your paper, bearing date of 12th inst., and referring to certain properties recently advertised for sale on account of having been returned by him as delinquent, makes the following statement:
"This money has been turned over to the County Treasurer long ago, and there should not be any trouble and it been properly appraised in the Treasurer's office."
In the face of the fact that Mr. Collins, in the same communication, quotes a receipt from me showing that he paid the money June 3th, 1890, eight days ago. This statement that he paid it in long ago, and never got credit for it, is remarkable. He got credit for it the very hour he paid the money, and the only interest I have in the matter at all is to refute the inference which Mr. Collins makes that people pay their money into my hands and do not get credit for it. Very truly yours,
JOHN SMOULTER, JR.,
June 13th, 1890. County Treasurer.

Completed His Labors.

Christian Miller, of South Heberton, who was appointed census enumerator for the 18th district, of the Fifth Census district of Pennsylvania, comprising Eckley Nos. 2 and 3, Old Buckmountain, Hazle Brook and Jeddo borough, completed his labors on the 12th inst., and on the 14th sent his papers and all documents pertaining to his duties to George K. Ashley, Supervisor of the Fifth Census district, at Montrose, Pa.
The lotting of the inhabitants in the territory covered by him, as stated above, reaches 1,940. One person died between the beginning and ending of his term.
This is the first report sent to the Supervisor of Census from this section, and speaks well for Mr. Miller.

Resolutions of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of St. Ann's Young Men's T. A. B. Society, of Freeland, held in their hall the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:
WHEREAS, the author of life has seen fit to call from this transitory life our late Brother Member Joseph Conaghan;
AND WHEREAS, by this we are reminded that in the midst of life we are in death, and, as we are called from the scenes of our earthly toils, may we be found worthy of that eternal reward which God has promised to all who keep his commandments. Therefore be it
Resolved, that while we bow in humble submission to God's holy will, we cherish the hope that our loss is our deceased Brother's gain; and be it further
Resolved, that we tender our sympathy to the bereaved mother and friends of our deceased Brother in this hour of their sad affliction; and be it further
Resolved, that as a token of respect to his memory, the usual emblems of sorrow be placed in our meeting room for a period of thirty days, and that these resolutions be placed on the minutes of our society and a copy sent to the mother of our deceased Brother, and that they be published in the FREELAND TRIBUNE.
PATRICK McLAUGHLIN, Com.
JOHN BRADY,
JOHN McNEILS,
Freeland, June 15th, 1890.

Anniversary and Entertainment.

The Young Men's T. A. B. Society will hold their anniversary exercises in "Cannon's Opera House" on Friday evening, July 1st. The entertainment will consist of literary exercises, singing, instrumental music and a lecture by Attorney Bernard McManus, of Wilkes-Barre. The whole will conclude with a grand ball. The admission will be free to all. The public generally are cordially invited.

The Flag on Parochial Schools.

At the last convention of the C. T. A. Union of Scranton Diocese, held at Wilkes-Barre, resolutions were passed recommending the placing of the American flag upon all school buildings—public and parochial. That these resolutions might be carried out in their proper spirit, a meeting was held at St. Ann's Church last Sunday afternoon and was attended by representatives from the Young Men's T. A. B. Society and St. Ann's T. A. B. Society, at which it was agreed to place a large flag staff on the roof of St. Ann's Convent schools. July 4th is the time set for placing the flag in position. The T. A. B. Societies of Hazle, Eckley and surrounding towns will be invited to be present and take part in the parade.

Allen's Great Eastern Shows

Will shortly exhibit here, combined with Prof. Van Vranken's Equine Paradox. Aerial acts, daring life risking. Wonderful lady performers. Comical and soul inspiring clowns. Horses that do everything but articulate. Donkeys that actually laugh, and a hundred and two other things innumerable to mention. See all the announcements of this great show, and be particular to peruse the newspaper articles to note at length the novelties of this big 25-cent show.

A Finnish Father.

Christian Ackerman, a farmer living near White Haven, was the perpetrator of an inhuman act towards his 11-year old son on Friday last. The man has a violent temper and when once aroused is a dangerous person. He became offended in some manner last week, and, no doubt, to avenge his family, he sent his young son into the cellar, while the rest were working in the field, and followed him there deliberately using him up on a frame work of boards nailed together to form an X, after which he left the house. The boy remained in his terrible position for nearly seven hours, when he was discovered by his sister, who heard hard breathing in the cellar. She informed her older brother who put the boy down when he was almost exhausted. He still further showed his cruelty by standing guard in front of the house with an axe saying he would kill any one who came near him, and in consequence the family had to stand out all night in the rain. Ackerman was arrested on Saturday for his fiendish work and is now in Wilkes-Barre jail.

Gas Explosion in the Mines.

Another fatal mine disaster occurred on Monday. This time in the Hill Farm mines of the Dunbar Furnace Company in the miners named Kerwin. As we have nearly all the men employed there entered the mines on Monday morning and were separated into two principal parts of the workings, some on the right and some on the left side. One of the miners named Kerwin, who was working in the right drift, in the course of his labors broke into a perpendicular shaft filled with water. The moment this was broken into a flood of water gushed out, and Kerwin and a man named Landy standing by yelled out for some one to save the men in the right drift, as the water was pouring down the hill in a stream and he feared they would be drowned. Young David Hays, who had seen the affair, leaped forward at the call and turned down the left drift in a deluge of water to warn his endangered comrades below. Just as he had passed the air shaft that was broken into the rush of water had changed to the ugly roar of a flood, which blanched the cheeks of the men who stood behind and towards the light.

The flow of water had changed to a deadly volume of fire damp, and, as young Hays swung down the shaft, a flash of blazing light slid through the shaft from end to end, it seemed. The daring youth carried an open burning miners' lamp in his hand and he bravely bravely taken a step beyond the roaring shaft when the spark ignited a reservoir of the deadly fire damp that had already accumulated, and he sank a corpse near the men who had hoped to save. In an instant the fire quenched his fire spring into the nine-foot vein just between the main entrance and on the right drift, forever shutting in the 32 men imprisoned there. The men in the left drift, where less than twenty had been working, escaped blackened and bruised, but safe.

Double Accident at Upper Lehigh.

Harry Waldron, employed as a laborer at No. 6 slope, Upper Lehigh, was seriously injured on Monday. While in the act of shoveling coal from one spot to a place nearer the car preparatory to loading he was crushed to the ground by a fall of coal from the roof. He was almost entirely covered by the amount of coal which fell and when rescued was found to be badly injured about the head and body. Mr. Waldron is possessed of a remarkably strong constitution, and this, no doubt, is the only thing which prevented him from instant death. He was immediately removed to his home and medical aid summoned, but fears are entertained for his recovery. Thos. Robbins, who is also a laborer at the same place, was slightly injured by the falling coal, being struck on the hip by a lump.

Freeland Boys in the West.

A letter just received from Peter McGoff and Barney Gallagher, who left here for Breckenridge, Colorado, a few weeks ago, states that they arrived at their destination in due time and have secured employment.
The boys are profuse in their praise of the conduct of their former employer, organized labor, Jonathan C. Finley, editor of the Summit County Journal, published at that place, for favor shown them on their arrival.
We are not the least bit surprised to hear that the old war horse has still a kindly feeling for his former employer, a section of the country, for his name is held in veneration here by those who knew him in days gone by, and they are glad to know that he is doing well in his far away home.

To Answer a Charge of Perjury.

W. G. Eno, a member of the insurance firm of Biddle & Eno, was served with a warrant yesterday, placing him under arrest on a charge of perjury, preferred by G. W. Koecker, of Freeland. The offense is alleged to have been committed in the signing by Mr. Eno of an affidavit of defense. The affidavit alleges that the Girard Fire Insurance Co. would be able to prove that the fire which consumed Mr. Kocher's house, at Fairview, city, originated with him or was started with his consent or connivance. Mr. Eno was placed under $300 bail by Alderman Donohue for his appearance at court.

DEATHS.

HORWORTH.—At Freeland, on the 15th inst., Mrs. Joseph Horwirth, aged about 43 years. Interment in St. Ann's cemetery Tuesday. Brislin, undertaker.
DOGGETT.—At Upper Lehigh, June 13, Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doggett, aged 13 years. Interred in St. Ann's cemetery on Saturday, under charge of Undertaker Brislin.
DINN.—At Eckley, Saturday, June 14, Elizabeth, wife of Benjamin Dinne, aged 38 years. Funeral took place at Eckley on Monday at 10 a. m. Rev. Schmidt officiated. McNulty, undertaker. The deceased leaves seven children and a husband to mourn her loss.

The Place to Get Your Clothing.

I. Refforwich, the clothing merchant and gents' furnisher, is at No. 37, Centre street, Freeland, with a stock of goods, that for quality, cannot be surpassed in this region. Hats, Caps, Boys' and Men's Clothing a special feature. A large stock of suits made to order for $25.00 reduced to $17.00. This is a saving to persons of limited means over ready-made clothing. Clothing made to order by experienced workmen at short notice and at the lowest prices. A large stock of piece goods to select from. Ready-made clothing of all sizes and styles.
Old Newspapers for sale.

STATE NEWS.

—Strawberry, Vanilla and Chocolate Ice cream at Jacobs' every day.
—For bargains in paints, room moulding, calomine and wall paper, call on A. A. Bachman, opposite H. C. Koons.
—At the Republican County Convention held in Scranton on Tuesday Joseph A. Scranton was unanimously re-nominated for Congress.

—William H. Smith, of Allegheny, and John Rudy, of Lancaster, two convicted murderers under a sentence of death, have again been respited by the Board of Pardons until August 27.
—The strike of the coal miners at the Clayton mines, in Beaver county, for an advance of two cents per car of ton bushels, has ended favorably to the men, the operators conceding the advance. The men returned to work last week.

—William R. Maffet, one of the oldest and most prominent citizens of Wilkes-Barre, and largely interested in the coal business, died in that city on Saturday, aged 72 years. Mr. Maffet was one of the oldest coal magnates in this county.
—John Terrify, the Hungarian who murdered Michael Feizer, at Olyphant, near Scranton, some months ago, on being brought to trial in the Lackawanna Courts confessed the murder, and his counsel asked that it be regarded as murder in the second degree.

—At Springfield, near Susquehanna, last Friday night, Dillis Koons and Urman, of Salisbury, were in a bar-room. After the fight Butler went to a drug store and bought fifteen grains of strychnine, saying he wanted to kill Koons. He took the dose soon after and died.

—The case of George W. Moss, the Wilkes-Barre wife murderer, came up for trial on Monday afternoon, when his counsel, Messrs. Shook and McAlarney, made a plea for the extension of time, claiming that some material witnesses were inaccessible. District Attorney Darte and Gen. McCartney, for the Commonwealth, urged a speedy trial. In deference to the wishes of the counsel for the defense, Judge Rice has fixed today (Thursday) as the day on which the trial must take place. Much interest is felt in the trial, as it is not known what line of argument the defense will take.

—Mine Inspector Williams, of the Third Anthracite Inspection District, of this State, has just completed, in Wilkes-Barre, a table of the operations of the coal mines for the last 25 years. During that time there were 110,532,715 tons of coal mined. The smallest output was in 1871, when 3,000,000 tons were mined, and the largest in 1888, when 8,684,493 tons were taken from the earth. There were 1294 men killed in the many disasters during the 25 years, the largest number being killed being in 1884, 907. The smallest number of tons of coal mined for each life lost was 91,655 tons, in 1886. The largest number of days worked any year was 233, in 1888.

UPPER LEHIGH.

The mines here are working to their full capacity and everybody is apparently happy.

Mrs. William Owens intends making a visit to her native home, North Wales, in the near future.

The Band of Hope of this place has decided to go to Hazleton next September to attend the musical cistidded which will be held at that place.

Lemuel Morgan, a miner at No. 6 colliery, Upper Lehigh, was slightly injured on Tuesday morning. While pushing a truck of timber he was caught between the truck and a prop and bruised about the arm and hip.

Harry Waldron received serious injuries in No. 6 colliery on Monday by falling coal. At this writing grave doubts are entertained of his recovery; but it is to be hoped that his strong constitution and the skillful treatment of Dr. Neale will enable him to pull through.

It is rumored in sporting circles that two prominent members of the Upper Lehigh Athletic Association tried to perform the extraordinary feat of carrying a live cow from South Heberton to Upper Lehigh last Sunday evening to the great amusement of the young ladies who were promading with escorts on the thoroughfare known as "No. 6 road." They evidently found an "Original Package."

The condition of the windows in the Foster school building is anything but creditable to the school director in charge and a sad commentary on the home-training of the youthful rowdies of this place. For some reason unknown to the writer the shutters on one window were left open at the end of the school-term and have remained so ever since with a result that should be seen in order to be understood.

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Doggett, aged 13 years, died on Monday. He was afflicted with heart trouble for some time past, breathed his last on the 12th inst. His parents are old and respected residents, who have raised a family of twelve children of whom eleven survive. The sympathy of friends and neighbors are with them in their hour of affliction. Interment at St. Ann's on Saturday.

The Upper Lehigh Base Ball boys appear to good advantage in their new suits. Their recent victory over the Soapies has infused some enthusiasm into them. We have some good players, and with a little care in management and selection they will become formidable rivals of any amateur club on the mountain. Boys cease apeing professionals. Ape Jim Goulden and find the ball. Jim is good enough for present purposes.

The anglers of this place are reaping a rich harvest on the Oley and Nesquehoning. Michael Mulligan, David R. Davis and Jimmy Welch lead the successful list. Speaking of fishing reminds us of a conundrum propounded by a hopeful young American last evening. While discussing the art of scientific angling with a few ardent knights of the rod a real specimen of the ten-year-old native, dressed in his elder brother's pants and his father's 1880 campaign cap, interrupted by asking, "What's the difference between David R. Davis and the average Freeland Fisherman?" We confessed our inability to see where any material difference could exist, when the young American insisted that a difference did exist, and when requested to explain he said "that Davy R. caught trout with his rod and reel and put them in his basket, while the Freeland anglers caught trout with their mouth and put them in the papers." P. DUFF.

Weekly Coal Report.

The anthracite coal trade is in a healthy state, and the movement of coal, while not brisk, is more active than it has been for some time past. The weekly output of coal is increasing, the latest report (for the week ending June 7) showing an increase to over three-quarters of a million tons, or 166,000 tons more than in the corresponding week of last year. The Reading Coal and Iron Company also shows a large increase in its weekly output, and we are informed that that company is moving the greater part of its production, the stove and chestnut and the small steam sizes of course being stocked both at interior points and elevated to some extent. The market continues to readily absorb all the large sizes, and the demand for egg coal is reported to be much improved. From now until the fall months the output will naturally be expected to steadily increase, and consequently the domestic sizes and pea and buckwheat will accumulate, but the stocked coal will no doubt find a ready market during the fall and winter months, and at much better prices than could now be obtained by any effort on the part of producers to force its immediate sale.

Tenders to supply the United States Mint in this city with 2400 tons of pea coal, 45 tons of egg and 20 tons of stove coal were made last week by dealers representing the Pennsylvania Railroad and Lehigh Company's coal at the following prices: Pea, $2.54 per ton the lowest and $2.85 the highest; egg, $4.25, and stove, $4.40 the lowest and $4.60 the highest.

The New York Engineering and Mining Journal of Saturday says in its weekly review of the anthracite trade there: Intelligent buyers who have watched the market have all bought pretty liberally at May prices, and at the present moment they are at the hesitating point about buying more. The consequence is that we hear of considerable stocks accumulating, and a very dull, flat market. "Nothing new doing" is the general complaint, and there is a good deal of lever demand for June and July vacations than for June coal. The expectation that by July 1 the market will about correspond with the July market of last year, as far as tonnage is concerned, seems to be well founded. But the country should take a great deal more coal this fall than it did last fall, if the indications are reliable. The May over-production of 500,000 tons will doubtless be repeated in June, though prices are generally leveled up to. No one will admit dealing at lower than circular rates, but during this particular dull period any sale is large enough to attract notice is looked upon with some degree of interest, and operators are pretty ready to hint that list prices are being generally shaded to secure business. Prices remain: Stove, $3.75; chestnut and egg, $3.50; broken, $3.35.

The total amount of anthracite coal sent to market for the week ending June 7th, as reported by the several carrying companies, was 781,425 tons, compared with 615,221 tons in the corresponding week last year, an increase of 166,204 tons. The total amount of anthracite mined thus far in the year 1890 was 12,669,486 tons compared with 12,855,963 tons for the same period last year, a decrease of 186,657 tons.—Letter.

—Three months ago the Forest Grove Presbyterian Church, at Chartiers, was in debt. Some of the Elders, after a hard fight, succeeded in getting a permit to drill an oil well on the premises. Oil was found in abundance, and on Saturday the little church was sold to the Standard Oil Company for $92,000 cash.
