Ian Maclaren on the Pastor's Work.

Ian Maclaren, the author of "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," who is now lecturing in this country, has engaged to write a series of articles for the Ladies' Home Journal, and the first will appear in the May issue of that magazine. The general topic upon which he has agreed to write is of the pastor and his congregation. He will emphasize the relation that should exist between a minister and his congregation, how one can aid the other, and other similar phases of church work. Being, as is well known, pastor of a large church in Liverpool, and one of the most popular ministers in England, Dr. Watson is in position to speak by the light of successful experience, and his articles will be read with keen interest.

George Fisher extends a cordial invitation to all his friends to call at his new saloon on Walnut street on Saturday next, the opening day.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS.

PARAGRAPHS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF THE REGION.

Synopsis of Local and Miscellaneous Occurrences That Can Be Read Quickly.

What the Folks of This and Other Towns Are Doing.

The monthly meeting of the borough council will be held on Monday evening.

It is said that orders have been issued to work all the collieries of Markle & Co. steadily until further orders.

An unknown man, supposed to be a Pole or Hungarian, was killed by a Lehigh Valley passenger train at Stockton Tuesday evening.

All uniformed employees of the Lehigh Valley Railroad must hereafter wear black shoes and black ties in addition to the regulation uniform.

The borough auditors have nearly finished the work of auditing the borough accounts and expect to have their report ready before the next meeting of council.

The patriotic, fraternal and musical organizations of Eckley are making preparations to celebrate Dewey Day, May 1, with a demonstration and general rejoicing.

Cuyle Bros. will open a large stripping at Eckley on Saturday for the Cross Creek Coal Company. The stripping will employ about 200 men when it is fully opened.

Michael Zeman, Jr., of town, leaves Fortress Monroe this week for San Francisco, and will sail from there on April 7 for the Philippines. He belongs to Battery F, Sixth regular artillery.

Tickets for the annual ball of St. Patrick's cornet band are meeting with a ready sale among the friends of this organization. The ball will be held at Yannes' opera house on Monday evening.

A. Oswald has just received a carload of Lehigh county potatoes. They are excellent stock. If in need of any give him a call.

The report that Charles C. Boczkowski will lease the saloon now occupied by William Lamb at South Heberton is not correct. Mr. Boczkowski intends to retire from the liquor business and will re-engage in the manufacture of cigars.

Considerable progress was made this week in organizing the company which will manufacture the inventions of Messrs. Salmon and Cross. It is probable that a limited partnership association will be formed, instead of a general corporation.

St. John's Reformed church, J. B. Kerschner, pastor. Easter services: At 6 o'clock early morning service of song and praise; Sunday school at 9 a. m.; communion at 10, in German and English; Easter service by the Sunday school at 7:15 p. m. No services at Eckley Reformed church.

James M. Lahiff, an agent from the soft coal regions, is in this section engaging miners for collieries in Washington and Allegheny counties. Several men around Hazleton have agreed to return with him. A strike in the soft coal region is imminent, hence the desire for experienced men.

Rev. C. A. Spaulding, formerly pastor of the English Baptist church of town, delivered an address at Hazleton last evening. The reverend gentleman has been stationed in Elmhurst, near Scranton, and has resigned the charge. He is now on his way to Virginia, where he will act as evangelist and work under the direction of the American Baptist Publication Society.

PERSONALITIES.

Rev. Charles Pajehisak, pastor of St. John's Slavonian Catholic church, was subpoenaed yesterday to appear as a witness in the United States court at Scranton in the case of the government against Publisher Toth, of Hazleton, who is charged with improper use of the mails.

P. X. O'Donnell, of Drifton, a student at Pennsylvania university, is home for Easter.

Con McGeehan, of Coxe addition, has accepted a position with Drifton survey corps.

Rev. M. J. Falliee is attending to business in Scranton today.

Miss Mame McDonald is visiting relatives at the county seat.

DEATHS.

Hess.—At Freeland, March 29, Edith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hess, aged 3 years. Funeral on Saturday at 2 o'clock. Interment at Freeland cemetery.

Kishbach.—At Freeland, March 26, Dorothy, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kishbach. Interred on Tuesday at White Haven.

PLEASURE CALENDAR.

April 3.—Annual ball of St. Patrick's cornet band at Yannes' opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

April 7.—First annual ball of St. Ann's Parish band at Yannes' opera house. Admission, 50 cents.

April 29.—Benefit hop at Yannes' opera house. Tickets, 25 cents.

Anti-Quay Organization.

A Hazleton dispatch in the Philadelphia Press yesterday read as follows:

"The anti-Quay supporters of this, the Fourth legislative district of Luzerne county, have now perfected a permanent organization and will at once begin the campaign for state delegates. They have named Amandus C. Oswald, a prominent Freeland merchant, and J. H. Malkames, a school teacher, as their candidates for state delegates. Both men are ardent supporters of the Republican cause, men of good character and who have openly declared against Quayism and Quay methods. Although the contest will be the most bitter in years, the success of the anti-Quay supporters is conceded. The movement seems to be gaining strength daily, and now includes the best element of the Republican party."

In conversation with a TRIBUNE representative last evening Mr. Oswald authorized us to state that he is not a candidate for state delegate. He has not been asked and has no desire to engage in politics, as his business affairs occupy his entire time.

Harry Levy Robbed.

Harry Levy, formerly a clerk in Neuberger's store, now employed in Livingstone's store, Tamaqua, was, according to the Tamaqua Register, the victim of a base attempt at burglary Sunday night. Mr. Levy retired at the usual hour to his room in the United States hotel and was awakened shortly after midnight. He was surprised to see the window of his room open and on turning about perceived a figure passing through the doorway. He instantly gave the alarm, but the robber could not be found. Mr. Levy had before retiring snugly tucked a roll of bills in his bureau drawer, and the light-fingered visitor pilfered his trousers' pockets of but 40 cents in coin.

Firemen Order Uniforms.

The Citizens' Hose Company met last evening and received bids for the furnishing of new uniforms. There were four competitors, Joseph Neuberger, S. Senie, M. Refowich and an Allentown firm. The contract was awarded to Mr. Refowich at $11.90 per suit and $1 per cap—all the work on same to be done in Freeland. The uniform will consist of a double-breasted square-cut coat and trousers and will be made to order from medium heavy cloth of a dark green color. Caps will match the above. About fifty uniforms will be ordered.

Members of the company are requested to assemble at the meeting room on Sunday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock.

"Breezy Time" Last Evening.

"A Breezy Time" was presented last evening at the Grand opera house before an audience of fair size. Several new members appeared in the company since its last appearance here. E. B. Fitz and Miss Katharine Webster, who made this play so popular throughout the country, are not on the road this year, and many in the audience regretted their retirement. The performance, however, was all that could be expected, some of the specialties being very good.

Blast Furnace Lighted.

The large Bessemer iron blast furnace of the Carbon Iron and Steel Company, at Parryville, below Mauch Chunk, was lighted Tuesday evening, after an idleness of three years. Little Edith Butler, daughter of General Manager J. A. Butler, applied the torch, in the presence of a large gathering of townspeople who turned out en masse. The operation of this plant is the chief sustenance of the town, containing a population of upward of 500 people.

Additional Arc Lights.

The new borough contract with the Electric Light Company will go into effect on Saturday. It calls for forty-one arc lights and the electricians are busily engaged placing the extra lamps. Iron cross-arms are being used by the company to hold the new lamps, instead of extra poles.

Several of the new lights were turned on in South Heberton last evening and gave satisfaction to the residents of that section of the borough.

Patents Granted.

Reported by C. A. Snow & Co., Washington, D. C.

J. H. Bowden, Wilkes-Barre, screen-scraper.

C. W. Garis, Easton, button-machine.

C. W. Honabach, Park Place, screening apparatus.

J. W. Perry, Shamokin, pneumatic device for bicycles or vehicles.

Holiday and Holyday.

Tomorrow, being a legal holiday, the postoffice will be open only from 9:30 to 10:30 a. m. and from 7 to 8 p. m. The bank will be closed all day.

The day is also a holiday in several church calendars, and will be observed as such with special services by the Catholics, Episcopalians and others of town.

The very cold weather which prevails has a dampening effect upon expected Easter displays. Milliners, clothiers, etc., would have the day postponed a month or more if it were possible.

Beware of tricks on Saturday—April Fool's Day.

DEATH OF AGED PEOPLE.

Three Women Who Were Well Advanced in Years Died This Week.

Mrs. Bridget O'Donnell died on Tuesday morning at her daughter's home at Jeddo, aged 68 years. Deceased was the mother of a large family, of which nearly all survive her. She has one son alive in Ireland, in the town of Duncon, County Donegal. The daughters are: Mrs. Michael Helferty, with whom she made her home for the last twenty-five years; Mrs. James O'Donnell, Coldwater, Cerro Gordo county, Iowa; Mrs. Peter Gallagher, Bayonne City, N. J.; Mrs. William Rogers, Beaver Brook, and Mrs. Patrick Sweeney, Wilkes-Barre. The remains will be interred at St. Ann's cemetery at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Coll, the aged mother of ex-County Commissioner Anthony Coll, died on Monday evening at her home in East Mauch Chunk. She was in her 75th year. Death came very suddenly and unexpectedly in what appeared a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Coll was the widow of James Coll, one of old Luck Mountain's early settlers.

Mrs. Eliza Sprague, an old and respected resident of White Haven, died on Tuesday morning from ailments incident to old age. Mrs. Sprague was aged 79 years. She is survived by three daughters and three sons.

Crew Almost Asphyxiated.

The crew of a Philadelphia and Reading freight train had a thrilling experience in East Mahanoy tunnel Monday evening. A long train of heavy gondolas, loaded with bituminous coal, was being conveyed through the tunnel, and when in the midst of the steam of the forward engine, for some inexplicable reason, was insufficient to take it farther. The pushing engine made vain efforts to move the train ahead, and both engines puffed the tunnel full of bituminous sulphur.

The crew, almost exhausted, were fast being driven to desperation. The engineer sank to the floor of the cab unconscious. Noticing this, the fireman jumped into the cab and made an almost superhuman effort, and succeeded in slowly starting the train, which then proceeded through the tunnel.

About Cards of Thanks.

The Stroudsburg Times offers the following timely advice to its readers. The same is applicable everywhere:

"Cards of thanks to neighbors and friends for courtesies received on occasions of death and bereavement, printed in a public newspaper, are in very bad form. They are out of fashion. Don't have them printed any more. There is no necessity for them. We are not living in a barbaric community where our neighbors and friends gladly and cheerfully render us the kindness they can at times of bereavement. They don't expect a card of public thanks and its bad form to make one."

The Stationery Hind.

"Can you oblige me with a sheet of paper?"

"Yes."

"And an envelope?"

"Yes."

"And a postage stamp?"

"No, but here's 2 cents."

"Thank you, that will do just as well."

"Don't you want me to bring you a letter box?"

"I'm afraid it will be too much trouble."

"Not at all. If you'll wait around here half a minute I'll call up the postal department at Washington."

"May I ask what for?"

"I'm going to request them to put the postoffice on wheels and have it follow you around."

"How kind. I'm afraid this package is a little heavy for your stamp. Haven't you 2 cents more?"

Training for the Event.

"Why, professor, I wasn't aware that you went in for athletics to this extent."

"I don't ordinarily, but (biff) I've got to (ding) discharge our cook next week (oang)."

John's Butter-Making Chills.

"I notice there's a good deal of ague in this part of the country," said the tourist, who had stopped at the farmhouse for a drink of water. "That's a great drawback. It unfit a man for work entirely, does it not?"

"Gently it does," said the sallow woman who handed him a tin cup. "Still, when John has a right hard fit of the shakes we fasten the churn dasher to him, and he brings the butter inside of fifteen minutes."

Impeachment of Three Judges.

A stir was created in Scranton on Tuesday by the announcement that proceedings had been commenced at Harrisburg to impeach Judges R. W. Archibald, F. W. Gunster and H. M. Edwards, of the court of Lackawanna county. A petition was read in the lower house at Harrisburg, by Representative Fow, of Philadelphia, requesting the impeachment.

The impeachment is asked on the ground of certain alleged unconstitutional acts in connection with the trial of the cases of John and James Jennings against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, which grew out of the disaster at Mud Run, Carbon county, on October 10, 1888.

The case of John Jennings against the company was tried September 29, 1892, and a verdict of $5,000 granted in favor of the plaintiff, which was set aside by the trial judge as excessive. From that time to this the court has been attacked.

No sensational were many of the statements made that Cornelius Smith, attorney for the Jennings, was disbarred. He appealed to the supreme court and the disbarment was sustained; but he was permitted after two years to make application for reinstatement, provided he did not in the meantime repeat the offense.

When Smith several months ago applied for reinstatement Judge Purdy, of Wayne county, who passed upon the matter, refused to allow Smith to return to the bar.

Last fall he went before the voters of Lackawanna as a candidate for judge on a platform that contained a recital of his alleged wrongs. He was defeated and immediately tried to have the election of his successful rival, F. W. Gunster, set aside. In this he was also unsuccessful.

He has heretofore endeavored to get the attorney general of the state to begin impeachment proceedings against the Lackawanna judges.

Great Telephone Deal.

At Albany on Monday the American Telephone and Telegraph Company filed a certificate with the secretary of state announcing an increase in the capital stock of $75,000,000. This is $50,000,000 over the former capitalization, and one of the heaviest increases that has ever been recorded. The American Bell Telephone Company, chartered under the laws of Massachusetts, is the parent of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, as it also is of the New York Telephone Company.

It is said that the purpose of the increase was to absorb the parent concern, the American Bell Telephone Company, so that the latter could work under the liberal and elastic charter which the American Telephone and Telegraph Company holds in New York state. The corporation laws in Massachusetts are strict and rigidly enforced, and several times the Bell Company has run afoul of them.

The capital of the Bell Company is less than $26,000,000, but this does not represent its market value. Its net earnings are about $4,200,000 annually, and it has a tremendous surplus.

An Easter Souvenir.

An Easterlike treat will be given everybody who gets next Sunday's Philadelphia Press (April 2). From the splendid colored title page to the last page of features which will attract old and young there will be special treats in fiction. George R. Simms, one of the most noted writers of today; Paul Lawrence Dunbar, the negro sketch writer, and Fergus Hume, with his "Lady from Nowhere," will contribute. Easter sentiments will prevail the whole, with Easter bells and Easter lilies and Easter odes and Easter customs. Karl will give of his best. Frank G. Carpenter will tell of his travels. Anne Ritzenhouse will have two bright pages for women, and there will be prizes for the quickly clever. Be sure to get the Easter Press next Sunday.

Tolstol's Wife His Business Manager.

Tolstol leaves all practical matters relating to his publications to his wife. She supervises the printing, attends to the correspondence and reads the proofs. She has brought out two complete editions of his works, one in a sumptuous form, the other a cheap edition for the public. Their text is identical, but the editio de luxe has a number of portraits of the author, some of which cannot be obtained elsewhere.

EGG DECORATING.

WHAT CAN BE DONE IF YOUR TOUCH IS ARTISTIC.

Some Quaint Ideas Which Are Easily Carried Into Execution—How Good Taste and Humor May Be Inexpensively Displayed By Skillful Hands.

Should egg shell work ever become popular it must be introduced at this season when eggs are so cheap that it costs but little to experiment with them. A foreign paper declares that this form of fancy work is becoming fashionable and that it lends itself to artistic designs, which at first might seem incredible.

The materials for making a school master consist of an empty egg shell, a frill of white tissue paper, a little cardboard and enough black silk to cover the cap. These, with some very strong, clear gum or glue are the stock in trade, with a little black paper to cover the white cardboard of the tiny stand. This latter is made from a small square of cardboard one inch and a half square and on it is glued a round of cardboard one inch high and two inches and a half in length before it is joined together for a collar. The frill of white tissue paper is three quarters of an inch high and the size of the trencher board across is two inches and a half. There is a tassel, of course, made of strands of black silk and this silk, with which the cap is covered, must be of a dull description or else it will bear no resemblance to the original cloth. Of course, the egg itself is the head, the features being drawn with black ink.

The gray bat is a clever and original design, composed of black paper and an eggshell, also stained black. India ink or a very good black ink being used. The egg forms the body of the bat. The measure eight inches from tip to tip. The paper has a fold in it which forms the feet of the bat. This is strongly glued to the back of the egg shell and a string is also fastened for it to hang by. Two tiny pointed pieces of paper are stuck on as ears, and a touch of Chinese white is given for the eyes, nose and mouth.

Another novelty is the embroidered egg. It is soaked in vinegar to make it
