

NEW YORK'S RACE WAR.

Police Keep Rioters Down by Hard Work.

New York, Aug. 17.—There was a seething turmoil on the west side of the city last night. Men and boys took up the hue and cry against the negroes and attempted deeds of violence which met with no serious police opposition at the outset.

The war of races which began on Wednesday night was continued until it had gone to extreme lengths, and the police, under orders from Chief Devery, began to disperse the crowd. The instructions were emphatic. All loiterers were to be driven from Eighth avenue between Forty-second and Twenty-third streets, without delay. The chief's command to his men was:

"You'll have to knock a few heads off. You may as well begin first as last. Knock out a few, and you will bring the others to their senses."

The policemen carried out these instructions to the letter and did not hesitate to use their night sticks. As usual, the innocent were the chief sufferers. Crowds had flocked to Eighth avenue to witness the riots, and men, women and children were clubbed without favor.

Before this drastic measure was adopted, negroes had been baited wherever they had been seen. They were pushed, beaten and kicked by young men, and the usual attitude of the police was to push their way through to the victims, use their clubs on them and then carry them to the police station, where the brutality was continued.

The funeral of Policeman Robert J. Thorpe, who was killed by a negro on Sunday, attracted an enormous crowd to Thirty-seventh street and Ninth avenue in the afternoon. Threats of violence against the negroes were made on every side, and the colored residents of the neighborhood kept out of the street in order to avoid trouble.

Many of the colored families, believing that their lives were endangered in their own homes, packed up all their belongings and started away, while others sought temporary refuge with friends in other sections of New York.

Harris Caught in Washington.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Arthur Harris, who is wanted in New York for the murder of Policeman Thorpe Monday night, has been arrested in this city at the home of his mother. Harris arrived here unaware of the serious charge against him and sought the house where his mother lived seven years ago, but found she had moved. By reason of his inquiries concerning her present address the police authorities learned of his presence in the city and hastened to his mother's home, where he was taken into custody. The New York authorities were notified.

FOR AND AGAINST POWERS.

Lawyers Summing Up Evidence in Goebel Murder Trial.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 17.—Attorney Bradley yesterday continued his speech for the prosecution in the trial of former Secretary of State Powers, charged with complicity in the killing of William Goebel. He told the jury that it had been proved that Caleb Powers had said: "If no one else will kill him, I will kill him myself"; that Youtsey said Goebel could be killed from Powers' office and the assassin could run down into the basement and never be discovered. A few seconds after the shooting it was proved, he said, that Youtsey did run down into the basement, out through the barber's shop and back through the east entrance into the office next to Powers'.

Attorney Bradley was followed by J. H. Tinsley of Barrenville for the defense. He said the only well substantiated statement made by Caleb Powers before Jan. 30 was to the effect that he would give up his office and everything and go home rather than enter into any sort of combination with anybody to use cartridges to settle the contest. He thought one fact stood out above every other in this case and that was that Powers was not within 20 miles of Frankfort when the shot was fired, had locked his office before he left, and no one was locked in it; that he could not possibly have known who fired the shot or where it was fired from.

Captain Benjamin B. Golden also spoke for the prosecution and Major W. C. Owens for the defense.

Tesla's Latest Invention.

New York, Aug. 17.—A patent has been granted to Nikola Tesla for an invention which, if his claims are borne out, will prevent the escape of electricity from a wire. Tesla's invention, it is claimed, solves the insulation problem in a simple manner. He insulates the wire by passing through it or near it air kept at a low temperature, producing a coat of ice on the wire which the insulator funds by repeated and extensive experiments, cannot be broken through by the strongest currents and at the same time gives an insulation that costs practically nothing.

Mr. Bryan in Lincoln.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 17.—Lincoln tendered a handsome welcome to Mr. Bryan upon his return to his home here after an absence of ten days. He was met at the depot by a large concourse of people, who escorted him to his residence and who, after listening to a speech there and shaking hands with both Mr. and Mrs. Bryan, only dispersed to meet in the evening with many others at a reception given in the state capitol grounds which partook of the nature of an official function.

President Dines at Chevy Chase.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The president and Mrs. McKinley, the members of the cabinet now in the city and others dined at the Country Club, Chevy Chase, near Washington, last night, the party being the guests of Secretary Root. Others present were Secretary and Mrs. Gage, Postmaster General Emory Smith, Secretary Wilson, Senator Foraker, Adjutant General Corbin and Secretary Cortelyou.

The Milk Trust.

Middletown, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The milk producers of Walton at an enthusiastic meeting voted to sign no more milk contracts pending action by the Five States Milk Producers' association. The farmers favor building creameries in the event of a general strike.

DEMANDS OF THE MINERS

8. The law is unable to protect us in our legal rights against the power of corporate greed, for most of the operators refuse to obey the law and pay us semi-monthly.

9. Favoritism in the mines gives more than a fair share of cars and work to certain individuals, whose increased earnings are often heralded abroad, while most of us make scarcely enough to live on.

10. Operators reap over 200 per cent when they compel us to buy powder from them at $2.75 a keg.

11. Compulsory buying in company stores, which charge exorbitantly, take up all balances we might save from our earnings.

12. It is unfair to compel us to hire certain doctors at certain prices.

After summing up their grievances, the miners solemnly declare that they much prefer conciliation and arbitration to strikes. They respectfully ask the operators to meet them in the joint conference, and begging for a spirit of fairness and equity on the part of the operators, assure them and the public that the miners will withdraw from any position that is shown to be wrong.

Although a definite scale has not been decided upon, the full discussion by delegates from all the sections of the region has cleared the atmosphere and so crystallized opinions that the men will know fairly definitely what they want when they meet the operators.

John Goble, an aged Hungarian of town, left his home here on Tuesday to visit Sandy Run friends. He failed to return that evening, and upon investigation it was found that he did not reach Sandy Run. Fire Bugs at Rock Glen.

Rock Glen, a little village on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Derringer, was the scene of a fire Wednesday morning. A large hotel and a building containing a storeroom and dwelling were totally destroyed. The fire is supposed to have been the work of incendiaries. The proprietor of the hotel, Charles B. Fetterman, lost everything, and the occupant of the dwelling, Mrs. Elizabeth Myers, a sister-in-law of J. D. Myers, of Freeland, saved but little. The properties were owned by Mrs. Myers and were valued at over $7,000. No clue to the guilty parties has yet been discovered.

Runaway Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon while John Phillips, of North Centre street, was transacting business in a store on South Centre street, his horse became frightened by the sudden approach of a trolley car. Before Mr. Phillips could enter the carriage the horse dashed up Centre street at a full gallop. He was stopped however, by a passer-by at South street before much damage was done.

One of the rear wheels of the carriage was completely demolished and the horse was also slightly injured about the legs and breast.

Filmflammers at Work.

Two unknown young men called at Joseph Dombinski's saloon, Washington and Carbon streets, yesterday, and after receiving drinks tendered a $10 bill in payment. The saloon man gave them the proper change, but the young men asked to have several of the bills and coins changed to smaller denominations, and finally mixed up Dombinski so badly that he gave them $5 over the proper amount. The loss was not discovered until after the men had left the saloon.

The services of Constable Welsh were immediately procured and after a chase the culprits were caught and brought to town. At a hearing before Squire Shovlin the men returned to Dombinski his money and paid the costs.

Unbridled Rowdism.

The people of Upper Lehigh are justly indignant at the conduct of many of the parties which pass through that town on their way to and from the Honey Hole on Sundays. Women and children have repeatedly been insulted on the streets of the town by howling bands of rowdies who respect neither themselves or others. Last Sunday the conduct of several young men who drove through in wagons was intolerable, their language shocking every person within hearing.

It is stated upon good authority that any further repetitions of this offense will be promptly met and the offenders dealt with according to law.
