PARADE ON MARCH 17

How St. Patrick's Day Will Be Observed.

Anniversary of Ireland's Patron Saint Will Be Fittingly Celebrated by the Catholic Societies of Freeland.

In accordance with the custom that has been followed for many years past in Freeland, the local Catholic societies will observe St. Patrick's Day on Monday next by participating in the parade which has been arranged for the occasion.

The indications are that the members of the several societies will turn out in large numbers, and if the weather is favorable a creditable demonstration may be looked for.

The following is the official program:

Posted the Notices.

"The rate of wages now in effect will be continued until April 1, 1903, and thereafter, subject to sixty days' notice. Local differences will, as heretofore, be adjusted with our employes at the respective collieries."

The above is a copy of notices which were posted this morning at several collieries throughout the Lehigh region. Each notice is signed by the general manager or superintendent of the company operating the mine where posted.

The notice is similar to the one posted a year ago, which the United Mine Workers accepted with the understanding that a written agreement with the union would be signed this year.

Whether or not the above statement from the coal companies will be sufficient to ward off a strike is questionable. The firms heretofore which had posted notices up to noon were Markle & Co. and Cox & Bros. & Co. In the Hazleton region the Lehigh Valley Coal Company and Pardee & Co. have them posted.

Check Forger Released.

Victor Houseman, of Lehigh county, was arrested on Wednesday evening by Officer Molk on complaint of Stephen Drasher, who charged him with forging his name to a check for $12. Houseman was placed in the borough lockup, but was released yesterday, as Mr. Drasher was averse to prosecuting him.

The forger tried to cash the check in several saloons, but was unsuccessful. One of these places was Bernhard Dinn's, and the proprietor notified Mr. Drasher. The latter notified the police and his arrest quickly followed.

Cannot Free the Bridges.

Judge Wheaton has put an end to the movement of a number of taxpayers of this county to compel the commissioners to purchase the toll bridges and make them free.

He declares that the act of May 5, 1899, relating to the purchase of bridges by counties, is unconstitutional because it is special legislation. He says it refers only to such toll bridges as are erected and in operation at the time the act was passed and makes no provision for those that may be erected thereafter.

Freeland Bock Tomorrow.

Freeland bock beer will be on sale tomorrow at all the leading saloons, hotels and restaurants in the region. Those who have sampled the various bocks which are to be placed on the market this season pronounce the Freeland brew the finest bock ever offered in town.

Bankrupt Sale Tomorrow.

The stock of the Philadelphia One-Price Clothing House will be placed on sale at 8.30 o'clock tomorrow morning. The stock was recently purchased at bankrupt sale and will now be offered at from 40 to 50 per cent of its actual value. Big bargains await all who call.

MISCELLANEOUS ADVERTISEMENTS.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR THE OFFICE OF STATE MINE INSPECTOR.

Notice is hereby given that an examination of candidates for the office of Inspector of Mines for the First Anthracite District (Luzerne county), will be held in the High School Building, corner Union and Washington streets, Wilkesbarre, Pa., on April 1, 2, 3 and 4, 1902, beginning at 10 a. m. When and where all candidates are requested to present themselves for examination. No previous notice of intention to apply is required.

Morris Williams, Albert C. Leisinger, John Gilhooley, James Llewellyn, Robert Monroe, Board of Examiners.

LOST.—A small, heavily-built cow; has large white and brown spots and is dehorned. Any person knowing anything concerning this animal is requested to notify the owner, Robert Everett, No. 5 Upper Lehigh.

FOR SERVICE.—Three bulls—one large, one medium and one small. Apply to Geo. Malinky, Fern street, Freeland.

LOCAL NOTES WRITTEN UP

Short Items of Interest to All Readers.

Happenings of the Past Two Days in and Around Freeland Recorded Without Waste of Words.

At Block, the veteran business manager, is in Freeland making arrangements for the appearance of the Dot Karroll Company at the opera house for three nights next week. Judging from the many flattering press notices which he has shown, this company is beyond a doubt one of the very best repertoire organizations on the road and Freeland theatre-goers will no doubt be pleased at having such an attraction in town.

The scale presented by Local Union No. 905, United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, has been signed by Freeland contractors and builders and there will be no trouble between carpenters and their employes this season. Journeymen workmen are to receive $2.40 per day; first-year apprentices, $1.40; second-year apprentices, $1.70; and third-year apprentices, $1.90.

Notices have been posted at Hazle Brook notifying the employes of J. S. Wentz & Co. that collections of store accounts, physician's bills, clergymen's dues, etc., will be made through the office, the same as before the passage of the law designed to prohibit such practices.

Ritchie, the renowned entertainer, will be the attraction at the Grand opera house tomorrow evening. He comes here under the auspices of the Mining and Mechanical Institute and is very highly recommended.

Read the third page of the Tribune today. Neuberger's big store has some important news for you on that page.

The Balakava Drum Corps will be one of the noisiest musical organizations in the parade on Monday. The corps has been fortunate in securing the services of a "printer's devil," in the person of Eddie McNellis, of the Tribune.

Bert Airey, of Hazleton, has leased the storeroom recently vacated by Joseph Birkbeck, went to Refowich's clothing store, and will open in the near future with a stock of chinaware, crockery, glassware, etc.

A number of the Freeland members of the A. O. H. will accompany the degree team of Division 19 this evening to Eckley, where several candidates will be made members of Division 20, of that town.

F. M. Everett, the cashier of the First National bank, is removing to Freeland today from Mt. Carmel. He will make his home in the McCarthy block, corner of Front and Ridge streets.

Fresh fish every day during Lent at Hartman's market, next to Central hotel.

The Lehigh Traction Company's cars are again running to South street, the terminal of the line. No explanation has been offered for their action of last week in stopping at the borough line.

Mrs. J. J. Kuntz yesterday attended the seventh annual convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society, held at Weatherly. Mrs. Kuntz is president of the society.

Candidates for the office of mine inspector of the First district are notified in another column of this issue to stand examination at Wilkesbarre on April 1, 2, 3 and 4.

A lecture on "Wireless Telegraphy" was delivered last evening before the students of the M. & M. Institute by J. Bennett Smith, of Kingston.

A branch of the Daughters of Naomi, the ladies' auxiliary to the Knights of the Mystic Chain, will be organized here next month.

Division 6, A. O. H., has ordered 200 fine hats from McMenamin's store. The hats will be worn by the members in the parade on St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. Michael McAndrews, of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bernard Boyle, corner of Pine and Walnut streets.

The vacant storeroom in Sachs' building will be made ready for the First National bank next week.

Ice cream at Merkt's.

The members of the Royal Arcanum held an interesting meeting last evening, followed by a social session.

Local contractors have been informed that an advance in the price of lumber is due next month.

William Boyle's restaurant on South Centre street has been repainted.

TOMORROW

Begins the

Great Bankrupt Stock Sale

of Fine

Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shoes, Furnishings, Etc.,

at the

Phila. One-Price Clothing House.

$18,000 Worth of High-Grade Seasonable Goods go on sale tomorrow at from 40 to 50 cents on the dollar. Enormous bargains, which for lack of space and time cannot be given in detail here, await purchasers. This is a genuine bankrupt sale and the loss we are compelled to sustain is your gain.

Entire Stock Must Be Sold.

Nothing has been reserved. We will give you two garments for nearly the value of one. Save your pennies and dollars for this sale, for nothing of its kind may ever be held in Freeland again. This is the chance of a lifetime to buy reliable goods at half their value. Keep your eyes open and don't be misled. Remember the time and place.

THEATRICAL.

"The Irish Pawnbrokers," booked at the Grand on Wednesday evening, is a new three-act farce comedy founded on original up-to-date lines. The success of this latest production was demonstrated at the outset of its career and Manager Joe. W. Spears regards the piece as more valuable than a gold claim in the Nome region and much easier to handle. Not all farce comedies prove to be yellow nuggets, but "The Irish Pawnbrokers" is the "real thing" from a box-office standpoint. It is full of comical characters and fun-making incidents. Levi Murphy is described as a pawnbroker by birth; his son a bunch of bad habits; Mrs. Murphy with "the diamond habit," Yalock Holmes, detective of birthmarks and several other amusing stage personalities. The two American Macks, whose work as Irish comedians has made them famous, and that dainty comedienne, Mazie Trumbull, appear as the chief fun-makers and are aided by other clever performers.

In speaking of the Dot Karroll Company, which comes to Freeland for three nights, the Ashland Telegram has the following to say:

Dot Karroll is all "it." In the role of Mamie Brennan, the Bowers newsboy, in "A Night in Chinatown," she took all the peaches off the basket at the opera house last evening. She was true blue from the heels up, and there wasn't a boy in the house who was not willing to fall down before her. Everything that she had to do she did well, and her company backed her up to a man—and woman. The play gives scope for lots of thrills, and not one of them was missed. There were capable people filling the role, appropriate scenery, and it was put on in truly realistic style.

Harry Antrim in his whistling specialties, was a winner all around. Yetta Peters sang a couple of rich contralto songs, and Dot Karroll's dances were up to a high mark, as were a number of other specialties presented.

This evening the company presents "The Corner Grocery," and everyone who was there last evening will be there again tonight.

DRIFTON.

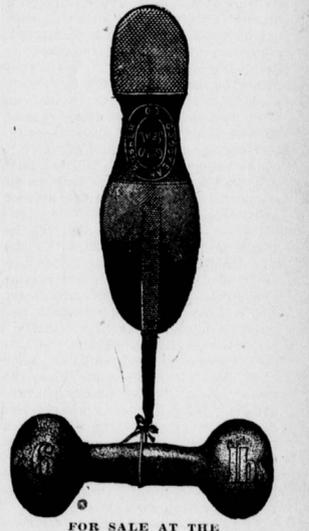

Tommy Boyle and Pete McTague leave today for New Jersey.

Engle No. 28, which has been undergoing repairs in the shops, was turned out yesterday.

The electric lights of the breaker were dismissed yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock owing to high water.

The electric lights recently placed in the D. S. & S. yards, twenty-three in number, were turned on last evening.
