Correspondence.

PAUPACK BRIEFS. PAUPACK, NOV. 20.—Mr. John Ball our very agreeable agent for the Honesdale Citizen is traveling through our town one day last week collecting and renewing subscriptions.

The schools are all closed, the Teachers being away to Institute. Miss Nellie Dingman of Hawley is spending a few days with friends in Paupack, the guest of Miss Franc Pellet, also Masters Joe and Don Waite.

Mr. John Ames of Hawley, came along the other evening very much broken down, out of sixteen spokes eleven were broken loose from the fellys, said he had started out early in the morning and soon broke down. Mr. C. A. Pellet helped him fix it up to the best of his ability, and he went on his way rejoicing.

Mr. A. J. Nyce has a house full of hunters staying a few days, from Scranton and Wilkesbarre.

Mrs. A. K. Killam has been taking an extended trip through western New York visiting among friends and relatives, is expected to return this week.

Mr. B. T. Killam's party has not been very successful. Have not hung up a deer yet.

PAUPACK, NOV. 19.—The Press is welcomed every week now. The good people of Paupack should subscribe liberally, only one dollar and fifty cents per year for a paper worth double that sum.

Our teachers, Lafayette Killam, Eunice Kimble and Miss Ann Gummor, are attending the teachers' institute at Milford this week. The Wayne county institute is also in session.

Misses Katie Killam and Nettie Dingman, of Hawley, are spending a few days in Paupack.

B. K. Nyce, of Hamilton, spent Sunday with his parents.

B. F. Killam, Esq., went to Scranton on business this week. His party is still camping and don't mean to break up until they get a deer.

Hank Macker killed a wild cat Thursday, which measured the length of his gun. That beats the one Kimble caught in his trap.

Rev. J. C. Raymond preached here Sunday.

GLENS EYRE ECHOES. GLENS EYRE, Nov. 19.—On the night of Nov. 11 some entered the store of Charles Chidester and took about $40 together with boots, skirts, mittens, collars, &c. The thieves left no clue.

Mr. F. N. Theobald, Erie agent at this place has a two weeks' vacation, which in company with his wife and daughter, he is spending visiting. He took his hunting outfit along.

Mr. A. E. Smith, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the owner of Glen Eyre store and property, spent a few days here last week hunting, but met with poor success. He expects to try again soon.

Wesley Griffin was called away Nov. 11 to attend the funeral of his father, Mr. Geo. W. Griffin, at Westbrookeville, N. Y.

Mr. C. D. Mallory, of Calicoon, is acting as Erie agent here during Mr. Theobald's absence.

Mrs. Isaac Carhoff, who sprained her ankle very badly some time since is improving.

Frank Braisted, Thomas Hanes, Wally and Lewis Sanger, of Port Jervis, came up to have a few days' sport hunting.

MATAMORAS EVENTS. MATAMORAS, NOV. 19.—We have had considerable rain lately, and no longer hear of the drought. The water in the streams and wells is not as plentiful as we could wish however, and several in Matamoras are digging new wells, for present use and to guard against future contingencies.

Mr. A. W. Balch is erecting a handsome dwelling for his own use, in front of the Hope Evangelical church.

Wedding cards are out announcing the marriage of Emma C. Sampson to Mr. Charles C. Cook on Wednesday afternoon Nov. 27.

The Ladies' Christian Union of Hope Evangelical church is making extensive preparations for their annual fair and supper to begin on the 18th of December, in the store rooms of Mr. Eagan on River street near the bridge. The ladies expect to have a fine assortment of fancy goods suitable for Christmas presents and new housekeepers, and in fact something for everybody. Last, but not least, they will provide an elegant supper of which due notice will be given later. Ice cream and home made candy will be on call galore.

SCULLS. MONTAIGUE, NOV. 20.—County Superintendent Hill made the schools of Montague a visit on Thursday last week.

The teachers' institute for Sussex county will be held at Newton, commencing Monday, Nov. 25th and 27th. The Board of Education has made a rule "that all teachers employed in the county must attend the institute and no deduction shall be made by the trustees from the salary of any teacher while they are in attendance."

The Board of Education of Montague at their meeting Nov. 16, employed Mr. Frank Dupue, of Sandyston, to teach the Brick House school in place of Mr. Van Kitten, who resigned to accept a position in New York. They also passed a resolution to the effect that no scholar suspended from one school could attend another without permission of the board.

The entertainment and supper held in the Reformed church Tuesday evening was well attended. The program consisted of dialogues, recitations and singing which was followed by a supper. The proceeds amounted to about $20.

On Thursday night of last week the barn of William Henn, with its contents, was burned. The fire was discovered in time to remove the stock with the exception of one horse and a pig which were burned. This building stood on a farm lying between the river and clove roads formerly owned by Jacob C. Hornbeck.

The price of fur has advanced in Montague, we heard of a fox skin that certain parties paid ten dollars for and it was only a common red fox at that.

The farmers have finished gathering their crops and have nothing to do but to dispose of them in various ways, the principal one is feeding stock. When we consider the amount of work that is required during eight months in order that the farmer and his stock may live the remaining four it is surprising that "the course of empire" do not take a southerly course where the winters are only a continuation of fall.

Mr. Martin V. Cole, whose barn was burned in the early part of the fall, has built sheds for his horses and cattle and will wait until spring to build a barn.

On Tuesday next the Commissioners of Appeal will meet at the Brick House Hotel to hear the complaints of those who have been assessed too high.

Last Boat of the Season. The last loaded boat of the season, says the Gazette, on the Delaware and Hudson canal passed through Port Jervis last week. Light boats will continue running until those now started have reached Honesdale. Loaded boats will continue to Kings ton, before the canal will close for the season. This is an unusually early date at which to discontinue boating and many are of the opinion that the tying up of the boats at either end of the canal may mean some change in the program for next year.

Why Not Send Them as Missionaries to Tammany? The two bruisers, Corbett and Fitzsimmons, after skirmishing about the country, have finally given up the proposed fight, as none of the states will permit it. If these two bullying loafers, says the Orange County Farmer, could both be put into a bag, heavily weighted, and dropped into the middle of the Atlantic ocean, the world would be better off; and if these scallawags engaged in promoting the fight could be sent for a short term to the penitentiary things would be in a still better condition.

Of Interest to Liquor Dealers. Next year all petitioners for license in Northampton county will be considered as new applicants. An order was made by the Court at Easton W. W. Schugler, P. J., and H. W. Scott, J., Nov. 12, 1895, which directs that all petitioners for license in 1896 will be treated as new applicants, and that every petitioner must make up his case with the same precision as if presented for the first time. The Free Press is of the opinion that this order means the wounding out of a number of places now licensed. "Wounding out" is a good word.

THANKSGIVING.

Proclamation of Governor Hastings for a Proper Observance of the Day.

Governor Hastings issued the following proclamation on Monday afternoon, Nov. 11th:

In the Name and by Authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—Executive Department.

PROCLAMATION. The people of the Commonwealth, recognizing the constant forbearance, loving kindness and gracious hand of Almighty God during the past year, are called upon, in accordance with the custom of the fathers, and in pursuance of the proclamation of the President of the United States, to set apart one day for praise and thanksgiving;

Now, therefore, I, Daniel H. Hastings, governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do recommend Thursday, the 28th day of November, of the present year, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

On that day let us give up the occupations and cares of every day life. Let us assemble in our usual places of worship to offer thanksgiving and praise to God. Let us, as far as possible, reunite the family circle and strengthen the ties of home and fireside. Let us, with grateful hearts, acknowledge Him who has spared our lives; whose bounty has made the year prosperous; whose hand has stayed pestilence; whose mercy has made us happy and contented.

Let us invoke His blessing upon the years to come, to the end that His protecting hand shall always be with us; that we may continue in the ways of peace and prosperity that we may be inclined to that rectitude of life, as individuals and as a people which shall obtain His continued favor; that our love for home and country may be continually strengthened; and, as a testimony of our gratitude, let us with bountiful hand remember the poor, the needy and unfortunate who dwell in our midst.

Given under my hand and the great seal of state, at the city of Harrisburg, this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and ninety-five, and of the commonwealth the one hundred and twentieth.

By the governor, DANIEL H. HASTINGS.

FRANK REEDER, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

She Burned a School House. Mrs. Philip P. Miller is now confined in the county jail to await her trial for arson. The poor authorities of Middle Smithfield have taken charge of her child.

REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS. Murders and robberies on the Mountain Roads Near Hazleton.

HAZLETON, Pa., Nov. 20.—John Oestky, his wife and his brother Peter were sent to Wilkesbarre jail to await trial on the charge of having murdered John Kokovack under the verdict found by the coroner's jury.

Last night the jury considered the shooting of John Holodock at Mineville on Sunday night and brought in a verdict of deliberate murder against John Boback, who will be sent to jail today.

The reign of lawlessness along the mountain roads continues in spite of this action. Three more highway robberies occurred yesterday, and one will probably add to the murder list.

John Hone, a driver for a local beef company, was held up at Lattimer, and at the point of a revolver he was compelled to empty his pockets.

William Walters, while driving an undertaker's wagon near Ebervale, was shot at twice.

John Habela was waylaid by masked men near Cranberry and robbed of $50. He was kicked into insensibility, and the doctors say he will die. The police have maintained a vigilant search, but only one suspect—Frank Doney—has been arrested. He had a revolver with two empty chambers.

The citizens are growing desperate, and there is talk of organizing a vigilance committee of 100 men to check the atrocities.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN ROBBERY. Four Men Hold Up an Express Train Near Morrisville, Pa.

TRENTON, Nov. 16.—In regulation western style four tramps made an ineffectual attempt to rob an express train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Morrisville, just across the river from here, in Pennsylvania, last night.

The express train, which is due here at 10 o'clock, was brought to a stop near the cars and suddenly demanded that the passengers turn over their valuables.

When the train crew had recovered from their surprise, they tackled the tramps and speedily hustled them from the car.

HER NAME IS OLGA. A Daughter Born to the Car and Crania of Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 16.—The announcement of the czarina occurred last evening at 9 o'clock. A daughter was born to the czar and tsarina. Both mother and child are doing well.

Court physicians in attendance at the announcement of the czarina report the child to be a handsome girl, and they add that the mother is rapidly recovering. Service connected with the birth of the infant were held in accordance with the rites of the Orthodox Greek church. The baby has been named Olga.

An Ex-Surgeon's Suicide. CLIFTON, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Ex-Surgeon Joseph S. Avery, aged 69 years, committed suicide by drowning himself in his cistern. Mr. Avery was a lawyer by profession and had offices in Utica. He was surrogate of Oneida county for 14 years and was postmaster of this village from 1857 to 1860. Mr. Avery had been suffering from melancholia for several weeks past.

BOYS WRECK A TRAIN

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL EXPRESS THROWN FROM THE TRACK.

They Tramped With the Rails, Derailing the Train—The Engineer and Two Tramps Killed—Fireman Fatally Hurt—Robbery the Apparent Purpose.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 20.—Train No. 4, the fast mail express on the New York Central road, was wrecked about a mile west of Rome at an early hour today. The disaster was the work of train wreckers. The engine and all of the cars of the train were ditched and completely wrecked. The engineer of the train, Nathan Hager of Albany, and two tramps were killed. The fireman, Christopher Wagner of Albany, and a mail clerk's porter named McCarthy were injured.

This is the second attempt within three weeks to wreck this train near the same spot. The place where the wreck occurred is on a heavy down grade, which extends from Verona into Rome, and the trains usually run down it at a very high rate of speed. This train, not stopping at Rome, generally goes down the grade very fast, and must have been running close to 70 miles an hour in order to make up a few minutes lost time. The country in the immediate vicinity is swampy, and a ditch from four to six feet in depth extends along the side of the track, and most of the time it is filled with water. The place is desolate, not a house being within a half mile.

The method adopted by the wreckers shows that their work was deliberately planned. They broke into the section house and in the morning took the rails and removed the spikes which fasten the rails to the ties. They then pulled out the spikes, throwing them into the ditch.

The moving of the rail was then left a few moments' work. In the attempt made three weeks ago the perpetrators managed only to remove one plate, as they did not have the necessary tools to complete their work. We think they were away the track walker discovered the deed, and a watch was kept that night, all trains being run at slow speed over the place.

The People on Board. Train No. 4 was in charge of Conductor Reynolds of Albany, and when it left this city at 8:30. It consisted of four mail cars and three sleeping cars. There were 81 postal clerks and 14 passengers aboard, besides the members of the train crew.

When the crash came the engine, No. 885, was thrown from the track into the ditch and completely submerged in the mire, only the driving wheels on the left side being in sight. The wrecked mail car, which was running to Albany with a lot of empty mailbags, was thrown two car lengths ahead of the engine and rolled down the bank, so that it lay lengthwise toward the rails. The second car, in which the mail clerks were working, was thrown on the tender of the engine and badly wrecked. The third and fourth cars were also thrown into the ditch, the ends and ends being broken. The first one of the sleeping cars was thrown from the rails and rolled completely over. The trucks lay some distance from the rails. The second car was simply turned on its side.

When the engine went over, Hager, the engineer, was carried with it and was buried in the mire, it being necessary to dig for his body. This was badly mangled, and death must have been instantaneous. The fireman, Wagner, was thrown from his seat into the mire, and when picked up was found to be badly injured about the head, and it is feared that he is internally injured. He was removed to a hospital in Oneida. The two tramps who were found dead are supposed to have been stealing a ride on the forward end of the first mail car, directly in the rear of the engine.

McCarthy, a mail clerk's porter, was descending to Albany, and when the accident occurred was sleeping on a shelf in the forward car. When the car went over, he was thrown to the floor and was badly injured about the head, receiving a gash over the brow. The other clerks and passengers, as well as the members of the crew, escaped with a few scratches and bruises.

Youthful Train Wreckers. ROME, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Four boys are in prison here charged with a fiendish crime—that of causing the wreck of train No. 4, the fast mail express on the New York Central road, yesterday. J. Watson Hildreth, one of them, has confessed, implicating Fred Bristol, Theodore Hibbard and Herbert Plato, all under 20 years of age. Hildreth is the son of a rich New York lawyer. He will be defended by Hon. J. I. Sayles, the criminal lawyer.

The other wreckers took the engine's toolhouse, a mile from Rome, and obtained a wrench and crowbar, with which all the spikes and fishplates from two opposite rails on the south track were removed.

The youthful train wreckers, whose object seems to have been robbery, will be arraigned for examination today.

A Centenarian Dead. ANDOVER, Conn., Nov. 16.—Horace Manville, Connecticut's distinguished centenarian, died at Woodbury. He was a descendant of the original De Manville family, which came to this country from France, and celebrated his one hundredth anniversary last March. He continued in full possession of his faculties up to a short time before his death.

Shot by a Burglar. HOBOKEN, N. J., Nov. 18.—Returning to his home at 274 Spring street, West Hoboken, John Smith surprised a burglar at work and was shot and dangerously wounded by the intruder. The wound was at first considered so dangerous that the anatomist's statement of the wounded man was taken, but it is now thought he will recover.

"LET US BE THANKFUL."

That our dinner on Nov. 28th is graced by the presence of the noble bird. Good things are occasions for thankfulness, and on the list of causes for congratulations the first place belongs to the opportunities we are offering in the line of WOMEN'S FANCY SLIPPERS AND BUT-TONED BOOTS.

Our stock is as reasonable as cranberry sauce, and in this case what is sauce for the turkey is sauce for the public, because all can have a slice of good fortune when we are selling a WOMAN'S HAND SEWED SHOE for $3.00, either flexible or welt soles. Dip into the bargain pot while it is boiling and before it simmers away. We have slippers to match any costume.
