OF IMPORTANCE TO HOTELS

Opinion of Judge Hare, of Philadelphia.

He Holds That Courts Have the Power to Impose Restrictions. And That Some Must Take Their Licenses with Conditions or Not at All.

Judge Hare handed down an opinion Jan. 23th, which in effect affirms the power of the court in granting liquor licenses to add to them stipulations as to the manner in which the license shall carry on business.

The facts are these: One Gerstlauer, who had been licensed with a stipulation that he would close his place at a certain hour of the night.

MAYOR CARLEY OPPOSED.

The Raines Excise Bill Would Reduce Revenues From Excise.

The New York Herald, this morning, publishes telegrams from 34 Mayors of cities and towns throughout New York state, giving their position on the Raines excise bill now pending at Albany.

PORT JERVIS N. Y., Jan. 23, 1896. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD: The town of Deerpark would lose $2,795, I am decidedly opposed to the Raines bill. J. B. CARLEY

The ground of opposition in nearly all cases is the reduction of revenue which, it is assumed, would result from raising the license fee and the consequent reduction of the number of saloons.—Union.

The Union characterizes the above as an absurd statement, and says $2,795 represents the total excise revenue of Deerpark for 1892; and asks if Mr. Carley means that none of the hotel or saloon-keepers of the town could afford to pay the license fee of $200 provided for by the Raines bill.

The Brooks law in Pennsylvania fixes the license fee at $150 in boroughs of which sum $90 is paid in the borough treasury. Cities pay a larger sum in proportion, and while the number of saloons and hotels may have been slightly decreased yet the revenue derived is much greater under a high than a low license.

A School Teacher in Trouble.

Miss Estey Hornbeck, daughter of the late James Hornbeck, of Montague, who is teaching her third term in Union school district, in Sandyston, was summarily dismissed by the Board of Education down there at their meeting, on Saturday, January 18th, at Centreville.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. Hattie Kauffman to Bertha Kauffman, dated Nov. 16, 1895. Land in Greene, 182 acres. Con. $1. Ent'd Jan. 23.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Philadelphia & New England Railroad Company held at the office of the secretary in Easton January 21, 1896, the following were elected:

Directors Chosen.

President—Charles Stewart. Directors—James R. Zearfass, Horace L. Magee and W. H. Tinsman, of Easton; P. E. Farnum and O. P. Howell, of Port Jervis; A. E. Lewis, H. B. Wells and J. H. Van Etten, of Milford; J. K. Bennett, of New York city; P. F. Fulmer, of Dingman's Ferry, and General Roy Stone, of Washington, D. C.

Est Horseshoe Like Beef.

A gentleman speaking about the sale of horse meat said, "In less than twenty years people will ridicule the idea of prosecuting a butcher in 1896 for selling horse meat, for it will be universally used by all classes. The only reason it is not yet used as commonly as beef is because of the high prices asked for horses. It is being used all over France and is there pronounced to be clean, healthy good meat. For that matter, mule meat even exceeds horseflesh, especially the hips and ears."

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bull are spending some days in New York city.

It is reported that S. C. Westfall, of Matamoras, will soon accept a situation as conductor on the L. road in New York.

Mrs. J. C. Bull and Miss Lizzie Bull expect to visit Mrs. J. J. Hart in Washington, next week.

Miss Susan Nichols will visit relatives, in Washington, and Philadelphia, in the near future.

Mrs. J. H. Van Etten entertained a party of ladies on Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. M. C. Nyce, of Egypt Mills, who is visiting at C. W. Bull's.

Miss Williemene Lewis gave a tea party to a number of her little companions Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cahill returned to Milford after a brief visit to New York.

Mr. James Bennett, of the Gazette made us a pleasant call Tuesday. He has been with his wife revisiting her former home in New Jersey.

Mr. Robert Struthers, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in town this week.

Landlord Emmet Wickham, of the Fowler House, Port Jervis, visited Milford, Tuesday.

Thos. N. Brink, who travels for a New York grocery house, was here this week on business.

Walter H. Wild, a well known traveling salesman, was domiciled at the Crissman House Tuesday.

Rev. Charles Beattie, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, of Middletown, N. Y., last Sabbath evening dismissed his congregation without a sermon, saying he had forgotten it and that there was no trace of his preparation remaining in his mind.

Hon. J. J. Hart made a flying trip last Sunday to Milford.

Jeremy Titman, of Lehman township, was in Milford Wednesday, to meet the remains of his daughter Melissa.

The genial conductor, of the Honesdale train, from Port Jervis, Hon. E. B. Hardenberg, has resumed his duties, after an absence of several weeks during which time he has been sitting as one of the members of the committee appointed by the last legislature to investigate the affairs of Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other places.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mr. John V. Quick, who was stricken with paralysis a few days ago.

John H. McCarty is seriously ill with erysipelas at his home in Dingman township.

H. H. Sanderson, of Massachusetts, was in town Wednesday.

Hon. E. Hornbeck and Howard Hawk, of Dingmans, made a brief visit to Milford Wednesday evening.

Pierre M. Niles was in town Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Clara Labes, of Palmyra township, is, we believe, the first woman in Pike county to have received the honor of a nomination for school director.

Mrs. Daniel Cole, of Newark, is visiting her mother-in-law, Mary Cole who is quite sick.

Edward H. Noyes is gaining in health, and is now said to be on the high road to recovery. This will be cheering news to his friends.

Any one who wastes time reading the Sunday papers cannot fail to be forcibly impressed with the fact that a disease which might aptly be called hypertrophy of the imagination is alarmingly prevalent. Port Jervis seems to have some chronic cases of the very worst type.

A RUNAWAY.

Ed. Peters, of Bushkill, and His Bay Mare Are to It.

Mr. Peters, the Stroudsburg Times relates, started from his home last Wednesday morning to take an early train on the D. L. & W. and drove one of his match team to a buggy.

When opposite the glass factory in East Stroudsburg the horse became frightened at a train and ran away. Mr. Peters finally succeeded in checking her and got out to take her by the bridle to turn her around, she suddenly swerved, knocking him down, and ran on.

The wheels of the wagon passed over Mr. Peters, but fortunately doing him no other damage than some slight bruises. The mare ran to the Indian Queen stables. The carriage was badly injured, but the horse was unhurt.

WILL TAKE EFFECT FEB. 1st.

Fare Raised Between Port Jervis and New York for Local Limited Tickets

A table of new rates of passenger fare is posted in the Erie depot to day. Among the many changes made the only one which affects this section is the local limited passenger fare between Port Jervis and New York city.

The fare has been advanced from $2.33 to $2.50. The new rates will take effect on and after February 1st.—Union.

RAILROAD NEWS.

From the Gazette, we learn that a gentleman had recently interviewed the president of the O. & W. R. R. in regard to the extension of that road from Ellenville to Kingston.

The president states that by reason of large expenditures now being made in Buffalo his company was not able to make the extension, but that the P. J. & M. R. R. had secured the right to use their tracks from Summitville to Ellenville and that they intended to extend their road to Kingston in the spring.

The gentlemen thought this project would be carried through, and that the Rondout valley would be one of the great routes between Albany and Philadelphia. This project must, to be complete take in the Delaware valley. We are in the line and our turn will surely come, only let us have patience and give proper encouragement to bona fide enterprises.

BRIEF MENTION.

—Mr. L. Shubiger, is making a large addition to his house in Dingman township. The frame is up, and the building ready to be enclosed, when completed this will be an attractive house and is finely located.

—Mr. C. F. Seitz, the contractor and builder is also constructing a large house in the same township, which will be a great improvement to the upper end of Water street.

—The Stroudsburg Daily Times is authority for saying that Hon. R. F. Schwartz, the representative for Monroe county has a letter from Attorney General McCormick in which he holds that constables heretofore elected for three years have a constitutional right to serve their full terms, and that in districts where constables were elected under the '93 law none should be elected this year.

—The big trans-atlantic liner St. Paul at last accounts had not moved from her bed, where she lies, opposite Long Branch, N. J. The sand is forming a bed along her keel, and every hour renders it more difficult to move her.

—George Snyder of Lehman township, killed a monster bear Monday of this week. Bruin weighed 400 pounds.

—A Phonographic concert will be given in Brown's Hall, Feb. 18, under the auspices of the Epworth League, of the M. E. Church. Fuller particulars later, but keep your minds on this date.

—Congressman Hart is rivaling Ed. Mott's rattlesnake stories in his great bear adventures in the Milford Dispatch.—Wayne Independent.

—The Presbyterian Church bell will not be rung for services Sunday on account of sickness nearby. Remember the hour in the morning is 10.30 and in the evening the congregation will worship with the M. E. Church at 7.30.

—Who complains of this kind of winter weather?
