INDIAN SCARE AT MIAMI FLAT

Two Apaches Load Up with Firewater and Shoot Up Ranch House

Miami Flat had an Indian scare last night. It wasn't quite as bad as the first reports brought to Globe, but it seemed to have given the people who live in the vicinity of Miami somewhat of a fright. It was similar to other Indian scares, a combination of thirsty redskins, had booze and plenty of cartridges.

"Jack the Ripper," whose correct cognomen is said to be Jack Walker, arrived in the city last evening at about 7:30, after riding his pony with the throttle wide open all the way from Miami Flat, and informed the sheriff's office that a number of Indians were shooting up the ranch houses of John Kiser and the McLanes. Deputy Sheriff Jack Knighton and Bob Anderson immediately got their horses and started out with Walker for the scene of the disturbance.

The Indians were nowhere in sight when the officers reached Miami, but they learned there that two Indians had been shooting promiscuously around the houses. At McLane's they were told that the Indians were creating a disturbance and had been ordered away, but they answered with a volley of Winchester shots, which fortunately did not strike anyone.

Knighton and Anderson started on a hunt about that section and in a tent found the new ditcher smelter they found one of the offenders, a well known Indian in this vicinity. His name is Henry Clay Chil-chu-a-na, a son of the noted Apache chief, Chil-chu-a-na, who is now winding up a strenuous career in aboriginal simplicity at Rice. When located, Henry was wearing a .45 revolver and a belt full of cartridges. All the chambers of the gun were empty. He refused to give the name of his companion and also refused to tell the officers what had become of his Winchester. He was brought into town and placed in a cell in the county jail.

Chil-chu-a-na had been drinking, but when the officers wanted him to tell the number of his companions in the shooting, he absolutely refused to peech and told the officers that he would die before telling. This is not the first time there has been similar trouble at Miami Flat and the officers are of the opinion that the Indians secure their liquor at that point. Sheriff Thompson intends to cause an investigation into the alleged selling of liquor to Indians by saloons in that vicinity.

Mexicans Married

Yesterday morning Justice of the Peace Rawlings united in marriage Pedro Castenada and Rosa Marcell at his office.

A Red Letter Day

Superintendent C. C. Mallard of the Gila Valley, Globe & Northern railway system, was the recipient of numerous congratulations Sunday evening. The occasion was the arrival on time of the passenger train for the first time since the new schedule went into effect two months ago. Mr. Mallard refused to give the press an extended interview on the cause of the innovation, but intimated that a similar event might be looked for occasionally, as the company expects to increase its dividends to a considerable extent by the coal oil saved through not being compelled to light the incandescents on the trip up from Bowie.

Young Engineer Weds

J. C. Ryan Jr., who is with the G. V. & N. engineer corps, and Miss Edith Boyd of Bisbee were united in marriage yesterday morning at Solomonsville and arrived in Globe last evening. They expect to make their home in this city. Mr. Ryan is a son of J. C. Ryan, superintendent of bridges and construction for the El Paso & Southwestern, with headquarters at Douglas, and he has been connected with the local road for the last year. His bride is a charming young lady, who has made her home for a number of years at Bisbee, where her parents reside.

MINER PERHAPS FATALLY SHOT

Mistaken for Wildcat and Shot by Another Miner Near Gibson Camp

Bob Burch, a miner employed at the Bierce and Kaltenbach camp a half mile from Gibson's, arrived in the city this morning at 2 o'clock and gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff Duncan for shooting and probably fatally wounding a miner named Gilmore, who is employed at Al West's camp. After hearing Burch's story, Duncan released him from custody and Dr. J. L. Wales was sent out to the camp to bring in the wounded man.

According to Burch's story, several nights ago a wildcat had entered the cabin occupied by him and other miners and jumped on one of the bunks. Since then the men have been on the lookout for the animal. Last evening at about 7 o'clock there was a disturbance in the bushes below the cabin and one of the men shouted to Burch that it was the wildcat. Burch got his .38-caliber Colt's and fired a shot into the bushes, not suspecting that there was a man there.

Gilmore was making his way up the hill to the Bierce camp and before he could cry out he received the bullet in his breast, it penetrating his body. The wounded man was taken into the cabin and made comfortable, while Burch and Jim Johnson, the cook, came in for medical assistance. The men think that Gilmore will recover, as the bullet which struck him was steel encased. The wounded man will be brought in some time this morning.

COMMISSIONER IN HOME CITY

Lane Investigates Complaints of Jobbers Against the Southern Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., January 28.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane today resumed the inquiry into the affairs of the railroads involved in the so-called Harriman merger. The hearing today was designated as the Pacific Coast Jobbers against the Southern Pacific. The shippers complained that they were charged five cents wharfage tolls on every ton of freight that entered the city, whether it came across the bay or over the coast line, in which latter case there is no wharfage tax to pay.

Commissioner Lane claims San Francisco as his home. He took an active part in the examination of witnesses. General Freight Agent G. W. Luce of the Southern Pacific was a witness. He was asked if the Southern Pacific divided the whole amount received with connecting lines or retained the wharfage toll and divided the remainder. He replied that the toll charge of five cents per ton was not divided. Some statistical testimony and arrangements for filing briefs in the case completed the session.

Makes Steel; Likes Copper

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barrows Jr. of Sharpville, Pa., arrived in the city last evening for a visit with their son Walter, who is in the office of the Globe Consolidated company. Mr. Barrows is the manager of the Shenango Furnace company, the largest independent company in the steel business, with mines in the Mesaba range of Minnesota, second to those of the United States Steel corporation. Although in the steel business, Mr. Barrows has a predilection for copper and is a heavy stockholder in Globe Consolidated.

Refuse to Combine

NEW YORK, January 28.—A. A. McArthur of the McArthur-Gillespie company, whose bid for the completion of the Panama canal was next to the lowest, issued a statement today to four contracting firms comprising the company declining all suggestions looking to a combination with any other bidder.

Work of the Heart

Few stop to consider the amount of labor performed daily by the human heart. The inexhaustible supply of energy displayed by this overworked organ is marvelous. Calculation has shown that the work of the heart of an average person is equal to the feat of lifting over five tons at the rate of a foot an hour or 125 tons in twenty-four hours. A certain Dr. Richardson once made a curious calculation in regard to the work performed by the heart in mileage. He presumed that the blood was forced out of the heart at each palpitation in the proportion of sixty-nine strokes a minute and at the assumed distance of nine feet. At this rate the flow of the blood through the body would be 207 yards a minute, or seven miles an hour. This would make 170 miles a day, or 61,000 miles a year. Thus in a lifetime of eighty-four years the blood in the human body would travel over 5,000,000 miles. The number of beats of the heart required to send the blood that far would be over 2,000,000,000.

PIONEER FARMER CROSSES DWIDE

A. C. Dellinger Found Dead in Bed at Home Near Livingstone Sunday

A telephone message was received from Roosevelt yesterday stating that A. C. Dellinger, one of the pioneer farmers of the county, had been found dead in bed at his home on Salt river between Roosevelt and Livingston. The message also stated that the remains had been taken to Roosevelt for embalming and requested that a casket be sent to that place. F. L. Jones & Son complied with the request.

The remains of Mr. Dellinger will arrive here today and will be taken charge of by White Mountain lodge of Masons, under the auspices of which the funeral will be held. Mr. Dellinger was a man of high standing and much prominence. He was born in Virginia and 73 years of age at the time of his death. He was one of the most successful farmers in the county and widely known throughout this section, having resided in the county for upward of fifteen years. He leaves a wife and no children.
