BAD ENDING OF WEEK'S MARKET

Market Closes Quite Weak—Expected Trouble in London Monday Causes General Selling All Through the List—Buying Power Very Limited.

(By I. N. Kinsey)

GLOBE, March 23.—Logan & Bryan of New York say: Market closed very weak; sharply lower. In specialties, some improvement was made from low point, but list all through showed a general falling off in prices. Some uneasiness is felt in Wall street regarding conditions in London. Fortnightly settlements due Monday and Tuesday and the heavy liquidation we have had yesterday and today can be attributed to this source. This continuous crumbling away of price is having a bad effect on the market. It has warped buying power and it seems as if it would take time to restore confidence in stability of market. Looks tonight that sales on bulges can be replaced lower down.

Paine, Webber & Co. of Boston say: Following weakness in foreign markets, where trouble is expected Monday, our markets were weak and under pressure the entire session. Buying power is very limited in general list, although there was fairly steady demand for North Butte and Copper Range. Low priced stocks are hard to sell without sacrificing. Barring any disastrous trouble in London next week, we believe good coppers should be bought around the closing prices.

Dow Jones & Co. say: Currency returning from all over United States to New York in larger volume than at any time since January.

Dun's Review says: Influence of settled spring weather has increased sales at most points.

Bradstreet's says: Improvement is reflected all around, even in northwest, which is getting back in normal conditions. Banks gained on week's currency movement $6,643,800.

GUGGENHEIMS IN PIMA

Representative of Big Concern Visits Tip Top Mine Near Helvetia

George C. Kaufman of New York, representative of the Guggenheims, who recently acquired the Tip Top property in the Helvetia district, is in Tucson. He stated that the Tip Top is shy on miners. He is not particular as to the number who would apply for work at the Tip Top. His company could use 150 if they were to be had.

Mr. Kaufman had a conference with a Helvetia Copper company representative and there was a report that the mining companies in the Helvetia district would combine to build a railroad which would give them better shipping facilities and thereby lessen the cost of freighting.

When asked if there is any likelihood of a railroad being built from Helvetia to either the Southern Pacific or the Twin Buttes, Mr. Kaufman stated that this is a matter for the Helvetia people to decide.

The Tip Top mine is continuing its ore shipments to the El Paso smelters.

Three tunnels are being run on the Omega property and about thirty miners are employed in the development work.

DEATH CAME SLOWLY

Miner Killed by Missed Hole Suffered Tortures

That M. A. Wilson, whose mangled remains were found in a tunnel in his mine, near Goddard, Yavapai county, Saturday, met with a death of torture, is apparent from the shape in which the body was found and the circumstances surrounding the sad affair.

From a minute examination of the place it appears that he was engaged in drilling a "missed" hole, when the explosion that led to his death occurred. His left arm, which was blown off at the elbow, and his right thumb and false teeth, were found close to the face of the drift in which the explosion took place, and his body, with the right leg broken, a horrible hole in the stomach, and the right temple fractured, with a piece of rock still sticking in the wound, was found about seventy-five feet from the face of the drift, to which place he had dragged himself over the floor of the opening, which was stained the entire distance with his life blood.

Thursday, at noon, people in Goddard heard five shots from the direction of the tunnel, which is one mile and a half to the northwest. The dirt from these shots was found to have been cleaned out and it is surmised that his death occurred that evening, when he returned to drill the missed hole. The drill which he used was found, broken, near the face of the tunnel, bearing mute testimony to his tragic end, as well as the hammer which made the concussion, the handle of which was found badly battered by the flying rocks.

The body was found in the tunnel, in the position described, by Deputy Sheriff Bowdre, the coroner and the coroner's jury, when they reached the place late Sunday night. It had not been covered. The remains were interred near the deceased's tent, about 150 yards from the mouth of the tunnel, by the officers and coroner's jury, which rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts stated.

KILLED BY CAVEIN

Bisbee Miner Loses His Life and Another Is Badly Injured

A cavein at the L. S. & P. shaft of the Superior & Pittsburg Mining company yesterday afternoon crushed out the life of Ethelbert Hayes, a Cornishman, and injured Frank Allen, another miner, says the Bisbee Review.

Hayes' body was removed to the Palace undertaking parlors soon after the deplorable accident, while Allen lies at the Calumet & Arizona hospital suffering from contusions about the shoulders. No bones are reported broken and Allen's recovery is said by the physicians in charge to be a matter of but a few days at most.

The accident which claimed the life of Hayes occurred on the 1,000 level in No. 2 sulphide stope, about 3:20 yesterday afternoon. Hayes' body was completely buried beneath the debris and falling rock, and his life was literally crushed out. No bones appeared to have been broken.

Hayes was about 23 years of age and a native of the province of St. Erth, in England. An uncle, whose name could not be learned last evening, resides in this district. Hayes resided during his lifetime here at Don Luis. The remains will probably be interred in Evergreen cemetery.

Coroner Grier of Lowell, upon hearing of the accident, immediately summoned a coroner's jury, composed of Albert Weaver, E. C. Thomas, James Hart, William Flynn, Albert Pierson and J. M. York. The jury repaired to the L. S. & P. at once, where they viewed the remains. They will convene at the office of Justice Grier at Lowell today at 4 o'clock for the purpose of rendering a verdict.

The escape of Allen from a death similar to his fellow workman's is nothing short of miraculous, as he was standing by when tons of earth and rock fell from the roof of the stope in which both were working.

VISITING HELVETIA

Board of Directors at Big Pima County Mine—Will Close Smelter

The board of directors of the Helvetia company are visiting the mine south of Tucson. They are inspecting the plant thoroughly and several changes will probably be made in the policy of work to be pursued.

It is stated that the smelter which is operating at present on the company ore will be closed down next week and that all the energies will be bent toward a more rapid development of the property.

The Helvetia company is made up of Boston, Mass., and Minneapolis, Minn., stockholders. The company practically has unlimited backing, and will continue its development work on a big scale.

The Isle Royal shaft, the deepest on the properties, is down to a depth of 900 feet. In addition to the smelter, the Helvetia company owns a narrow gauge railroad which is operated between the mines and the smelters.

PROMINENT EL PASO BROKER PASSES AWAY

A. J. King, a prominent broker of El Paso, died Wednesday night in a private sanitarium in San Antonio, where he was taken two months ago for recuperation from overwork.

Mr. King had been ill for a few weeks at his home in El Paso before his physicians advised that he be taken to a sanitarium. Reports of his convalescence in the sanitarium came to his family after removal to San Antonio for the betterment of his health and hope was extended by his many friends for recovery. It was thought that a complete rest from business affairs would relieve him from his sufferings, and for a while he seemed to improve.

Mr. King was well known in Globe.

IS YOUR WATCH IN GOOD ORDER?

When was it oiled and cleaned last? It needs oiling and cleaning once every 18 months at least, whether you think it does or not.

It needs that attention just as sure as an engine does to get the best results. If it is neglected the oil evaporates and a friction is set up that is destructive of the fine mechanism.
