 John Alexander,
 Manager Opera House,
 Globe, Ariz.
 Sorry but cannot fill time error advance personal letter follows.
 OLLIE MACK.
 We regret this very much, and as the show is far ahead of anything that has yet visited Globe, we have worked hard to get them here. The advance sale of seats was extremely large, over double of any previous show, and large as Dreamland is, the seating capacity would have been taxed to accommodate the people who wanted to see their new play, "Around the Town."

GLOBE MAY HAVE A Y. M. C. A. BUILDING
 There was a meeting of prominent Globe business men at Judge Nave's chambers in the courthouse to discuss a Y. M. C. A. for Globe. The meeting was addressed by the international traveling secretary, George D. McMill, and the secretary for the southwest, D. W. Pollard, both of whom outlined the needed plans for the consummation of the local organization. Instances were recited of where in cities not larger than Globe all the way from $10,000 to $50,000 was raised for an association building. It was suggested that a committee of business men be selected to make a canvass of Globe and that will probably be done very soon.

When Napoleon, that wizard in the arts of war, stood captive on the banks of St. Helena's Isle and looked down upon the turbulent waters of the roaring sea, he heard the waves whispering a dirge of defeat to his ambitious, his mighty martial spirit broke, and the lust of battle and blood left him forever. When Beishazzar saw the writing on the wall, a flood of accusing memories of his Bacchanalian past swept away the grandeur of his kingdom, his mighty pride met, as did Napoleon, a Waterloo. But when Old Nature kissed the hills, valleys and mountains of Arizona with sunshine, and sprinkled this country with wealth, she did it with a lavish hand and for a time beyond man's conception. There are many beautiful homes here in Globe. We have several for sale at prices ranging from $500 to $5,000. Lots for sale in all parts of the city.
