THE FOURTH OF JULY

Globe is to have a monster Fourth of July celebration and it is up to everyone in the city to get busy and lend all the assistance possible to the committees which have been named to arrange for the celebration.

BETTER FREIGHT RATES

There is a movement on foot throughout the territory, toward securing better freight rates, that is becoming general. The progress of Arizona has been considerably retarded by the excessive rates charged by the railroads.

During the present month the only two manufacturing establishments in Douglas—the Copper City brewery and the Arizona Gypsum Plaster company—have asked for a concession in the matter of freight rates which would enable them to extend their trade territory.

In the case of the Arizona Gypsum Plaster company, Mayor Adamson made a trip to San Francisco, where his product is in great demand. He found that similar material was being shipped to that city from the state of Iowa, a distance of three thousand miles, for $7 a ton.

SENATOR DANIEL'S VIEWS

Democracy in 1908 Must Be Neither too Radical nor too Conservative

Answering your telegraphic inquiry, I would say that neither the south nor any section should, in my opinion, have a candidate for any place on the presidential ticket on account of its locality.

ARIZONA EXPLORATION CO. PLAN EXTENSIVE OPERATIONS

Peter Winkelman was down at the county seat this week on business, says the Florence Blade. He has given the London & Arizona Exploration company an option on his splendid ranch, situated just this side of Winkelman station on the P. & E.

DELEGATE SMITH GOES A FISHING

Mark Smith and Party Will Angle for Trout on Oak Creek—Delegate Recently Returned from Washington Talks of Statehood Situation.

To angle for trout and bass in Oak creek, Delegate Mark Smith arrived in the city this morning with M. J. Brophy, manager of the Copper Queen store in Bisbee.

Since his return from Washington, D. C., Delegate Smith has been in the southern part of the territory and in Sonora to look after mining interests.

"Statehood is hardly a fit subject for discussion," said Mr. Smith this afternoon. "but I will say that the people of this territory should always be on their guard and ready to meet any attempt that may be made to force us into jointure."

"I do not credit the statement that Senator Foraker has decided to discontinue his fight in our behalf, and allow the supporters of jointure in the senate to carry out the plans he blocked so completely."

"Regarding national politics, there is not much that I can say. There is much uncertainty regarding the nominees of the two great parties. The Republicans are broken into factions, and it may result in the election of a Democratic candidate to succeed President Roosevelt."

"I have found Arizona enjoying a greater prosperity this year than ever before. I was in Bisbee and the trouble there seems to be about over. Tucson and Douglas are busy cities and the country surrounding them appears in a prosperous condition."

"I expect to remain in Arizona until the next session of congress, but will be in Washington early to feel the situation and learn, if possible, the plans of those who are to be constantly feared when the autonomy of Arizona is in question."

"Speaker Cannon will doubtless be just as determined as ever to join Arizona and New Mexico, and if there should be any weakening in our forces it might result disastrously to this territory. It behooves us to be constantly on our guard."

Delegate Smith did not care to discuss the Ananias club, to which President Roosevelt has elected so many prominent members during the past few months. He did not believe the ethics of the occasion would justify him in expressing his opinion.

Delegate Smith appears in the best of health, and so expressed himself today when greeted by numerous of his friends, who shook his hand and repeated the territory's thanks for what he has done to keep Arizona from under the yoke of New Mexico politicians.

For two weeks Delegate Smith, Mr. Brophy and others who make up the party, will camp on Oak creek, where they will spend their time in fishing and hunting.

SENATOR DANIEL'S VIEWS

Democracy in 1908 Must Be Neither too Radical nor too Conservative

Answering your telegraphic inquiry, I would say that neither the south nor any section should, in my opinion, have a candidate for any place on the presidential ticket on account of its locality.

The chief requisites of candidacy are ability, acceptability, and availability. That fact should determine the choice. Expediency should be the handmaid of principle, and cannot be overlooked in the present situation of the Democratic party.

As to the gentlemen suggested in your inquiry as candidates, Culberson is an excellent man of ability and good judgment. If the country wants him the fact that he is from Texas, a great and progressive state, should not stand in the way; but neither should he be nominated because he is from the south or from Texas.

I say these things with the more freedom because I have never been and am not a candidate. I have absolutely nothing to do with any actual or alleged plan to put my name forward, and know nothing of any such plan save what I hear from the press.

It is only my clear conception and well-balanced judgment that the Democratic party can put itself in shape for victory. If we become too radical, we will lose instantly those great factors of business which have all along supported the Democratic line.

spect to trusts, transportation and tariffs.

Hence, if we do not balance ourselves, with the feet firm on fundamental principles, and move forward with the massive tread of men, resolute and sincere to maintain popular rights, with due regard to all interests and all sections, we will surely move to our ruin.

We must follow the example and counsel of Washington with respect to our conduct and, like him, "raise a standard to which the wise and prudent can repair." He was the most successful man of his age, if not of all ages, and did more permanent good for his country than any of the more impetuous and more brilliant statesmen of his time.

"In the effort to regain one's footing and to get back to the shore, one's feet and shins are barked by the jagged stones and pebbles, and when at length one does emerge from its treacherous bosom, with the lower limbs all bleeding and torn, one becomes aware of a horrible tingling and burning sensation in eyes, ears, nostrils, mouth and almost every pore of the skin, from brine and bitumen which have penetrated everywhere."

NEW EQUIPMENT RANDOLPH LINES

Rolling Stock for Freight and Passenger Departments and Construction Equipment Received—Hundred Ballast Cars for the Gila Valley Line.

A consignment of much needed new equipment for the Randolph lines has been received and is being apportioned among the various roads, says the Tucson Citizen.

It consists of freight, passenger and construction equipment, and comprises orders which were placed from twelve to eighteen months ago. Practically all of the present rolling stock on the Mexican lines has been either transferred from the main system or leased from other roads, but the plan is to furnish new rolling stock complete so soon as orders can be filled from the factories.

In the lot received lately there were three first-class coaches, three baggage cars and two combination baggage and express cars. Part of these will go to the Maricopa-Phoenix and part to the Sonora lines. One hundred Rogers ballast cars will be assigned for a time to the G. V. G. & N., to be transferred later to the C. Y. R. & P. A number of ballast cars of the Hart convertible type are en route, but at present tied up on the E. P. & N. E. There are also two new steam shovels for use on Mexican construction work.

Work on the Sonora and Sinaloa extensions is progressing rapidly. The recent importation of laborers from China and Siberia have relieved the labor situation to a considerable extent. There has been no race trouble between the two nationalities of workmen. Both came from the same section—Manchuria. The trouble on board ship with the last consignment arose from the fact that a difference was made in the food allowance of the Chinese and Russians, the latter being accorded one meal a day less than the former.

BENSON MEXICAN SHOT BY ACCIDENT AT DANCE

One of the strangest deaths which has taken place at Benson since it was founded was that of a Mexican named Mohler, who was shot through the heart while a Mexican dance was in session.

According to the story told by three Mexicans who were arrested by the police on suspicion, Mohler was twirling a six-shooter around his finger when he accidentally shot himself through the heart.

At the time of the accident the dance was in full swing, and a considerable amount of poor wine had been consumed. Suddenly the shot rang out, and the officers being notified, went to the scene. They placed the Mexican under arrest and questioned them closely in regard to the matter. All of the prisoners were steadfast in the assertion that the dead man had accidentally killed himself.

The story does not seem plausible to the authorities and a thorough investigation is now in progress.

ACQUIT EARL SPARKS OF MURDER CHARGE

The jury in the case of Earl Sparks, charged with the murder of Louis Andre, after being out for less than half an hour, brought in a verdict of not guilty at Prescott Tuesday. Sparks was defended by Attorney LeRoy Anderson. Andre was killed by Sparks December 31, about 10:30 p. m. on the street in front of the Palace hotel. Sparks was a gambler by profession before the new law went into effect.

Bathing in Dead Sea

"No sooner has one plunged into the water than one is whipped off one's feet and goes bobbing helplessly about like a wretched cork," says the Rev. Haskett Smith of bathing in the Dead Sea.

"In the effort to regain one's footing and to get back to the shore, one's feet and shins are barked by the jagged stones and pebbles, and when at length one does emerge from its treacherous bosom, with the lower limbs all bleeding and torn, one becomes aware of a horrible tingling and burning sensation in eyes, ears, nostrils, mouth and almost every pore of the skin, from brine and bitumen which have penetrated everywhere."

"Unless great care is taken the bather in the Dead sea is liable to an eruption, which breaks out all over the body, and which is commonly known as the 'Dead sea rash.' The best antidote to this is to hurry across as quickly as possible to the River Jordan and take a second plunge therein. The soft and muddy waters of the sacred but dirty stream will effectually remove the salt that has incrustated the body."

Vegetables Prevent Cancer

Dr. Robert Bell, formerly prominent among Scottish physicians, who is now practicing in London, maintains that cancer is not caused by any micro-organism, but results from faulty diet and improper sanitation of the body.

Lecturing before the Psycho-Therapeutic society, he said that self-indulgence was one of the chief factors in the production of cancer.

What we are pleased to call civilization, he said, had a great deal to answer for, and certainly cancer was attributable to flagrant errors in diet, for which civilization was directly responsible. One of the primary causes was the ingestion of too much red butcher's meat. People who disliked milk were very liable to cancer.

Plenty of vegetables were among the necessities of a cancer resisting diet. In his long experience he had only met one cancer patient who was a vegetarian, and she was ill from other causes. Smoking, although an excitant of cancer in the system, could not produce it.

He did not hesitate to assert that cancer was preventable and he was sanguine enough to predict that before ten years passed it would be as rare as it is now prevalent.—London cable to the New York Sun.
