Her Love
"Dear Father," wrote the millionaire's son after he had eloped with a chorus girl, "I hope you will forgive us. I know you would relent if you could see how brave the dear little girl is. When I informed her that you had refused to receive us, and that it would be necessary for us to live on less than $30 a day in some first-class hotel, she put her arms around my neck and assured me that she was just too happy to care. Can you doubt, after this, that she married me for love alone?"

With such overwhelming proof of her worthiness the stern old man could do nothing but send them his blessing.

NEW MONEY ORDER OFFICES

Many Thousands to Be Established in Immediate Future

Of the 64,000 postoffices in the country, at any one of which registry business may be transacted, only 38,000, inclusive of 4,000 stations, are authorized to do a money order business.

While doubting the feasibility of extending money order facilities to all postoffices, Postmaster General Meyer, to meet, as far as practicable, the needs of the business public and promote its convenience in the transmission of money through the mails, has issued the following order:

"In furtherance of the aims of this department to promote public convenience, it has been decided to materially extend the advantages now offered by the postal money order system as a means of safely transmitting money through the mails by the establishment of money order service at many postoffices not now authorized to transact such business.

"Recognizing the fact that there is a demand on the part of the public for this extension, the department expects to be aided in carrying out its policy in this respect by the earnest co-operation of its employees and of postmasters and all others connected in any way with the postal service."

It is the intention of the postmaster general to extend money order facilities in the immediate future to many thousands of offices, his belief being that they will be beneficial alike to the department and to the people.

Postmaster General Meyer will recommend to the next congress that legislation be enacted providing for the introduction of postal notes for sums not exceeding $2.50, or perhaps $5.00, which may be issued without the filing of a written application or the sending of an advice, and be obtainable, not only at all money order offices, but at many of the smaller postoffices where it may not be feasible to issue money orders.

RAILROAD FINISHED TO PARKER

New Link in Santa Fe System Reaches Colorado River

The Arizona & Colorado railroad is now completed as far as Parker on the Colorado river, and a regular train service has been inaugurated. The first train to run on a regular schedule passed over the line on Monday, says the Republican, and trains will henceforth be run daily each way. This is the event whose consummation has been so devoutly wished for for some years and what it means for Arizona, and especially this valley and the desert region to the west, could not be enumerated in detail in a whole page of the Republican. Some things will be briefly referred to later in this article, but attention will first be given another question which involuntarily projects itself with the announcement of the above information.

That question is, "When will the line be completed to its California connection with the Santa Fe coast lines?" General Manager W. A. Drake, who was in the city yesterday, was interrogated on that point and the substance of his reply was "within eighteen months Phoenix will have a new road to Los Angeles and San Francisco, much shorter and better than any now operated." His prediction is based on these facts. On the 20th, at noon, in Prescott, is the last hour for the receiving of bids for the construction of the foundations for the Parker bridge. The contract for the steel has already been let and the manufacture of the steel is now under way. All these contracts made and those to be made call for their completion before the high water season in the Colorado river next spring. In the meantime it is expected the grading of the roadbed, at least along the foothills on the California side of the river, will be completed. From that point to Bengal, Cal., where the A. & C. will connect with the Santa Fe coast lines, the road will cross an open prairie country over which the railway can be constructed both cheaply and quickly. It ought not therefore to be very long after the completion of the bridge before the road will be open for through traffic.

Snowbound in June Storm

To be snowbound in Pennsylvania in the middle of June, even for a few minutes, is an experience few have had, yet that is precisely what happened to Postmaster Parrish, of Cresson and a companion recently. They started to drive from Cresson to Ebensburg that afternoon, and had not proceeded far on their journey when the sky suddenly became overcast, and almost before they could realize what had happened they were in the midst of a blinding snowstorm. The flakes were as large as dimes, and dropped in such great quantities that Parrish was unable to see the road ahead of him. Stopping the horse he waited for the storm to pass. It lasted but a short time, and then they were able to continue toward their destination.—Altoona Dispatch to the Pennsylvania Record.

Potato Lead Pencils

About two and a half years ago a small company was formed to develop and exploit an invention which instead of making use of the expensive cedar wood substitutes a compact mass, the main ingredient of which is potatoes. The invention has finally been perfected and the pencils are being manufactured in large quantities preparatory to being placed on the market. I. (Consul) Hannah of Madgeburg have seen and used some of these pencils, which, while slightly heavier, are the same in size, form and appearance as those at present in use, admit of sharpening a little more easily, and can be produced at a very nominal figure. A permanent company was founded in March at Berlin, acting under patents in fourteen countries.—Daily Consular and Trade Reports.

A Vanishing Craft

Our shoes have been made so long by machinery and so long in parts which must finally be assembled that the man who can sit down and do all the work by hand is a rare one in his craft. It is a famous, almost a classic trade which is thus threatened. In the cobbler at his bench has been manifested many times of old the philosopher and poet. Robert Bloomfield was mending shoes in a London garret when he conceived his verses on "The Farmer's Boy." Our own Whittier once made slippers for a living. Linnaeus dropped the awl to classify the world's plants. Roger Sherman, who signed the Declaration of Independence, was a shoemaker, and so was Dr. William Carey, the missionary and orientalist. Henry Wilson, formerly vice president of the United States, was the cobbler of Natick, and Hans Sachs, most famous of meistersingers, was the cobbler of Nurnberg. Will it become necessary to endow a chair of cabbling in order to preserve the ancient craft?—New York World.
