

AUGUST OUTPUT BREAKS RECORD

Old Dominion Smelter Produces Over Three and a Half Million Pounds of Copper.

NO MORE CONCENTRATES FROM OUTSIDE CAMPS

Big Daily Shipments of Sulphide Ore from Shattuck Instead—Reduction in Copper Affects O. D. Earnings.

The Old Dominion exceeded all previous records for copper production during the month of August, the output for that month being 3,600,000 pounds. This was due largely to the fact that all five furnaces at the smelter were in operation throughout the month, with the exception of a few days, when one of them was shut down for repairs. Conditions are improving and the local management believes that the September output will exceed that of last month.

It is understood that the management has decided to disperse with the Nacozari and Cananea concentrates and that the only sulphides from outside the Globe district which will be used in the future will come from the Shattuck mine in the Warren district, which company will furnish on an average of 200 tons per day. Shipments from the Shattuck will probably continue for the next twelve months, as it is hardly possible that the smelter of the Shattuck company, which is to be erected at Douglas, will be completed within that time. At the expiration of that period the Old Dominion hopes to have sufficient sulphide ore opened up in its own mines for all smelting operations.

Loss in Concentrates

The cause for the discontinuance of receiving concentrates from the Green-Canaan and the Mesquite Copper company lies in the fact that in smelting operations a considerable quantity of fines is lost and the advantage in using the Shattuck ore is in the fact that it comes in large chunks.

According to the Boston News Bureau the drop in the price of copper has made a considerable difference in the earnings of the Old Dominion, which sells its copper to the American Metal company. The average for August, according to this authority, was not over 18 cents, or a difference of 7 cents in the price obtained between March and August. This makes a difference to the company of $140,000 upon an output of 2,000,000 pounds of its own copper. The News Bureau continues:

May Not Pay Dividend

In the face of the enormous amount of construction work the company is now doing at Globe in building two new furnaces, constructing power houses, sinking shafts and doing other underground development work, it is questioned if another dividend of $1 per share will be declared in October. After this year it is expected that the cost of Old Dominion copper will be well under 10 cents per pound and its output in the neighborhood of 5,000,000 pounds per month, but by that time it will have seven furnaces and will then be in position to pay substantial dividends with copper at 15 cents. It cannot stop its construction work now, however, and necessarily with no large treasury surplus, its extraordinary expenditures have to be charged against the cost of its copper.

An Error Corrected

E. R. Gaynor, who was recently involved in trouble at Pinto Creek, was erroneously reported in this paper as having been brought to Globe by a deputy sheriff from that camp as a prisoner. The information was incorrect, as Mr. Gaynor came in on his own accord. Gaynor and O. S. Crossey, who owns the saloon at Pinto Creek, state that the difficulty they have had is not yet over and that the arrest of Gaynor was the result of a plot to injure Crossey through his employee.

Stranger Breaks Leg

Amos Dillon, an El Paso tinner, in the city looking for work, fell while walking on East Push street yesterday afternoon and sustained a fracture of the right leg. He was taken to a rooming house on Broad street, where the fracture was reduced. Dillon is here with his wife and they are said to be in straitened circumstances. A local fraternal order to which he belongs is looking after his comfort.

STILL PURSUING THE HORSE THIEF

Officers Have Not Yet brought in Man Wanted in the Gila Valley

No trace has been found of the Thatcher horse thief, who, it is alleged, passed through Globe with a stolen horse on Monday afternoon. Sheriff Thompson secured a new clue yesterday and sent out another deputy in pursuit of the man, but at a late hour last night the sheriff's office had not been apprised of an arrest. The officers feel confident, however, that the thief will be landed during the next few days. Sheriff Thompson states that he saw the party wanted, who is a young Mexican, pass through the city on Sunday afternoon. At that time his horses were badly fagged and were unable to travel more than a few miles. It is quite likely that the Mexican is in hiding at some point near the city.

Deputy Sheriff Voris, the first officer to take up the chase, has not been heard from, and for this reason it is believed that he is on the right trail. He left here late Monday afternoon for Whittfields and it is now thought that he has gone on to Roosevelt. Deputy Sheriff Henderson, believing that he had a good clue, went as far as Horseshoe Bend yesterday, but failed to get any trace of the fugitive and returned to the city last night.

Child Dies of Fever
Valista Flores, a ten-year-old Mexican girl, living with her parents at the entrance to Copper Hill gulch, died of slow fever on Tuesday afternoon. The funeral services were from the house yesterday afternoon.

Death of Mrs. May
Mrs. S. May, wife of a well known miner, after a lingering illness with typhoid fever, died at the family home in North Globe yesterday evening at 5:25 o'clock. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

WILL HELP GLOBE TO MAKE EXHIBIT

Territorial Fair Association Is Pleased with Chamber of Commerce Spirit

One of the first things discussed by the Globe Chamber of Commerce for its coming campaign of publicity for Globe and the Globe mining district was the matter of a good representation at the territorial fair which will be held in Phoenix in November. At a recent meeting of the board of governors of the chamber the matter was discussed informally and although no decisive action was taken, it was agreed that inasmuch as it was reported that there would be very little available space in the Mineral building, the secretary be asked to open correspondence with the secretary of the fair association with a view of getting suitable quarters for a Globe exhibit. The matter of taking the Globe City band to the fair was also discussed and it was thought that the fair association would stand a portion of the expense of taking the band to Phoenix during fair week. The following letter, somewhat delayed in transmission, has been received in reply to the communication from the chamber of commerce:

Phoenix, Ariz., August 27, 1907.
Mr. Alfred A. Cohn,
Secretary Globe Chamber of Commerce, Globe, Ariz.

Dear Sir: Your letter received and am frank to say that the contents thereof are decidedly gratifying to me. Each of the counties has an allotted space in the Mineral building for their exhibit. It is the desire on my part to accord to the attractive exhibits as much space as possible, and not only will the space allotted to Gila county be given her, but if it so happens that you require more than your allotment we will endeavor to segregate from the counties that are on each side of you in the Mineral building a portion of the space allotted to them.

What you say about the band demonstrates that you are not devoting your attention to boosting the fair by hot air methods, but are concentrating your efforts by taking such action that will be decidedly beneficial to the fair and will demonstrate to the territory at large that Gila county is going to uphold the position to which she is entitled—that of one of the foremost counties of the territory.

Your suggestion relative to sharing the expense of the band will be placed before the fair commission for their consideration at their next meeting. We now have music engaged for fair week, but I personally believe in accepting a kindly offer in the spirit in which it is meant and will use my best efforts in advocating that the fair should extend to you the courtesy of maintaining part of the expense entailed. Our fair this year will be larger and more complete than ever, something doing all the time, and as music is always one of the attractive features, your hand will be of great assistance.

Very respectfully,
GEO. E. TRUEMAN,
Secretary.

JAGS AND JUDGMENTS

A Good Justice Bunch Handed Out by Justiced Hinson Thomas

In Justice Thomas' court yesterday Lee Vujovich was fined $20 and Batisto Negro $10 for indulging in a scrap on August 27 in front of Morello's saloon in North Globe. They surrendered the coin and were discharged.

In the same temple of justice Pete Klarcie dug up $15 for disturbing the peace of the red light district on September 1.

In the case of Bru vs. Said, an action to recover judgment on a $20 note, Justice Thomas returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

In the suit of Cavil vs. King, a garnishment action, judgment for the plaintiff was entered.

MANY WOUNDED IN LABOR DAY RIOTS

Attack on Non-union Railway Inspector Starts Trouble in San Francisco.

RIOT COMMENCES AT DISMISSAL OF PARADE

One Man Probably Fatally Wounded—Telephone Girls in Ohio Town Try to Protect Non-union Miners from Mob.

A dispatch from San Francisco dated the second says:

Several men were wounded, one probably fatally, during a riot which occurred shortly before noon today at the Market street ferry landing. The riot was precipitated by an attack on a non-union inspector of the United Railroads, and was participated in by several thousand people.

The wounded are: John Peterson, shot in groin, may die. J. W. Hall, United Railroads inspector, shot in head.

F. J. Durston, motorman, shot in head and badly cut. Henry C. Castan, motorman, hit in head with rocks and badly cut. Thomas Delany, union ironworker, shot in leg.

The parade of labor unions affiliated with the Building Trades Council had just been dismissed at the corner of Main and Mission streets, and a large crowd was waiting at the ferry to go across the bay to Shell Mound park, where the literary exercises and athletic games were to be held as a part of the day's program.

For some cause, not clearly understood, but believed to have been the running of a street car close to the assembled people, an attack was made on Inspector J. W. Hall, who was starting the cars for the United Railroads.

Fearing the result of the anger of the crowd, Conductor James Watkins and Motorman F. J. Durston of the Sutter street car, No. 1615, drew their revolvers and fired into the mob. This infuriated the crowd still more and the fighting soon extended along Market street from the ferry to the junction of Sansome and Sutter streets, a distance of about seven blocks.

The police reserves from the harbor and central stations were called out under Captain Conboy, and part of the fire department was also summoned on a riot call.

The first man arrested was a man named Summerfield, a member of the Structural Iron Workers union, who was taken to the harbor police station. He and the arresting officers were followed by a crowd of men who attempted to rescue Summerfield, but without success. Bricks and stones were thrown at the officers as also at the police station.

Captain Conboy mounted his horse and, calling his men together, finally succeeded in driving the mob from the station.

In the meantime, car 1615 had proceeded as far as Sutter street, followed all the way by a hoisting crowd of men and boys, who bombarded it with bricks and other missiles. At this point the two carmen drew their revolvers in self-defense and John Peterson received a severe wound in the groin.

The police placed under arrest James Watkins, the conductor of Sutter street car No. 1615; F. J. Durston, motorman of the same car; and Robert Tiler, conductor of another car of the United Railroads.

Several members of the mob were also arrested, but were released as there was no direct evidence connecting them with the assault on the cars.

Brave Women Hurt

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, September 2.—A Labor day riot that bid fair to end in tragedy, had it not been for the bravery of two young women, which started in the telephone exchange, occurred this afternoon. The victims of the crowd's rage were Joseph Rabishon, who received a fractured skull, and John Natto, who was cut and bruised. While shielding the men Miss Mary Malee and Miss Tula Rooks received cuts and bruises about their heads and bodies and are in a serious condition.

Rabishon and Natto came from St. Louis to work in a mine where a strike is in progress. Today as they left the telephone office they were set upon by a crowd and badly beaten, when the young women, pushing and shoving their way through about fifty men, reached the two victims, to whom the young women were strangers. The girls threw themselves upon the prostrate men and protected their heads, receiving on their own bodies the kicks and blows of the mob.

One of the men, who was wielding a piece of iron, struck Miss Malee on the head. In a moment of let-up in the assault the police reached the scene and rescued the men.

Only one arrest was made. Rabishon was removed from the mayor's office later to the hospital, where it was found his skull was fractured.

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS FROM BOWIE TO GLOBE

The passenger train from Bowie due here on Tuesday evening arrived here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, after having been on the road over twenty-four hours. The delay was caused by a washout this side of Fort Thomas and the train was held there from Tuesday evening until yesterday afternoon. As the washout was repaired the expected transfer was not made, the train leaving here at 11 o'clock going through to Bowie and the train from Bowie coming through to Globe. The train due here last night at 8:30 did not leave Bowie until 9 o'clock and at midnight it was reported that it would arrive at 3:30 this morning.

MAKING PLEASURE RESORT AT THE FULLER RANCH

If the plans of Billy Phifer, Dick Remington and associates do not miscarry, the people of Globe will have an opportunity of enjoying a modern, "right-up-to-the-minute" pleasure resort.

The gentlemen have secured a twenty acre tract in the most beautiful and picturesque portion of the Fuller ranch, located about three and one-half miles north of Globe, and will convert it into an Eden of beauty and pleasure. A large dancing pavilion, with one of the finest floors in the territory, and capable of accommodating at least seventy-five couples, has been erected. Plans are now being made for a modern three-story hotel, which will be erected this fall and will be ready to open on Christmas eve. The grounds are also to be improved by a landscape artist who is coming to the city from San Francisco especially to do the work.

ANOTHER SUIT TO GET BACK TAXES

Attorney General Clark Takes Further Action in Copper Queen Tax Suit.

TRYING TO COMPEL THE TREASURER TO COLLECT

Alleged that Over a Hundred Thousand Dollars Is Owng to County and Territory by the Big Mining Company.

There seems to be no let-up in the prosecution of the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company for back taxes alleged to be due the territory and Cochise county for the year 1901. In 1904 suit was formally commenced against the company by the treasurer of Cochise county to recover judgment, for the amount claimed as due for taxes. Before the case reached the jury a compromise was effected between the officers of Cochise county and the defendant company, by which the company paid a certain portion of the tax money claimed and all of the costs of the action, an amount equal, it is claimed, to the taxes sued for.

The settlement was evidently satisfactory to the territorial officers then in power, but Attorney General Clark seems to have different ideas about the matter and holds that the company is still indebted to the territory and the county for the remaining portion of the taxes, despite the compromise, and has been camping on the trail of the Copper Queen for a number of months past. The officers of Cochise county apparently are not disposed to join with the territory.

Last week the attorney general, representing the territory of Arizona, filed with the clerk of the supreme court an amended petition for a writ of mandamus to compel J. N. Gaines, treasurer and ex-officio tax collector of Cochise county, to bring suit against the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company for the collection of $116,801.81 in taxes, delinquent for the year 1901. Of this amount $40,350.75 is the portion due the territory, the rest being due the county. This is the latest step in the litigation between the territory and the mining company over the disputed taxes, the original petition of which this is amendatory having been filed July 23.

IN A SOCIAL WAY

Little Happenings of the Week of a Cheerful Nature

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Finn entertained a number of their friends in honor of their second wedding anniversary. High five was the chief feature of amusement. Mrs. H. J. Adams won the lady's prize and Charles Lewis the gentleman's prize. During the evening tempting refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Finn were the recipients of many pretty presents.

Miss Nettie McCune entertained a party for her little friends on Tuesday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will McCune, on the Ball-ground. Parlor and outdoor games were enjoyed and an unique service of refreshments was made. Those present were: Hene Curruitt, Martha and Bertha Krenberry, Lala and Jennie Henderson, Myrtle Wightman, Marvel Wightman, Laura and May Belcher, Maude Plunkett.

One of the most pleasant social functions of the week was the party given by Miss Ada Carvill Tuesday night in honor of Miss Helen Hines, who left on Wednesday morning for Tucson, where she will enter St. Joseph's college. The evening was delightfully spent in games and dancing and at an appropriate hour refreshments were served. There were about fifty young people present.

CONFERENCE OF TRUST BUSTERS

Scores of Prominent Men to Meet in Chicago Next Month to Consider Octopi.

LOOK FOR GOOD RESULT FROM OPEN DISCUSSION

Dr. Lyman Abbott Believes that Light and not Heat Is Needed—Labor Leaders Expected to Take Part.

NEW YORK, September 4.—That the National Conference on Trusts and Combinations which will be held in Chicago in October will create unusual interest already is apparent. Scores of letters from men prominent in the various pursuits have been received by the National Civic Federation, under whose auspices the conference is to be held. Almost without exception the expressions of the writers are highly commendatory and the opinion that great good will result from the exchange of ideas appears to be general. Among those who have written in this vein are the Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, D. D., editor of The Outlook; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; Richard Watson Gilder, editor of The Century; John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America; Judge Peter G. Grosscup of Chicago; Bishop Henry C. Potter; Charles G. Dawes, the Chicago banker; John M. Stahl, president of the Farmers National Congress, and Nahum J. Bacheiler, grand master of the National Grange.

Dr. Abbott in his letter voices the sentiment which runs through all the communication when he says, "This is a time when we need light, not heat." Nearly all the writers believe that the greatest good will come from the wide publicity which will be given the trust question as a result of open discussion by the leaders of thought who will take part in the conference. "It seems to me fundamentally true," writes Dr. Abbott, "that the interests of the railroads, the shippers and the general public are essentially one, and that it is of the utmost importance that men representing all these classes should get together, compare views and endeavor to come to some agreement as to the general principles by which these common interests can be best served."

Mr. Gilder believes that "This talk will help to bring calmness and coolness to the public mind, and Heaven knows it needs them." Judge Grosscup says that it is full time that the corporations "which have grown up as developments of our business life without much reference to their relation to the people as institutions of and for the people, be looked into as institutions of, and for, the people."

Bishop Potter believes that "by bringing the whole subject of the administration of corporations into the light we may be assisted by the best intelligence of the land" in clearing up a subject concerning which there is "so much ignorance and so much curious apprehension." That the conference will be productive of much good in that it will allow all sides to meet and freely express their opinion on what he regards as one of the greatest subjects the country has to deal with, is the opinion of President Gompers. John Mitchell also sees much possible good in open and free discussion. Mr. Davis regards the calling of the conference at this time as a highly useful piece of work. He believes that the industrial problems confronting the country today demand consideration by the best brains of the nation. The questions to be discussed at the conference are declared by President Stahl of the Farmers Congress to be "the most important pressing for solution before our people today."

Grand Master Bacheiler believes it is time "for serious people to discuss the trust problem when President Roosevelt and the law officers of the government, whose duty it is to enforce the Sherman anti-trust act, openly say that under it the business of the country cannot be done today without violating it."

CACHED HIS COIN AND NOW MOURNS

Recent Arrival from Europe Didn't Believe in Banks and Is Out $250

Lack of faith in banks caused Henry Lavonia, residing in the northeastern part of the city, to mourn the loss of about $250 yesterday. The money was all in gold and Lavonia asserts that he planted it in a gully in the rear of his home—a two-room cabin—on September 1. When he went to see how the "plant" was growing yesterday it was not to be found. The money was in a wooden box and he says it was well covered with earth.

No one but Lavonia and his wife knew anything of the hidden treasure, he says, and as to how it came to vanish is a mystery to him. He claims to have kept an eye on the surroundings when he buried the gold. The spot where the money was planted did not show indications of having been disturbed when he went to take a look at it to see if the money was there. The box was exactly as he had placed it, but the coin was gone. It is Lavonia's belief that the gold was taken an hour or so after it was buried and that the recent rains packed down the earth as he had left it.

He told the story of his loss to a number of his friends last night, but refused to solicit the aid of the police department in apprehending the thief. He claims that he has a clue and that he will make another "plant" of an entirely different nature that will surely land the thief. The victim is a foreigner employed at the Old Dominion smelter and has only been in this country about three months. He claims to have brought the gold here with him from Liverpool and that for some time his wife carried it on her person, but fearing that she might be robbed or lose the money, he decided to bury it in the earth.

Injured at Smelter
Marco Garcia, a Mexican employed at the Old Dominion smelter, was run down by a slag car yesterday morning and suffered a badly bruised leg. He was taken to the Old Dominion hospital, where his injuries were dressed. He was discharged from the hospital last night.

CLARENCE NEFF NEARING DEATH

All Hope Gone for Recovery of Lad Who Was Injured at Smelter

All hopes for the recovery of Clarence Neff, the little 15-year-old lad whose legs were crushed in an accident at the Old Dominion scale house on Monday, have been abandoned.

At 2 o'clock this morning hospital attendants announced that the boy might live through the night, but at that hour his death was momentarily expected.

On Tuesday night the little fellow showed marked signs of improvement and the attending physicians announced that there was a fighting chance to save his life. Yesterday morning, however, he lost consciousness, and when he rallied later in the day seemed to be irrational. At 2 o'clock this morning he was unconscious and the end seemed to be only a question of a few hours.

BUBONIC PLAGUE SPREADS

Woman Dies of the Disease in Berkeley—Two New Cases

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 2.—The board of health reports one additional death from bubonic plague and two additional cases under suspicion since Saturday. The death was that of a woman and occurred in Berkeley, across the bay from San Francisco. This case falls within the limits of the statement made by the plague authorities, that all ports on the Pacific coast having intercourse with trans-Pacific points are subject to the periodic appearance of the disease.

NO LOCAL SUCKERS FOR WORNOUT FAKE

Same Old Letter from French Nobleman in Distress Received in Globe

The French nobleman's letter—a green goods fake exposed years ago by the Pinkerton detective agency—reached Globe yesterday.

It contained the same old story about a wealthy Frenchman with a beautiful daughter being held captive in a Spanish prison after having been driven from France by persecuting enemies. Now, all he wants is a few hundred dollars to pave the way out of prison. This time the letter was addressed to "McGregor, Globe."

The writer says he has immense wealth—not available in ready cash—but tied up in mining property in Spain. This time the letter writer says his name is Luis Roderique McGregor. He declares that he has learned that there are a number of McGregors in Globe. Incidentally he believes that some of them may be relatives of his.

If they are and will help him out by sending him money right away, he will let them in on the ground floor in his mining property. The McGregors of Globe won't send the straitened Frenchman any simoleons.

The scheme worked well for a while. It is now out of date. Attaches of the Globe postoffice, however, made an effort to deliver the letter, as is the custom of the service. None of the McGregors of Globe took an interest in the plaint of the long suffering exile in Madrid. His troubles will have to be told elsewhere.

Council Meets Tonight

The city council will meet in regular weekly session this evening and it is expected that the question of city street lighting will be finally decided. It is understood that a rate will be made by the Globe Electric Light & Gas company for a street lighting system of 32-candle power lights.

TO WORK SILVER KING MINE AGAIN

Once Famous Silver Mine of Pinal County Will Be Worked for the Red Metal.

BELIEVED THAT COPPER ABOUNDS IN QUANTITIES

How Mine of Fabulous Riches Just Outside of Globe District Was Discovered—Produced Silver by the Cord.

Many of the old-timers in the Globe district who remember the palmy days of the old Silver King mine will be interested to learn that the former great producer of silver will be mined for copper some time in the near future. The mine is just outside of the Globe district in Pinal county and in its day was one of the most famous mines in the country. A writer in the American Mineral Review has the following to say of the mine's history and what is proposed to be done with it:

No mine in Arizona was of greater importance in promoting the early welfare of the southwestern part of that territory than the Silver King, situated among towering crags in a lonely basin in Pinal county. The Silver King, like some other great mines, has an interesting history. General Stoneman, afterward governor of California, was in the Pinal region with a command of troops, the main object being the subjugation of the Apaches, who at that time, about 1870-73, were murderously aggressive. General Stoneman, to facilitate military movements and to get in supplies, cut a road over the Pinal mountains close to where the Silver King mine was afterward discovered.

One day a soldier named Sullivan, returning to camp from the mountain trail (Stoneman grade), sat down on a projecting rock, and amused himself by picking up rocks and tossing them at the sprightly swiftness which started him and thither among the boulders. Among the fragments of rock Sullivan noticed some that were remarkably heavy and which would not break when pounded on a boulder. He thought them lumps

HAILSTONE STORY FROM MIAMI FLAT

Not Bigger than Hen's Eggs, but All Measured Inch and a Quarter Thick

"The hailstones may not have been any larger than an ordinary hen's egg," said A. M. Lockwood yesterday, in describing the hailstorm in the Miami Flat country Tuesday afternoon, "but they were plenty big enough to separate the tomato and the vine and to pound the ripe tomatoes into a jelly on the ground."

"The storm came in on a northwestern zephyr," continued Mr. Lockwood, "and for fifteen or twenty minutes I never saw hailstones come down with greater rapidity or with more fury. The air was so filled with the crystal pellets that they actually gave a silvery hue to the black overhanging clouds. They played havoc with the garden truck and there will be a largely increased demand for window glass, as I don't believe there is a whole pane remaining in the neighborhood. I picked up a number of the stones at random and there wasn't one of them that was less than an inch and a quarter thick. Old-timers say that it was the worst hailstorm the section has witnessed for years."

SHIFT BOSS INJURED AT OLD DOMINION SMELTER

Ralph Holton, a shift boss at the O. D. smelter, was taken to the hospital yesterday morning at 5 o'clock suffering with a badly broken arm. The fracture was reduced and Holton was discharged from the hospital about 5 o'clock last night, but it will be a number of weeks before he is able to again resume his duties at the smelter.

At the time of the accident Holton was in the act of climbing up to fix a large valve, when in some unaccountable manner he lost his balance and, falling backward, was struck by a large rapidly revolving wheel. He was picked up in a state of coma and removed to the hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a bad fracture of the upper right arm.

To Take Brother's Body Home

The body of the late Archie Millhollon, who lost his life at the Dominion scale house on Monday, is still at the Jones undertaking parlors and will not be taken to Texas until through train service has been re-established on the Valley road. While transfers are necessary the road refuses to take the body. The body will probably be taken east this morning by William Millhollon.
