DUEY AGREES TO CREDITOR'S PLAN

Head of Defunct Bisbee Brokerage Firm Willing that Receiver Is Named

BISBEE, Ariz., September 10.—At no time since the failure of Duey & Overlock was announced has a solution of the problem of conserving as much for the creditors as possible been nearer than it is at the present time, and this fact is due entirely to the action taken at the creditors' meeting last evening.

FROM STARBUCKS... KOREAN PEASANTS.

The two men shown in this picture are aged peasants sitting in a characteristic attitude in a store in the suburbs of the Korean capital, Seoul. They and their surroundings are typical of the strange people of the Hermit Nation and their life.

Wood would resign and allow a man selected by the creditors to take his place, and act in conjunction with Morrison. This plan was frustrated by the stand taken by the assignees and Duey, and resulted in the calling off of all negotiations.

On Saturday Duey abandoned the position which he had taken on the previous evening, and stated that he would be glad to accept F. R. Harrington as an assignee to act in conjunction with Morrison, and in a letter addressed to Hon. Neill Bailey, chairman of the creditors' committee, made this statement public.

On Sunday Bailey, himself a creditor, who has given a great deal of time and attention to the straightening out of the entanglement, arrived in the city from his home in Naco, and at a meeting of the committee with the attorneys, proposed the plan which was adopted last evening, and which will most probably result in the paying of everyone in full.

The outline is as follows: The firm and assignees are to resign and join with the creditors in petitioning the court to appoint F. R. Harrington, to whom all of the records, assets and liabilities of the firm will be delivered; there will be a pro rata division of the cash assets and the company will then be reorganized, the creditors being stockholders and receiving for the balance of their claims stock in the new corporation, which will be operated entirely for their benefit, and which, it is thought, will eventually pay dividends to the full amount.

At a meeting with E. E. Ellinwood, who had been selected to represent the creditors in conjunction with E. G. Strickler, the assignee, and Duey agreed to the plan, and Chairman Bailey issued a call for last night's meeting.

There was a large crowd present and the plan was thoroughly discussed from all sides, after which it was adopted without a dissenting voice, and F. R. Harrington was immediately selected as the man whom the court would be petitioned to appoint.

The resignations of the assignees will undoubtedly be tendered to the district court today, and the petition asking for Harrington will be filed. If the court accepts the resignation and grants the petition, Harrington will immediately take charge of the firm's affairs and the new plan will be worked out as rapidly as possible.

FIGHTING PLAGUE IN SAN FRANCISCO

New Board of Health Holds Its First Meeting and Selects Ophuls as President.

NO MORE PLAGUE NEWS TO BE GIVEN PRESS

Only President of the Board Will Have Authority to Make Official Statements—Chamber of Commerce Kicks.

By Associated Press. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., September 11.—The new board of health appointed yesterday by Mayor Taylor held its first meeting today. The board elected Dr. William Ophuls as president. The resignation of Health Officer Watkins was submitted. Dr. H. L. Gum was elected to succeed Watkins. The board selected a site for the isolation hospital, to which all plague patients now under treatment at the city and county hospital will be removed.

It was decided not to move other patients, numbering more than 700, from the city and county hospital until the necessity of burning that structure has been determined by the examination of rats caught there for bacteriological inspection.

The board voted to select and equip a bacteriological laboratory for plague research and to appoint a special plague bacteriologist.

A letter was read from President Bentley of the chamber of commerce complaining that the plague condition here has been distorted and much exaggerated by newspapers in other cities, apparently on the strength of the inaccurate reports given out by the federal authorities. A resolution was adopted that hereafter no plague information will be given to the press except by the president of the board. Daily meetings will be held.

JAPANESE WANT MILITIA CALLED

Consul at Vancouver Appeals to Mayor for Military Protection for Japanese

SEATTLE, Wash., September 10.—A special from Vancouver says that the only development this morning in local circles over the anti-Asiatic situation was the action of K. Morikaw, Japanese consul here. In great excitement, Mr. Morikaw went to Mayor Bethune this morning and demanded that he have the militia called out to protect his countrymen. Morikaw said an attempt was being made to burn every Japanese house in Vancouver and that cotton waste, saturated with oil, had been found under the door of the Japanese Methodist mission church. The mayor tried to reassure the consul, assuring him that the authorities had the situation well in hand. Finally, to appease the consul, the mayor agreed to telegraph Colonel Holmes, commanding the militia of the district, asking that the militia be ordered to hold themselves in readiness.

The body of a Chinaman was found hanging to a tree in a suburban garden today. It was reported that the Chinaman was hanged by his countryman for refusing to quit work. The police pronounced it a case of suicide.

All the Chinese cooks, mill men and laborers, and all Japanese working in the city and country within a radius of fifteen miles of Vancouver have been summoned to Oriental headquarters. Besides fire arms, knives, stones, bottles and bricks are in stock ready to repel any attack of the mob at any future occasion. Glass in every Oriental shop and house in the city was broken out by the mob Saturday night, except in the Japanese church.

It is a question whether the city or the Dominion is responsible for the $20,000 damage done by the mob. It is understood that Mayor Bethune has received a telegram from the governor general, Earl Gray, Ottawa, demanding that law and order be preserved in Vancouver at all costs and that the lives and property of residents be accorded full protection under the clauses of the treaty between Canada and Japan.

The chief of police has sworn in 100 special constables. The militia will be called out if there is any sign of further disturbances. Hardly a house in the city has a domestic servant today. Two thousand Chinese employed are being collected in Chinatown. Clubs and restaurants cannot serve meals.

ALENA JASPER'S CASE IS BAILABLE

Woman Charged with Murder of Bertie Lee Is Allowed Bond in Sum of $1,500.

THE GRAND JURY IS TO INVESTIGATE TRAGEDY

Story of the Crime as Told the Coroner Rehashed at the Preliminary Hearing—Accused Remains Silent.

The hearing of Alena Jasper, colored, charged with the murder of Bertie Lee, a colored companion, on August 17 in the red light district, was concluded in Justice Hinson Thomas' court yesterday, and the wench was held to the grand jury in the sum of $1,500. She failed to make bond and was returned to the custody of the sheriff. Charles F. Wither appeared as attorney for the defendant, but did not introduce any evidence.

The story of the crime as told by witnesses before the coroner's jury on August 17, was repeated at the preliminary hearing. The Jasper and Lee women were alone in a house in the sporting district on the night of August 16. The house suddenly burst into flames and the Lee woman emerged a human torch. The flames from her burning clothing were smothered and she was taken to a house in the vicinity where her wounds were dressed. While the doctors were working over the Lee woman Alena Jasper entered the room. In the presence of quite a number of witnesses Bertie Lee charged Alena Jasper with throwing a lighted lamp at her and refusing to extinguish the flames emanating from her clothing after the lamp exploded. Later, on her death bed, the woman reiterated this statement and admitted that a quarrel had preceded the tragedy. There were no witnesses present when the lamp was thrown and there has been no evidence introduced to show that the women were on bad terms prior to the tragedy. The Jasper woman has from the start denied the story that while in a frenzy she threw the lighted lamp at her companion; neither has she made any explanation of how the fire originated, which caused the destruction of the house and the death of Bertie Lee the following day.

It was announced several days ago that the attorney for Alena Jasper would introduce two white men, who would testify that they witnessed the incident and that their testimony would clear the Jasper woman. They did not appear at the hearing yesterday.

The reply included reports from Harahan's subordinates. Following the meeting Secretary Hackstaff declined to say whether any action had been taken on the resolutions offered by Fish at the previous meeting. The directors also declined to discuss the action of the board.

APPORTIONMENT OF THE SCHOOL FUNDS

Absence of the Gambler's Mite Makes the Statutory Levy Necessary This Year.

THE APPORTIONMENT IS BASE ON 1906 CENSUS

A Five per Cent Reserve Fund Guarantees Adequate Operating Expenses in Event of an Increased Attendance.

Twenty-five thousand, eight hundred and twenty-five dollars will be expended the coming year for the conduct of the public schools of Gila county.

This money must come direct from the pockets of the taxpayers and is a sum about $12,000 larger than that levied last year for educational purposes, the gambling element in previous years having contributed from $12,000 to $15,000 annually in the shape of licenses. Last year the law was ignored by the board of supervisors and only a levy of ten cents was made. With the money obtained from the gambling element this gave the county ample funds with which to conduct the schools, leaving a small surplus at the close of the year. This year the levy will be 50 cents, which is the minimum.

W. O. Kellner, county superintendent of public instruction, recently completed his annual apportionment of county school funds, making allowances to the respective districts as follows:

Table with 2 columns: District Name and Amount. Includes Globe ($13,150), Radium (600), Grapevine (800), Catalpa (600), Pleasant Valley (500), Stanton (600), Cine (600), Lower Pinto (600), Bellevue (600), Green Valley (600), Pine (600), Gisela (600), Tonto (500), Star Valley (500), Rim Rock (500), Myrtle (500), Black Warrior (600), San Carlos (600), Pool (975), Live Oak (600), Pinal (600), Copper Hill (600).

The apportionment is made on a basis of the average daily attendance of pupils last year. Should there be an increase in any of the districts this year a reserve fund of 5 per cent will give to each school showing an average daily increase for five months $25 for each pupil.

On Saturday last County Superintendent Kellner made a ten per cent apportionment, and checks are now being mailed to the clerks of the different school boards throughout the county. The first week of the school year in Globe there was a large increase in daily attendance over 1906, and if this is maintained for five months this city will be entitled to about $20,000 for school purposes this year, which will break all records in the history of the city.

The country schools opened on Monday with largely increased attendances and prospects for a very good year. County Superintendent Kellner will leave next week on a tour of inspection of the schools throughout the county.

FAIRBANKS TOLD OF ARIZONA'S GROWTH

W. F. Nichols Gives Governor Kibbey Credit for Increase in Tax Valuations

A Phoenix correspondent writing in the Tucson Star says: Secretary of the territory, W. F. Nichols has returned from Flagstaff, after spending his vacation there. The cold has set in in the northern part of the territory, and the San Francisco mountains are covered with snow.

Secretary Nichols had the good fortune to meet Vice President Fairbanks at Ash Fork and had a pleasant conversation with him. The icy demeanor which has been attributed to the vice president was entirely lacking and Secretary Nichols says he has seldom met a more courteous and affable gentleman.

The vice president was especially interested in learning the resources of the territory and more than once expressed himself as genuinely surprised at the rapid development and the progress made during recent years. He said that he regretted that the limited time at his disposal did not permit him to make a longer stay in Arizona, for he would like to meet as many of the officials as possible, as well as to see for himself just what the territory is doing.

The vice president asked particularly about federal conditions within the territory. In reply Nichols said: "No more definite or succinct answer can be made to your question, Mr. Vice President, than simply to state that during Governor Kibbey's administration the assessment roll of the territory has increased from approximately $452,000,000 to approximately $770,000,000. "Why," said the vice president, "your territory has nearly doubled in value in the last two years. Such development far exceeds my expectations. It is truly remarkable."

He then questioned Secretary Nichols with regard to the specific industries of the territory, mining, agriculture and stock raising. The secretary told him that Arizona now ranks second in the production of copper, that new mines are being opened up every day, and that the mineral production in all the great metals is continuously increasing. The stock raising industry is constantly increasing in importance and will continue to be one of the great factors in Arizona's business interests.

"With regard to agriculture," said the secretary, "we have never known a better year than the present one, and the people of Salt River valley are confident that when the government reclamation service has completed its projects our section of the country will be second to none in point of productivity. The reclamation service is doing a wonderful amount of good for the territory, and with the evenness of our climate and the remarkable fertility of our soil, we are bound to come to the front."

Vice President Fairbanks remarked that the work of the reclamation service has always been a subject of interest to him, that he was then on his way to attend the National Irrigation congress at Sacramento and wished to learn all he could concerning the work of reclaiming the arid lands.

The subject of joint statehood was not touched upon and the vice president, after thanking Secretary Nichols for the information furnished him, entered his car and the train pulled out almost immediately.

HAS NO FEAR OF JOINT STATEHOOD

Mark Smith Carrying Around the President's Letter and a Grin

Marcus A. Smith, Arizona's able delegate to congress, is the happiest man in the territory. Mark is going around with his face wreathed in smiles which reach from ear to ear and buttoned up in his inside pocket is a copy of the letter President Roosevelt wrote to Governor Kibbey, saying: "I'll be good if you'll be good to me," says the Tucson Star.

The first praise for Arizona's escape from joint statehood is due to Marcus A. Smith. He carried the heaviest load and fought the hardest fight. No one wants to take one iota of credit away from Arizona's delegate and Republicans as well as Democrats returned from Washington after that memorable struggle against the power of the administration, all of them singing the praises of Mark Smith's popularity and power in Washington.

A correspondent of this paper ran across Arizona's delegate in Los Angeles last week. "How about joint statehood now, Mark?" was the question asked by a Star man. And this is what Arizona's delegate had to say on the subject: "I am heartily glad of the president's assurance that no effort will be made by him this winter to force a distasteful and disastrous union upon Arizona and New Mexico. While Democrats are grateful for that assurance, we see no particular virtue in it."

"How could the president, who signed the bill leaving the question of union of these territories to their votes counted separately, turn now in the face of the overwhelming vote cast by Arizona against the measure and insist that for a separate vote and come before congress with a demand that it undo all the result of the long fight and proceed to pass a law forcing Arizona into the dreadful alliance? What could such an effort avail—unless the senate were willing likewise to go back on its action and stultify itself for all time?"

"I am not much afraid of any effort being made to unite these territories during the next congress. A presidential election is approaching and congress will be busy and so will presidential candidates. The votes of the territories may be the deciding votes in the next national convention. No one could reasonably hope to get a Republican delegation from Arizona who would try to force on her the ruin she has just escaped through such trials and pain."

"I think I see the outlines of an Ethiopian in the woodpile. The man who deserves the vote of the Arizona delegation in the national nominating convention next year is the man who will not merely promise not to murder her, but who definitely will promise her separate, individual, independent statehood. The man or the party who would longer persist in doing wrong and injustice to Arizona should receive no aid or comfort in their raid on her rights. I have confidence in the honesty, patriotism and courage of the masses of the Republican party in Arizona. We shall see what happens."

DENOUNCEMENT OF HOME GOVERNMENT

Newfoundland Premier Takes Exception to Modus Vivendi with United States.

WASHINGTON SEES A CALIFORNIA PARALLEL

Premier Announces Determination to Execute Colonial Law Even if It Conflicts with Our Treaty Rights.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, D. C., September 11.—Being under the impression that Sir Robert Bond had secured about everything of importance he wished incorporated in the modus vivendi relative to the Newfoundland fisheries, the state department officials were surprised to read the report of the premier, who denounced the imperial government for concluding arrangements which were absolutely necessary to prevent serious friction between the two great nations.

They are disposed to draw a parallel between the attitude of Newfoundland and California in the matter, according to the view of the Washington government in showing lack of appreciation of the impropriety of attacking the home government by local legislation.

The statement was made that with the single exception of asserting the rights of an American vessel to ship Newfoundlanders as fishermen, the American government for the sake of peace had surrendered all the extreme points claimed by it and this right of shipping is to be exercised in a manner least likely to offend the Newfoundlanders' pride.

Americans have always insisted that they had the right under the treaty to take men off the docks if they cared to ship there. Future discussion of the subject is regarded by officials as purely academic, as the modus is now a completed instrument. If the Newfoundland premier carries out his announced purpose of executing the colonial laws even where they are in conflict with American treaty rights, it will be the duty of the British government to deal with the case and is not a concern of the state department.

Both anthracite and bituminous operators are selling coal from their stored stocks to supply the demand.
