The banana trust is an admitted skin game handed out to the people in bunches.

Phoenix is advertising "winter water for sale." Wonder whether that has anything to do with the ice man!

The Arizona Republican alludes to Teddy as "our presidential Nimrod." And when did the big stick break into that game?

"Woman in role of blacksmith," runs a headline in the Miner. Must be working the "strong arm" game down Bisbee way.

"Does an education pay the individual?" asks the Holbrook Argus. That depends on how the individual invests the education.

The majority contest may enable Cleveland to forget that her baseball club fell down just when the pennant seemed to be within reach.

"I am a poor poet," writes one in the New York Sun. Most of them are in a double sense, but they try to conceal the fact from their neighbors.

The difference between the newly invented piano that whistles and a boy who whistles is that they can't hang you for using an axe on the piano.

The three Michigan hunters who used a dynamite storehouse for a target left a number of relatives who are mourning their ability as expert marksmen.

Now that Phoenix has a whole carload of mules, fresh from Missouri, the newspapers of the Capitol City can give their lungs a much-needed vacation.

A Coney Island shoot-the-chute enterprise is in trouble to the extent of $72,000. Evidently it no longer pays to teach the young idea to shoot-the-chutes.

A new play called "The Thief" has made a hit in New York. Presumably the audiences come away from it without the feeling that they have been robbed.

A Philadelphia man has separated from his wife because she called him a "gray-haired scoundrel." Even Philadelphians seem to be sensitive about their age.

The Los Angeles Times boasts that $75,000 was spent in that city for postage stamps last month. The tourists must have been busy writing home for more money.

"Eggs are eggs in Phoenix," says the Republican. The head of the family, however, still clings to the idea, after settling with the grocer, that they are gold nuggets.

A fashion note says "shoes will be worn longer than usual this year." This may be a godsend to the people who are finding themselves shorter than usual this year.

A Kansas newspaper recommends a poultice of mashed onions and salt as a snake-bite cure. In Kansas, you know, the old reliable remedy is not always at hand.

Globe young men strolling about with their sweethearts should have a care. A Tucson youth, engaged in this pleasant pastime, has been arrested on a charge of abduction.

From his recent belligerent correspondence it is evident that "Fighting Bob" Evans can write a pretty hot letter without resorting to the use of his favorite epithets.

The San Francisco Call prints a thrilling story of a burglary pulled off by "boys of tender years." No doubt they will find the next few years in a reformatory pretty tough.

Of course District Attorney Jerome hasn't been "fixed," but he is certainly blazing the way for Harry Thaw's complete freedom. He reports that the young man is perfectly sane. It cost Thaw thousands of dollars in an effort to establish this fact at the last trial.

PATRIOTISM AND HORSESHOES

It seems that the British army was lately in need of 200,000 pairs of horseshoes and, exercising the right of a freeman, the British war office bought them of an iron works in the United States of America because the American ironmaster offered to, and did, sell them cheaper than any other concern in the world. It has long been a notorious fact that this country can produce the cruder wares of iron and steel cheaper than any other, due to the fact of our exhaustless stores of ore, coal and stone lying contiguous to one another.

And yet, in the abundance of its patriotism, our government has "protected" this poor, little infant industry of the manufacture of horseshoes 1 cent a pound. Little doubt this same American concern that supplied the British army with horseshoes also supplies the American army with horseshoes. It would be instructive if the two invoices were printed side by side, for the American public to scrutinize. It is not at all hazardous to reckon that the shoes were sold to our own war office at a price 50 per cent greater than the same merchandise was sold to the British war office. That is not very patriotic, but we can all see thrift writ large in the transaction.

If our government should order a keg of horseshoes from a foreigner, we all know what would happen. There would be a wailing and gnashing of teeth, and the official that perpetrated the iniquity would be flung, neck and crop, into the outer darkness of private life. We all recollect how brave was the announcement on the part of men in authority that the supplies and materials necessary to the building of the Panama canal, including certain shipping, would be bought where they were to be had cheapest. And that is not all we remember. We remember that they were not bought in any such fashion, but the foreigner was absolutely shut out from competing. It is a great American enterprise, and is not to be disgraced by contact with any vulgar and nasty cheapness.

When our manufacturers have any nasty and cheap stuff on hand, they sell it abroad; as, for instance, this transaction in horseshoes. No high-toned American war horse is going to be insulted with a cheap shoe.

Says a contemporary: "Wave after wave of human creatures rise out of the dark ocean of fate and break in rhythmic groan against the sands and rocks of destruction, knowing no more of the reason for their birth, life and death than the bookworm that plows up the pages of their earthly record." Dear, dear! why will people think such gloomy thoughts when the delicious oyster is in season and the pumpkin pie is on the way?

President Roosevelt is said to have become slightly perturbed because a carload of horses were delayed in a freight shipment. If Teddy lived along the line of the Gila Monster he might occasionally so far forget himself as to say "damn it!"

The people who are worrying because it has been reported that the president's message will be longer than usual this year should remember that things are also happening faster than usual during his term.

"Dropped matches" are said to cost the city of Chicago $2,500,000 a year in fires. This does not include the dropped matches that end in breach of promise suits. Those generally result in a frost.

A Sacramento man claims to have trained two hundred chickens to respond to bugle calls. His neighbors are probably hoping that he has also trained them to keep out of their gardens.

After the prohibition law goes into effect in Georgia the people who are accustomed to feeling a bit uncertain of their footing may get the same effect by wearing roller skates.

The way to get rid of a cold, whether it be a "bad cold" or just a little one, is to get it out of your system through the bowels. Nearly all cough cures, especially those that contain opiates, are constipating. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup contains no opiates and acts gently on the bowels. Pleasant to take. Sold by Hanna's Drug Store.

Occasional headaches, belching, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite and slight nervousness are symptoms of indigestion which, when allowed to go uncorrected, will develop into a case of dyspepsia that will take a long time to get rid of. Don't neglect your stomach. At the first indication of trouble take something that will help it along in its work of digesting the food you eat. Kodol for Indigestion and Dyspepsia will do this. Kodol will make your food do you good and will enable you to enjoy what you eat. Sold by Hanna's Drug Store.

In Arizona

Winslow has a school population of 250.

Phoenix high school claims the best track team in Arizona. Two straight-away courses a quarter of a mile long are being constructed.

A Salt River valley rancher has received a car load of mules from Missouri. He paid $400 and $500 a pair for the animals.

Navajo county ranchers are still marketing watermelons in large quantities.

Tucson now comes to the front with a Jack-the-Masher.

A Mexican played grab-bag with a quiet poker game at Bisbee and landed safely with $22.

J. L. Gant of Phoenix received a letter from G. W. Marrs of Cahoon, Mo., making inquiry on behalf of Thomas Ryan of that place for a sister who at one time lived in Phoenix. Her name was Mrs. John T. Allan. Mr. Marrs was for a long time foreman on the range of Frank Rockefeller. Who knows where Mrs. Allan is?

Tucson's suburban electric line is a certainty. It will run to Glendale, Peoria, Buckey, Arlington and other valley points.

District court at Phoenix will be reconvened this morning.

Calling upon all the farmers who draw their water supply from either the Verde or Salt rivers to either appear in court and answer the intervenor of the government in the Hurlay vs. Abbott water suit or show cause why they should not, Judge Kent, in the district court at Phoenix, issued an order requiring their appearance on October 5th.

The ranchers out under the Arizona canal have been getting a little nervous of late over the water proposition in the Arizona canal. The work of repairing the dam has been subject to exasperating delays, and many of the farmers under the canal are about out of stock water. For the benefit of these Engineer Howard Reed stated that 7,000 inches of water have been turned into the Arizona, and in a few days the canal will be back to its former runs.

Phoenix is having a genuine boom in paper hanging and painting. Now if the whitewash man would get busy all will be well.

Mrs. Mary Foster Bryan, a Sunday-school worker of national fame, is doing a little reform work in Phoenix.

Bisbee has signed up a fast bunch of ball players and will be ready to mix matters with any aggregation in the territory after October 6.

The Orpheum theater at Bisbee has been attached to satisfy a claim of $1,740 held by the busted brokerage firm of Ducey & Overlock.

J. B. Irving, a Texas cattleman, arrived in Phoenix and went over the valley looking at the alfalfa pastures. He is figuring on shipping in several thousand head of cattle from the Lone Star state to winter and fatten in the valley for the spring markets.

The Bisbee Review is the defendant in a $5,000 damage action brought by J. E. Hoffman, who was, by mistake, written up in that paper as a horse thief.

H. E. Peoples, a general merchant at Tucson, has made an assignment; assets, $8,050; liabilities, $5,734.78. Gillmore & Williams, the assignees, assure creditors that their claims will be paid in full.

Mrs. Richard Holman of Morenci was killed by an electric car at Manhattap Beach, California. The dead woman is the mother of Mrs. Dr. A. M. Tuthill of Morenci.

A Bisbee physician has been arrested for hitting his horse to a fire plug.

The Elks beauty show has created quite a boom in drug store face beautifiers at Bisbee.

Dr. Hagan of the Copper Queen medical staff, Bisbee, has gone to Chicago to claim a bride.

Clarence Owen, territorial sheep inspector, together with Mr. Nelson, for the government, is making a herd to herd inspection of all the sheep in Navajo and Apache counties. They report sheep very clean and free from scab, having so far discovered but one bunch that will have to be dipped.

A mother-in-law at Winslow has turned the tables and shot up an unruly son-in-law.

The Douglas Mormon colony is now arranging to receive a visit from President Andrew Kimball of St. Joseph stake who will arrive there on or about the 12th of next month. With President Kimball will be a number of other prominent leaders of the church. The party is expected to remain in Douglas several days, during which, according to arrangements, there will be daily services in the Mormon church.

A Yuma valley farmer raised three crops of Maiden Blush apples this year and claims that he will "see this" and go it two better in the near future.

William Gobel, a Phoenix boy, has been selected as one of the tackles on the big Harvard team.

Nothing has been heard of Tucson's missing ticket clerk, R. E. Herbert.

Tombstone has sold an issue of $5,000 worth of school bonds at a premium of 103.

Barrett sells drugs.
