Epigrammatical Enlgmas

If there are three chills, two frost bites, one overcoat and a swear word in one cold blizzard back east, how many smiles are there in one sunny day in Globe?

If A sells one lot in Globe to B for $100, which is worth $200, B then sells it to C for $300, then builds a house cost $500, which C rents to D for $17.50 per month; B then spends the $300 in travel hunting for a better town, which he does not find, does A, B, C or D get beat in the deal?

Anyone giving a correct answer by the 1st of January to the HOME INVESTMENT COMPANY will be given a $25.00 bill, and a bargain in a lot or a home in the best town in the southwest, where the business end of a sunbeam works overtime on every frost and cold wind which may have stolen away from the home herd of icebergs in the north, and east.
