

A Day's Doings in Arizona

Clifton Incorporated by Mistake.
The board of supervisors of Graham county which retired from office December 31, last, granted a petition for the incorporation of the town of Clifton. Now the new board has discovered that towns are no longer incorporated upon petition of tax payers but that a new law in force requires an election to be held to determine the will of the citizens on the question. The action of the old board incorporating the town has therefore been annulled and an election ordered.

Beet Sugar Industry.
Very favorable reports are received from the beet sugar industry in the valley. Manager Kane of the Southwestern Sugar & Land company stating that the beets planted on the south side early are growing splendidly, and the outlook is for a good crop. The company is now completing its work of well drilling at the factory, and when finished there will be ample water supply. Twenty factory men, all thoroughly experienced in the beet sugar business, arrived last night from Grand Junction, Colo., to assist in the campaign. The mill will be in ship shape by the time the beets are ready to harvest. These men are under the general supervision of General Manager Bushby, who has charge of this plant and the one at Grand Junction.

Mohave Banner Gold Country.
Mohave county, in 1909, will be at the head of the list of gold producers, says the Kingman Miner. With the starting up of the Gold Road, Cyclopic, Kemple and other mills and the steady work of the Tom Reed, the production will reach far beyond the $2,000,000 mark, or above the entire gold production of the whole territory for 1908. The Gold Road will easily produce $600,000 and will be closely followed by the Tom Reed, with fifteen or twenty lesser producers.

Prison Removal.
The new territorial prison at Florence will be ready for occupancy some time during the coming spring, when the prisoners will be moved from Yuma to the new quarters. The Yuma prison is on ground loaned by Yuma to the territory for prison purposes, and when it is no longer used for a prison the land reverts to Yuma. It is proposed to work over the penitentiary buildings into a first-class courthouse for Yuma county. The prison authorities will leave everything in shipshape, and there will be enough cells to hold all the county prisoners that Yuma ever can accumulate. At the present time there are thirty-five prisoners in the Yuma county jail, making conditions very crowded.

Yuma Has Spruced Up.
Yuma has benefited already by the coming of the Arizona Federation of Women's clubs, inasmuch as they have awakened a sense of the beautiful in the minds of the councilmen and through them have a clean town, all lots, streets, alleys and hiding places being thoroughly cleaned up and made presentable during the last few days. The new marshal, Godfrey, deserves special praise for his activity along these lines.

To Open Yuma Reservation.
The Indian townsite on the Fort Yuma reservation will be surveyed immediately, upon a rush order from the department of the interior, says a correspondent of the Gazette. William O. Owen, United States examiner of surveys, has arrived in the city, with two assistants, H. E. Langfeldt and C. E. Delairio, for the purpose of laying out the new town. It will cover the east half of section 22, and the south edge will be traversed by the Southern Pacific railroad, a mile and a half from Yuma. The portion of the reservation lying north of the railroad and Colorado river has been allotted to the Indians now in possession of the reservation, in tracts of five acres each. This includes the bottom lands in township 16 south, range 22 east, San Bernardino meridian. All other land on the reservation will be opened to settlers for entry upon the completion of Laguna dam, and the townsite for this land is now being drafted in the office of the reclamation service in this city. It will lie midway between Yuma and Laguna dam, about a mile and a half west of Sellow siding.

Train Auditors on Espee.
The Southern Pacific passenger trains on this division now have train auditors to attend to the collection of tickets, says the Lordsburg Liberal, thus relieving the conductors of much work and giving them more time to attend to the train. The auditors are supposed to be better collectors than the conductors, and they also give the conductors more time to attend to the train, insuring safer travel.

Recovering From Injury.
A Washington dispatch says: Charles Randolph, former editor of the Phoenix (Ariz.) Republican, who was injured by being thrown from his horse here two weeks ago, was operated upon Saturday and a number of pieces of bone in his shattered shoulder joint were removed. He is convalescing so rapidly that his physician hopes that he will be well enough in a week or ten days to be removed from the hospital to his home.

Left Suddenly.
S. J. McDonald, who has lived in Phoenix for many years, left the city quite suddenly and without giving notice to his many friends and acquaintances, to some of whom he is said to have been personally obligated for small amounts, says the Republican. He had some of his personal effects stored in a building occupied by Marion McCann and removed them surreptitiously, and left the place locked up, so suspicion of his departure would not be aroused until after he was gone. It is understood he went to Los Angeles.

Railway Fast Approaching Yuma.
The line between Calexico and Yuma is being pushed toward this city rapidly, says the Yuma Enterprise. Ten or twelve carloads of material are shipped daily through the Imperial valley to be used in construction by the gangs working from the Calexico end. Thirty-one miles of the road is completed below Calexico and in operation. From Yuma west the road extends nineteen miles, which is yet to be constructed in fourteen miles in length. This will be finished and trains will be in operation to Calexico in a very few weeks. The new road passes through a fine cattle and alfalfa country in Mexico, where irrigation is already well advanced.

Ashurst Goes to Prescott.
Henry F. Ashurst, the Coconino creator, will remove from Flagstaff to Prescott, where he will continue in the practice of law. He will have associated with him Mr. Flynn of Flagstaff.

Negro Sells Mine.
Recent transfer records reveal an interesting fortune acquired by a young negro in this county, says the Yuma correspondent of the Gazette. The boy in question is J. H. Montgomery, a chauffeur for A. B. Powers of the North Star mine. Two years ago Montgomery came to this country to run an automobile for the North Star people. He became interested in the mining that was being done in the district, and began to put his surplus earnings into claims adjacent to the North Star. Development work was done as required, and as the claims were opened they were found to contain constantly increasing ore values. Yesterday a deed was recorded in the Yuma court house by which Montgomery disposes of a half interest in two claims, the Chauffeur and Union Hill, for $10,000 to Superintendent Rogers of the North Star. Two smaller properties were also exchanged between the same parties for a consideration of $650.

Man Strangely Missing.
Since December 23 last, Alpha Holstadt has been strangely missing, and all efforts to locate him since have resulted in failure, says the Phoenix Democrat. The last act of Holstadt before he dropped out of sight was to burn all his possessions, including a tent and camp outfit. Holstadt was employed on the Sandis ranch near Alhambra, and lived alone in his small tent. On December 23 he evidently decided to destroy all he owned and leave without making known his intentions. On the following morning the charred embers of his camp were all that remained. Holstadt was a small man, about 33 years old. He was marked in a manner that would make identification easy, having a deformed left foot which impeded his walk.

Want Lower Insurance Rates.
Readjustment of fire insurance rates is a matter which will be made the subject of committee work by the Yuma Commercial club. The completion of the new reservoir and water main extensions have so bettered the conditions of the city that Yuma is warranted in making a request for better rates. The committee to be appointed Friday night will meet with the city council and arrangements will be made that the new fire equipments about to be installed shall conform with fire insurance requirements that a readjustment of rates may result.

Andrew Very Much Alive.
A letter from Jake Bates to the editor of the Florence Blade Tribune, states that the reported death of his brother, Andrew Bates, at Alhambra, is a mistake. He further states that he left the bedside of his brother on the 31st and that at that time Andrew's condition was greatly improved and he was considered out of danger.

Death of a Pioneer.
J. C. Pfy died of pneumonia, at his residence, one-half mile west of Florence, on January 2, 1909, at the age of 72 years and nine months, with all of his sons and daughters, who had been notified of his illness by telegraph, present at his bedside. The funeral took place Sunday, from the family residence and a large number of friends and acquaintances followed the remains to their last resting place. The deceased was a native of Tennessee. He came to Pinal county from Kansas in 1884.

Bar Examination.
Three applicants to the bar were before the examining board which consists of Walter J. Bennett of Phoenix, George Stoneman of Globe and S. L. Ringan of Tucson, says the Gazette. The applicants are L. L. Linney, associated with LeRoy Anderson at Prescott; E. J. Mitchell, with Attorney Hawkins at Prescott, and C. C. Hayden, associated with Attorney Hazard at Bisbee.

Republicans Real Mad.
The republicans of this end of the county were treated to a surprising bit of political news last Saturday, says the Graham Guardian, when it was announced that Sheriff Anderson had turned down Morg Merrill for the position of jailer of the county jail, and appointed in his place Judge Theo. Shirley, for the past two years probate judge of Graham county, and one of the best known democrats in this part of Arizona. It was naturally supposed that Sheriff Anderson would fill his offices with republicans, and considerable comment is being made over the appointment of a democrat as jailer.

MORRISON AND OVERLOOK FOR GOOD OFFICES

THOUGHT THESE MEN WILL BE TAFT'S CHOICE FOR UNITED STATES MARSHAL AND ATTORNEY FOR THE TERRITORY.

DOUGLAS, January 12.—Now that the republican political harvest is drawing near as a result of the election of William H. Taft as president, there is much talk going on in republican circles concerning who are to be favored in Arizona when the new president occupies the White House. Besides the judges the most coveted positions in the territory are the offices of United States marshal and United States attorney, and there is confident belief in Cochise county republican circles that this county is to be awarded both these lucrative positions.

C. A. Overlock, a pioneer of this county and also a pioneer of the republican party, it is said has the assurance of practically every republican entitled to the ear of the president because of political prominence and work in Arizona, that he will be recommended for the office to succeed Ben Daniels, the present incumbent, who by the way, was a Rough Rider in Cuba with President Roosevelt and secured his appointment as marshal on that account. Joe Morrison of Bisbee, it is also said, has the undisputed call on President Taft, so far as Arizona influence is concerned, for the position of United States Attorney now held by J. L. B. Alexander of Phoenix, who was also a captain in the Roosevelt Rough Rider regiment. During the campaign last fall Mr. Morrison appeared as the political orator and spokesman for Ralph Cameron, the congressional republican candidate. He made speeches in every county in the territory and in some of the important places he appeared as many as three times to tell the people that the salvation of our statehood hopes and desires lay in the election of Ralph Cameron. Mr. Morrison is a brother of Bob Morrison of Prescott, who held the office of United States attorney in the territory during the McKinley administration.
