BLACK BRUTE LYNCHED AND BODY RIDDLED WITH BULLETS

Howling Mob of Ten Thousand Hood-Crazed Avengers Dances in Glee Over Burning Body of Negro—Confesses to Murder of White Girl

WHITE WIFE SLAYER GETS SAME DOSE

Will James, the negro suspected of being the murderer of Miss Annie Pelley, was killed here tonight by a mob. When James was strung up to Hustler's Arch, the rope broke, and at least five hundred shots were poured into his body. He had made a partial confession and implicated a negro named Arthur Alexander.

James was lynched in the most prominent square of the city, which is spanned by an arch at Eighth and Commercial streets.

The women were given the first pull on the rope. When it broke the frenzy of the mob was uncontrollable, and volley after volley was fired into the negro's body.

The mob then dragged the body more than a mile to the scene of the murder, where it was burned. At least ten thousand persons witnessed the lynching.

CAIRO, Ill., November 11.—Will James, the negro lynched here after confessing to the brutal murder of Miss Pelley, was found with Sheriff Davis at Beknap, near Karnak, Ill., by a crowd from Cairo.

The officers were overpowered, the negro captured, and after a conference it was decided to bring him to Cairo and lynch him here.

When found by the mob the negro was handcuffed between two officers. All were hiding on the bank of a creek, so weak from hunger and exposure they were unable to offer any resistance.

James was found at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Word was sent along the line to the scattered mob to board a Big Four train and meet the party with the negro.

The whole party arrived here on the Big Four at 7:45 p. m.

The negro was taken off at Tenth street and marched through the principal streets to the arch.

When he stood under the arch he confessed.

While James' body was burning at the spot where the crime was committed, 10,000 people danced in glee.

Relatives of the murdered girl took part in the lynching.

Mayor Parsons tonight called on the governor for state troops to restore order here.

The negro's crime was the brutal murder of Miss Pelley, an orphan, twenty-two years old, employed as a salesgirl.

ACCOMPLICE CAPTURED
CAIRO, November 12.—Arthur Alexander, the negro implicated by James in his confession as an accomplice in the murder of Miss Pelley, was captured by the police after midnight this morning and was saved from the fury of the mob only by a clever strategy on the part of the police. He was dressed in policeman's clothes and taken through the city by the police early this morning, but the watchers soon discovered this and the mob put after him, but up to 2 o'clock this morning he had not been found. Company K of the Illinois guard, have been called to protect the homes of Mayor Parsons and Chief of Police Egan.

MILITIA ORDERED OUT
CHICAGO, Ill., November 11.—Governor Charles H. Deneen talked on the telephone to Sheriff Frank Davis, at Cairo, at 11 o'clock tonight and received the report that conditions in the southern Illinois city are so alarming that troops are needed to prevent a disastrous outbreak.

"The streets are filled with people and they are crazy," the sheriff reported. "They are storming the jail now trying to batter down the doors. I called for volunteers to help suppress the rioting and not a soul would help me. I must have troops."

Governor Deneen gave orders that all militia companies in southern Illinois be held in readiness, told the sheriff to utilize the company of militia at Cairo immediately and he would rush further troops to the scene.

At midnight Deneen was appealed to

STEINHEIL BROKEN
Accused Woman Takes Little Interest in Accusation of Prosecution
PARIS, November 11.—That Mme. Steinheil was aided by some unknown accomplice and murdered her husband that she might win the wealthy Maurice Borderet, but that the killing of her stepmother was unpremeditated, is the theory of the state as outlined by Trouard Riolle, judge advocate, in his opening argument for the prosecution this afternoon.

Throughout the crushing arraignment today, Mme. Steinheil sat with her bowed head dejectedly buried in her arms on the rail. The testimony was restricted to statements by a few friends of the defendant who considered her incapable of the crime.

MOB TAKES OUT WHITE MAN AND DESTROYS HIM

CAIRO, Ill., November 11.—At 11:15 tonight, the mob, after battering down a steel cell in the county jail here, took out Henry Salzner, a white man charged with the murder of his wife last August, and lynched him.

Salzner, a photographer by trade, killed his wife with an axe.

The mob hanged him to a telegraph pole. His body was riddled with bullets. The lynching followed closely that of James.

The mob gave Salzner a chance to confess after the rope was around his neck, but he could only mumble that his sister had done the killing.

The mob became furious at this and it was hard work to keep them off of Salzner long enough to give him a chance to pray.

a second time by the sheriff after the mob had dragged Henry Salzner, a white man, from the jail. Davis declared that the conditions were beyond his control and he feared wholesale murder.

The governor immediately issued an order for five more companies of the Illinois National Guards to rush to Cairo. Eleven companies in all had been ordered to Cairo by midnight.

He directed General Wells of Decatur to take charge of the troops and he left Decatur on a special train at once at midnight.

EDITORIAL WARFARE LEADS TO FIGHT IN JEROME

Son of Female Editor Wallops Contemporary on Village Streets

JEROME, Ariz., November 11.—A physical encounter on the streets of Jerome Sunday about noon between the son of Mrs. Laura Nihell, editor of the Jerome Copper Belt, and W. S. Adams, editor of the Jerome News, marked a sensational climax to a bitter newspaper war which has been waging here for the past six weeks between the two weekly papers that are published in this thriving mining town.

Young Nihell attacked Adams on Main street in this city between the Fashion saloon and the store of T. F. Miller company.

According to eye witnesses, Nihell struck Adams in the back of the head and then pulling off the glasses of the rival editor, and throwing them in the street, struck him in the face with his fist. They grappled and both fell, each holding the other in a clinch.

At this point spectators interfered and put an end to the fistfight.

The newspaper war began originally over an agitation that was started against Chinese restaurants in Jerome by the Jerome News, the Copper Belt talking the opposite view. Bitter words have been hurled back and forth between the two newspapers, finally culminating in the pugilistic encounter in this town Sunday.

ALDRICH TALKING OF CURRENCY SYSTEM

Holds Foreign Banks Up to Gaze of Audience in Des Moines

PROMISSORY NOTE A THING UNKNOWN

Disappoints Hearers by Ignoring Insurgents in Their Home

DES MOINES, Iowa, November 11.—Aldrich continued his series of addresses on finance here tonight in a speech before the Banker's club. Des Moines is the home of Senator Cummins, one of the "insurgent" republican leaders, but those who expected the Rhode Island senator to make any uncomplimentary allusions to the Iowan were disappointed. Aldrich spoke of the growing importance of the west as affording the best reason why people of Iowa should demand a staple banking system.

In discussing the commercial paper of foreign banking, Aldrich said:

"In Germany all notes, taxed or untaxed, must be covered by an amount of specie equal to one-third of the total issue and an amount of bankable bills equal to the other two-thirds. These bills are what we call commercial paper. They must bear the name of two solvent parties and must not run for more than ninety days to answer the standard fixed for bankable bills. In France bankable bills must bear three names and must have the same limit as to time as German bills. In Great Britain the custom is to require two names of English citizens, one of whom must be the acceptor."

"Our people use promissory notes either with a single name or with endorsements. No such thing as a promissory note is known in the ordinary experience of these countries. They give a form of obligation with mortgages, and sometimes with collateral, which is perhaps the closest approach to our form of promissory note. There, if a dealer sells a customer any article the merchant makes a draft upon the purchaser and the draft is accepted and the paper known as a bill of exchange."

"It is for a real transaction and those bills are the foundation of the credit system in the countries I have named."

Aldrich explained that in referring to foreign banking systems he had no intention of urging the adoption of any of them.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 11.—Representations on the part of the state department resulted in the release by the government of Honduras of the American gasoline launch Perlas, which was seized and held at Puerto Cortez. The launch is the property of the Port Perlas Banana Plantation company, of New York, and was recently pressed into service by the revolutionists at Bluefields, Nicaragua. When the launch arrived at Puerto Cortez, enroute to Puerto Barrios, the vessel ran out of fuel and was obliged to put in. One passenger on board and the launch were seized by the Honduran authorities on the ground that she carried a sympathizer of the Nicaraguan revolution, and that her clearance papers were irregular.

The United States insisted that the vessel be returned to its owners, but only after repeated representations was the restoration accomplished.

There seems no doubt that the troops of the Nicaraguan government, now fighting the revolutionists, have invaded Costa Rica, on the southern bank of the San Juan river.

The government of Costa Rica, the state department is informed, has asked Nicaragua for explanations, and recent developments seem to indicate that Honduras is in full sympathy with the Zelaya government and has given substantial aid to the operations against the revolutionists. This would be a violation of Article II of the Washington convention.

The state department is watching developments in the disturbed section. Costa Rica is believed to be acting in good faith, and Zelaya's invasion of her territory is thought to be without her knowledge or connivance. Dispatches to the state department indicate that the revolutionists are making substantial headway.

ROME, November 11.—A general holiday was kept through Italy today in celebration of the fortieth birthday of King Victor Emmanuel. In Rome the anniversary was observed by a general suspension of business, the decoration of public and private buildings and the holding of numerous fetes. Deputations bearing congratulations from patriotic and other societies throughout the kingdom were received at the Quirinal and hundreds of felicitous messages poured in from all parts of the world.

It is now approaching ten years since Victor Emmanuel was called to the throne to succeed his father, the assassinated King Humbert. At that time he was among the youngest of the monarchs of Europe and grave doubts were expressed in many quarters as to the ability of the young ruler to cope with the problems that confronted him. In ten years time he has more than fulfilled the hopes of his most ardent admirers. It is not saying too much, in fact, to state that during the past few years the king has developed into a powerful factor in European politics, of which he has a comprehensive grasp and an intimate and detailed knowledge.

AMATEUR BANDIT LEAVES TRAIL OF BLOOD

Kills Bank Cashier and Wounds Two Others in Bungalow Attempt to Hold Up Bank—Shoots Negro Chauffeur in Attempted Getaway

SAVED FROM LYNCHING BY STRATEGY

J. Hangary Fawcett, cashier of the Merchants National bank at New Albany, Ind., was killed; John K. Woodward, president of the bank, dangerously wounded, and James H. Tucker, a negro chauffeur of Louisville, fatally wounded this morning, when a young man, partially identified as Arthur Hall of Louisville, a dealer in second-hand furniture, entered the bank and, after commanding everyone to throw up his hands "and get in the vault," began shooting.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 11.—Fawcett died almost instantly after being shot through the neck and chest. Woodward was shot through the liver and intestines and Tucker through the body and may die.

Following the shooting the murderer rushed from the bank and tried to make his escape in an automobile which he had taken in from the residence of its owner, Mrs. Walter Escott of Louisville, forcing a negro chauffeur at the point of a gun to drive him to New Albany. But the chauffeur, paralyzed with terror and apparently incapable of action, sat still. The robber jumped from the car and sent a bullet through the negro's body. Turning down the river bank a distance of two blocks, the murderer ran with great speed.

He appropriated a skiff at the dock and was on his way to the Kentucky side before the frightened citizens knew what had happened. The alarm was given and in a short time the police of the little city had started in pursuit in a fast motor boat, captured the man and brought him to shore only to confront the new peril of lynching.

By a clever ruse Captain Adams stood off a crowd of two hundred that thronged the dock. Commanding the prisoner to lie down the captain announced that the man had taken poison and was dead, meanwhile carrying him to a patrol wagon and giving the word to drive ahead.

The bandit was taken to the New Albany jail. A few minutes later, to escape the mob, he was removed to the Southern Indiana reformatory at Jeffersonville. There the prisoner refused to give his name and talked only under pressure.

Tonight the bandit was identified as Thomas Jefferson Hall and, according to William J. Hall, his father, is but 17 years old. The elder Hall, who has a furniture store in this city said young Hall was a household tyrant and not insane at all.

"He is simply mean," said the father.
