WHO WHO and Why

HEADS "BIG SISTERS" SOCIETY

The organization in New York of Big Sisters, formed to work on the lines of the now eight-year-old society of Big Brothers, is the result of the individual effort of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt in the children's court.

The society has already more than a hundred members, has an office in the suite occupied by the Big Brothers, at 200 Fifth Avenue, with a secretary and assistant secretary to attend to the clerical work, and to be always at the court whenever it is in session and look after little girls who need assistance when the members of the society are not able to be present.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, whose practical charitable work is illustrated in the apartment homes, with the maximum amount of sun and air, which she had put up for people with incipient cases of tuberculosis, began her visits to the children's court about two years ago. There she found representatives of Jewish and Catholic organizations doing excellent work among their people, but there was no one from the Protestant denominations to make a special effort to look after the children of their churches.

There was so much work to be done that Mrs. Vanderbilt visited the courts at least once and sometimes two or three times a week, interesting herself in cases when there seemed need of assistance. Finding a little rag-tag baby at the front of the stairs she would pick it up and carry it until she found the person who was supposed to be in charge of it. She visited the children she found in need in their homes. They did not know her by name, but only knew that some one kind and motherly was interested in them.

Then, the personal equation being such an important part of the work, she interested her two sisters, Mrs. F. C. Havemeyer and Mrs. Stephen H. Olin, whose names are among the incorporators, and some of her friends also came in.

DUKE OF ORLEANS IS HARD UP

In the diplomatic and social world in London it is believed that the duke of Orleans, who aspires to be king of France and keeps on wire pulling to that end, must be a bit short of ready cash. Otherwise no one believes that he would have sold his famous estate of Wood Norton, "the home of exiles," as he has just done, the buyer being an English judge, Sir Charles Swinfen Eady, writes a London correspondent of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

How much his worship paid his highness for Wood Norton it has proved impossible to learn, but it must have been a tidy sum, for the house itself is furnished with a magnificence in keeping with the royal state which the pretender to the throne of France has kept up there, and the property, which is located near Evesham, in the valley of the Avon, extends over 2,500 acres and takes in several parishes. The mansion, which is a handsome one, with many gables, will need a lot of alteration inside to make it a suitable home for an English magistrate, everything from the door handles and the electric fittings to the oak panelings, being emblazoned with the fleur-de-lis of the royal house of France. However, its new owner can stand the racket, for, besides getting a fat salary as one of the judges of the court of chancery—which so many Americans believe to be keeping them out of big fortunes—he is said to have earned, as a barrister, one of the largest incomes ever made by a lawyer in England.

DECLARES OROZCO HAS FAILED

Gen. Braulio Hernandez, formerly a leader in both of the Mexican revolutions, is now in the United States, practically an exile from his own country.

At present General Hernandez is at outs both with the government under Madero, which has had him indicted on a charge of conspiracy, and with Orozco, the revolutionary leader.

"The revolution is not a separate one from that which made Madero president," he said. "But Madero betrayed the trust of the people after becoming president by allying himself with the wealthy class and the corporations—what you call the trusts. At my call the people arose to demand what they expected from the revolution that ended in the overthrow of Diaz."

"Orozco was not with us then. Later he joined us. Then the trusts, seeing they would lose, decided to divide, half of them going to the aid of Orozco, who was very popular then. I pleaded with him not to accept their services, but he would not listen. Now the people are fighting, but not with the same spirit."

Hernandez asserts the principles for which the present revolutionists have been fighting are revision of the codes and complete reformation of the whole judiciary system, practical and general education, to include the children of the Indian population, and the democratizing of the rural lands.

SCHOOL FOR MOTHERS OPENED

And now we have a School of Mothercraft. It is a New York institution and is probably the only one of its kind in the world; certainly it is the only one in the United States.

Its director is Mary L. Read, who is also its originator, and among those interested in it is a list of women which might well be mistaken for an extract from the Social Register—all of them enthusiastic, helpful and convinced that in the new institution something has arisen which will very greatly tend to help the nation.

Regarding the objects of the school Miss Read said:

"The objects of the school are to provide a competent, a very practical and scientifically true course of instruction in those things which will enable the mother to make of her children the healthiest, best educated and most honorable citizens. The school goes further than that, indeed, for it aims also to help her to produce, in the first place, the right kind of a child on which to work. The practice of biology in the family includes eugenics as well as the care of the infant and the growing child. There is as much for the unmarried girl as for the married woman to learn, for the right study of eugenics will show her how and whom to marry and how and whom not to marry."
