

For District Judge.
 I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Judge of the Tenth District Court for the term of Judge John Dale, resigned, subject to the action of the white Democrats in the District in the primary to be called. If I am elected, I shall perform the duties of the office to the best of my ability, with fairness and impartiality.
 N. M. CALHOUN.
 Vidalia, La., January 10th, 1914.

THE SOUTH AND THE CATTLE TRADE.
 (New Orleans Picayune)
 That raising of cattle for market in the South is something more than an academic discussion is proven by the reports that have been received on the number and character of cattle marketed by various Southern States in the Western market alone. According to the Reporter News Bureau at the National Stockyards, more cattle, mostly of the lower grades, have been marketed by the States of Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana than was ever known before.
 The report of this news bureau which is very interesting, is as follows:
 "The Southern States are reaping a harvest out of their commoner kinds of cattle, known as 'canners.' Never before in the memory of the present generation have canner yearlings sold for as high prices as they are bringing in the North at present. This week 400-pound yearlings were realizing $5.50 to $5.75 per cwt. at the St. Louis National Stockyards, which is equivalent to $22 to $23 per head. A half-dozen years ago $12 to $15 per head for this class of cattle was looked upon as a 'terrible big price.' Native fed Mississippi steers sold here this week at $7.05 per cwt. and Arkansas fed heaves at $7.50, which is the highest price ever paid for Arkansas cattle in the month of January. Yesterday a record was made for Tennessee. Fed steers averaging 1,325 pounds sold for $8.70, and another string averaging 1,157 pounds sold for $8.35. This is not only the highest price ever paid at the St. Louis National Stockyards for Tennessee cattle, but it is probably the highest price ever paid for straight market cattle shipped out of that state in car lots. Last year the States of Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana marketed more than 200,000 head of cattle here, which took $5,000,000 back to the farmers and feeders of these states."
 This is certainly a gratifying showing and indicates plainly the working out of the policy of diversified farming and crop-raising which has been forced upon the South by the ravages of the boll weevil. This raising of the ordinary grades of cattle will gradually lead to an extension of the business so as to include the finer grade of beef cattle which, with proper attention to the eradication of the tick pest, can be as readily raised in this section as elsewhere. With the high prices prevailing for all grades of meat and with certainty that the demand is sure to exceed the supply for years to come, there is every inducement for a steady expansion of the cattle industry in the South and particularly in Louisiana, where new industries are badly needed to replace any shrinkage of the sugar industry as a result of the workings of the new tariff law.

The Fayette Chronicle of last week contained the following interesting items:
 Mr. Dunbar Hunt, from Rodney, was here Saturday and shipped the remaining portion of his pean crop, comprising eighteen barrels. Mr. Hunt tells us that he shipped from his "Southside" pean orchard last year (1913) fifty barrels and sold them at prices ranging from 50 to 50c per pound.

Stockholders of the Jefferson County Bank held their annual meeting Thursday afternoon and accepted the resignations of Messrs. H. M. Gaither and A. G. Campbell from the directorate and elected Messrs. R. R. Liddell and Henry Cohn in their stead. After the stockholders' meeting the directors held a meeting and elected Mr. S. Hirsch president and Judge Jeff Truly vice-president of the bank; no other changes were made.
 The bank has enjoyed a prosperous year and the books show a very satisfactory condition in its affairs. Conservative management has made this bank one of the most substantial in this section of the State and it enjoys the complete confidence of the public.

District Court convened on Thursday with a very small docket. This is the last term of Court Judge Dale will hold, as his resignation will go into effect on the 25th inst. Judge Dale was appointed Judge of this District in April, 1912 to succeed the late lamented Judge John S. Boatner, and was elected without opposition the following November, for a term of four years.

Dr. Dunbar Newell, a former resident and practicing physician of our town, and now prominent in professional and commercial circles of Chattanooga, Tenn., is a most welcome visitor to St. Joseph to-day and his friends here are delighted to see him.

L. S. U. NEWS LETTER.
 After a vacation of thirteen days for the Christmas holidays the student body has resumed the work of the session, both with renewed vigor and enthusiasm and with New Year's resolutions fresh in their memory, they are making preparations for the mid-term examinations, two weeks hence.
 The Fifth Farmers' Demonstration Conference will be held at the University beginning on January 20th and extending over a period of ten days. Short courses will be offered under the direction of scientifically trained experts. Special rates have been granted over all rail roads for round trip fare of one and one-third fare plus twenty-five cents. These short winter courses have attracted a large number of the best farmers of the State annually, and it is expected that the record of attendance this year will surpass that of any previous session. Men of prominence and experience in agricultural pursuits will lecture on the vital problems of the day to the agricultural interests of the State.
 The Baton Rouge Mid-winter Fair will open its doors on January 15th and close on the 18th. The Baton Rouge Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the University authorities have worked strenuously and have left no stone unturned in preparation for what is expected to be one of the most successful exhibits of live stock, poultry, hogs and agricultural products. Tents have been erected on the University athletic field for the protection of the live-stock and for stock judging and lectures. Entries may be made by any resident of the State.
 Geo. Rogillo, a member of the senior class at the University, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1914 Gumbo to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation from the University of former editor Sayes. The announcement of Frances Robertson as assistant editor and Marie Nobell as society editor has been announced by the new elected head.
 The basket ball season which successfully opened with a trip during the Xmas holidays resulting in a victory of three games for the Tiger five, is attracting considerable attention from the admirers of the sport. The S. L. I. quintette was overwhelmingly defeated by a score of 44-7 by the Tigers in the first home game Friday.
 Considerable off-hand discussion of the proposed Southwestern Intercollegiate Athletic Association is current on the University campus, but nothing authoritative has been given out as to the possible action by the athletic officials at the State institution.
 Director W. R. Dodson has announced that from the present indications the attendance at the Fifth Farmers' Demonstration Conference this year will exceed that of former meetings. The first official meeting of the farmers will be held this morning, and with a large number already in the city it should prove a successful session. The course extends from January 19 to 30, and during that period some of the eminent men in the United States along agricultural lines will address the farmer students.
 In addition to the regular conference, meetings of the Corn Grower's Association, teachers of agriculture, the Louisiana Horticultural Society and the Louisiana Jersey Breeders Association will be held. The Corn Grower's Association meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 20; and the teachers of agriculture will meet at 2 P. M. Wednesday, Jan. 21; the Louisiana Horticultural Society, Jan. 23; and on the same date a Cow-Testing Club will be organized in connection with the meeting of the Jersey Breeders.
 The Baton Rouge Mid-Winter Fair closed Saturday at 10 P. M. From the statements of some of the most prominent visitors to this Fair, it proved a success in every way. Enormous crowds visited the exhibits every day. In addition to a fine live stock show, practically every commodity raised in Louisiana was shown. The Experiment Station had a complete exhibit, as well as the Mechanical and Agricultural Departments of the University. This display along scientific lines made by the State Board of Health proved attractive. The exhibits from this body gave a thorough illustrated discussion of hygiene and eugenics.
 The University's debating squad was selected last week. The final choice is as follows: Affirmative A. B. Whitlow and Fisher Middleton, Principals; J. M. Barnett, Alternate. Negative: T. J. Magee and A. S. H. Trappey, Principals; R. H. Lee, Alternate.
 The question for debate this year is: Resolved, That the President of the United States should be elected for a term of six years and be ineligible for re-election.
 Louisiana State University is now champion of the Pentagonal Debating League, composed of the state universities of Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana. The affirmative team this year meets the University of Texas at Baton Rouge in April, while the negative side will go to Knoxville, Tenn.
 Prof. E. W. Kerr of the department of engineering leaves Wednesday for Porto Rico to visit the Guanica and Fortuna plants, two of the largest sugar industries in the world. Prof. Kerr visits these plants at the request of the managers and owners to solve some problems for them in the question of sugar evaporation.
 The Tiger basket ball team downed the Louisiana College five at the Fair Saturday by a score of 27-24. The game was hard and fast, with considerable rough play on both sides. The biggest crowd that ever witnessed a contest in basket ball was present at this game. The Tigers meet the Mississippi College aggregation on the local court Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

 Mr. E. M. Stanley, manager of the Cumberland Telephone Exchange at St. Joseph, was a visitor to Newellton this week on business for his Company.
 Quite a crowd from Newellton and vicinity have gone out on the Tensas for a hunting and fishing trip. Those composing the party are: Messrs. E. C. Grace, S. Marks, Joe Isaacs, M. J. Lewis, John Douglass, Hyman Solomon, L. de Vries, F. Lombardo, D. Muir, R. W. Newell and Henry Isaacs.
 Dr. Dunbar Newell, of Chattanooga, Tenn., is visiting his father, our efficient Post Master, Mr. E. H. Newell. Dr. Newell is being entertained by his brother-in-law and sister, Hon. and Mrs. John Murdoch, during his stay with us. He will go on a short hunting expedition before returning to his home at Chattanooga. Dr. Newell will leave in a few days for a short visit to friends at St. Joseph.
 Capt. Peter Lundermah of the Salvation Army, Natchez Post, was a visitor to Newellton this week, and made a canvass of our town, soliciting aid for the distressed of that city, the contributions to be expended for food, clothing and fuel, to be distributed among the poor and needy. The work of the Salvation Army has been great not only at Natchez but in every city of the United States and the good it has done is really beyond comprehension.

There are probably no great charitable organizations in the world, especially of eleemosynary nature, the objects and purposes of which are to bring relief to the distressed, and hope and comfort to the disheartened, that escape criticism from the skeptical and unthoughtful, but the fact is none the less true that the Salvation Army has been productive of much good wherever it has labored and has been the means not only of feeding the hungry and ministering to the sufferings of millions of destitute, but has reclaimed many a fallen man and woman, to whom life offered but little, and bade them forget the past and encouraged and strengthened for the future, and who in many cases lived to bless the organization that had lifted them out of the Slough of Despair and helped them to lead good and useful lives.
 The following notes are culled from the Concordia Sentinel of last week:
 Judge Hugh Tullis, of St. Joseph, a leading light at the bar of Louisiana, informs us that he has leased the office of the late Judge S. L. Elam, in Vidalia, jointly with Hon. J. E. Clayton, where he will be found at all times by those needing his professional services.
 Judge Tullis is well-known throughout North Louisiana, ranking high as a jurist, and having the confidence of all who have hitherto entrusted their legal business to his care, being well versed in the law and a legal debater. Success to him is our wish.
 In this issue of our paper will be found the legal card of the new law firm of Dale, Young & Wade, who will practice in all the Courts of the District, as well as State Supreme Court, and the United States Supreme Court.
 As a practitioner the reputation of Judge Dale is too well known for the Sentinel to expatiate on his abilities as a jurist and legal practitioner.
 Messrs. Young and Wade, the other members of the new firm, also hold very high positions at the bar of North Louisiana and have held a large clientele in their respective practices.
 The firm has engaged the services of Mrs. Katie C. Klapp as stenographer.

Benoit Clothing Co.'s Calendar.
 The Gazette is indebted to the Benoit Clothing Co., of Natchez, for a handsome calendar for 1914, for which we return thanks. It has been the policy for years of this popular clothing house to issue calendars bearing photographic likenesses of some ante-bellum land-marks of Natchez and Adams county, and a collection of these pictures of beautiful and historic Natchez are worthy of preservation. The 1911 calendar showed "The Brians," the home of the Irvine family of Natchez, situated on the picturesque bluff overlooking the Mississippi River, and bearing a letter in the corner from President Jefferson Davis, setting forth that he (Pres. Davis) was married in that house to Miss Varina Howell on February 26, 1845. The 1912 calendar shows a good likeness of "Montaigne," the home of Gen. Will T. Martin, and which is one of the most beautiful of the ante-bellum homes in Adams county. Gen. Martin was one of the most prominent citizens of Mississippi and a gallant Confederate veteran. The 1913 calendar gives a memoir of the past, the old Masonic Temple that formerly stood at the corner of Main and Union Streets. This handsome old structure was built by the Grand Lodge of Masons of Mississippi in the year 1827. In 1890 it was demolished for the purpose of giving place to a more modern edifice that was for years known as the "Temple Opera House" and which was later destroyed by fire. The 1914 calendar, possibly the most historic of all, brings old Jefferson College into the lime-light, presenting a faithful likeness of that celebrated institution of learning, showing cadets in uniform with a column of squads marching. Jefferson College is the oldest literary institution in the South-west, was chartered in 1802 and endowed by the United States Government. It was among the most popular universities in the South and graduated some of the most distinguished of our Southern statesmen, notably President Davis and Governor A. G. Brown. These views are well taken and perhaps in no better manner could historic old Natchez be kept in the public eye than the method pursued by the Benoit Clothing Co., as here set forth.
