MRS. MATTIE ELIZABETH O'KELLEY WALKER.

DIED—At "Telvorton," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. D. Ashford O'Kelley, in Tensas Parish, La., MATTIE ELIZABETH O'KELLEY WALKER.

The sadness and sorrow of an already saddened community has been accentuated beyond measure by the pathetic death of this young wife and mother, and the hearts of all who knew and loved her have been stirred to their deepest depths; their true sympathies go to the devoted husband who felt the influence of her strong, sweet personality and found in her the response to every heart-throb, and the key to the solution of every trouble.

As the joy of motherhood first gladdened the heart of this noble woman, her pure soul caught the reflection of God's perfect light and passed forever from its earthly tenement into that blessed home which knows no pain nor sorrow.

Like a beautiful flower she has been cut down when life seemed fairer and brighter, when the sunny hearted day seemed robed in all its most beautiful colors; when love and tenderness, such as come to few, made happy the passing hours, and sweet and beautiful tendrils of affection put forth their fair young blossom to gladden the fragrant garden of a home, in which God Himself reared the altar of love, truth and devotion, like ministering spirits, guarding the portals.

Mattie Elizabeth O'Kelley was born on "Oseola" plantation, in this parish, on November 22, 1890, her father, W. D. O'Kelley, being a prominent planter here then. Later they moved to Mississippi, where she lived in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. D. F. Ashford, until grown, then coming to St. Joseph to live.

Less than two years ago, in the first dawn of her young womanhood, she became the wife of Mr. J. B. Walker, a man capable of appreciating her many womanly virtues and rare gifts, whose own noble, upright character and true worth, tender devotion to duty and to her, brought to her life that completeness, which is the perfection of the truly happy home. It was in this happy home life all the sweet beauty of her nature was given out in unrestricted channels.

And now this beautiful life is closed forever, leaving in its place a dear little one fresh with the smile of God upon its face. Deep and inscrutable indeed are the decrees of Providence!

The interment was made in the beautiful cemetery at Natchez. Buried beneath a mountain of exquisite flowers she lies there in her last deathless sleep. The smile that radiated her face in life with a fore-glimpse of heaven, still lingers lovingly about the mouth in death.

The beautiful hands are folded, the gentle eyes are closed and the heart that never failed to respond to the voices of those who loved her is forever stilled.

Death has come to this happy home and made it desolate, and in face of such grief that pervades it, language fails. The very heavens have wept in sympathy.

But to them there still remains this consolation, that she whom they mourn departed from this earth to form another of the unfailing circle of the elect of heaven and from that realm of eternal peace and happiness she will continue to watch over them, and give the same sweet influence—nay a richer, truer, purer help than that which characterized her devotion to her loved ones on earth.

WE HAVE LOST A FRIEND!

We have lost a friend! Not for many years in our town has grief been so immeasurably felt and shown as in the death of Abner Green. All classes and all ages, from the tiny tot to the gray-haired man, have bared their heads in a common sorrow. Big hearted and sympathetic, intensely loyal to his friends, the possessor of a keen and refined intellect and a broad and sane out-look upon life, he built for himself a place in our community and in our hearts that will not readily be filled.

"Not a kindlier life, or sweeter. Time that lights and quenches men, Now may quench or light again, Mingling with the mystic metre, Woven of all men's lives with his, Not a clearer note than this, Not a kindlier life or sweeter."

A FRIEND.

Mr. Emmett S. Newton, of Chattanooga, Tenn., came to Natchez to attend the funeral of his friend and former guardian, the lamented Mr. Abner E. Green.

ABNER E. GREEN.

Abner E. Green died at Von Ormy, Texas, last Sunday, and was buried in Natchez on Tuesday of this week. He was born at Port Gibson, Miss., September 2, 1872, son of Mr. James Payne Green, and came of one of the oldest families in his native State, his mother being a Miss Walles.

After having obtained a primary education at home, he attended the State A. & M. College, at Starksville, Miss., and completed his academic course at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn., where he also studied law and graduated in the legal department of the University.

He came to St. Joseph in 1895, studied law in the office of the late Robert H. Snyder, and soon began the practice of his profession here. He soon built up a lucrative practice and engaged at the same time in journalism, being for some time owner and editor of the Gazette. He was married June 6th, 1900, to Miss Nora Slicer, daughter of the late Dr. J. E. Slicer, who survives him.

In 1900 he was elected Parish Superintendent of Education and was re-elected in 1904.

In 1908 he was elected District Attorney and was re-elected to that office in 1912.

Such is a brief sketch of the life of our lamented friend—an outline of his career—but a more gifted pen than the writer's is required to fill in the sketch—to paint into the picture the colors which will give it life and warmth and cause it to faithfully delineate the strong man, the vital and virile character who has passed away.

Abner Green was gifted in an unusual degree with the faculty for making and keeping friends. No one approached him who did not feel the charm of his manner, which was enhanced by his physical attractiveness. While he was courteous, and approachable, there was a certain dignity in his manner and deportment which at once inspired respect and secured the confidence of all who knew him. Full of sympathy for his fellow-man, his hand was ever ready and his warm heart open to those in distress. A loyal man, a man to trust, the kind of man one wants for a comrade whether in smiling times of peace or when clouds are lowering and conditions demand strong and brave men. For he was essentially a brave man, both physically and morally. And so he made a brave and patient fight for life—for that life which must have been so sweet to him, full as it was of all those things which make life worth living—the respect and confidence of all who knew him, the tender love and affection of family and hosts of friends, success in his chosen life-work. Facing the loss of all these things—in the full maturity of his powers stricken by a fatal malady—he fought the good fight bravely, cheerfully and patiently, like the gallant gentleman he was, and those who loved him, watching how he bore himself, were filled with sadness at the impending calamity, but still more filled with pride and admiration at his fortitude. Truly his was men's acquia in arduis!

FUNERAL OF ABNER E. GREEN.

When the news came, last Sunday p. m., of the death of Mr. A. E. Green, at Von Ormy, Texas, a gloom was cast over our entire town—a parish, for certainly there was no one in all Tensas more beloved by all classes and creeds than he, and every one was eager to learn full particulars as to his burial, and when all arrangements had been made for the funeral to be held at Natchez on Tuesday evening, numbers of our people, of both sexes and colors, and all ages, were seen gathering flowers to be placed on his grave as a last tribute of love to one who knew not an enemy. The good ladies of St. Joseph made a blanket of satin which was covered with violets, and which totally enveloped the casket as it lay in state.

In the center of this beautiful cover were the letters "Rest" worked in white carnations. Numerous and exquisite floral offerings came from other sections and the grave was a veritable mound of flowers, as sweet evidence of the love and appreciation that was felt for this good man.

The services were conducted from Trinity Episcopal Church by the Rev. Jos. Kuehnle, the funeral procession including nearly a score of vehicles.

The following gentlemen acted as pall bearers at the funeral:
 Honorary—Aaron Stanton, C. L. Clark, Jos. Curry, Dr. L. A. Muddock, Dr. D. H. Alverson, Louis T. Hunter, Doc. Brown, W. D. A. Gorton, F. O. Adams and Judge N. M. Calhoun.

Active—Jos. M. Reeves, E. P. Campbell, D. F. Ashford, W. D. Mounger, Emmett S. Newton, Louis Buckner, R. H. Whitney, Holman L. Smith, John Hughes and W. M. Davidson.

Perhaps the most pathetic sight witnessed on this sad occasion was the deep and silent grief of the aged parents of the beloved dead, whose last surviving child, the prop and stay and comfort of their old age, was laid to rest beneath the sod. May God comfort them in our prayer!

The devoted widow, the companion and joy of his life, prostrated with grief, was supported by her brother, Dr. J. E. Slicer, and to whom the loving sympathy of many friends was extended.

The following friends from Tensas attended the funeral: Dr. Alverson, C. L. Clark, Jos. Isaacs, W. M. Davidson, G. H. Clinton, Louis Buckner, Dr. Muddock, Holman L. Smith, R. L. Wimberly, Jos. Curry, Frank Curry, Thos. M. Wade, Wm. C. Jordan, B. F. Young, J. Maury Stanton, Josiah P. Scott, R. H. Whitney and wife, John Hughes, Mrs. B. B. Young, Miss Brunette Lewis, Miss Loula Pipes, F. O. Adams, Louis Hunter and W. D. A. Gorton and wife.

As a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. Green, for eight years parish superintendent of education, Supt. Wade ordered all public schools in the parish to give half holiday, while the St. Joseph school was given full holiday that the faculty might attend the obsequies. And as a further mark of respect and evidence of regard, every business house in Newellton, St. Joseph and Waterproof closed their doors and all business was suspended during the hour of the funeral.

So great was the love and esteem with which Mr. Green was held by our people that a movement was started this week to raise a fund by volunteer subscriptions to erect a monument to his memory. However imposing the shaft or sublime the inscription, no tablet of the sculptor's art, no pathos of the poet's song, can reflect the deep love that beat for him in every breast in Tensas. Abner Green's epitaph is engraved in the hearts of all who knew him.

Peace to his ashes, peace to his memory, peace to his soul!
