

Calomel Today! Sick Tomorrow!

I Guarantee Dodson's Liver Tone

Don't take nasty, dangerous calomel when bilious, constipated, headachy. Listen to me!

Calomel makes you sick; you lose a day's work. Calomel is quicksilver and it salivates; calomel injures your liver.

If you are bilious, feel lazy, sluggish and all knocked out, if your bowels are constipated and your head aches or stomach is sour, just take a spoonful of harmless Dodson's Liver Tone instead of using sickening, salivating calomel. Dodson's Liver Tone is real liver medicine. You'll know it next morning because you will wake up feeling fine, your liver will be working, your headache and dizziness gone, your stomach will be sweet and howls regular. You will feel like working. You'll be cheerful; full of vigor and ambition.

Your druggist or dealer sells you a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents under my personal guarantee that it will clean your sluggish liver better than nasty calomel; it won't make you sick and you can eat anything you want without being salivated. Your druggist guarantees that each spoonful will start your liver, clean your bowels and straighten you up by morning or you get your money back. Children gladly take Dodson's Liver Tone because it is pleasant tasting and doesn't gripe or cramp or make them sick.

I am selling millions of bottles of Dodson's Liver Tone to people who have found that this pleasant, vegetable liver medicine takes the place of dangerous calomel. Buy one bottle on my sound, reliable guarantee. Ask your druggist about me.—Adv.

Both Ends

(Producer and Consumer)

Against The Middle

(The Packer)

The consumer wants to pay a low price for meat.

The farmer wants to get a high price for cattle.

The packer stands between these conflicting demands, and finds it impossible to completely satisfy both.

The packer has no control over the prices of live stock or meat, and the most that can be expected of him is that he keep the difference between the two as low as possible. He does this successfully by converting animals into meat and distributing the meat at a minimum of expense, and at a profit too small to be noticeable in the farmer's returns for live stock or in the meat bill of the consumer.

Swift & Company's 1917 transactions in Cattle were as follows:

	Average Per Head
Sold Meat to Retailer for	$68.97
Sold By-products for	24.09
Total Receipts	93.06
Paid to Cattle Raiser	84.45
Balance (not paid to Cattle Raiser)	8.61
Paid for labor and expenses at Packing House, Freight on Meat, and Cost of operating Branch distributing houses	7.32
Remaining in Packer's hands as Returns on investment	$ 1.29

The net profit was $1.29 per head, or about one-fourth of a cent per pound of beef.

By what other method can the difference between cattle prices and beef prices be made smaller, and how can the conflicting demands of producer and consumer be better satisfied?

A SPRING MEETING

By HILDA MORRIS.

(Copyright, 1918, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

It was Saturday afternoon, a warm spring Saturday. Most of the other girls from Sally's office were planning gala excursions of some sort, shopping for new summer clothes, rowing in the park or going to the movies with John or Gerald. Some of them, carefully powdered and with their hair arranged modestly to conceal the ears, stepped out to meet young men in khaki, short young men in spring suits, jacksies in tight-fitting blue. Only Sally set forth alone and with nothing planned for the afternoon's enjoyment.

It had been so different the week before! Then she, too, had met her soldier; she, too, had looked forward to a happy afternoon. And then some one had told her about him. It seemed that he wasn't just plain John Strong. He was the John Strong, son of the millionaire whose gray stone palace crowned the top of one of the city's beautiful hills. He had once been reported engaged to Evelyn Carey, the banker's daughter, and rumor had it that even now he was courting the daughter of the governor of the state. What use could he have for plain, poor little Sally Graham? If he thought she was that kind of girl! So Sally concluded that she would simply have to put him out of her mind and resolve never to see him again.

This, however, was easier said than done. He had not called her up that Saturday, so there had been no occasion for putting her resolve into icy tones. One couldn't think over on a busy street, so she boarded a street car and rode to the edge of town, to strike off briskly down a country road.

Country roads in springtime are more delectable than the most gorgeous of stage scenery or the most bewitching of shops. There is something about a springtime road that seems to declare that it is a setting for happiness, for youth, for hope and health and radiance.

"It's funny so few people are out here on a day like this!" she said to herself. "I should think every one would be, and especially people with cars. I haven't met a soul."

But as she spoke there was the sound of a motor in the distance, and Sally stepped aside to wait until it had passed. It was a big gray car, and in it there was a girl alone. Sally looked at her a little wistfully. She was a pretty, well-dressed girl. Her bright eyes met Sally's with something like a friendly smile as she swept by, leaving a faint trail of dust.

"I suppose the governor's daughter looks like that," Sally thought.

The afternoon went all too swiftly. Sally walked and walked, following the lure of the winding road that always had some surprise waiting for her around the very next turn. But at last it was time to start back, and she found that she was unexpectedly very tired. She had come farther than she thought.

And then, once more there came the sound of a motor. It was the big gray car with the pretty girl in it again. It came on smoothly and swiftly.

"Aren't you going back to town?" the girl called to Sally. "Don't you want to ride?"

Almost before she knew it Sally was seated beside her, spinning swiftly over the road that she had walked. They chatted amiably, of the weather, outdoor sports, the pleasures of walking. The strange girl was amazingly friendly. Sally felt a little shy at first, but no shyness could refrain from melting before the frank simplicity of the other's manner. She was utterly charming, with the sort of frank, sincere manner that reminded Sally so much of John Strong. Of course the girl belonged to his kind of people. No wonder he should love a girl like that! The wonder was that he had ever seen anything attractive about Sally, in her plain little suit with her shy, unsophisticated manner. At least so Sally thought.

Suddenly the big car slowed down at a curb.

"There's my brother," said its owner. "He's waving me to stop. No, don't get out, please. I'll drive you on down as far as the square; there's plenty of room."

Sally sat still with her heart beating swiftly. He was coming through the crowd, his tall khaki figure conspicuous among all the others. He came straight toward them and got in—beside Sally.

"Why, Sally Graham!" he exclaimed. "I've been looking for you all the afternoon! I didn't know you knew my sister. I've been telling her all about you, but—"

"And I didn't know this was Sally Graham," the sister broke in smiling. "I've been dying to meet you, Miss Graham, and I'm glad we did it in this way. I'm sure it couldn't have happened more pleasantly. John has told me so much about you—"

"I wonder," broke in John Strong, "whether you would drive us around to the house, Edith? That is if Sally wouldn't mind coming. I want mother to meet Sally, because—"

His hand beneath the lap-robe tightened on Sally's.

Sally felt her voice to be a little husky, but she smiled as she answered:

"I shouldn't mind in the least," she said.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

LOOK, MOTHER! IS TONGUE COATED, BREATH FEVERISH AND STOMACH SOUR?

'CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS' CAN'T HARM TENDER STOMACH. ACH. LIVER, BOWELS.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZ, 608 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacement, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

COULD HARDLY GET HER BREATH

On Account of Tight, Smothering Feeling, Caused From Aching Lump in Stomach. Black-Draught Relieved This Lady.

Kings Mountain, Ky.—Mrs. Belle Jenkins, of this town, says: "For about four years I suffered with stomach trouble. It seemed like a lump formed in my stomach and I could hardly get my breath for the tight, smothering feeling. This lump, or whatever it was, ached constantly. I couldn't sleep at night. I had no appetite and I began falling off. I am naturally a large woman but just weighed 135 lbs. I got so nervous I felt I could not stand it any longer. I knew in my condition I could not live long."

We had one doctor, he said 'indigestion.' I took medicine from him, but it did not seem to help me any. We had another doctor. He said it was 'neuralgia of the stomach.' I took his medicine, still there was that aching lump. Finally the doctor decided it might be a decayed tooth, and advised me to have my teeth drawn, which I did. I didn't get any better.

One night my husband brought home a sample of Black-Draught. I had been unusually restless. I took the sample next morning. I told him I believed I felt better. He brought home a package, and two packages cured me and I fully believe saved my life. I weigh 133 lbs. and am the picture of health."

AN ATTACK OF URIC ACID USUALLY LEAVES KIDNEYS IN WEAKENED CONDITION

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Regular medium and large size bottles, for sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.—Adv.
