BOTANICO-MEDICAL COLLEGE OF OHIO.

THIRD street, one door east of Broadway, Cincinnati, Ohio, in sight of the Post Office, of almost the whole of Third and Lower Market streets, and of a good portion of the river and the city in general, stands a building of very singular appearance, once called Madame Trollope's Bazaar, lately the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, and now the Botanic-Medical College of Ohio, where all persons desirous to learn anything about true Medical Reform, will find the Professors of said College, ready to furnish them with advice, lectures, books, papers, pure Botanic Medicines, and the best Medical practice yet known.

The next course of Lectures will commence on the first Monday in November, and continue seventeen weeks. We have a sufficient number of men of the right stamp for Professors, and among other means of illustration, a series of splendid Botanical paintings, a good herbarium, and the celebrated Manikin or Artificial Man, in which all the important parts of the human body are constantly presented to the eye, in their natural appearance.

The branches taught in the college are, Anatomy and Physiology, Surgery and Obstetrics, Theory and Practice of Medicine, Chemistry and Botany, Materia Medica and Pharmacy, Neurology, Medical Jurisprudence, &c.

From four or five lectures per day, illustrated by constant practice in the Infirmary, in which there is a sufficient variety of diseases for all the purposes of instruction. It is presumed that the Professors will be the same as heretofore, with, perhaps, two more. The price of all the tickets will not exceed seventy-five dollars. Books usually amount to twenty or thirty, boarding to thirty or forty.

Gentlemen who can bring us satisfactory evidence, that they have been engaged for four years or more in general and successful practice, may, if they make a good use of their time and opportunities here, graduate and for te course. We know many a practitioner in different parts of the country, who might do this, but we know of no one who would have reason to regret, after he had done it, the time or the money expended. We have had several who were over 50 years old.

A. CURTIS, Pres't. Oct. 21, 1843. George W. Berry, Saddler and Harness Maker. THE undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the public, that he is always ready at his shop on the Square in the East Ward of Grenada to execute, in workmanlike manner, and at low cash prices, all work in the Saddling and Harness making business. National Magazine OF LITERATURE, ART AND FASHION. Graham's Lady's and Gentleman's Magazine. PROSPECTUS FOR 1843. EDITORS: J. FENNIMORE COOPER, RICH'D. H. DANA, WM. CULLEN BRYANT, H. W. LONGFELLOW, CHARLES F. HOFFMAN, T. C. GRATMAN.

GRAHAM'S is the oldest and most popular of the American Literary Magazines. The number for January, 1843, will be the first of its 35th volume. Its long and universally successful career, from its commencement with a few hundred subscribers, until the present time, which it has a circulation of fifty thousand copies a month, is perhaps as good an evidence of its great and increasing popularity as the publisher has in his power to offer.

Graham's Magazine has been from its establishment the favorite periodical of the great body of the people. Its plan does not entirely exclude articles of the most important character, such as have raised Blackwood's and some other foreign journals to their high influence and reputation; its pages will be faithfully devoted to what is usually termed light literature. It will be distinguished from other publications of similar kind by the literary and artistic merit of its contents.

GRAHAM'S LADY'S and GENTLEMAN'S Magazine has been from its establishment the favorite periodical of the great body of the people. Its plan does not entirely exclude articles of the most important character, such as have raised Blackwood's and some other foreign journals to their high influence and reputation; its pages will be faithfully devoted to what is usually termed light literature.

SPLENDID ENDEAVORS. In the department of Engravings it is well known that Graham's Magazine has surpassed any periodical work ever published in this or any other country. The highest ambition of rival publishers seems thus far to have been to maintain a respectable imitation of the numerous costly and beautiful works of art which the successive numbers of this journal have been granted. In the course of the succeeding volumes many important new features will be introduced.

OUR PORTRAIT GALLERY. One of the new features of the coming volumes will be the introduction of Portraits of the contributors to Graham's Magazine, which of course, will include nearly all the eminent writers of the day. The 3rd volume will include, from the busts of Parker, Johnson and others, portraits engraved in the highest style of the art of Mr. Cooper, Professor Longfellow, Maria D'I. Occidentis, Mrs. Sigourney, Miss Sedgwick, Mrs. Sara F. Smith, Mrs. Embury and several others—all from paintings executed expressly for the purpose.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will continue to embrace selected current literature, and reviews of all new American and foreign works of general interest or value. The criticisms of Graham's Magazine are acknowledged in all parts of the country to be superior in accuracy, honesty and independence to those of any contemporary. Indeed, while a majority of the monthly and quarterly journals have become mere advertising mediums for the booksellers, in which every thing is indiscriminately praised, this periodical is looked upon as a just and discriminating arbiter between authors and readers, in which both have implicit confidence.

GRAHAM'S Magazine will be published on the first of each month in every quarter of a Union. The most distant subscribers will therefore receive it on that day, as well as those who reside in Philadelphia. The proprietor being more desirous of presenting the best and most beautiful than the cheapest work in the country, and anxious to bring it within the reach of all, offers the following as the lowest terms at which it can be afforded:—THREE DOLLARS per annum in advance for a single copy, or two copies yearly for five dollars, five copies for ten dollars, eight for fifteen dollars, or eleven for twenty dollars, (which amounts to an annual invariably in advance). Postage of all letters to be prepaid. GEORGE R. GRAHAM, Dec. 7, 1840. No 98 Chestnut St Philadelphia

THE LIFE AND SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY, Complete in two volumes, of over 1100 pages, WITH THREE ENGRAVINGS.

THE WHOLE FOR ONE DOLLAR. The Publishers of the New-York Tribune have effected an arrangement with Mr. James B. Swain, proprietor of the only full and illustrated collection of the SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY, preceded by a Biographical Memoir of the Great Statesman and Orator of the West, and embellished by three Superb Engravings—by which they will be enabled to publish, from Mr. Swain's stereotype plates, an edition of that work for the People, in two large and elegant volumes, at the unprecedentedly low price of ONE DOLLAR for the whole!

This edition will comprise: I. A MEMOIR OF HENRY CLAY, clear and glowing, written expressly for this work, by Henry J. RAYMOND, Esq. II. The speeches of Mr. Clay, from 1810 to 1842 inclusive, carefully collected from various sources, for this work compared and corrected, and all restored to the first person—many of them having been only reported in the third person—"Mr. Clay said" and so, and "he urged," &c. instead of giving his own vigorous and grand diction, without interpolation or distortion. No collection of Mr. Clay's Speeches is all comparable with this, in completeness or correctness, has ever before appeared.

Each Speech is prefaced by a brief introductory paragraph explaining the circumstances which called it forth, and whenever it is desirable and otherwise indicated, a note of the measure under consideration. III. A Portrait of Henry Clay, from original painting by Lincoln, engraving by Prud'homme. IV. A view of the birthplace of Henry Clay, in "the Slashes of Hanover," Virginia—engraved on steel.

Such is the character—such are the contents of the edition of THE LIFE AND SPEECHES OF HENRY CLAY, which the subscribers now offer to the public in two large volumes of 1100 pages, for One Dollar, which will be fully printed, on fair, white paper, and neatly put up in flexible covers. It is afforded cheaper than was ever before, because we hope to give it the largest circulation ever attained by any.

To the friends of Henry Clay, Mighty, glorious host!—to the advocates of the legitimate principles and measures of the National Policy of the day, is the furthest encouragement—the lovers of our country universally—especially the various Whig organizations and Clay Clubs, do we earnestly appeal for aid in our efforts, and the circulation of this work, to render its perusal, as nearly as may be universal. We ask them to do this, for our sakes, but to advance the great Cause to which their energies are devoted, and because that Cause can never be more persuasively, more successfully commended to the public judgment, the popular heart, than in the sons of far seeing Patriotism, the burning Eloquence of Henry Clay.

Respectfully, GREELY & McELRATH, 160 Nassau St., New-York. This edition of Mr. Clay's Life and Speeches will be issued on or before the 1st of June next, and will be first applied to those who shall have previously subscribed and paid for copies, in the order of such payment. Price $1 for the whole work, $10 per dozen, $80 per hundred. Subscribers and others are respectfully solicited.

The exceedingly low price at which this work is to be published absolutely precludes the possibility of disposing of it, in any instance, on terms other than cash in hand. Our friends therefore understand that, being responsible they may be, we must be here with the utmost strictness to cash principle.

Almost every village, certainly most every town will be able to form clubs of twenty-four. And in all cases where the money ($20) for 24 copies or over is sent through the Post Office, and a certificate taken from the Post Master, it may be sent at our risk. The Post Master will be entitled to no gratuity.

It is particularly requested that orders be accompanied by specific directions as to the manner in which the books shall be forwarded, and unaccompanied by such specific directions, the books so ordered will be put up in bundles or boxes, and name and place of destination left marked thereon, and the boxes or packages retained in our warehouse as called for, or directions given as to manner of their shipment. The publishers will not hold themselves responsible beyond their shipment, or delivery to order. G. & M. New-York, April, 1843.
