Garrett's Condition.

New York, Sept. 2.—The Tribune prints the following as the statement of a person, who knows Robert Garrett's condition: Mr. Garrett is a very sick man, and I don't think will recover. His mind is entirely gone, his speech is failing, and when he becomes violent he cannot say a word, but makes a peculiar noise with his throat. He is at times crying and yelling, and when night comes his noise is fearful. He will stare around him and his eyes bulging out crouching with terror, he will call to his assistant to come and take the man away, who are trying to kill him. The windows are guarded with heavy iron gratings to prevent him from jumping out. He is constantly watched by the three men in the day and three at night. He does not eat at the same table as his wife and father-in-law who are with him. He is fed on milk almost entirely. When he has a quiet spell his attendants take him for a walk in the garden.

Tropical Fruit Trust.

New York, Sept. 2.—The report that a trust had been organized by the tropical fruit men of New Orleans did not create much concern among the banana importers of this city. George H. Richardson of 228 Greenwich street, selling agent of the Atlas line of steamers, which brings to this port an average of eight cargoes of bananas per month, stated he was aware of an attempt on the part of a certain English firm to organize a big trust for the control of the tropical fruit trade, but did not believe it could succeed, because of the fruit being perishable. If bananas could be stored like sugar, oil or goods of that character, a trust might cause some alarm. Part of the plans of the English firm embraced, Mr. Richardson said, the construction of a ship capable of carrying from 30,000 to 50,000 bunches of bananas hung up. At present the largest vessels are able to bring only 14,500 bunches in layers.

A Horse that Pumped Water.

McLeansboro, Ill., Sept. 1.—J. T. B. Steele, of this place, was not long ago the owner of a most intelligent horse. The animal was of the Morgan stock, and in color was coal black. The Judge boarded with a gentleman and kept his horse in the latter's barn. The Judge, while extremely fond of the animal, at times neglected to care for him as well as the horse, perhaps, thought he should, and "Old Charlie," as the black was affectionately called, was consequently frequently compelled to hustle for himself, and he displayed a wonderful ability to get what he wanted on these occasions.

In the lot which surrounded the barn was a pump with a long wooden handle, and under the spout was usually a bucket. One evening as the Judge's landlord came home his wife asked him to go out into the lot and he would see something funny. He went. He saw the Judge's horse drinking from the bucket at the well, and then when the bucket had been emptied, he saw the animal grasp the long handle in his mouth and pump the bucket full.

The horse was not given any more water that night, and when he was turned out the next morning he was watched by the people of the house. He trotted out to the pump, and, finding the bucket empty, proceeded to fill it in the same manner as he had on the previous evening. At other times, when the bucket had been removed, he was seen to give the long handle a few vigorous jerks and then quickly put his mouth under the spout and drink the water as it fell. He repeated the performance until his throat was satisfied.

On other occasions he pumped water for the cows when there was no one else to do it.

A Saving Bank burst.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 2.—Wm. A. Swart, L. H. Johnston and Elijah Reckler, president teller and solicitor of the saving bank at Koseland have disappeared. About $30,000, comprising the entire funds of the bank, are also missing. Roseland is the southern suburb of Chicago. The village has a population of 2000, nearly all Hollanders. Scarcely a family in the place will escape loss. The people were almost frantic to-day when the discovery of the flight was made. Swart left yesterday and Johnston and Beckler followed this morning. Swart was a "young Napoleon of finance." He had projected streets carlines and similar municipal improvements, much to the astonishment of his Dutch neighbors, but gathering in their money by offering a comparatively high rate of interest. The bank had been in operation just seven months.

Draws Himself and Child.

New Lisbon, O., Sept. 2.—A desperate suicide occurred Thursday. Several days ago Mrs. Thompson gave birth to a child and her husband was telegraphed for. Wednesday night he returned to town, but instead of going home stayed at a saloon, where he got drunk. The conduct of the husband preyed upon the mind of the mother so much that she arose from bed Thursday morning went to a small stream near the house, and with her babe in her arms lay down where the water was only two or three feet deep and drowned both her child and herself.

Desperado Killed.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 2.—A special from Little Rock, Ark., says: T. C. Yates a noted desperado, was shot and killed in the Chickasaw nation, Indian territory, yesterday. He fired into a crowd, the fire was returned and Yates dropped from his horse dead.

Imported Swiss cheese, Holland Herring and Russian Sardines, just arrived at O. J. Miller's.

A Horrible Murder.

Agend, Kansas, Sept. 2.—A horrible affair is reported from the neighborhood of Vide Rock, a small town just over the Nebraska line. John Baker, while feeding a thrashing machine on the farm of a man named Weeks was accidentally cut on the hand by the band cutter. In his rage he grasped a boy and deliberately fed him into the machine, feet first. The boy's screams attracted other hands but before they reached the scene the boy's body had half disappeared in the machine.

Outbreak Among the Indians.

Denver, Col., Sept. 2.—Major Charles Whitehead, special pension examiner, arrived in this city, and reports that when he departed from Landers, W. T., last Wednesday there was considerable excitement among the settlers on account of the expected outbreak among the Shoshone, Sioux and Arapahoe Indians at Washakal, on the Shoshone reservation. The hostility of the Indians is attributed to their apprehension that the government intends to remove them to the Indian territory forcibly if they do not consent to the terms of the present negotiations. Agent Jones has called for military aid and has ordered the garrison at Fort Washakal to prepare for an attack. The settlers are also making active preparations for defense.

Denver, Col., Sept. 2.—Hon J. B. Galloway to-night received a letter from the foreman of his ranch, in Paradox valley, confirming the rumor of a fight between a band of southern Utes and a band of Riutes and they had broken out. The latter number about 200. The battle occurred near Lasal mountain and when the courier left for Grand Junction several Indians had been killed and the battle was still raging. Ranchers have all gone into the settlement.
