GOLDSTEIN & MIGEL,

THE CAMPBELLS CONVICTED.

A Short Trial and a Long Sentence—Other Cases.

Dan and Robert Campbell, two of the most daring and noted highwaymen and desperadoes in the state, were arraigned before Judge Eugene Williams in the district court yesterday on a charge of robbing the house of Col. R. H. Burney, near Mart, in the lower portion of this county, on the evening of July 9th, last. The full details of this daring crime, the pursuit and capture of two of the three perpetrators appeared in the NEWS at the time the prisoners were brought to Waco accompanied by Sheriff Davis, of Wichita county, by whom they were arrested. The pursuit of the Campbells and their still uncaptured confederates, from the scene of the robbery, was conducted by Messrs. Hall and Waller, of this city, Joe Waller giving his personal attention to it and spending the hot and weary months of the long summer upon the trail of the fugitives until they were finally run to earth. It was a remarkable piece of detective work and its successful termination reflects credit and distinction upon the brave men who participated in it.

The trials yesterday were brief, as little testimony was taken and no arguments made. Under the charge of the court the juries, in both instances, returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the punishment of each of the brothers at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. There are two more indictments against each which remain to be tried in this county and several in other counties.

The cases of Geo. F. Oglesby and Frank Henry were continued by the defendants.

A Thanksgiving Treat.

The Thanksgiving performance at The Garland will be given by Frank Jones as "Si Perkins," who is accompanied by a splendid troupe and an orchestra as fine as was ever heard in Waco. The London (Canada) Advertiser, in speaking of the company says:

Frank Jones appeared at the Grand last evening in his play of "Si Perkins." It is of the "Josh Whitcomb," "Alvin Joslyn" order, and as a drama is better than either, and Mr. Jones is as far ahead of Charles L. Davis as one of Davis' diamonds is superior to a Rhinestone. He is really a good actor, and is well supported by Alice Montague and the company generally. The orchestra is a feature of the performance, and received deserved applause.

We all, or at least nearly all, remember the vast crowd which thronged The Garland when "Alvin Joslyn" and his diamonds came until even standing room was at a premium. Now that one follows him that is as great if not a greater artist, it is not asking too much to predict that the house will be full.

Goodyear, Cook & Dillon's company which will be here on the 27th, is highly endorsed as one of the best minstrel organizations which ever visited the south.

PERSONALS.

R. D. Brown, from New Orleans is here.

Justice-elect Jack Harrison is on the sick list.

W. T. Glasgow, of McGregor, is among to-day's arrivals.

Judge J. G. Abney, of Hill county, is in the city on business.

Judge F. N. Read and Col. William Croft are here from Corsicana on legal business.

Col. C. L. Dunbar, general superintendent of the Erie Telephone company is here from St. Louis.

Col. A. P. McKinnon, Messrs. Wm. Reavis, O. Holland and Sheriff Cox are in the city from Hillsboro, attending the courts.

Messrs. H. Stogel, John M. Waters, Geo. W. Morris and Bob Hawks are here from Temple as attached witnesses in the district court.

Col. Shelby N. Strange, of Troy, Texas, one of the most popular and respected citizens of Bell county, is here to-day on business. He is the leading merchant of Troy, and buys his goods in Waco.

Tom W. Howard, one of the most popular advance agents who ever made the acquaintance of managers and reporters, arrived this morning to prepare for the advent of Goodyear, Cook & Dillon on the 27th.

The Garland will be crowded when Goodyear, Cook and Dillon's minstrels come.

Vegetables, fresh from the city and suburban gardens, are still plentiful in Waco.

The ladies will give a grand fair in about two weeks, to raise funds to finish paying off the indebtedness of the Catholic church.

Prepare for a treat on the 27th, Goodyear, Cook & Dillon's famous minstrels will be here.

The brick work of the Cotton Belt passenger depot is finished and the roof-timbers are now being fitted in. The roof will be of slate.

The cement crossings may fill the bill and they may not. At least they will afford a temporary relief, and that will be grateful to a long-suffering community.

The United States court is at work on the civil docket. To-day being default day a large number of attorneys and litigants was in attendance to look after their cases.

The district court this evening took up the case of Tom Williams, who is charged with the theft of two watches from the operators at the Missouri Pacific depot, last spring.

And now some inquisitive citizen wants to know what has become of those bids for a water work system which the council committee opened some weeks ago. Ask us something easy.

Powderly Will be Elected.

Indianapolis, Nov. 22.—The question of elections still agitates the minds of delegates of the knights of labor general assembly. Everyone now acknowledges the certainty of Powderly's re-election, and his choice for other positions will be the choice of the convention. Jno. W. Hayes, the present general-secretary, and Mrs. L. N. Parry will undoubtedly be re-elected in charge of the woman's work, and Richard Griffiths, of Chicago, may continue to serve as general worthy foreman. Powderly's nominations for members of the general executive board cannot so readily be predicted. A Canadian member is desired, and Wm. Wright is the man whom the northern delegates will suggest. From the south there is also a request for representation on the board. McGuire and Ailsworth, of the present board, and O'Reilly, of New York, and Hugh Capenough, have been considered liable to be selected.

The Dress Beef Combination.

St. Louis, Nov. 22.—The senate investigating committee met at 11 o'clock this morning. The first witness was T. L. Leonard, of Saline county, one of the largest importers of stock cattle in Missouri. He said the cattle markets were paralyzed by the dressed beef men, who had secured control. There was no competition in the market between buyers. He advised the system of local inspection, which he said would make innumerable markets instead of two, as at present. Manderson asked what would be the effect of a law passed that no meat should be sold for consumption unless it was inspected?

Witness—I think such a law would prevent Texas men from sending to market cows as lean as hounds.

Senator Plumb asked witness if he thought the price to the consumer was lower than it was formerly, when there were no packing houses?

Witness—I don't think that the price we get for our live beef will justify the price the consumer pays.

About a dozen witnesses were examined to-day. All the testimony thus far goes to show that the dressed beef people have formed a combination to kill off the small butchers and thus obtain control of all the beef business of the country. A witness from New York made the statement that the western dressed beef interests controlled thirty-three per cent, of that market, but that the prices are the same as those of the butchers.

Generosity of Millionaires.

Stephen Girard gave eight million to Girard college, Asa Packer gave three million to Lehigh university, J. B. Colgate gave $300,000 to Madison university, George I. Seney gave $450,000 to the Wesleyan university; Benjamin Bussay gave half a million to the Howard university; Cornelius Vanderbilt gave $1,000,000, and William H. $500,000 to Vanderbilt university, and the family lately gave another million to further medical science; Leland Stanford gave $20,000,000 to establish a university in California, in memory of his deceased son. John Hopkins gave over three million to the university that bears his name, and gifts for benevolent purposes amounting to over eight million. Once a Week.
