

WAR!
Liquors and Cigars.
Will sell cheaper than any one for cash.

Harry Baum & Co.
Vol. IV. No. 257.

The San Antonio Light.

San Antonio, Texas, Monday, October 27, 1884.

WAR!
—AGAINST ALL COMPETITORS—
Cheaper Than Any!

Harry Baum & Co.
Ten Cents a Week

NOW IS THE TIME
TO BUILD

LUMBER IS DOWN!

Lower than the Lowest!

At the Best and Largest Stocked Lumber Yards of

Ed. Steves & Sons.

The Pioneer Lumber Dealers of Western Texas.
Do not forget to call.

OFFICE AND YARDS—L. & G. N. E. R. Depot and Sunset Crossing, Alameda Street.

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

1884 :: FALL and WINTER :: 1885
Our Prices Way Down.
Quality and Fit Way Up.
Assortment Complete.
Our Fall Stock of Clothing for Men, Boys and Children.

CENTS' FURNISHING GOODS
For the Fall Trade have been received. We are ready to receive our old patrons and the public in general, and to supply them with the latest styles in clothing, hats, shoes, etc. We have an immense variety of Foreign and Domestic Goods, and we guarantee a Perfect Fit in every instance or no sale.
COHEN & KOENIGHEIM,
3009 AND 311 MAIN PLAZA,
SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

L. WOLFSON,
NORTHWEST CORNER MAIN PLAZA.

Fall and Winter Goods.

DRESS GOODS

CLOTHING! CLOTHING!

FURNITURE!

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT

L. WOLFSON.

100TH BIRTHDAY.

THE CELEBRATION OF SIR MOSES MONTEFIORE'S BIRTHDAY.

How it is Celebrated in San Antonio Anniversary Services at Temple Beth El.

Yesterday the anniversary services, celebrating the 100th birthday of Sir Moses Montefiore, were held by his co-religionists in San Antonio, at the Temple Beth El. The services commenced at 7:30, and the temple was filled to its utmost capacity. The anniversary service opened by Professor Katzenberger admirably rendering a prelude in C, by L. Sebastian Bach. Rabbi Lewinthal then offered up an evening prayer, after which a hymn was sung by the choir, and the reading of psalms 108, 112 and 135 and excerpts from the Scriptures followed. A thanksgiving hymn having been sung, the special prayer, composed by Chief Rabbi N. M. Adler, was put up, which was as follows:

Almighty God! We have entered into Thy gates with thanksgiving, and into Thy courts with praise to give thanks unto Thee for Thy loving-kindness and Thy truth.

Verily, Thou hast shown Thy wondrous goodness unto Thy pious servant. This is the day that we looked for, we have found, we have seen this. This day 100 years are fulfilled of the life of Moses, the son of Joseph Elias Montefiore, and his eyes are not been dimmed.

When we remember the righteous deeds he has wrought for Israel, we acknowledge, we praise, we thank, all things come of Thee, that Thou didst inspire every good resolve, that Thou didst enlighten his heart in the love of his people, as most valiantly he has defended our land, and he has saved his brethren and locked on their burdens. When he journeyed to the Holy Land to succor the distressed and weary, and he has been on the right hand. Thou wast with his mouth when he appeared before the sovereigns of the East and the West to stand in the breach and turn aside the wrath of oppressors from the oppressed. Thou didst prosper his desire to magnify Thy law and make it honorable. To old age had he eyes to see his people, and he delivered him. Thou didst assure unto him a place and a name better than of sons and daughters.

Lord, remember! Even as Thou hast been with Thy servant, so be with him still. Keep him as the apple of the eye. From lingering illness defend him. May his eyes see the day of his redemption, he has sown his blossom and borne fruit. Sustain him with the balm of hope that in the way of virtue is life, and immortality in the world to come.

God of the spirits of all flesh. In Thy hand is the pure soul of Judah, the faithful holocausts that he has offered, strengthened his arms to seek healing for those that were bowed in spirit, and to revive the hearts of those that were broken. Show Thy loving-kindness, O Lord, to Thy people, O Lord, bless Israel, bless all mankind in Thy boundless grace. Amen.

At the conclusion of the prayer, the most prominent musical feature of the evening took place, by Mrs. Katzenberger, singing a hymn written by Mrs. D. N. Lewis in American Hebrew and dedicated to Sir Moses Montefiore. Mrs. Katzenberger's strong soprano was never heard to better advantage, while the violin obligato of Mr. J. McAllister was an able performance, the music for this hymn was arranged by Professor Katzenberger. After this the Hon. H. Labatt of Galveston, delivered an address specially prepared for the occasion. The gentleman opened his address by describing the location and residence of him whose natal day they were celebrating, and gave a glowing eulogium to his nobleness of character, and portrayed in vivid language how Sir Moses Montefiore was on that day the center of the world's glory upon the throne of France, and the storm of the French revolution that brought them to the guillotine eight years later had not yet clouded their glory.

The American war of the revolution was just over, and the treaty of peace, which recognized the Confederacy, was in its infancy, and the necessity had not yet arisen for a constitution for the United States to form a more perfect union. Georgia, which was situated in England, and the city of London had just recovered from the riots called after their valiant promulgator, Lord George Gordon.

Mr. Labatt then described how opportune was the appearance of Sir Moses Montefiore, a humanitarian, and analyzed the various Jewish persecutions, and how he had been persecuted and how cruel and senseless those persecutions were, and said that it would be an endless task to enumerate all the individual acts of charity Sir Moses Montefiore was the author of, but it was sufficient to say he had never allowed an opportunity to escape where he could bestow money or do a kindly act. Time and distance offered no obstacle to the journey he made in the glorious task before him. This benevolent, life of his, which was so great over prejudices, fought single-handed with a single purpose, extending those of the warrior or the philanthropist, but not in blood nor shrouded in carnage. His life, so dear to every loving heart, so precious to every Jew, one of the greatest of philanthropic links, which are brighter than the other in the golden glow of goodness, his life—the life of Sir Moses Montefiore, the Jew, the great benefactor of his fellow men, the greatest philanthropist of the age, honored and beloved above all. Might his life be long spared him, that he might learn to know how much he is loved and revered by all. The address of the Hon. Labatt made a profound impression upon the audience, and his finished speaking Handel's Hallelujah chorus was sung by the choir, the service closing with the benediction.

The service was decorated with great delicacy of taste and chasteness of design by the following ladies: Mesdames L. Rosenthal, A. A. Wolf, A. Koenigheim, M. Friedman, M. Hall, D. Hall, D. Lowman and M. Oppenheimer.

The musical portion of the service was under the direction of Professor G. Katzenberger, and the choir which had been augmented for the occasion consisted of Mrs. Katzenberger, Mrs. Lord, Miss Sarah Lamm, Miss Marie Lacoste, Captain H. Karber, Mr. A. Griesman and Professor Katzenberger. The above names and ability of their owners are too well known to require praise from the pen of a reporter.

The Committee of Arrangements, who acted as ushers, were Messrs M. Oppenheimer, L. S. Berg, R. Oppenheimer, H. Karber, Mr. A. Griesman and G. H. Frank.

The whole anniversary redounds to the credit of the co-religionists of Sir Moses Montefiore in San Antonio, but no celebration or memorial could hope to be worthy of him who may be truly said to be a beneficent humanity.

Recorder's Court.
Solene Zuniga, J. Williamson, Makin, W. Lauterman, $3 each.
J. Chapp and J. Gallindo, fighting: Chapp fined $5 and Gallindo dismissed.
G. Glider, laundry, fined $5.
House, beating and striking, $3.

The Billiardists.
Frank Maggoli says he will probably remain in San Antonio.
Mr. Herganatt, Maggoli's backer, and Mr. Mike Hennessy, the Houston detective, have left for home.
Harry Cole and his backer, Mr. Jacobs, have left for home.

A Light Lunch.
Mr. John Linnair, the popular proprietor of the well known garden on the corner of Alamo and Arcelego streets, has the thanks of the Linnair brigade for a sumptuous basket of cake and wine set this morning. Mr. Linnair set the tables as usual on Saturday night, and the artistic manner in which this banquet was set and served testified to his ability as a caterer to the public.

Another Departure.
The departure of Mr. C. W. Furbes, a young gentleman who has been connected with the counting department of the Singer sewing machine main offices in this city for the past two years, for the city of St. Orleans, is deeply regretted by his many friends in San Antonio. He left yesterday for his parents in the Crescent City, and will take the position as clerk in the Singer office there.

Amusements Coming.
Fred Ward, the eminent tragedian, will begin his three days' engagement in this city on October 29.
Tony Denier's Humpty Dumpty is coming. Mr. Ed Trill, advance agent, will take the position as clerk in the Singer office there.

Laredo Notes.
Mr. Stephen Gould, who has just returned from Laredo, reports that portion of the county looking much better since the rain that fell in that district on Wednesday—the first rain in 18 months of any amount. Although the rainfall was not sufficient, it will give some little hopes of the present year. In Webb county 30,000 sheep were lost by one man, and great numbers among cattlemen has been generally felt along the whole course of the Rio Grande.

Ordered Away.
Sergeant W. T. Blythe, who for the past three years has been the efficient Chief of the Military station at San Antonio, has been ordered away for duty to Fort Laramie, Wyoming territory, to take charge of the construction of a military telegraph line between Laramie and Fort Robinson, Nebraska. He leaves the latter part of this week. His position will be filled by Private Lewis Dorman, of the signal corps, from Washington.

Work for the Grand Jury.
A young girl but 15 years of age was taken to a dog kennel by Ernestine Dolmar, on Concho street last week by a hack driver. The girl's name is Mary Elizabeth Walhart, and she is said to be an orphan, living with her foster mother, near the Lutheran church. Her foster mother procured the assistance of Detective Hughes, and rescued the girl from the life of shame she was about to begin. Isn't it about time the grand jury was looking into the crooked doings in this city, and finding indictments against the numerous procurers and procurers? It is but a few days since the Linnair reported two cases where a mother and a brother had taken two young girls from a dog kennel kept by a woman named Carrie Anderson, where they had been enticed to enter a life of shame.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Collected From Hotel Corridors and Elsewhere.

J. H. Martin, of Del Rio, is at the Central.
S. S. Cowan, a heavy grain operator, is at Central.
W. Rowland, of Nacogdoches, is a guest at the Central.

J. M. Young, of Henrietta, is registered at the Central.
Mrs. Dan Grady, of Bastrop, is stopping at the Central.
Mrs. A. A. Trigg, of Bastrop, is a guest at the Central hotel.

Colonel J. N. Shafter, from Piedras Negras, is at the Menger.
J. A. Naugle and wife, of Piedras Negras, Mexico, are at the Menger.
Captain Alonso Millate and wife are at the Menger from their ranch near the Menger.

Hon. Joseph D. Sayers, of Bastrop, is in the city, and stops at the Menger.
Mr. Joseph Rea and family have returned from the Northern States.
Mr. Thomas H. Perry, the courteous merchant of Marshall, Texas, is at the Menger.

Miss Addie Dashiell, left on the International and Great Northern train North this morning.
Francisco A. Alvarez, a prominent Mexican from Guadalajara, Mexico, is at the Menger.

A. H. Thompson, connected with the United States meteorological survey, is at the Menger.
Mr. James Woodson, formerly of San Antonio, now a cotton buyer of Austin, spent Sunday in the Alamo city.

Mr. Will E. Panoska, bookkeeper for Panoska & Sons, here staying from his hunting trip on the Concho.
Mrs. Mattie L. Buckner, accompanied by Miss Maggie and Katie Dodd, from Marion county, are at the St. Leonar.

Mr. Thomas H. Perry, the courteous Treasurer of J. H. Wallick's Linnair Kinn company, favored the Linnair with a call this morning.
William M. Sharp, receiver for the Rio Grande, here staying from Governor Hunt's road, is at the Menger with his wife, from Philadelphia, on their way to Laredo.

Maggoli the Winner.
Report of the Last Two Nights of the Casino Billiard Match.

The second night of the Cole-Maggoli billiard match at the Casino Saturday night was attended by about 125 people, despite the bad weather. Cole led off with the balls in fine position on the rail, which in some unaccountable way he did not take advantage of. After some desultory playing by both contestants, Maggoli made a run of 120 and a run of 141. Then Cole made his highest run of the night, 400, and Maggoli came to the front with a handsome run of 300. The score stood 200 to 100 in favor of Cole and 168 for Maggoli.

The last night and the window of the billiard match (3), was attended by a much larger crowd than on the preceding night, and great interest was manifested in the contest between Cole and Maggoli, and also by the non-partisan lovers of the game who were present.

Four two innings, in which very small scores were made by both players, were played. There were a great many more balls struck than on the preceding nights, and some really fine plays were witnessed, which called forth great applause. Then, again, there were many times when the position of the balls could have made easily.

Maggoli scored the largest run last night, 75 points, and made an average of 23.7. Cole's average was 20.5. At the finish of the game, Maggoli's score stood 3000 points (the number played for) and he was declared the winner of the match. Cole's score was 2385. A not very considerable amount of money changed hands, though nearly all who stated their money had it on Cole and lost.

A great many charges of unfairness, "throwing off," etc., have been made against both players in their match, and seemingly with good foundation in fact, though a billiard match is the hardest kind of a match in which charges of this character can be made and proven.

At the finish of the game he was assured by the managers that the match (between Cole and Maggoli) was not to be considered as a contest, but as a game to be played for the amusement of the spectators. Mr. J. H. Edwood only acted as scorer for the match for the first night's play. Not feeling that the match was "up and down" he concluded that his absence, that he should be present for the second night's play would be much more preferable than to be identified in any way whatsoever.

TURNER HALL.
Performance of the Bandit King Last Night.

The crowded and enthusiastic audience that assembled in Turner hall last evening betokened that the fame of Mr. James H. Wallick had preceded him. There is no doubt that the combination as presented in the Bandit King company is a very strong one, and of such a character as to suit the taste of the public.

The play, though not possessing much originality, is undoubtedly a powerful drama, the author having cleverly taken the best points of many other dramas of the same nature and woven them together into a homogeneity with ingenuity. Starting situations, effective tableaux and thrilling episodes crowd upon one another in the six acts the play is presented. All through the melodramatic action is kept up, and the interest continually worked to the denouement.

Mr. James H. Wallick, as the fearless avenger Joe Hayward, was fitted for the role, he possessing a fine physique and stage presence, and the dramatic manner he assumed in every rôle of the horses, Bay, Halberd and Brown Charger, are alone worth seeing, to witness the perfect training.

the notorious Jesse James must have given them to perform their really marvelous feats. The best portion of the play is the duel on horseback, a cleverly worked up realistic stage comedy which has not been excelled. The motions of the horses on the confined stage, are wonderful. The impersonation of Kansas Jake, by E. E. Grandin, is exceedingly droll, and his braggadoocio was highly relished by the audience. Miss Stella Dale as Kolumah, the Indian wife, is a charming little beauty, and possesses a sympathetic voice. The remainder of the cast were all admirably fitted, and the whole arrangement and stage effects were surprisingly good.

The play of the Bandit King has a droll novel twang, but it is in reality a perfectly pure and enjoyable melodrama.

ENJOYABLE HOP.
The Second Kraenschen Given by the Arbeiter Verein.

The second kraenschen, or hop, given by the Arbeiter Verein this season took place at their hall, on East Commerce street, last night. The hop was well attended, and everybody present seemed to enjoy themselves to the fullest extent. The following ladies and gentlemen were in attendance: Mr. A. Huib and wife, Mr. A. Zillan, sister and brother, H. Schellid, H. Studer and Miss Pieper, J. H. Copeland and wife, C. Nagel and Miss Collmann, E. Neutzel, A. Friedrich and Miss E. Dietz, A. Allmann and Miss M. Neug, W. Wagner, J. Heye, F. Gleschner and Miss Lange, M. Schelbel and Miss Neumann, F. Brasse, M. Zimmermann and Miss Fischer, H. Hoeske, Alfred Schilde, J. Haeuser, Miss Friederich, H. Reiner, George Wagner and wife, Fred Meyer, Joe McAllister and Miss Fallmann, Miss Bruhn and Miss Rheinbold.

The hall was beautifully decorated with American, German, English, Mexican and Irish flags.

The committee of arrangements consisted of George and William Wagner and Fred Meyer.

This society intend giving these little hops throughout the season at intervals of about three or four weeks.

ANNIVERSARY BALL.
Given by the San Antonio Turn Verein Saturday Night.

The eighteenth anniversary of the organization of the Turn Verein in this city was celebrated last Saturday night at Turner hall. The affair was very exclusive, and was attended by about fifty couples of ladies and gentlemen. The hall was tastefully decorated with bunting. The eighth cavalry band furnished the music for the occasion. The programme followed by the dancers is given.

1. Polonaise (waltz) 1. Waltz.
2. Schottische. 2. Valse-romaine.
3. Lancers. 3. Polka-rotte.
4. Schottische. 4. Schottische.
5. Valse-romaine. 5. Schottische.
6. Schottische. 6. Schottische.
7. Schottische. 7. Schottische.
8. Schottische. 8. Schottische.
9. Schottische. 9. Schottische.
10. Schottische. 10. Schottische.

A BOLD INTRUDER.
An Unseemly Way of Awakening a Lady—Shot-guns Needed.

During Saturday night, while all the inmates of Mr. F. Beaumont's residence on North street were asleep, Miss Beaumont was awakened by a noise at her window and as a white man as her window in the act of springing into the room. The window was opened, the man screamed loudly when the villain roughly told her to keep still or he would shoot her. Her screams, however, had awakened the household, and hearing foot-steps approaching, the man escaped. The family shot gun has been loaded now, and all our citizens should be likewise prepared.

Nine to Nothing.
A game of ball was played yesterday between the Lightfoot club and a young man's picked nine, but owing to the darkness the Lightfoot club refused to play the ninth inning, in which they would have defeated the other club. The catcher of the picked nine was pretty badly injured by a foul ball.

A Little Fight.
Colon Perry and Charles Sayers quarreled in Mack & Pratt's saloon, on Soledad street, about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Sayers struck Perry in the face with a stick, and matters would have been serious but for the intervention of Other Galins, who arrested Perry.

A fight was started at the White Elephant this morning by the same parties. The cause of the quarrel is woman, sweet woman.

A Lovely Campaign Orator.
The most popular and most effective campaign speaker now canvassing Indiana is a woman. She is Mrs. Nellie Holbrook. There is a greater demand for her than for any half-dozen of our best public men now speaking in the State, and she is the only one of the 120 available speakers that we have on our list who has been given appointments for every day. Sundays excepted, from now till the close of the campaign.

Reports of the good effects of her voice come from every state where she speaks. She attracts crowds that no man could draw, and although I regard her as about the most valuable speaker that we have on the stump, she was brought to Indiana as a novelty and the Republican campaign managers now value her at her weight in gold. She has a voice of wonderful power, and when she delivered her first speech in Indianapolis, where she made a decided hit, every word that she said could be heard distinctly for a distance of nearly three squares. Her home is in California, where she has taken part in every political campaign since 1876. On the occasion of General Grant's reception in San Francisco, when he returned from his long and arduous military career, she was chosen to deliver the address of welcome. There is probably no woman in America who possesses greater gifts of oratory.

Ladies approve of your smoking "Little Jokers."

BUNGLING BREAKER.

SIX ATTEMPTS TO ENTER HOUSES IN THE FOURTH WARD.

A Lustral Villain—Entering Bed-Room Windows—Vigilance Committees Needed.

On Saturday night, between the hours of midnight and 6 a. m. five distinct burglaries were effected in the neighborhood of South Alamo street. The purpose of this midnight marauder, for it is believed that one man is the sole author of the five burglaries, does not appear to be robbery, but to make felonious assault on the person of the females. The first attempt this morning made in accomplishing his purpose was at the residence of Prof. G. Katzenberger, on East Nueva street, where an entry was effected by opening the window of the room in which the servant girl of Prof. Katzenberger sleeps. The intruder put his hand on the girl's bosom, and she, being awake, screamed shrilly for assistance. The man then caught her by the throat and gagged her. Her scream, however, had been heard by Prof. Katzenberger, who hastily jumped from his couch and ran to the servant girl's chamber. The man who had attempted a heinous crime hearing the footsteps, decamped in the same way he had entered. Professor Katzenberger, on East Nueva street, was a search in the vicinity without success. The girl, who was so injured by the affair, described this would-be despoiler of chastity as a very stout white man, about 35 years of age.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.

Such wholesale attempts at larceny, in the residences of some of our best families, and in a part of the city noted for its quietness and orderly keeping, should be investigated. Not a week has yet passed since a man had entered the bedroom of one of the females, and had been frightened away.

It is reported this morning that parties entered the residence of Mrs. W. G. Edwards, on North street, and threatened the servant there and carried her into the yard, but did not accomplish their purpose.

Other reports come of an entrance being effected into a sleeping room of Mrs. M. G. Cotton's residence on South street, and also into the residence of Mr. W. Cohen, on Goliad street.