WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tom Foy met with a very painful accident at Wilbur in a runaway.

John Pope, a real estate agent of North Yakima, committed suicide Sunday morning by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. He was despondent on account of business troubles.

Prosecuting Attorney Dye of Lincoln county has left Snohomish with Mrs. Mary Taylor, formerly cook in the hotel at Harrington run by Henry Fay, and which burned September 20. Lawrence Tierney lost his life in the flames. Mrs. Taylor alleges Fay fired the hotel and sent her on to Snohomish to wait for him. She voluntarily gave her story.

The Spokane high school won the first game of the season against Blair Saturday morning, after one of the fiercest games of football played by school elevens in Spokane, by a score of 6 to 5.

The prune crop in Clark county will be only about one fifth of a yield, as compared with former years, says a Vancouver report.

Jesse B. Sutton, aged 76 years, president of the Puget Sound Savings bank of Tacoma, dropped dead while talking at the telephone. He had been a resident of Tacoma for 16 years and was highly respected.

Owing to the judges on grain overlooking a sack of bluestem wheat entered at the Spokane interstate fair by William Gimmel of Wilbur, their decision was reconsidered and Mr. Gimmel was awarded first premium. Mr. Gimmel has for several years won first premium on wheat. His grain weighed a trifle less than 63 pounds to the bushel.

The fruitgrowers of Spokane and adjoining counties have formed the Spokane County Horticultural union. The principal object of the organization is to see that the horticultural laws of the state are enforced.

Warning has been given to farmers in regard to the Russian thistle.

Fire burned the general store of Blummauer & Son and the saloon of Joseph Farrington at Bucoda, near Olympia. The store and building occupied were insured for about $12,500; the saloon was worth about $4000. The Bucoda postoffice occupied a portion of the Blummauer store, and the first class mail, stamps and money in the postoffice comprised practically all that was saved from the building. The telephone exchange, in the same building, was destroyed. The origin of the fire is not known.

O. G. France of Wenatchee won the first prize for the biggest apple at the Spokane interstate fair. It is a Pipin, 17 inches in circumference, and weighs 20 ounces. R. Kiesling of Spokane county won second prize, with an apple 16½ inches in circumference.

A serious condition confronts the people of the Yakima valley. If relief is not given in a very short time the people will lose thousands of dollars. There is a famine in freight cars at all shipping points in the county.

Mrs. James Gard of Chelan Falls killed a bunch of 10 rattlesnakes on the Chelan butte. There were 49 rattles on the lot. She says five snakes got away.

The Huntington mill at the Columbia mine is being installed. Five stamps of the old mill were removed, reducing the number formerly installed to fifteen. The change about doubles the capacity of the plant. Ore is now being taken out of Nos. 1, 2 and 3 tunnels above the mouth of the main shaft.

Five representatives of the Alpine Mining company are inspecting the property and the 20-stamp mill just completed. The party is from Cincinnati, and includes Thomas Lee, president; J. F. Deitz, vice president; J. G. Gibson, C. R. Talbot and M. Jung, directors of the Alpine Gold Mining company.

Out of spite, it is thought, and evidently in order to put M. Kelley of Kelso, Wash., out of the way so as to prevent his marrying a young woman who had refused the attentions of a less successful suitor, Kelley was seized, gagged and bucked, bound by wire to a tree in a dense wood and abandoned to die, for a period of four days, from Monday until Friday last, when he was found and released. Saturday the young woman whose preference for Kelley nearly caused his death, procured a marriage license and late the same day the two were married.

The first matte product of the Sumpter smelter for the present run was shipped away for refinement last week.

IDAHO ITEMS.

At Boise, Fred Bond was held without bail for the killing of Charles Daly, who was brutally murdered in his home recently.

A heavy rainstorm brought down a landslide upon the tracks of the Northern Pacific near Potlatch Junction. The regular passenger train was flagged by a farmer living near the slide and a possible wreck averted.

The Moscow city council has fixed the tax levy for Moscow at 28½ mills, ½ mill higher than last year. This is occasioned by the big sewer system which has just been installed. This will make the total tax levy for Moscow citizens 64½ mills.

The Juliaetta roller mill is turning out 15 barrels of flour every day.

Fall seeding is about finished, and the farmers welcomed the heavy rain last week, as it put the ground in good shape for fall plowing, which will start immediately.

At Coeur d'Alene fire was started in the new mills of the B. R. Lewis Lumber company and the machinery in the big mill has started up.

Moscow is soon to have its first city directory. Men are in the field busily engaged compiling the data for the publication, which will appear in a few months. The directory will include Kendrick, Troy, Juliaetta, Genesee, as well as being a general directory of Latah county.

Paul Graff, one of the best known young men in the Coeur d'Alenes, was shot through the stomach and probably mortally wounded at 1:30 o'clock Monday morning while in the office of the Sunset brewery, the property of his uncle, James Murphy, the night watchman and night engineer, did the shooting through a window, not recognizing the young man and suspecting burglars were at work, as there was another man with young Graff.

Paul Graff has since died from the effects of the shot.

OREGON ITEMS.

Judge Galloway of the state circuit court of Oregon, at Salem, has entered a decree of foreclosure upon the state fair grounds in the case of the state land board vs. the state board of agriculture, and the state officials composing the state board, in satisfaction of a $20,000 mortgage held up on the same, and ordered that the property be sold in satisfaction of the mortgage.

The five Italians held for the murder of Gus Broer, an East Side saloonkeeper, were released, the evidence against them being insufficient to warrant further detention.

Though the famous antisaloon box ordinance at Portland became effective October 1, hardly a compartment has been disturbed. Saloon men freely boast that the boxes will remain as they are.

The fire in the Beaver Hill coal mine near Marshfield is not as serious as first reported. The mine will be reopened for operations in a few days.

Jacob Fritz, a tamale maker, committed suicide in a Portland saloon by taking carbolic acid.

Cattle raisers tributary to the Echo country are preparing to have a law introduced in the next legislature compelling the general dipping of cattle to eradicate the disease of scabies, commonly known as scab.

The Lewis and Clark exposition has sent forth its invitations to the nations of the world to participate in the world's fair of the west.

The two Peacock mills at Milton are grinding out 550 barrels of flour a day.

While attending a dance at Clark's mill, 25 miles east of Albany, a quarrel arose between William Fitzwalter and Jesse McKinney. Fitzwalter wounded McKinney, and Denis Taylor, who essayed the role of peacemaker, by stabbing them. Both men are seriously but not fatally hurt. Fitzwalter escaped.

MONTANA NOTES.

Howard Spencer, evidently a working man, was killed in the railroad yards at Missoula as the result of a freight train accident.

Cleveland insists that she is entitled to snatch the tiara from Cincinnati, so long looked upon as the "Queen City" of Ohio. No serious dispute as to the supremacy can be kept up for many years.

Ambition is turmoil.
