

THE LOCAL FIELD

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY

Painters are beginning their work on the Birksen opera house block.

Gerome leaves tomorrow on regular trip.

There are plenty of Peerless new potatoes on the market today.

J. Ross and wife and son have come to town to work on the Hoyer ranch.

The Gerome will bring a cargo of hay up from Hoyer's ranch on her return trip from Wallula.

A. A. Nichols down the valley disputes Marshal Glover's claim to the earliest new potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lundy and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Powell left Monday for Portland to visit the fair. The Gerome took them to Wallula to connect with the O. R. & N.

The glass for the skylight of the new photograph gallery was broken in shipment. A new consignment has been ordered and will be here in a few days. Mr. Gravesland will soon have everything in readiness.

Mrs. F. T. Allen and children arrived Saturday from Seattle. Their household goods have arrived and they are getting settled in the Weger house. Mr. Allen has been here sometime and is engaged in business in the Kennewick Blacksmith shop. Mr. Allen is a smith of many years experience. He comes here from the Chelan country and is worthy of your patronage.

Don F. Cresswell and family left for Portland to spend a month at the fair. Walt Geizentanner drove them to Wallula to take the train.

The steamer excursion Sunday on the Gerome was well patronized and passed off pleasantly. The larger part of the excursionists disembarked at the Yakima bridge and passed the time here pleasantly in conversation and in satisfying the wants of the inner man. Some of the party landed at Benton in anticipation of the horse round-up but were disappointed, as neither horses nor men were on hand for the round up.

The break which occurred in the irrigation canal recently was promptly met by the company and repaired in a manner highly creditable to the officials of the company. It was found that fluming was needed over a certain portion of the break. The company set eight mills at work on the material and in less than twenty four hours after the mills started to work the lumber was delivered at the break. The Northern Pacific does things up brown when they start, and the water users under the Kennewick canal must congratulate themselves upon owning water rights in an irrigation system which has such facilities at hand for quick work in case of an emergency as well as a resolute purpose to maintain the same in a state of highest efficiency. What private enterprise could have accomplished such a feat?

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY

Reed Bros. brought in the first new cucumbers from their tract in Section 7. They will have a good supply for the market next week. They are of fine quality as ye editor can testify from actual trial.

The water in the river has fallen about one foot in the last week as shown on the gauge at the N. P. bridge.

J. M. Hawkins and wife and Mrs. Hawkins' sister, of Sprague, left Monday night on No. 15 for a week's pleasure trip to the Portland fair.

Eight cars of material have just been received for the new railroad bridge. Material will soon arrive in large shipments especially when the spur of track is completed.

The editor's household goods arrived from Iowa in good shape Saturday. The family is busy getting settled in the Smith house in Beach's Addition.

The Prosser ball team defeated North Yakima Sunday by score 2 to 1. Yakima did not score until the 8th inning.

All the bellike you have in the world is that which you carry with you.—Philistine.

Wm. Neustel who has been here for a week past making arrangements to lease his place for three years, left this afternoon for Downs, Wash., by way of Spokane. He expects to locate on a wheat ranch in that section of the state.

It has been suggested that the Iowa people living in and around Kennewick have a picnic. If the Hawkeyes should get together they would enjoy a royal time.

Hot Lake, Oregon, June 17, 1905. Kennewick Hdw. Co., Kennewick, Wash.

Gents: Please send me money order of $20 I am about to go broke. I am drinking enough water to irrigate 10 acres of Kennewick land.

Yours truly, H. A. Bier.

Hit The Trail. And don't stop to look for blazes or you'll be two late to get one of those souvenir Lewis and Clark ties. They are going fast at 25 and 35c.

For the best seed and the best set vice go to the Hampshire Hotel. 25c.—Prof. Geo. Janslin, manager.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ahrens, cousins of Wm. Birksen, of Reardon, Wash., stopped off on their return from the Portland fair for a short visit.

Two traveling aerobats gave a performance on the street in front of the Kennewick Hardware Co's store Tuesday evening. Three collections should have rewarded them for their efforts.

Mrs. Frank Larkin went to Spokane Tuesday afternoon for an extended visit with her parents Rev. and Mrs. Tressenriter. It is hoped that this change will benefit Mrs. Larkin and also the baby who have been in poor health of late.

Dr. J. T. Wallace, of Spokane, has located here for the practice of medicine, making a specialty of chronic diseases. Dr. Wallace practiced in Pasco and Kennewick during the boom times 12 or 14 years ago and is acquainted with all the old timers here. He is located in the old drug store building on Yakima street where he would be pleased to meet all his old time friends as well as those wishing to consult an experienced physician.

V. B. Cox is at Portland for a week's stay at the fair.

The steam buzz saw is again at work in the St Paul and Tacoma yard, so that the supply of sawed wood will be equal to the demand.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Amon, Mrs. C. F. Breithaupt and Miss Bessie Roberts went to Spokane last night to be present today at the marriage of Miss Roberts to Mr. Covert, of Davenport, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Amon and Mrs. Breithaupt will return tonight at 9:05. Mr. and Mrs. Covert will leave Spokane for Portland on a wedding trip. On their return from that city they will reside at Davenport where Mr. Covert has an excellent business position.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY

F. A. Herbst and H. S. Hulbert, of Carpenter, N. D. W. H. Hulbert, Portal N. D. were in town Thursday and made a tour of inspection in the Horse Heaven wheat country, with a view to locating here.

The band met last night and practiced marching to the beat of the drum. They made a creditable showing for the first time. The new suits are expected today by express and the boys will make their first appearance in them Sunday on the steamer excursion. Secure your tickets before they are all sold.

The three combined harvesters that were unloaded from the cars Wednesday are being hauled out to the ranches of their owners today. Mr. Gravesland, the new photographer, was on hand and while they were halted in front of King & Son's store, secured a picture of the machines and teams attached. Six and seven teams were required to pull them on the road although the cutter bars were not attached.

The Gravesland studio will be ready for business Monday, June 26. I shall endeavor to do nothing but a strictly first class grade of work in all its branches. I do enlarging of all kinds at a reasonable price. And if you wish to have some fine views of your homes. Call at the gallery and see my line of views. I have a modern outfit and will make you an up-to-date picture. Thanking you all in advance for your patronage. I am yours for Kennewick and vicinity, respectfully, J. H. GRAVESLAND, Local photographer.

Attorney C. O. Anderson went to Prosser this morning to take the oath and enter upon the duties of prosecuting attorney for the new county. When the officers all qualify at Prosser today Benton county will be ready for business. The governor's proclamation is given in full in another part of the paper.

BENTON COUNTY.

Governor Mead Proclaims Benton Co. "Fully Created and Established."

"Whereas, Heretofore, on the 9th day of June, A. D. 1905, a petition was duly presented to the undersigned praying for the creation of the county of Benton, in the state of Washington, subject to the requirements of the state constitution and statutes in respect to the establishment of the new counties, said petition then and there reciting that the names appended thereto constituted a majority of the voters residing in the certain portions of the counties of Klickitat and Yakima embraced within the boundaries of the county of Benton as the same are fixed by an act of the legislature of the state of Washington approved March 8, 1905, and,

"Whereas, Said petition was thereafter duly and regularly transmitted to the Hon. H. B. Rigg, judge of the superior court of the state of Washington in and for the county of Yakima, to the end that said court should ascertain if the provisions of the constitution of the state of Washington had been complied with; and,

"Whereas, on this 17th day of June, A. D. 1905, there was presented to the undersigned a certified copy of a decree of said superior court of Yakima county to the effect that said court had duly and regularly determined and found that the requirements of the constitution and statutes of the state of Washington in respect to the establishment of new counties had been fully complied with in the matter of the creation and establishment of Benton county.

"Therefore, I, Albert E. Mead, governor of the state of Washington, by virtue of the authority in me vested and of the said proceedings had in said superior court, and under and in conformity with the constitution of the state of Washington and the laws thereof, do hereby proclaim and declare the county of Benton, as described by act of the legislature of the state of Washington, entitled 'An act to create the county of Benton, subject to the requirements of the state constitution and statutes in the respect of the establishment of new counties,' approved March 8, 1905, fully and completely created and established.

"In witness whereof, I have set my hand caused the seal of the state to be affixed this 17th day of June, A. D. 1905.

"ALBERT E. MEAD, Governor.

"J. Thomas Hickey, Sec. of State."

They Have a Long Boat Excursion

Tom Geizentanner and Phil Bier hold the record of river navigation.

The boys took the Sunday morning train to Kiona and thanks to the generosity of Dr. Hedger of that place secured a fourteen foot skiff, and at 2:15 p. m. started down the Yakima. All went smoothly until the Irrigation Co's dam hove in sight. The rapid current was impossible to overcome and the skiff struck it at a tremendous speed. Now began a journey for life. Oars were laid aside and every nerve and muscle exerted at the paddles. A mile of rapids passed in a moment and once more they glided over quiet waters. A landing was effected at the Columbia avenue dock at 9:15 after a journey of forty miles. The boys claim they had the time of their lives, and feel none the worse for their strenuous ride.

Heavy Harvesting Machinery.

Three combined harvesters were unloaded from the cars Wednesday afternoon. They were shipped one each to B. H. Day, J. F. Irvin, and one to the firm John M. Wroe and Archie Owens. The shipment weighs 47,000 pounds and each machine weighs between 7 and 8 tons. They are manufactured by Holt Bros., of Stockton, Calif. and are the latest pattern equipped with equalizers to make the work even among the horses. These machines also have improved systems of transmitting power by shafting instead of belts that have given trouble in the past.

Gus Goltz, of Walla Walla, is here as a representative of the factory superintending the unloading and setting up. He will also return at harvest time to start them to work. The combined side-hill harvester of this pattern costs about $2000. They are specially adapted to the lay of land on ranches in the Horse Heaven country and down the river.

THREE WARSHIPS AT PORTLAND.

Visitors to Lewis and Clark Exposition May Board Uncle Sam's Fighting Craft and Study Interesting Methods of Warfare at Sea.

The Portland harbor presents a wartime appearance just now, for three of Uncle Sam's warships are anchored in the river, and the booming of big guns reverberates from the wharves to the grounds of the Lewis and Clark Exposition. The ships at anchor in the harbor which compose part of the United States Government's magnificent display at the Coast Fair, are the protected cruisers Boston and Chicago, and the torpedo destroyer Perry. They will remain indefinitely, possibly for the whole Exposition period and certainly for several weeks.

The three vessels are anchored just above the steel bridge, opposite the heart of the business center of the city. They may be visited from one to five o'clock every afternoon, and hundreds of people have taken advantage of the opportunity to go aboard and see how Uncle Sam's jacks live and to study the methods of naval warfare. The Boston was one of Dewey's vessels in the battle of Manila Bay, and the Chicago has the distinction of being the nucleus of the present great White Squadron. The Chicago has an armament of four eight-inch and fourteen five-inch guns, nine six-pounders, two one-pounders, two Colt's automatic, and one three-inch piece for duty ashore.
