MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN FARM DEMONSTRATIONS

The increasing attendance at the bi-monthly lectures given by Professor Thornber is evidence of the popularity of the movement and of the interest shown by the fruit growers. A large audience heard the Professor talk on "Soil and Cover Crops" at the Commercial Club rooms on Friday night, while, together with Mr. Sickels, secretary of the Yakima Valley Fruit Growers' Association, and Mr. Powell, fruit inspector for this county, he addressed an enthusiastic gathering on Saturday night at the Highland Club House, the "standing room only" sign being necessary.

Since the next visit, July 25 and 26, will be given entirely to summer pruning demonstrations (notices of which appear elsewhere), Professor Thornber will not be able to examine any orchards as heretofore, but will resume that practice on the following trip, August 8th and 9th.

The topic for the illustrated lecture at the Commercial Club rooms on Friday evening, July 25th, will be "Summer Pruning for Fruit" and on the following evening at the Highland Club House, a general discussion of the same subject, together with a budding demonstration. "Apple Culture" will be the subject for the lecture on August 8, further notice of which will appear in these columns.

WANTS SURVEY FOR OIL

Secretary-Manager Gordon C Corbaley, of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce has applied to Dr. David T. Day, director of the petroleum division of the United States geological survey at Washington, D. C., requesting that an oil survey be made for this entire district, says a dispatch to the Spokesman-Review.

"Rumors of oil seepages have been extremely numerous throughout the Inland Empire for many months," said Mr. Corbaley, "and the inquiries that come to us from outside sources because of the rumors justify us for making this request for a survey. If there is any foundation to these rumors it is to the interest of the business of this country that we should know it, because of the very great need in this district for cheap fuel."

A copy of the letter to Mr. Day had been sent to Senator Miles Poindester with the request that he assist in getting the department to act.

DE PRIEST GOES EAST

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. DePriest and little daughter, Virginia, departed Tuesday for Shelby, N. C., where Mr. DePriest will assume the business management of the Highlander, a newspaper of wide circulation, owned by his brother, B. H. DePriest. They leave behind them many friends who regret their departure. Mr. DePriest may return to Prosser next year to drill with the Uniform Rank of the Knights of Pythias in case the command goes to take part in the national contest. He has been largely instrumental in bringing the rank to the high state of efficiency which enabled it to gain first prize three years in succession, and the Prosser boys would be lost without him.—Independent-Record.

APPRAISE N. P. LANDS

To ascertain what land is worth paying taxes on, the Northern Pacific Railroad company has had J. C. Syfford of Hanford and a crew of men at work between the Columbia river and the Yakima valley, appraising the lands held by the company. Considerable of the land is not worth the amount charged for taxes. Thousands of acres held by the Northern Pacific in this district are certainly not worth paying taxes on, while thousands more acres have been escaping, till recently, their just share of the public burden.

If Beaton county forces the railway company to pay its fair share of the taxes, without regard to what land the company abandons, it will be rendering good and equitable service.—White Bluffs Spokesman.

BIG CIRCUS COMING

Rice Bros. Colossal Shows, Menagerie and Hippodrome will be the first and only big show in Kennewick this season.

This is the show that is conquering new fields and making new friends. The menagerie has been selected with such care and disregard to expense that it ranks as the Menagerie "DuLuxe." This is the show of features. No act finds a place in the performance until it has demonstrated its absolute superiority over all acts of similar character. Grand free street parade of tableaux, cages and horses which are the finest obtainable. Don't forget the date, Kennewick, Friday, July 25th.—adv.

WEEK ENDING JULY 17

Table with columns for Date, Max., Min., 4:30 p. m., and Rain, showing weather data for the week ending July 17.

Miss Grace Brown, Tom Swayze and Raymond Rarey, returned the first of the week from Liberty Lake, Wash., where they were sent as delegates to represent the local Methodist Epworth League at the Epworth League Institute which was in session at that place last week. Louis Annis, who was also a delegate from here, stopped off in Spokane to visit with relatives and friends and will not return until next week.

The first dairyman's congress ever held in the Northwest will be opened September 18 on the grounds of the Spokane Interstate Fair and exhibitors of new and sanitary dairy machines and devices have been quick to take space in the big dairy building where the sessions will be held. Some of the speakers at the congress will be J. E. Dorman, of Salt Lake City, head of the Western Dairy Investigating Committee; E. J. Rinehart, of the University of Idaho and Professor A. L. Hecker, of Lincoln, Nebraska.

A number of young people of the Lutheran church celebrated the Fourth with a picnic party on the lawn of A. I. Smith's beautiful home on Riverside, in the Garden Tracts. The day was very enjoyably spent feasting, tennis playing, boating on the Columbia, outdoor games, music, etc. The torpedo squad under the able generalship of Capt. Mounsey did very effective work on the firing line supplying the national salutes. A balloon ascension was scheduled for the evening under the direction of Aviator Kruse, but owing to an accident to the delicate machinery of the big (?) balloon the air voyage had to be given up. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Kruse, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Tweedt, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Brue, Misses Marie Speigelburg, Tony and Laura Olbrich, Ida Kruse, Mabel Smith, Lulu Reese, Anna and Laura Halverson, Messrs. Fred, Arthur and Paul Speigelberg, Albert and Otto Reese, Theodore and Julius Beck, A. I. and John Smith, Will and Del Borgen, G. E. Mounsey and A. Sporleder.

England's First Coffee.

Coffee, like tea, was from an early date welcomed as a rival to alcoholic liquors. Writing in 1659, shortly after its introduction into England, Howell makes the comment "that this coffee hath caused a great sobriety amongst all nations. Formerly clerks, apprentices, etc., used to take their morning drafts in ale, beer or wine, which often made them unfit for business. Now they play the good fellows in this wakeful and civil drink. The worthy gentleman, Sir James Muddford, who introduced the practice thereof first in London, deserves much respect of the whole nation."

Between Girls.

"Why the cogitation?"
"I dislike to take my engagement ring to a jeweler, and yet I should like to know what it cost. But it would embarrass me to take it to a jeweler."
"You needn't. There are at least two girls in our set who have had it valued."—Kansas City Journal.

Plausible Theory.

"How do you suppose Steggs ever came to write me such an elaborately sarcastic letter about so slight a matter?"
"Very possibly," replied Miss Cayenne, "he has just employed a new stenographer and is trying to show off."—Washington Star.
