Court Notes—New Cases

Alice M M Bowron vs John E Bowron, suit for absolute divorce.

On Monday morning last a petition was presented to Governor McBride numerously signed by people living in Seattle and Judge Bell and Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Craven, who assisted in convicting, requesting the Governor to commute the sentence of hanging against John Reynolds to life imprisonment. The case is rather peculiar one. Some time since Reynolds was convicted in the Supreme Court of King County of killing a man. The evidence however showed that Reynolds intended to kill another man who had threatened his life, and had said he would kill Reynolds on sight. Reynolds had previously borne a good character. If the governor does not interfere Reynolds will be hung to-day inside the walls of the penitentiary, which will be the first to take place under the new law.

Mrs. Tom Coleman went to Spokane last Sunday night in answer to a telegram advising her that her mother was very sick at that place. Friends will remember her mother as Mrs. Luce Moore, who visited here last fall.

George Farnsworth, agent and adjuster for the Equitable Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Minneapolis, spent several days in our town the first of this week adjusting the loss of his company with Plisch & Blish, who had fifteen hundred dollars in his company.

SPOKANE FOR M'BRIDE

So Say the Spokane Papers of This Week

The following is taken from the Spokesman Review of last Tuesday, and may or may not reflect the sentiment of the voters of that ballfwick:

That the solid delegation from Spokane county to the republican state convention will be instructed for the re nomination of Governor Henry McBride is the firm opinion of a large majority of the shrewd local politicians of the party. Since the first of the year a strong sentiment for indorsing Governor McBride for renomination has been crystallizing among local politicians, and the haste with which interests hitherto classed as anti McBride have declared themselves neutral in the governorship fight has added much to the belief that before the county meets there will be a regular McBride stampede in this county.

It would not be exactly in accordance with facts to say that sentiment for the governor's nomination has increased in the past few weeks. A more apt statement is that during the past few weeks politicians of the county have had made manifest to them the abiding sentiment of the rank and file in favor of the governor, and that as the days go by they are more and more inclined to pay heed to it.

Taken to a Higher Court.

An Iowa congressman tells a story about Judge Tutill, who presided in the Eighth Judicial district of Iowa years ago and was something of a humorist. In Cedar county the case of Dillon against Crandall was called on an appeal from the decision of a justice of the peace. A member of the bar arose and said he would suggest to the court the decease of the appellee. Another lawyer arose and suggested the death of the appellant. The Judge remarked that the clerk could pass the case, as it would probably be tried by another tribunal. After court adjourned the following lines were found on a sheet of legal cap on the judge's desk:

This appeal was brought to our Cedar district court, And passed over by the Judge's awardin' That as death had claimed the right, it was fitting that the fight Should be on the other side of Jordan. If the counsel who were feed in the trial to proceed Had received enough pay for their boardin' To finish up their task they should change of venue ask, And take it to the other side of Jordan. When the beaten and the beat and the lawyers all meet, They can then try their action accordin' To the higher law in force, for better or for worse, In the courts on the other side of Jordan. The proceedings had prior to the judgment of the 'squire, Which plaintiff was desirous of avoidin' If taken up thar may be settled at the bar, When they get it to the other side of Jordan.

The poet who wrote the lines "Snow, snow, the beautiful snow," has stirred up another poet, who writes, "I hate the reciting of "beautiful snow," Which leads all one's hearer's to scoff: And yet I would very much rather, I know, Recite than shovel it off."

Another Disgruntled One

A short time since Lew Wilnot addressed an open letter to Senator Foster in which he predicted an awful political calamity if Roosevelt was defeated for the nomination. Now comes one H. E. Beach, from Stevens county, and tells what he will do if McBride is defeated in the republican nomination for governor. The letter is dated at Scotia and is addressed to the Spokesman-Review of the sixth instant. It reads as follows:

"Please allow me space in your paper to hurrah as loud as I can to Lew Wilnot, for he has hit the nail squarely on the head. While I am an old line Republican, having cast my maiden vote for good old Abe in 1860, I am still what is termed an independent voter, and I look upon Governor McBride as a worthy mate to our dazing president, Theodore Roosevelt. And if this miserable political clique can manage to turn down Governor McBride, we, the independent voters, will bury them so deep in their political graves that even the day of resurrection will not raise them up.

"Now, it ought to be patent to every one that the hearts of the voters of the state are set on Mr. McBride for our next governor, and, if the politicians turn him down, the democrats will go in with a whoop, and I, old line republican as I am, will take the stump in their behalf. And now, you political tricksters, take warning. Beware of the handwriting on the wall!"
