ABANDONS YOUNG WIFE

Cleo E. Barnhill, Recently Employed in Wheeler's Store Leaves for Parts Unknown

Last Friday morning Cleo E. Barnhill boarded the west bound train and left for parts unknown, leaving a young wife in Wenatchee, to whom he had been married less than a year, with a baby about two weeks old. Mr. Barnhill's home is in Wenatchee, where his parents reside, and with whom his wife was staying. For the past month he has been in charge of a clothing store at this place which belongs to J. L. Wheeler Jr., of Wenatchee. He left a letter directed to his employer with a statement and what money belonged to him, in the store. Mr. Wheeler found his account all right and nothing missing.

He also instructed Mr. Wheeler to pay any money coming to him on salary to his wife and stated that he was going away and was not coming back. That it would be useless to try and find him as he was going where he could not be found. He also left a letter addressed to his wife.

He told W. C. Pendleton that he was going away and would not come back and gave him some instructions in regard to turning the business and money over to Mr. Wheeler.

Mr. Barnhill was married sometime last October in Tacoma to a very attractive and estimable young lady with whom, however, he had only been acquainted a short time. He worked in that city last summer and became acquainted with her at that time.

Mr. Barnhill was quite well known here having worked in Mr. Wheeler's store off and on since the first of the year, and in the spring, for a short time, his wife was here also. He was of steady habits, sober and industrious, and how to account for the unmanly conduct of abandoning his wife and baby is somewhat of a mystery. So far as the public knows his married life was not unhappy, but the public does not always know, and undoubtedly some kind of family trouble is at the bottom of his conduct.

The news of her son's conduct prostrated his mother, and for a time her life was in danger. Mr. Barnhill's wife also suffered a nervous shock. Her family live in Tacoma at present but will leave soon for Missouri, their old home.

On Tuesday night Mrs. Barnhill and her baby were put on the train at Wenatchee to be taken to Tacoma where she will join her family and accompany them to Missouri.

W. T. Rarey came up from Wenatchee Saturday and returned Sunday night with his wife, who has been here for the past week on a visit to her sister Mrs. George Beam.

A. J. Hammel, head sawyer at the Lamb-Davis mill, spent a few days in the Leavenworth Hospital this week. He was threatened with fever, but Dr. McCoy brought him around all right in a few days and he is out again ready for duty.

L. J. Nelson, W. H. Hadley, E. D. Gates, Ed Tholin, F. S. Jacobsen and Paul Lachmund went up the Icicle on Saturday and returned Sunday with something over 200 trout. More than a hundred were credited to the catch of Mr. Tholin.

H. H. Rawlings, of Spokane, was a visitor to our town this week. Mr. Rawling's is looking for a business location and may decide to locate here and go into some kind of business. He belongs to the class of men who would be a benefit to our town.

The Boston Photo Company has opened a gallery here within the past week. They are recently from Anacortes, and propose, if business justifies, to remain here all summer. Those who want pictures taken should avail themselves of this opportunity. The work is all guaranteed and the prices liberal, character of work considered.

The little child of C. H. Davenport was brought down from Blewett yesterday and placed in charge of Dr. Hoxsey. For the past month it has been suffering from an abscess on the lungs, and has been treated by the doctor. It is slowly recovering, but for the purpose of being better able to take care of it and to have close medical attention it was brought here.

Mrs. E. C. Siverly and her two sons Jack and Hather of North Yakima arrived in our town this week and will remain here during the balance of the summer and the following winter. Mrs. Siverly is the mother of our townsman George Siverly. This is some probability of Mrs. Siverly becoming a prominent resident of this town and should she so decide, will close out her property in North Yakima and remain here.

Two Couples Wed.

At Wenatchee, on Wednesday evening last, at 8 p. m., at the residence of the bride parents, Rev. W. R. Kufus officiating, Miss Nora Shotwell to Mr. Warren Pendleton. The bride is the daughter of J. A. Shotwell, an old and prosperous citizen of the Wenatchee valley, now residing in the city of Wenatchee. Without intending to indulge in the usual fulsome compliments we can truthfully say that the young lady is one of the most handsome and highly accomplished young ladies in the valley that is noted for its red apples and pretty girls. Last spring, in the debate between the high school scholars of Wenatchee and Waterville, (Miss Shotwell was one of three that represented Wenatchee, the other two being young men) it was the argument made by Miss Nora Shotwell that turned the scale of the decision in favor of the Wenatchee school. A fact which was commented on in the press at the time. In addition to her other accomplishments Mrs. Pendleton is considered a fine elocutionist.

Mr. Pendleton is the son of W. C. Pendleton Sr., of Wenatchee, the largest retail fruit and candy dealer in the city, and is a young man of exceptional worth, who has lately located in Leavenworth and engaged in the fruit and candy business. Mr. Pendleton will make this his future home.

The Echo extends congratulations and wishes them a pleasant journey through life.

Elam-Reynolds.

In this city, at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Martin, on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. W. R. Kufus, of Wenatchee, officiating, Miss Stella Reynolds to Mr. Otis Elam.

Miss Reynolds has been a resident of this city for some time and is admired by a large circle of friends. She is a sister of Mrs. Robert Smith, an old resident of this place. Mr. Elam is an employee in the machine shop of the Great Northern railway and is very popular among the railroad men.

Mr. and Mrs. Elam start out in life with the congratulations and good wishes of a large number of friends, in which the Echo joins with a hearty good will.

Mrs. Gaasland arrived in Leavenworth last Wednesday from Bellingham. She will be the guest for the next month of the family of W. W. Burgess, who is a prosperous rancher across the divide from the head of Chumstick.

C. L. Engle last Sunday commenced a series of meetings in a tent at the east end of Front street. Previous to coming here he held a two weeks meeting at Peshastin. A considerable number of people are attending nightly. Mr. Engle is from California and is entirely non-denominational. He is assisted by a singer.

On board the Shawmut, which is somewhere on the Pacific ocean headed for Japan and the Philippine Islands is a lady who visited here about a month ago. Mrs. Ostrand, a sister of Ferdinand Wettstein left here some four weeks since for the Sound to take passage on the Shawmut for Manila where she expected to meet her husband and make her home. Now that the vessel is likely to be captured by Russian cruisers that are lying in wait for it considerable interest attaches to her fate. She has a cargo valued at considerably over a million dollars, a portion of which is for the use of the Japanese, and would be a rich prize for the Russians should it be declared contraband.

There is a move on foot to organize a school district and build a school house for the benefit of those who live in the vicinity of the mill and north and west of the round house. It is only a question of a very short time when this will have to be done. The western portion of the town has grown so rapidly in the last year, and the distance from the distance from the school house is so great that it so great that it seems to be a necessity. It is also necessary from the fact that the school house is becoming too crowded and there is not enough room to accommodate many more children.

The Echo acknowledges a call last Wednesday from Mr. Hector Patterson and G. W. Lessinger. Both gentlemen are untainted democrats. The latter being precinct chairman and the former choice of the Cashmere democrats for county treasurer. Mr. Patterson ranks among the old timers in this part of the state, having lived here for twenty-one years, sixteen of which was spent in Douglas county and the last five in Chelan, making his home in the Wenatchee valley near the town of Cashmere. That he will get the full strength of his party's vote, if nominated in the county convention, as he did in his precinct, there is no doubt. If the editor of the Echo was a democrat he would vote for Mr. Patterson, if nominated.

A Lighting Plant

Cashmere will soon have an electric light plant if plans that are now under way mature. Mr. Burke proposes to build a plant up Mission Creek provided he can be assured of the necessary support from business men and residents of the valley. It is understood that he is willing to go ahead with the work as soon as he contracts for 250 lights. Mr. Burke is a practical electric light man, with years of experience. The rates will be very reasonable, being much cheaper than Wenatchee and it is hoped that the necessary contracts will be forthcoming.—Chelan County Democrat.

Miss Camille Dolson, of Seattle, is visiting a few days with the family of G. S. Merriam. Her father is a traveling man for Fisher Bros., wholesale grocers of Seattle.
