Town and County

Judge King was in attendance at the superior court in Wenatchee this week. E. F. Brown, the Blewett mining man, has been spending the past week with Leavenworth friends.

Mrs. Julia Sales and Charles Albright were in Wenatchee this week as witnesses before the superior court.

Tom Moore went to Wilson Creek last Sunday to see his wife who is sick at that place. He returned Monday.

George Beam and wife spent Thanksgiving day with Leavenworth friends and attended the ball in the evening.

D. M. Thomas & Co. this week put a fine glass front in their business house which adds much to appearance of their store.

The Jerry from Kerry Co. which was to have appeared in the opera house next Wednesday has canceled the engagement.

Jack Smith was called to Spokane last Thursday on business and returned Saturday Saturday evening on the belated train.

Ole Sands came up from Wenatchee last Saturday and spent the day with Leavenworth friends returning to Wenatchee Sunday.

L. J. Nelson was called to Wenatchee the first of the week to look after matters in connection with the sitting of the superior court.

Miss Meda Noble came up from Wenatchee Saturday and spent Sunday with the family of her brother, returning Sunday evening.

O. E. Swartz, who left here about a year ago for the Sound country, is now living at Lyden, Wash., where the Echo reaches him every week.

Electrician Burgett wired the Bloom residence this week. Electric lights are now installed in all the business houses and about half the residences.

Miss Lulu Ramage, from Ballard, Wash., niece of H. J. Sharp, arrived here last Saturday evening on her way home from Spokane, and will visit with her uncle for a couple of weeks.

Paul Lachmund is now located in Chicago. He writes that he wants the Echo to keep him posted on what the people of Leavenworth are doing. Mr. Lachmund had many friends here who would be glad to welcome him back.

Mrs. M. A. Rawlins went to Wenatchee Tuesday to attend the marriage of her daughter, Miss Georgie, to Albert Schmidt, manager of the Elberta Hotel, on Wednesday night.

P. J. McGuire went to Seattle last Saturday and returned Sunday with his wife. Mrs. McGuire spent the last two weeks in a Seattle hospital and apparently returned much improved, but on Monday she had a severe nervous collapse induced, probably by the trip.

E. Forbes and wife left yesterday for Wenatchee where they will in the future make their home. Mr. Forbes had lived here for the past year, being in business part of the time. He is an upright and honorable young man and will win friends wherever he goes.

Within the past ten days George Keating has made a considerable enlargement in his hardware store. The size of the store room has almost been doubled, a new floor laid and additional were made necessary by a large increase in his stock of general hardware.

Miss Anna Tholin departed for Seattle last Sunday night and returned Wednesday. The object of her trip was to lay in a supply of holiday goods. She usually lays in a large assortment of goods for the holiday trade and will this year have an unusually fine display.

Dr. Hoxsey has two cases of diphtheria on his hands. A. McPeters developed a case the first of the week and on Wednesday Mrs. L. W. Bloom called the doctor in and he pronounced her suffering from the same malady. Both cases are light and the patients are not considered in any danger.

Dr. Kaupp was called up from Wenatchee the first of the week to attend Mrs. O. S. Sampson, who has not yet recovered from the accident in which she had a limb broken in September last. We learn that her recovery is as rapid, as under the conditions, as her many friends could hope for.

A freight wreck last Saturday on the Great Northern, near Gold Bar, in which some eighteen cars left the track, was the cause of considerable delay in the movement of trains. The west and east bound passenger trains were sent over the Northern Pacific tracks.

Four companies of your Uncle Samuel's cavalry boys in blue, from Fort Assinaboin, Montana, passed through on a special train last Friday. They were on their way to San Francisco, where they will embark for the Philippine Islands, there to relieve four other companies who have done two years service in the tropics, trying to suppress the festive Moros and our other half civilized brethren.

G. E. Lamb, of Clinton, Iowa, and C. R. Lamb came in from the east Thursday and after spending Friday here left for their respective homes.

Woldenburg, the painter and paper hanger has been at work in Fritz's Place the past week with paint and he is making that place look as bright as a new dollar.

The lodge of locomotive firemen decided at its last meeting to follow a time honored custom of theirs and give a grand ball during the holidays. This year it will be given on Christmas night.

N. Patterson received a message from Seattle last Tuesday saying that the house of Patterson was made richer by the arrival of a bright little baby girl on Monday morning last. "Mamma and baby doing fine."

Edward Ellis returned from Index Thursday night and tells us he is preparing to begin work on the North Star Mining Co.'s group of claims. He found when he reached the mines that the cooking outfit and a lot of material had been stolen within the past two months.

George Godfrey, who was formerly cashier and express agent at this place but who is now Great Northern station agent at Burlington, on the coast line, writes, "send the paper. The mountains are so far away I can't hear an echo. This is a fine place to live and a place to work."

T. A. Parish, Geo. K. Rogers and a party of friends returned last Saturday from Blewett. Mr. Rogers told us that the one body had been struck on the lower tunnel on which the company had been at work for the past four months. We look for some dividends on Meteor mining stock within the next three months.

The Ladies' Tuesday Evening Card Club met last week with Mrs. S. G. Merriam. Five hundred was played until eleven o'clock, when refreshments were served. The ladies present were: Mesdames Merriam, Carr, Walker, Wettstein, Adams, Madison, and Mayer and Misses Merriam and Slater. The next meeting will be Dec. 6th with Miss Slater.

The Big Rock Restaurant, under the management of Messrs. Moon & Watson, has become one of the most popular eating places in Leavenworth. The proprietors are both experienced restaurant men and know how to conduct a first class place. Their Sunday dinners have proved very popular and always draw a full house. To convince yourself that they serve good meals go there next Sunday and treat yourself.

That staunch old friend of the Echo, G. N. Watson, of Puyallup, Wash., came in on the evening train last Saturday and spent several days here with old friends, returning to his home on Tuesday of this week. There is a subtle attraction about this place that Mr. Watson can not resist. Since he left here he has found it convenient to visit old haunts every six months. Nothing would please us more than to have Mr. Watson and his wife with us again.

Among the visitors to Leavenworth this week we made the acquaintance of G. J. Moody, of Tacoma. Mr. Moody is an enthusiastic and capable orchardist, and having had his attention called to the fame of this valley for big red apples he decided to pay it a visit. It is not improbable that he may become a citizen of this valley. He had been told that down around Wenatchee they claim to grow dollars on the trees, but he incidentally remarked that he would be satisfied with half dollars.

Where We Ate Our Thanksgiving Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sutton were the guests of O. S. Sampson and wife for Thanksgiving dinner.

Butler Sampson ate his Thanksgiving day dinner with the family of W. H. Little, in Wenatchee.

Contractor Duff went to Wenatchee Wednesday evening in order to eat his Thanksgiving dinner with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Jacobsen entertained friends at their home on Thanksgiving day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Miss Slater and W. H. Hadley.

W. H. and George Merriam, accompanied by Miss Maud, went down to Wenatchee Wednesday, followed Thursday morning by S. G. Merriam and wife, where they had a family reunion and dinner with H. R. Stearns.

Dr. Hoxsey entertained a number of his bachelor friends on Thanksgiving day. A pig, roasted whole, served the place of a turkey and those who were fortunate enough to be his guests are loud in praise of his culinary accomplishments.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Carr entertained a dinner party on Thanksgiving day. Covers were laid for nine. The following guests were present: W. H. Hadley, Ira D. Edwards, E. D. Gates, Harold Koren, C. C. Thorne and Mr. and Mrs. Deed H. Mayer.

Blacksmith's Coal. The Lamb-Davis Lumber Co. have a large supply of Pennsylvania blacksmith's coal for sale at a reasonable price.

A Reminder. Thanksgiving is over and it will soon be time to buy a few things for Christmas. Our room being limited we will be unable to carry as many holiday goods as we would like, but we will have a fine line of the following, and feel sure we can please you. Plain and Fancy Handkerchiefs, Ladies' Fancy Collars, Belts, Hand Bags, Gloves and Mittens, Waist Sets, Belt Buckles, Neckties and China Novelties. THE KING CO.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF REPUBLIC

Found Naked and Insane on the Prairie Near Winchester, Wash.

The following account is taken from the Wenatchee Daily World of last Tuesday:

Spokane, Nov. 28.—E. R. Brown, a demented printer, who had been roaming around the frozen prairie almost naked near Winchester, Wash., was brought in last night by Ed F. DeVaney and Enos Fenton who had been deputized by the sheriff to bring the man here. They will make an insanity complaint this morning against Brown. He said he was brought here for a lack of a place to keep him. The first seen of the man was on Sunday. He was roaming around near the railroad track at Winchester. Nothing was thought of it at first but his queer actions soon attracted attention. The searching parties were unable to locate him Sunday night, and it was not until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon that they finally succeeded in capturing him.

He had torn off his clothing, and was almost dead from hunger and exposure. His idea is that he is a telegraph operator, and he wants to send messages.

Mr. Brown is a well known newspaper man in this section of the state. The first of the year he took charge of the Okanogan Record at Conconully, holding that position until the middle of September. About the first of October he became associate editor of the Wenatchee Republic and held that position until a week ago.

Mr. Brown had quite a reputation as a writer and had held responsible positions on a number of newspapers before coming to Wenatchee. He was named as one of the incorporators of the Wenatchee Publishing Co. when that corporation was formed and capitalized at $100,000, a few weeks ago. He is the unfortunate victim of alcoholism, and is to be pitied.

Superior Court Notes.

A. M. Page & Co, secured a judgment on account against the Wenatchee Republic.

Fred L. Brender was granted a divorce from Emma Brender.

B. M. Belvel was granted a judgment on account against G. H. Moore.

The American Paper company, of Seattle, today filed a suit against the Republic Press of this city for $704.52, balance due on account and garnished the funds of the corporation now in the Dexter-Horton Bank of Seattle.—Wenatchee World, Nov. 24th.

Two Families Turn Up.

It has been reported to the Echo from a reliable source that A. C. Sherburn, an old gentleman who has lived here for many years, and always borne an enviable reputation, turned up on Thanksgiving morning with two families on his hands, both claiming his care and protection.

Just what the outcome of the dilemma in which he found himself will be, we are not able to state at the hour of going press. We opine, though, that he will not get down on his knees to return thanks for what the day brought him.

Lady Foresters Entertainment.

An entertainment in Model Hall, Dec. 19th, is promised by the Lady Foresters. Miss Amee Morris, of Seattle, a dramatic reader of a high order, will be the leading feature of the entertainment. Bills giving full particulars will be distributed next week. This will be an intellectual treat that our people should not overlook.

THE D. OF H. BALL We Don't Claim

A Large Crowd Attended and Everybody Had a Good Time—Served An Excellent Supper.

An unusually large crowd attended the ball given by the Ladies of the Degree of Honor in the opera house on Thanksgiving night.

This was the opening ball of the winter season and all those who makes a habit of attending dances was on hand. Mr. Frank who acted as door keeper and general manager tells us that sixty-five tickets to the ball were sold.

Even though the floor space of the opera house was recently enlarged yet the room was crowded when the dancing was going on.

The evolutions of the grand march were led by Mr. H. E. Carr and Mrs. Ed Mills.

The music furnished by the McDaniel orchestra was all that could be wished for by the most exacting disciple of the terpsichorean art.

The dancing was kept up until 2 a. m. The supper was served in the French restaurant and was prepared by the ladies who belong to the order. They put up a good supper and deserve a great deal of credit.

The ball netted the D. of H. a neat little sum.

Ball Out Causes Accident.

Engineer Spencer, who pulled the train of baggage cars containing the belongings of the four companies of soldiers out of here last Friday, went into the ditch about seven miles up the canyon. The engine and tender turned over and the forward truck of the car next to the engine went off the track. The engineer and fireman saved themselves by jumping and were uninjured. It appears the steel gang, which is replacing the old iron with new had a rail out. The foreman had sent a Jap back with instructions to hold all trains until 3:10 p. m. The Jap got his wires crossed, as the linemen say, and understood his instructions to be "Let all trains pass up to 3:10 p. m., and flag all trains down after 3:10" just the reverse to what was meant.

Not looking for anything wrong Engineer Spencer ran the train off the end of a rail. The accident occurred just around a curve where the men could not be seen until the train was too close to stop.

Death of Mrs. R. J. Campbell.

I. N. Johnston received a letter last Friday from his son-in-law announcing the death of Mrs. Campbell at Welcome, Wis., on the evening of the 18th of this month.

Mr. Campbell left here, where he was well known, on the 20th of Sept. with his wife, who had been in poor health for sometime, hoping to benefit her by a change of climate, and settled in Wisconsin.

At the time of her death Mrs. Campbell was 26 years old. Beside her husband she leaves four children, three girls and one boy, aged from six months to five years.

Mr. Campbell had lived here for the past eight years, and had been married six years. The immediate cause of Mrs. Campbell's death was tuberculosis.

The sympathy of many friends in and around Leavenworth go out to Mr. Campbell in his bereavement.

Ladies' crocheted slippers in all styles just opened at Mrs. Campbell's.

E. A. KING

He Don't Want the Earth.

John Bjork is something of a philosopher. He says the fellow who killed the goose that laid for him a golden egg every day, enjoys the reputation of having been a fool as well as inordinately covetous, like unto some present day financiers. He says those Wenatchee fruit growers who are making their trees bear dollars will surely come to grief, that posterity will place them along side the fellow that slew the goose. Mr. Bjork says he never pretends to make the trees in his orchard bear more than half dollars. He argues that a man who has an orchard that grows half dollars on the trees ought to be satisfied. The more so as it only takes two half dollars to make a whole one. He says he is morally sure that long after the harvest of the Wenatchee fruit growers is reduced to nickles and dimes his orchard will be yielding a regular crop of half dollars.

Only Circumstantial.

The law books are full of cases where men have been convicted on circumstantial evidence—indeed, it is held by some that circumstantial testimony is stronger than direct, which is explained this way: men can lie.

All this is beside the story. The reader can draw his own conclusions. We merely wish to state the fact that somebody has done violence to the rights of property in taking wood from the pile which Postmaster Davis uses in warming his office.

Dr. Hoxsey's office is not far removed from the post-office. When you drop in there, you always find a good fire and comfortable quarters. This much the writer will testify to.

Mr. Davis says, while he is not from Missouri he would like to be shown the doctor's wood pile.
