Peshastin

Leonard Harvey, who has been running an auto stage line out of Mount Vernon during the summer, is home for a few weeks.

Thos. Gosslee, one of the apple growers who started a fine orchard in the valley several years ago and made his home here until a few months ago, came over from Seattle last Friday and is looking over his interests here. Mr. Gosslee is very much pleased with the crop prospects this year and states that he is more enthused over the apple business than ever.

Paul Nuss has finished moving his house, which was placed over a new stone and cement cellar.

Monday evening just after dark Ed Young and Earl Jones, both riding bicycles, had a head-on collision near the bridge, which proved to be not only an accident but a very serious affair. Ed Young received a bad cut over his left eye, which was sewed up by a physician, besides various and sundry bruises. Mr. Jones got off a little more fortunate, but was badly bruised. Both wheels were considerably damaged.

H. S. Williams received word Tuesday from his wife, who is in Walla Walla, where she took their daughter, Jewel, to an eye specialist, that an operation had been performed on the affected part and eighteen particles of wood had been removed. Two previous operations had been unsuccessful and as the eye was continually growing weaker there was only one thing to do and that was to have the case put in the hands of a first-class eye specialist. Jewel's friends here hope she will rapidly recover.

Mrs. J. W. Sussex has been entertaining her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins, of Illinois. They were very much impressed with the valley and surroundings.

J. N. Hobson was a Wenatchee visitor the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wright accompanied their son, Fred, to Seattle this week. They expect to remain on the Coast this winter.

Frank A. Wingate, who experimented by making several hundred glasses of jelly last year, out of apples which were not marketed, is trying the same plan this year and is finding sale for every glass he is able to put on the market. Mr. Wingate not only takes great pride in putting out a nice looking jelly which will appeal to the taste of any one, but also has a neat label on each glass which gives the name of the maker, variety of apple from which the jelly was made, and the name of the farm, which is called Lilacdale farm.

We have given up the idea of ever having a rain so we are going to have a snow to settle the dust.

P. N. Gregory and family have moved into the H. S. Williams property. O. V. Boswell expects to move back from Dryden to his own place, which was occupied by Mrs. Gregory.

Saturday night a Ford car tried to run over a lumber wagon on the road near the Hobson place. The results were that the car was shorted up a few inches and had to be left at the roadside until it could be towed in for repairs. No one hurt.

Wenatchee Park

Mrs. Marvin Peters was called home by the serious illness of her father, R. P. Webb.

Mr. Earl Maust is packing apples at Wenatchee.

Frank Pabst, who went to Canada to harvest his wheat, reports good crops at fair prices.

At a meeting of the directors of School District 41 it was decided to furnish free text books, this will be a saving to the patrons of the school and the school work will be more uniform.

Mr. P. H. Hertzog is erecting a large hay shed.

Chas. and Mary Rupel are attending school at Wenatchee.

Two cars had a head-on collision on the Beaver creek hill this week. Even with the exercise of caution the road is dangerous as it is narrow and crooked. This is not the first collision on this road this season. It is not uncommon to see 40 cars pass thru Plain in one evening. Use your horn.

Several of the boys have been hunting but deer seem to be shy.

Mr. W. W. Burgess drove his car to Cashmere Saturday, where he went to see his mother, who is quite ill.

Mr. C. F. Rupel and family spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Earl Young.

About 300 pounds of cream is sent from the Park to Leavenworth each week and there are five separators where a year ago butter was sent in here.

Eagle Creek

Dr. and Mrs. McKeown called at the J. H. Sharpe home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Christensen spent Sunday with relatives and friends on the Chumstick.

J. B. Schons is having some land cleared. Let the good work go on.

Have we got our teacher just to lose her? How about it, Harry?

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Anderson and children spent Friday evening at the John Bjork home.

The E. C. S. Club met with Mrs. Anderson last Thursday afternoon. The time was spent at needlework, after which luncheon was served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. P. W. Van De Grit next Thursday afternoon, October 14.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS

Engineer John Farrell has returned from a four weeks visit with relatives at St. Paul.

Engineers Picton and Whitmus came over from Hillyard several days since to work extra out of this point.

Fireman Summers, who has been working out of here on the east end, has taken the Wenatchee helper.

Machinist John B. Bowers was on sick leave Wednesday.

Engineer Webber has a ten-day layoff and is taking in the attractions at "Sky."

Engineer Buster Brown has returned to work after a few days' hunting. He bagged a nice deer.

Engineer Ed Reynolds went to Wenatchee Saturday to release Engineer Dave Grant, who will leave today for St. Paul to visit relatives and friends. Mrs. Grant and children have been in St. Paul for the past month and will return with Mr. Grant in about two weeks.

Fireman N. F. Hasp arrived Wednesday from Hillyard to act as night hostler at this point.

Hostler Frank Erickson and family returned Monday from their trip to New York city where they have been visiting Mrs. Erickson's parents for the past month.

Friends of Frank Livingston, formerly trainmaster of the Spokane division, are alarmed about his condition. He is in a Seattle sanatorium in very poor health.

Thos. Mullen is furnishing one of the cottages at the powerhouse, probably with a view of being permanently located there.

Mr. Hamilton and wife have returned from a trip up the Methow where they have a fruit ranch.

Conductor Froelich was called to Hillyard this week on account of sickness in his family.

Conductors Wilkinson and Ray Southwick of Hillyard are working on the third district.

The freight business has shown a good increase recently, due in part to the Panama canal blockade.

Items From the Dope Fiend

Since they are making explosives from absinthe in France, the soldiers will be drinking shells, instead of eating lead.

Talking of the war, they tell us there is a lot of fighting around Loos. Seems as though they are getting rather careless with their scraps.

"Call Allies Drive Political Move." (Headline.) Guess there is a dark horse in the team somewhere.

Pres. Wilson says we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense. From which we take it that the Teutons are the only ones at war on the other side.

They say that the pen is mightier than the sword. Wouldn't it look mighty to see an army of book keepers armed with pens and erasers, entrenched behind a long row of desks, trying to blot out the invaders.

Is That So?

Five little aeroplanes left for England's shore.

But someone saw them coming—then there were four.

Four little aeroplanes flying o'er the sea.

Met a fleet of battleships and then there were three.

Three little aeroplanes up in the heavens blue

Met a great big Zeppelin and then there were two.

Two little aeroplanes thought they'd have some fun.

Tried to bombard London, and now there's only one.

He came home to tell us this story, or we would never have known about it.

National Forest Being Developed to Benefit the Public

In its improvement work the forest service has constructed to date in Washington and Oregon over 4000 miles of trails and the same length of telephone line.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1915, there were opened to entry on the national forests of Washington 812 forest homesteads, covering an area of 3,800 acres.

Results obtained from land classification work on the national forests demonstrates the fact that practically all farm land has been excluded from the forests.

According to figures compiled by the government, water powers in the State of Oregon are capable of developing 3,500,000 H. P., and in the State of Washington 5,000,000 H. P. In Oregon there are already developed 156,186 H. P., and in Washington 408,000 H. P.

Whole Family Dependent

Mr. E. Williams, Hamilton, Ohio, writes: "Our whole family depends on Pine-Tar-Honey." Maybe someone in your family has a severe cold—perhaps it is the baby. The original Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is an ever ready household remedy—it gives immediate relief. Pine Tar-Honey penetrates the linings of the throat and lungs, destroys the Germs, and allows nature to act. At your druggist, 25c.

For Young People

Another progressive movement has arisen under the auspices of the Congregational church, the formation of a Young Peoples' society. This organization will have for its object the furtherance of the work of the church, particularly along social lines. The election of officers on Sunday evening resulted in the choice of Mrs. Percy Adams for president; C. W. Reid for vice president; and Miss Edna Featherstone for secretary and treasurer.

The activities of the society will be in charge of three committees, of whom Miss Lula Dahl, Miss Bessie Walker and Roswell McNett were elected chairmen.

Series of School Dances

The committee in charge of the eight to twelve school dances to be given this winter announces that the series will begin Friday evening of this week at the Masonic hall. All those who attended last year, and other young people, are invited to participate this season.

Mr. Carl Burmeister, from Clinton, Iowa, stopped off here this week on his way to the San Francisco Fair.

LAUNCHING A VESSEL.

A Matter of Mathematics, With a Vast Amount of Calculation.

The launching of a vessel is primarily a matter of mathematics. In a ship of immense size it calls for a vast amount of calculation before the first step is taken in the actual work.

In the first place, the specific gravity of the vessel must be figured out so as to allow for the various strains to which the hull is subjected on its slanting journey into the water, with its sudden plunge as the bow drops from the ways.

An enormous amount of data must be collected to fix this center of gravity. The weight of all the material that has gone into the vessel up to the time of the launching, the distribution of this weight, the weight of chains and anchors and other material placed on board preparatory to the launch must all be considered.

When the center of gravity is fixed the successful shipbuilder knows just how to build his launching ways and just where to strengthen them. He knows then by a little calculation how long each part of the vessel will be subjected to certain strains and how best to prepare for them. He can figure almost to the second how long the ship will be in sliding into the water.—Exchange.

Getting Even.

The belle of the little town was getting married, and among the spectators was the reporter of the local newspaper. He was a miserable man. He had wanted to marry the bride, but the other man had cut him out. But he got even. This is what he wrote:

"The bride was radiant in a beautiful lavender silk frock, orange blossoms and well and long, long white gloves, size 9 and split at the thumbs."

"The groom was as straight as a suit made by the best tailor could make him and as red in the face as was to be expected from boots two sizes too small and a fifteen inch collar round a seventeen inch neck. Fortunately before the ceremony was over his collar stud broke and saved him from choking to death."—London Answers.

The Key of Death.

The "key of death" is apparently a large key which is shown among the weapons at the arsenal at Venice. It was invented by Tibaldo, who, disappointed in love, designed this instrument for the destruction of his rival. The key is so constructed that the handle may be turned around, revealing a small spring, which being pressed a very fine needle is driven with considerable force from the other end. This needle is so very fine that the flesh closes over the wound immediately, leaving no mark, but the death of the victim from poison is almost instantaneous.

Wasn't She Right?

The lesson in natural history had been about the rhinoceros, and the teacher wanted to know how well the lesson had been learned.

"Now, name something," she said, "that is very dangerous to get near to and that has horns."

"I know, teacher, I know!" called little Annie Jones.

"Well, Annie, what is it?"

"An automobile."—Ladies' Home Journal.

An Exception.

"Happiness," declared the philosopher pompously, "is only the pursuit of something, not the catching of it."

"Oh, I don't know," answered the plain citizen. "Have you ever chased the last car on a rainy night?"—Ladies' Home Journal.

Even.

"He lavished pearls upon her."

"Yes."

"Yet her affection was not genuine."

"Neither were the pearls."—Washington Star.

He Balked.

Skinum—I want to interest you in a mining proposition. It's a good thing Fluddub—Perhaps it is, but I'm not.—Judge.

FLOOD LIFTS COW INTO TREE

Among Other Freakish Stunts, It Steals Barrel of Vinegar.

Frederick, Md.—Queer freaks were played by a cloudburst which swept over a section of Frederick county. County Commissioner Frank M. Stevens of Croagerstown lost two cows. He found one of them in the fork of a peach tree seven feet from the ground. Samuel Gelsbert of Croagerstown, who thought he had taken every movable object from his cellar, lost a barrel of vinegar.

Peanuts as They Grow.

The peanut grows in the ground, never above it. The flowers above ground are sterile, but after the flower withers a stalk from an inch to two inches long shoots down into the earth and forms the nut. As to the native country of the peanut the opinions of botanists are divided between Africa and America. It is extensively cultivated in all tropical and subtropical countries, but seems to thrive best in the southern states of the American Union.

Distinction.

"What distinction do you make between 'entertainment' and 'art'?"

"Entertainment," replied the theater manager, "is what people want. 'Art' is what people think they want."—Washington Star.

Pretty Thin.

"Thin!" replied the man who was talking about a mutual acquaintance. "Well, he's so thin that when he eats macaroni he can only swallow it one piece at a time!"—Pittsburgh Press.

Declined With Thanks.

Beggar—Won't you give me a nickel for my starving wife, sir? Pedestrian—Nothing doing. I'm married already.—Philadelphia Ledger.

To persevere in one's duty and to be silent is the first answer to calumny.—Washington.

Platinum.

Platinum is dissolved by aqua regia, a mixture of nitric and hydrochloric acids. No acid known to chemists, alone will dissolve this metal, but these two combined, in the proportion of one volume of nitric and three of hydrochloric, will.—New York American.

Safety First.

Bill Burglar—I ain't gonna rob no poor lone woman. I ain't. Mike Thief—What's de matter? Gettin' soft? Bill Burglar—Soft, nothin'. Them lone helpless women's de kind dat half kills ye and then sends you to jail.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Free Nicotine.

By sprinkling tobacco during the curing with a 2 per cent solution of citric acid the free nicotine, which causes the "bite," is eliminated.

Kill Big Brown Bear.

Nevada City, Cal.—A 300 pound brown bear was killed by Albert Buck and Henry Bever while hunting their stock in the vicinity of Moores flat. The footprints of the bear had been seen for weeks. The dogs got the scent and soon had the animal treed. Buck took one shot and brought the bear to earth. There have been several bears seen in the northern part of Nevada county, and they have been a menace to the stockmen.

The Grind.

"What are you doing now?"

"Two a day," said the vaudeville actor. "And you?"

"I can't quite equal that," responded the popular novelist. "Two a week is about my limit."—Kansas City Journal.
